AN IDEA THAT ENCIRCLED THE WORLD

*In 1905 "Decaffeination" was discovered in Bremen

Aerial view of HAG Bremen plant.

To-day the medical professions of fifty countries no longer forbid coffee when caffeine is contra indicated.

Instead they say "Drink HAG". Producing decaffeinated coffee is a highly scientific process. The HAG plant, which covers 11.6 acres, includes a vast and well equipped laboratory staffed by highly qualified scientists under the control of a panel of eminent doctors of medicine.

A library contains 23,000 copies of literary items on coffee, caffeine and nutritional chemistry. Research in collaboration with renowned medical scientists is continuous. There are two further plants in West Germany and one each in France, Switzerland and Austria.

Nowhere in the world is coffee produced with such expert and meticulous care. All this is behind you when you tell your patients "Drink HAG" whenever caffeine is contra indicated.

*"Roselius, Ludwig, industrialist, inventor of a process for the manufacture of decaffeinated coffee, born in Bremen 1874, died in Berlin 1943, founder of the company HAG AG, Bremen, patron of manifold cultural projects".

Current Surgical Practice

Volume 1

Edited by John Hadfield and Michael Hobsley

The Royal College of Surgeons of England appointed its first Penrose May Tutor some fifteen years ago and, as part of the training programme which evolved, a regular course of lectures was established. These highlighted those areas in which some practical advance or change in philosophy had occurred during the preceding year or two. This volume represents the first publication of a number of the lectures together in book form.

Septtrin in chest infections

the antibacterial cover that makes sure

The chart above shows in-vitro sensitivities of a variety of chest organisms, in particular Strep. and H. influenzae, to four frequently used antibacterials; 96% were shown to be sensitive to Septtrin.¹

Septtrin* has a bactericidal action against all likely chest pathogens. Add to this the speed of clinical response and convenient dosage of Septtrin and you have an antibacterial you can rely on for both acute and chronic chest infections.

Important differences between Caved-(S) (deglycyrrhizinised liquorice) and H₂ Receptor Antagonists in the treatment of Peptic Ulcers

RELAPSE RATE

Caved-(S) has proved its effectiveness in preventing relapse and recurrence of duodenal ulcers.¹

PROTECTION OF MUCOSAL BARRIER

It is now assumed that bile salts may play an important role in the pathogenesis of gastric ulcer by breaking the gastric mucosal barrier and allowing back diffusion of hydrogen ions.² The deglycyrrhizinised liquorice of Caved-(S) has been demonstrated to protect the gastric mucosa against the damaging effect of bile.³

ANTACIDS

Treatment of peptic ulcers with Caved-(S) gives the patient rapid symptomatic relief, and therefore additional antacids are not required.

Caved-(S) is an effective therapy for the treatment of peptic ulcers and is considerably lower in cost.

Caved-(S) – effective and low cost treatment for peptic ulcers and allied conditions.

Caved-(S) – dosage can be adjusted according to the severity of the condition.

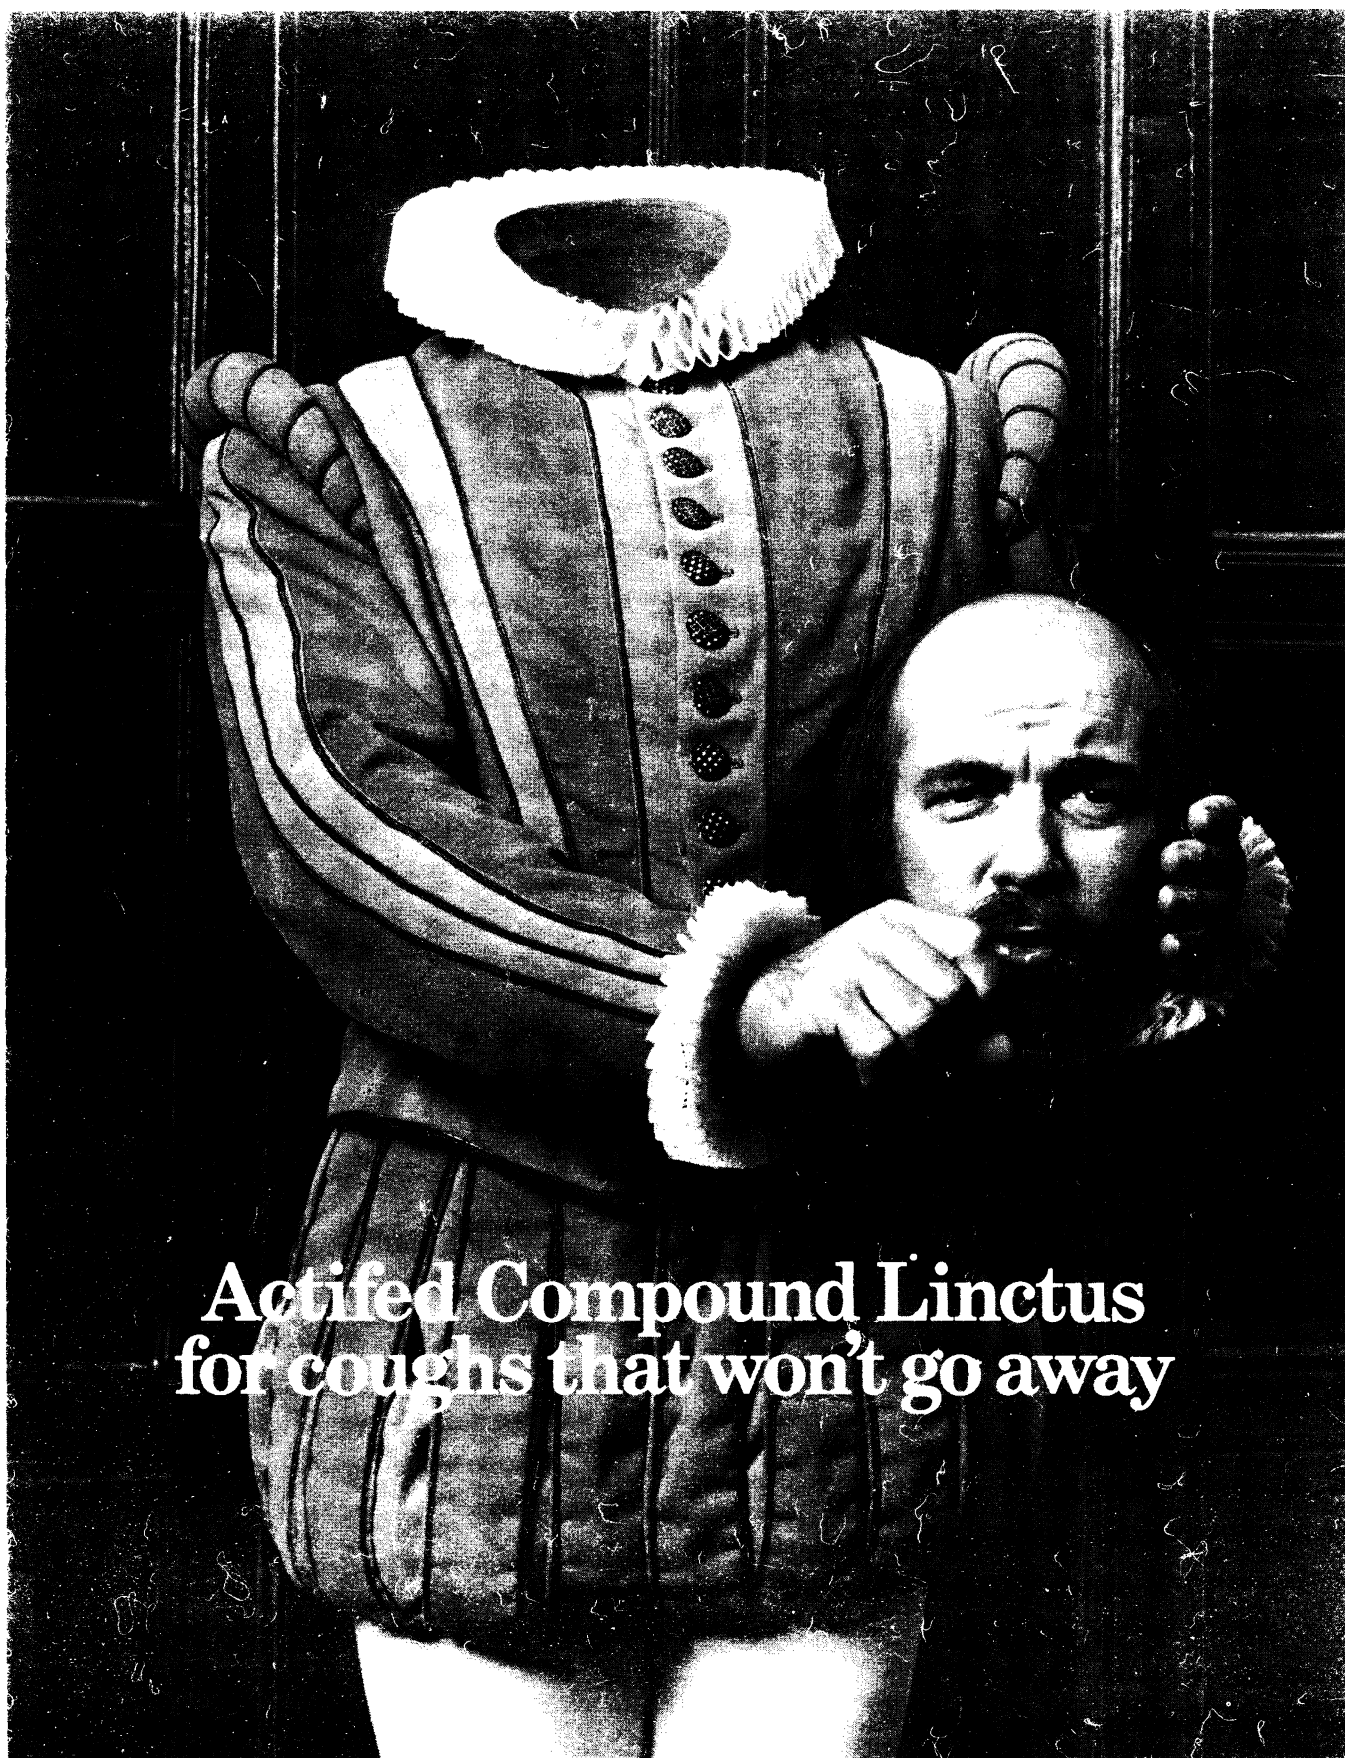

Caved-(S) – does not require additional antacid therapy.

Caved-(S) – no reported side effects.

Applications are invited from registered medical practitioners for posts in the London Transport Medical Service which provides a comprehensive occupational health service for 60,000 staff in such diverse employment as the operation of buses and trains, mass catering, mechanical, civil and electrical engineering in workshops and on site and complex administration in planning and decision making. They will be responsible to the Chief Medical Officer and will undertake clinical work in occupational medicine and the medical supervision of working conditions as applied to the transport industry.

If the successful candidates have little or no experience in occupational medicine, they will receive general training in the discipline. After approximately 2 years they will be seconded, if suitable, to take a course for the Diploma in Industrial Health.

These are opportunities for doctors with a good standard of clinical medicine interested in a career in occupational medicine, with good prospects of advancement, to join a long-established Medical Service in a constantly changing and developing industry. Starting salaries will be not less than £6,730 p.a. according to age, qualifications and experience. The posts carry valuable free travel concessions on and off duty and there is a contributory superannuation fund.

Applications, giving full details of age, qualifications and experience together with the names of three referees, should be sent to the Appointments and Welfare Officer (ref. 243/A), London Transport, 55 Broadway, London SW1H 0BD to arrive not later than 29th December, 1976.

APPOINTMENTS

Applicants for medical appointments are advised to check whether the post advertised is included in the Important Notice and to scrutinize carefully the remuneration and terms of service offered. Any member who is in doubt about these terms in relation to B.M.A. agreements should consult the Secretary of the Association.

Advertisers are reminded that the Race Relations Board insists that no descriptive term implying racial, national, or ethnic characteristics may be used in any advertisement. Further, readers are advised not to apply for any appointment which discriminates between applicants on grounds of creed or unreasonably on grounds of sex.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Applicants should state names, address, age, nationality, and qualifications, and enclose (unless otherwise specified) one copy of each of three recent testimonials, with a short statement of experience and appointments held. Applications should be sent at once if no closing date is given: Canvassing disqualifies (Statutory Instrument, 1974, No. 361).

All National Health Service hospital appointments are in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical Staff.

Further details concerning standards of residential accommodation, telephone charges, removal allowances, study leave and other matters should be obtained from the Hospital Secretary; or by B.M.A. members from the Secretary, British Medical Association.

In particular, they will find full details of facilities provided in most hospitals in the United Kingdom in the current edition of the Hospital Gazetteer. If such details are not included members are advised to consult the Secretary of the B.M.A.

Applicants requiring hospital married accommodation are strongly advised to obtain, prior to interview, clarification in writing from the employing authority as to whether such accommodation will be available on appointment.

Advertisements for post-registration house officers, senior house officers and registrars should state clearly whether the post is resident, i.e. compulsorily resident.

In all advertisements grade should be clearly indicated. Normally a consultant vacancy must be advertised as (a) part-time with the number of sessions clearly stated, or (b) whole-time with the option of maximum part-time.

In the view of the B.M.A. an advertiser should not insist on possession of English higher qualifications in preference to Scottish or Irish qualifications (or vice versa).

GOVERNMENTAL

Mental Health Care

A Senior Advisory Role in Scotland

This is an opportunity for an experienced psychiatrist to head a medical group in the Department and to be personally concerned with providing psychiatric advice to the Secretary of State for Scotland about patients involved in criminal proceedings, especially those subject to special restrictions under the Secretary of State's control.

The successful candidate will also act as consultant psychiatrist to the Scottish Prisons and Borstal Service and will have a significant contribution to make to the management of Carstairs, the state hospital for the mentally ill. Although Edinburgh-based, the job involves a substantial amount of travel to prisons and other penal establishments and to psychiatric hospitals throughout Scotland.

Candidates must be fully registered medical practitioners in the UK with a higher qualification in psychiatry and extensive experience in clinical psychiatry. They should preferably have held a senior post in a hospital. A higher qualification in medicine and experience in forensic psychiatry would be advantageous.

Salary for this Principal Medical Officer appointment is £11,440; non-contributory pension scheme.

For further details and an application form (to be returned by 7 January 1977) write to Civil Service Commission, Alencon Link, Basingstoke, Hants RG21 1JB, or telephone Basingstoke (0256) 68551 (answering service operates outside office hours). Please quote Ref: S/9439/2.

What the papers say

Shortest Acting

"With doses up to 1 mg, the natriuresis was largely complete within 3 hrs."³
 "It (Burinex) has a short duration of action, being virtually complete in 3 hrs."⁴

Fast Acting

"The rapid absorption from the gastrointestinal tract is reflected in the brisk diuresis established within the hour."¹
 "Its (Burinex Injection) onset of action is within 10 min."²
 "Bumetanide is rapidly absorbed from the gut."³

Clinically Effective

"Fourteen patients showed a good diuretic response on bumetanide where previous treatment with frusemide had proved either unsatisfactory or too slow."⁵
 "An impressive diminution of the signs of pulmonary oedema was seen in most patients and in some the clearance of alveolar oedema was dramatic."⁶

"Based upon our experience with the use of bumetanide in several hundreds of patients and the detailed studies reported above, it may be concluded that this new diuretic agent is a very useful drug in the treatment of congestive cardiac failure."⁷

"Our study... confirms that bumetanide is a potent diuretic effective over a wide dose range and in a variety of clinical conditions."¹

Well tolerated

"Burinex was extremely well tolerated."¹²
 "Bumetanide was well tolerated by patients."¹
 "Overall, bumetanide showed itself to be a safe and effective diuretic when administered to severely ill patients in a busy hospital milieu."⁵

The correct amount of K

"It is known from short-term studies that 1 mg. of bumetanide increases the excretion of potassium by 10-15 mmol daily (Asbury et al, 1972; Olesen et al, 1973; Davies et al, 1974). Two tablets of the combined preparation Burinex K contain 1 mg. of bumetanide and 16 mmol of potassium."⁸

At the correct time

"35% of the potassium chloride is released by one hour, the rest being released over a period of six hours."⁴

The Morning OR Evening diuretic

"The rapid onset and short duration of action of loop diuretics are clearly desirable when a rapid diuresis is indicated, and when given in the evening to patients with chronic heart failure, the short duration of action can ensure a good nights sleep undisturbed by nocturia or breathlessness."⁹

"The use of potent and short-acting diuretics such as bumetanide allow the Physician and patient scope to decide upon the most appropriate time for administration and so reduce major disruptions in the patient's daily routine."¹⁰

"Patients who go out to work may find Burinex K given in the evening more socially acceptable."¹¹

Patients prefer Burinex K

"These results indicate that when long-term diuretic/potassium supplement therapy is required, Burinex K is a more acceptable regimen to the patients than one in which diuretic + Slow K are given separately."¹³

"Patients showed a highly significant preference to take two tablets on one occasion (Burinex K) rather than two different types of tablet on three separate occasions (Lasix + K)."¹⁴

* Burinex is a trade mark

Rx ... But of course the decision is yours.

Burinex K*

Tablets contain 0.5 mg bumetanide with a slow release core of 573 mg (7.7mEq) of potassium chloride.
