Domestic Medicine and HYGIENE.

By W. J. RUSSELL, M.B., &c. The Scotsman says: "A better work of its class could hardly be desired."

Although written chiefly with a view to assisting those who are unable to procure medical aid, and have to act in a case of emergency, it will be found of great value to medical students, and as a vade mecum to junior practitioners, on account of the thoroughness with which it has been compiled, and the clearness and conciseness with which the subjects have been treated.

LENNOX BROWNE, F.R.C.S.Ed., Senior Surgeon to the Central London Throat and Ear Hospital, etc.

"It is great literary merit and excellent plates make it one of the most useful and attractive works that laryngoscopic literature has yet produced." — New York Medical Journal, July, 1878.

London: BAILLIÈRE, TINDALL, and COX, 20, King William Street, Strand.

Lessons in Laryngoscopy, including RHINOSCOPY.

By PROSSER JAMES, M.D., M.R.C.P., etc., Lecturer on Materia Medica and Therapeutics at the London Hospital; Physician to the Hospital for Diseases of the Throat.

"One of the most marked features of the work, or rather of its author, is a comparative freedom of the unpleasant fault of egotism. The labours of others in the same department are gracefully recognised, and their merits acknowledged, even those of pre-laryngoscopic times; and thus, not only is the work far removed from the rank of controversial treatises, but it is also raised above such as are obviously written for merely selfish purposes, as puffs, in fact, of their authors." — Glasgow Medical Journal.
