PAROVEN® in varicose veins and post phlebitic syndrome

Recent clinical and double blind trials<sup>1 2</sup> have confirmed that PAROVEN provides outstanding relief of symptoms due to chronic venous insufficiency or back pressure. Particularly good results were obtained in night cramps, heavy legs and chronic aching pain. Other symptoms which respond to long-term therapy with Paroven include:

superficial thrombophlebitis, varicose ulcers, varicose eczema, ankle oedema, restless legs, paraesthesia, haemorrhoids.

Dosage Initial treatment: 4 capsules a day, preferably with meals. Maintenance treatment: 1-2 capsules a day.

Side effects and Precautions In a few patients, slight gastro-intestinal disorders, flushes and headaches have been reported. These are usually overcome by taking the capsules with meals or by slight adjustment of dosage. There are no known contra-indications to Paroven; it is virtually non-toxic and has no teratogenic effects. In keeping with current teaching and practice its use during the first trimester should, however, be avoided.

Availability Capsules, each containing 250 mg of 0-( $\beta$  hydroxyethyl) – rutosides (not less than 45% troxerutin), in bottles of 20 and 100 capsules.

Important statement on PONDERAX® FENFLURAMINE

The increasing problem of obesity has led to the development of Ponderax (fenfluramine) as the leading treatment.

Metabolic correction by Ponderax therapy produces weight loss with or without diet.

Vital considerations in your choice of anti-obesity therapy are the questions — does the product stimulate the central nervous system, and does it produce substantial weight loss?

With Ponderax you have no doubts. Ponderax does not stimulate and does produce substantial weight loss. These facts are confirmed by many eminent authorities among the 168 publications on Ponderax.

Ponderax is alone among more widely used anti-obesity agents in not being metabolised in the body to stimulant products.

¶ We have established that, in man, diethylpropion is metabolised to give secondary and primary amines, and the ketone group is also reduced to give circulating metabolites with known stimulant action, irrespective of the action of the tertiary amine per se. Fenfluramine in man is de-ethylated to the primary amine, but the CF<sub>3</sub> group is not removed metabolically to give amphetamine. ¶

John is five. He had otitis media four weeks ago. And now he has ear-ache again at two o'clock in the morning. That's why Ceporex is being prescribed this time. In ear, nose and throat infections, including otitis media, Ceporex has given a very high clinical success rate. Ceporex kills most of the common pathogens responsible for ENT infections, including penicillin-resistant staphylococci. Ceporex absorption is rapid and virtually complete, giving high serum levels within an hour of administration.

Ceporex is well tolerated, has low toxicity and can be considered in patients hypersensitive to the penicillins.

Ceporex means successful treatment in urinary and respiratory infections as well as in ear, nose and throat infections. Clinical trials have demonstrated clinical success rates of over 80% in acute urinary tract infections, over 90% in pneumonia, and over 85% in ear, nose and throat infections.*

But that's not all. Ceporex is available in the widest possible variety of presentations to suit almost every patient-need.

The new 500 mg/5 ml syrup provides high dosage treatment needed in more serious infections such as pyelonephritis or pneumonia. The 250 mg/5 ml syrup is suitable for more susceptible infections in adults and is particularly useful for otitis media in children.

Ceporex Tablets 250 mg and 500 mg are film-coated and the smallest cephalexin tablets available. They are easily identified by their engraved name and strength. As an alternative to tablets there are small, red and grey capsules in 250 mg and 500 mg strengths.

Adverse reactions and precautions
A small proportion of patients receiving cephalexin may experience gastro-intestinal disturbances such as nausea, vomiting, anorexia and general abdominal discomfort. As with all broad-spectrum antibiotics, superinfection can occur (mostly monilial) and sometimes presents as vulvo-vaginitis. Reversible neutropenia has occurred in a few patients, but is very rare. Generalised drug rashes – urticarial or maculopapular – are uncommon. When renal function is very markedly impaired, Ceporex will accumulate in the tissues unless the dosage is suitably reduced.

JUST PUBLISHED Today's Drugs

New 1970 Edition

1—Antibiotics

The problem facing the prescribing doctor today is choice. Catalogues of drugs—no matter how detailed—are of little help unless accompanied by advice on which drug to give for what condition. So this new edition of "Today's Drugs" not only gives a full account of the drugs but also includes clear accounts of the management of common conditions such as urinary infections and epilepsy.

The new edition differs from the earlier one in other ways. It deals with only three subjects—infections, vitamin deficiencies and anaemias, and disorders of the nervous system. Further volumes will be published at intervals of about a year, and by the time the whole field of therapeutics has been covered this first volume will have become obsolete and due for replacement. In order to further emphasize the ephemeral nature of books on therapeutics—and to cut costs—the book is a paperback.

Road accidents are now acknowledged to be one of the major epidemics of our time. It has been estimated that as many as a quarter of accident deaths could be saved by skilled treatment at the site of the accident, and recently doctors in Britain and abroad have been playing an increasingly active part in this. This booklet, which reprints a series of articles which appeared in the B.M.J. last autumn, contains contributions on organization and medical equipment, the management of soft-tissue injuries, resuscitation, fractures of the spine, and extrication of persons trapped in a vehicle. The introduction is written by Mr. Norman Capener, Chairman of the Medical Commission on Accident Prevention.

in cerebral ischaemia duvadilan helps arteries to help themselves

When cerebral arteries begin to lose their elasticity through sclerosis and atheroma, or vascular tone gives way to vasospasm, impaired blood flow may give rise to symptoms like dizziness, headache, forgetfulness, disorientation and irritability.

Although little can be done for an artery which has completely sclerosed, treatment with

DUVADILAN in the early stage of the disease can delay the further deterioration of the clinical condition and reduce the number of ischaemic attacks.<sup>1,2,7</sup>

DUVADILAN (isoxsuprine hydrochloride) has a unique mode of action.<sup>1,3,4,5,6</sup> It stimulates the  $\beta$  receptors of vascular smooth muscle which relieves vasospasm<sup>2,9</sup> and simultaneously blocks the  $\alpha$  receptors to prevent rebound vasoconstriction<sup>4,5,8</sup> which can be a problem with some vasodilators.

DUVADILAN fully exploits collateral vessels threatened by spasm and any remaining elasticity in a partially sclerosed artery, increasing the supply of oxygen and nourishment to starved tissues before they become irreversibly damaged.

It is important that patients should be kept on DUVADILAN for at least 6 weeks to allow time for clinical improvement to become apparent.

from asthmatic attack

British Medical Journal, 25 July, 1970

The unique mode of action of disodium cromoglycate offers the asthmatic patient outstanding benefits. A prophylactic treatment, it prevents the onset of asthmatic episodes - thus minimising long-term damage to lung tissue. Freedom from asthma attacks permits a happier, more normal life for the asthmatic patient.

Published clinical reports<sup>1-22</sup> confirm that with INTAL COMPOUND, the incidence and severity of acute attacks is considerably reduced - even in patients on conventional therapy such as bronchodilators, antihistamines and corticosteroids. Less time is lost from work or school, exercise tolerance is improved and a consistent clinical comment on disodium cromoglycate has been the total absence of serious side effects.

INTAL COMPOUND - supplied in SPINCAPS (each containing 20 mg disodium cromoglycate, and 0.1 mg Isoprenaline Sulphate BP in powder form, together with an inert carrier). For use in a special insufflator - SPINHALER.

mental block

Symptoms like forgetfulness, disorientation, loss of concentration, dizziness and confusion are often the first signs of cerebral ischaemia which, left untreated, can lead to irreversible brain damage.

Clinical evidence shows that early administration of DUVADILAN (isoxsuprine hydrochloride) can arrest and delay the further advance of the condition and reduce the number of ischaemic attacks.<sup>1,2,7</sup>

Its unique action<sup>1,3,4,5,6</sup> dramatically increases cerebral circulation by relaxing vasospasm<sup>2,9</sup> and reducing arteriole tone. DUVADILAN fully exploits collateral vessels threatened by spasm and any remaining elasticity in a partially sclerosed artery, and can increase oxygen and nourishment supplies to near normal so that mental function and alertness are gradually restored.

The Haelan range is small, compact and sufficiently versatile to deal with most steroid responsive skin conditions.

Each member is an effective ready-to-use preparation with its own job to do—specifically formulated to meet the needs of both consultant and general practitioner.

The active ingredient, flurandrenolone, is four to six times as potent as hydrocortisone in its action on the skin<sup>1</sup>. The concentration has been adjusted by using a well-matched base, so that only three preparations are needed to treat the majority of steroid responsive skin disorders.

The Haelan range has been realistically developed for convenient prescribing.

TRICHOMONAL VAGINITIS

drug stops triple trouble!

CANDIDAL VAGINITIS

NON SPECIFIC VAGINITIS

Five years of clinical trials with Magmilor, involving more than 6,000 patients with vaginitis, have shown success rates of the order of 90 per cent. The Magmilor Treatment Pack—a single drug presented as tablets and pessaries—deals effectively with all three common types of infective vaginitis—giving maximum assurance of a quick response in a condition where it is often difficult to make a clinical distinction as to pathogenesis:

Trichomonal vaginitis The systemic action of Magmilor oral tablets attacks Trichomonas in the vaginal walls. The local action of the pessaries eliminates free-swimming Trichomonads from the vaginal lumen, giving quicker and more complete relief than can be obtained with systemic action alone.

Candidal vaginitis The local action of Magmilor pessaries eradicates candidal infection and, in cases of trichomonal infection, prevents the candidal overgrowth which may occur if a trichomonacide only is used.

Non-specific vaginitis Magmilor pessaries also provide coverage against the bacteria which are implicated in non-specific vaginal infections—including Streptococci and Coccobacilli.

No co-prescribing hazards By using only one drug, Magmilor eliminates the potential hazard of drug incompatibility associated with co-prescribing.

R MAGMILOR TREATMENT PACK

when acute peri-articular disorders lead to loss of work or play

is treating pain with simple analgesics enough?

Pain must be relieved of course; but it is the inflammation behind the peri-articular disorder that can delay recovery. This is why 'Indocid' can play such an important part in treatment.

'Indocid' is both analgesic and anti-inflammatory. 'Indocid' may help patients begin graded exercise sooner—and hence speed full recovery.

Fucidin — parenterally

as well as orally

Clinicians often require a parenteral antibiotic in the treatment of severe staphylococcal infections. To meet this need LEO research over a three-year period has led to the development of Fucidin for intravenous infusion. This preparation widens the scope of Fucidin (sodium fusidate B.P.) which over the last seven years has been increasingly used as a potent ora/antistaphylococcal agent.

Fucidin for intravenous infusion.

Presented in packs of 2 ampoules one of which contains 580 mg diethanolamine fusidate B.P.C. as a dry powder (equivalent to 500 mg sodium fusidate B.P.) and the other 50 ml sterile phosphate-citrate buffer.

Detailed information on dosage, administration, applications and case-histories appears in the packing leaflet and also is available on request from
