

The beauty of Ferrograd C is its effectiveness

FC157

Too often, when iron deficiency is treated by simple iron salts alone, the return of the haemoglobin percentage to normal is regarded as sufficient. In fact, with this type of treatment, iron absorption tails off as 100% Hb is approached. And – body iron stores remain depleted.

With Ferrograd C, taken once daily before food from the start of treatment, not only is the haemoglobin percentage quickly returned to normal; absorption of iron is maintained so that body iron stores are replenished. Ferrograd C's high dose Vitamin C sees to that. It almost doubles the absorption of iron.* It provides total treatment.

Each tablet contains the exsiccated equivalent of 525 mg ferrous sulphate BP ($\equiv 105$ mg Fe) in a Gradumet® plus 500 mg Vitamin C as sodium ascorbate.

... barbiturate poisoning need now scarcely ever occur. With the advent of hypnotics, such as nitrazepam [Mogadon], which are effective but almost completely safe, barbiturates need not be prescribed except for use in hospital, where their administration can be properly supervised.' Brit.med.J., 1969, 3, 177.

'For those patients requiring hypnotics outside hospitals nitrazepam [Mogadon] would appear to be nearly as safe as a drug can be.'

N.Z.med.J., 1969, 70, 132.

'I would advocate the complete abandonment of barbiturates as hypnotics except in hospitals where they can be used under proper supervision ...'

N.Z.med.J., 1969, 70, 132.

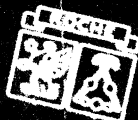

... nitrazepam [Mogadon] is a safe and effective hypnotic.'

Brit.med.J., 1969, 3, 23.

Against a background of concern about hypnotic hazards, Mogadon* has rapidly proved itself a most effective alternative to barbiturates. In effective-ness, it is comparable to butobarbitone (a recent trial in the BMJ showed no significant difference between the two) while its pharmacological activity as a screen to, rather than a suppressant of, the wake centre, gives it a safety margin not found with other sleep inducers.

Brit.med.J., 1969, 3, 23.

When Mogadon is available, should one risk using anything else?

*Mogadon is the registered trade mark for pharmaceutical preparations containing nitrazepam.

asthma & bronchitis

Full antispasmodic effect from fractional dose of ephedrine

Tests show that 2-Diethylaminoethyl- α -phenylbutyrate Citrate has a more pronounced bronchodilatory effect than ephedrine. Three parts of 2-Diethylaminoethyl- α -phenylbutyrate Citrate producing the same effect as 5 parts of ephedrine. It acts more rapidly than ephedrine, reaches maximum effect somewhat later and falls away at a slightly slower rate. With a mixture of the substances the curve of bronchial dilatation showed that the effect produced was considerably greater than when double the quantity of each substance was administered separately. 4 mg OF THE MIXED SUBSTANCES (CONTAINING 2 mg OF EPHEDRINE) has the BRONCHODILATORY EFFECT OF 8 mg. EPHEDRINE. Whilst a full bronchodilatory effect is produced with this mixture, side-effects, such as nausea, restlessness, sweating, etc., due to over-dosage or idiosyncrasy to ephedrine are avoided.

Treatment with broad spectrum antibiotics suppresses the normal flora, which may be replaced by abnormal resistant organisms causing diarrhoea.

This change can be prevented or reversed by the implantation of Lactobacillus acidophilus which has been rendered antibiotic-resistant, and is thus able to multiply freely under these abnormal conditions. The products of growth of the organism are inimical to that of many other bacteria^{1 2} and thus contribute to its rapid preponderance over other species.Oral treatment with antibiotic-resistant L. acidophilus in the form of ENPAC has been shown to eliminate Candida from the faeces of infants with antibiotic-induced diarrhoea, with relief of symptoms succeeded by rapid gain in weight^{3 4} and greatly to reduce the numbers of staphylococci in the faeces of patients treated with tetracyclines.⁵¹ Ann. 'Kelfizine' is not just another antibacterial. Its low protein-binding (60%) together with its long half life (65 hours) make it unique among sulphonamides. It is manifestly a positive clinical advantage to be able to give a week's treatment in one 2g tablet of 'Kelfizine' W (as compared, say, with 56 tablets of sulphadimidine, totalling 28g — or with 28 tablets of tetracycline)

Over 80% of the primary urinary tract infections in general medical practice are sulphonamide-sensitive, but treatment is often inadequate because many patients stop taking their tablets after two or three days

As a doctor, you'd be better off abroad. Or would you?

Obviously, the decision's a difficult one. Especially if you're only just about to register.

So may we suggest something?

Rather than taking up a normal practice here or leaving the country, try the Royal Army Medical Corps. And you'll get the chance to do both.

Because, for some of the time, in the RAMC you're likely to see something of the world: in Germany, Cyprus, or maybe on exercises in countries from Canada to the Far East.

You can join for 3 or 5 years. And in that time you'll not only travel, you'll also gain valuable medical experience.

You'll hold the rank of Captain.

And at say 24 years of age you earn around £3249 gross p.a. On top of that, there are all sorts of allowances.

Your surgery is well equipped by the Army. And you won't just be dealing with soldiers. There are wives and children to care for, too.

What's more, you get 6 weeks' paid leave every year.

After 5 years, if you like, you can apply to stay on for a Regular Commission. And have the opportunity of specialising. In fact, around 70% of all Regular Officers do take up post-graduate studies.

Alternatively, you can leave at the end of your Short Service Commission.

All the better for the experience and for a tax-free gratuity. You get £1500 after 3 years. £3000 after 5.

So think about it. And before you decide on anything, find out more about the RAMC.

If you want full details, or want to meet an RAMC Officer, write to Colonel T. S. Hart, MB, DPH, DTM & H, RAMC, Ministry of Defence (AMD2), Dept. No. 634, Lansdowne House, Berkeley Square, London, W1X 6AA.

The 'Hazards' facing you and your family are not so easily tackled, but with the same care you can provide for yourself and your dependants with the right type of insurance.

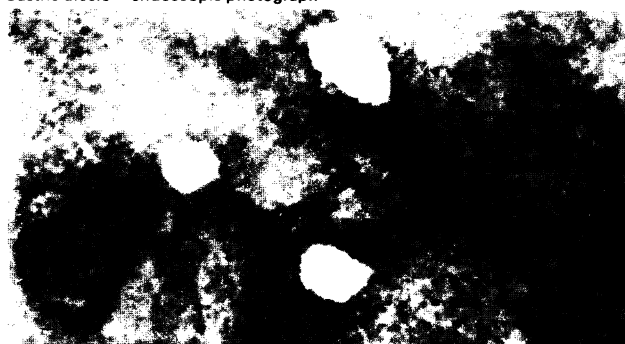

Understandably, you may not know where to start, but the Medical Insurance Agency, with its knowledge of the insurance market and of the needs of the medical and dental professions, will help you to find the policy that is exactly right for you.

Gastric ulcers—endoscopic photograph

Gefarnil brings the ulcer problem down to size.

Traditional treatment in suspected or confirmed peptic ulcer cases is mostly symptomatic – geared simply to relief of pain.

Now there is Gefarnil – the unique healing agent. Its anti-ulcer properties have already been well established in animal experiments and clinical trials^{1,2,3}.

Its systemic action means that Gefarnil can reach ulcer sites in both stomach and duodenum, and while many other agents act by surface contact, merely providing an environment for healing, Gefarnil takes effect through its blood-tissue level, independent of conditions in the gut lumen.

The expected sequence of events with Gefarnil is as follows:

15 days—remission of symptoms (usual antacid/antispasmodic treatment advisable during this period)
30 days—ulcers no longer detectable radiographically (but may still be evident endoscopically) 60 days—ulcers no longer detectable endoscopically.

Only minor transient side effects occur with Gefarnil, which can thus be used with confidence not only in confirmed but also in suspected ulcer patients.

Gefarnil* is presented as capsules, each containing 50 mg. Gefarnate, and as injection solution, 50 mg. per ml.

TODAY'S DRUGS

New 1970 Edition

I—Antibiotics

The problem facing the prescribing doctor today is choice. Catalogues of drugs—no matter how detailed—are of little help unless accompanied by advice on which drug to give for what condition. So this new edition of "Today's Drugs" not only gives a full account of the drugs but also includes clear accounts of the management of common conditions such as urinary infections and epilepsy.

The new edition differs from the earlier one in other ways. It deals with only three subjects—infections, vitamin deficiencies and anaemias, and disorders of the nervous system. Further volumes will be published at intervals of about a year, and by the time the whole field of therapeutics has been covered this first volume will have become obsolete and due for replacement. In order to further emphasize the ephemeral nature of books on therapeutics—and to cut costs—the book is a paperback.

International conference confirms success of Ceporex results in 2,000 patients show high success rates with few side effects

Twenty papers on the use of cephalexin (Ceporex) were presented at the International Conference on Cephalosporins* at Brighton in June. Treatment of 2,000 patients with a wide variety of infections in hospital and general practice emphasised the effectiveness of this new oral cephalosporin. One report described the use of Ceporex in a multi-centre trial in general practice. 341 infections, including ENT, skin and soft tissue, respiratory and urinary tract, were treated. Overall success rate was 91%. Side effects were minimal.

This Autumn you can confirm the effectiveness of the wide activity of Ceporex in the treatment of pneumonia, bronchopneumonia, bronchitis, and other moderate and severe infections of the respiratory tract in patients of all ages. Ceporex is well tolerated, and can be considered for patients hypersensitive to the penicillins. It is available in a range of six presentations including 250 mg and 500 mg capsules, pleasant syrups, and small identified film-coated tablets.

Instantly visible contents, in a shatter-proof container, P.I.B.® provides immediate and sustained relief from bronchospasm, from precisely metered puffs. Isoprenaline content is low because P.I.B. fully utilises the pronounced enhancement of effect of this agent when it is used in combination with atropine methonitrate.

This enhancement was clearly shown in a trial¹ which compared this mixture with both drugs when used alone. The authors stated: "The combined inhalation of isoprenaline and atropine methonitrate showed substantial advantages over the other drugs."

What is the word for emotional distress?

The presenting symptoms? "Can't sleep . . . irritable . . . no appetite . . . tired . . . aches and pains"—consultation after consultation.

The task? To penetrate behind the facade to the underlying condition.

The aim? To make the patient feel better quickly and reveal the problem, without unnecessary consultations.

Tranquillizers or hypnotics may deal with part of this aim, but only part.

Prothiaden can meet all the requirements. It is rapidly effective in both anxiety and depression. One ingredient, a single-strength capsule means straightforward dosage.

Prothiaden is well tolerated even by the elderly.

Prothiaden can mean trouble-free treatment of anxiety, depression, in fact any manifestation of emotional distress.

from asthmatic attack

British Medical Journal, 12 September, 1970

The unique mode of action of disodium cromoglycate offers the asthmatic patient outstanding benefits. A prophylactic treatment, it prevents the onset of asthmatic episodes - thus minimising long-term damage to lung tissue. Freedom from asthma attacks permits a happier, more normal life for the asthmatic patient.

Published clinical reports¹⁻²² confirm that with INTAL COMPOUND, the incidence and severity of acute attacks is considerably reduced - even in patients on conventional therapy such as bronchodilators, antihistamines and corticosteroids. Less time is lost from work or school, exercise tolerance is improved and a consistent clinical comment on disodium cromoglycate has been the total absence of serious side effects.

INTAL COMPOUND - supplied in SPINCAPS (each containing 20 mg disodium cromoglycate, and 0.1 mg Isoprenaline Sulphate BP in powder form, together with an inert carrier). For use in a special insufflator - SPINHALER.

Dorbanex

avoids the problems of conventional laxative treatment

With a faecal softener to prepare the way, and just a small dose of peristaltic stimulant completing evacuation, Dorbanex avoids the problems of conventional laxative treatment. What difference does the faecal softener make to treatment?

A soft but formed stool; the restoration of faecal bulk to normal; non-oily lubrication of the gut contents. By this comprehensive approach, Dorbanex provides easier and more predictable evacuation than conventional laxatives, reduces the need for enemas and suppositories, minimises the risk of straining at stool or faecal impaction, lessens apprehension about answering the call to stool, helps to break the laxative habit, gently restores neuromuscular sensitivity, and simplifies patient management.

Available in three forms to treat constipation in any patient of any age, Dorbanex provides the prospect of successful treatment that avoids the problems of conventional laxative therapy.

Dorbanex Capsules:

each capsule contains 1:8-dihydroxyanthraquinone 25 mg., poloxalkol 200 mg. Dosage: Adults, one or two capsules. Children, one capsule. Before or after surgery: two to four capsules. Treatment should be taken at bedtime.

Dorbanex Forte:

each 5 ml. teaspoonful contains 1:8-dihydroxyanthraquinone, 75 mg., poloxalkol 1000 mg. Dosage: One teaspoonful or as directed by the physician. Treatment should be taken at bedtime.

Dorbanex Liquid:

each 5 ml. teaspoonful contains 1:8-dihydroxyanthraquinone 25 mg., poloxalkol 200 mg. Dosage: Adults, one or two teaspoonfuls. Children, half to one teaspoonful, as required. Before or after surgery two to four teaspoonfuls. Treatment should be taken at bedtime.

Contra-indications In common with other gastro-intestinal evacuants, Dorbanex should not be given when acute, painful conditions of the abdomen are present, or the cause of constipation is suspected to be obstruction of the small or large intestine. Side-effects Dihydroxyanthraquinone may cause a temporary harmless, pink or red colouring of the urine and, in prolonged use or high dosage, of the mucosa of the large intestine. Doses larger than two teaspoonfuls may cause slight gastro-intestinal discomfort in a few patients. Basic NHS Prices Dorbanex Capsules: bottles of 30 capsules 8 8; bottles of 300 capsules 78 -; Dorbanex Liquid: bottles of 60 ml. 4 -; bottles of 500 ml. 30 -; Dorbanex Forte: bottles of 60 ml. 6 -; bottles of 500 ml. 45 -.

Glaxo brief

"It's her chest, doctor" A case for Ceporex

Mrs Murray is seventy. She has had a cough and dyspnoea for three days. Her doctor has diagnosed bronchopneumonia, possibly due to mixed infection. That's why Ceporex is being prescribed.

In respiratory tract infections Ceporex (cephalexin) has given high clinical success rates. Ceporex kills both the gram-positive and gram-negative organisms which are commonly responsible for respiratory infections.

Ceporex absorption is rapid and virtually complete, giving high serum levels within an hour of administration. It has low toxicity, is well tolerated and can be considered in patients hypersensitive to the penicillins.

Successful treatment starts with Ceporex.

Betnovate anti-infectives— a pack to suit almost every patient need Betnovate anti-infective preparations give a better clearance throughout the whole range of steroid-responsive dermatoses complicated by infection. Doctors have proved to their own satisfaction that Betnovate (0.1% betamethasone as 17-valerate) often resolves dermatoses that have proved resistant to other topical steroids. And neomycin (Betnovate-N), clioquinol (Betnovate-C) and aureomycin (Betnovate-A) provide the concurrent anti-infective therapy required.

And there's a wide range of packs available to suit almost every patient need.

Predsol the prednisolone compound to use in ulcerative colitis

Ever since the retention enema was established in the management of ulcerative colitis, prednisolone as the 21-phosphate (Predsol) has been accepted as the corticosteroid most suitable for therapy per rectum. Prednisolone 21-phosphate is reported as the corticosteroid of choice because it combines consistent clinical success, absence of undesirable systemic effects, and stability in solution.

One Neo-Cytamen injection treats pernicious anaemia for two to three months

Laboratory reports have shown that higher and more persistent vitamin B₁₂ serum levels are obtained with hydroxocobalamin (Neo-Cytamen) than with cyanocobalamin.¹ A report of a study of patients on maintenance treatment for pernicious anaemia concluded that "1,000 micrograms of hydroxocobalamin every three months should be adequate."² "From both biological and therapeutic aspects, hydroxocobalamin is preferable to cyanocobalamin and should therefore become the standard preparation for the treatment of vitamin B₁₂ deficiency."¹

Pregaday – once-a-day iron without irritation

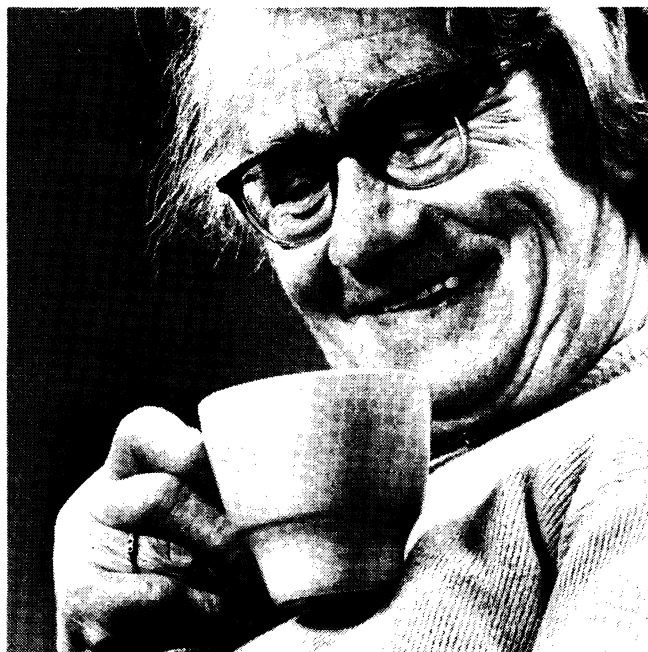

Regrettably, many once-a-day iron tablets contain ferrous sulphate, a compound that can cause gastric irritation. And a stomach upset is an additional irritation a pregnant woman (and her doctor) can well do without.

Each Pregaday Tablet contains 304 mg ferrous fumarate BP (equivalent to 100 mg ferrous iron), plus 350 micrograms of folic acid. The low irritancy of ferrous fumarate (as against the high irritancy of ferrous sulphate) means that Pregaday can be taken in this dose without the risk of gastric upsets.

The forget-proof Pregaday packs identify each tablet with the day of the week, so patients can see at a glance whether or not they've taken their daily tablet. And Pregaday is among the least expensive of the once-a-day iron plus folic acid tablets – another good reason for prescribing them during pregnancy.

Complan – when nutrition is a problem

Complan greatly simplifies nutritional problems in hospitals and the home. Complan contains the protein, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins and minerals necessary to maintain a nutritional state in the patient as near the normal as possible. Patients who are unable or unwilling to swallow solid food may be completely nourished by Complan alone – administered as a drink or as a tube feed. The ingredients are in the form of a powder which forms a stable suspension when mixed with water.

Clear reasons for using Septrin

Abstracted from a Leading Article in the *British Medical Journal*².

- Trimethoprim not only attains therapeutic tissue levels, but is excreted unchanged in high concentration in the urine.
- All Gram-negative bacilli occurring in the urine, except Pseudomonas aeruginosa, are usually highly sensitive to it.
- Its minimum inhibitory concentration is extremely low.
- Trimethoprim and a sulphonamide, by blocking successive stages in the same bacterial metabolic process, exert a strong synergic effect, and this action is bactericidal.

Why patients who hate the idea of elastic hosiery like wearing Scholl

Scholl know as well as you do just how much women hate the idea of elastic stockings. That's why they've made Scholl elastic stockings as acceptable to women as they are effective in bringing relief. Scholl elastic stockings do look nicer than ordinary elastic stockings. That's why patients are going to wear them when you prescribe them. Not just for the support. Not just for the comfort. But for the look of stockings that look like stockings—or are indiscernible under them.

Scholl 'Nylastik' (illustrated)
(prescribed as 'Lightweight Elastic Yarn')
Nylastik are suitable for mild to average varices or for expectant mothers. They are worn instead of nylons and, on the legs, appear almost indistinguishable from an ordinary 30-denier stretch stocking.

Scholl 'Soft Grip'

(prescribed as 'Standard Elastic Yarn')
Scholl Soft Grip are suitable for average to moderately severe varices. They are worn under normal sheer nylons. They are circular knit in double-expansion mesh with two-way elasticity to give firm, even support around the leg with plenty of comfortable 'give' lengthwise.

Why

brand of methacycline

*Trade Mark

should not be confused with tetracycline in chronic bronchitis

It is distinctly more active than tetracycline against the organisms commonly associated with respiratory infections¹ and its spectrum of activity is broader than that of the penicillins, including ampicillin.

It clears purulent sputum quickly – even sputum which has remained stubbornly infected in the face of tetracycline therapy.²

It has been shown to shorten exacerbations far more decisively than either tetracycline or ampicillin.³

High, sustained blood levels ensure therapeutic activity for up to 24 hours after the final dose.¹ This is a distinct advantage over tetracycline and the penicillins.

The problem of the antibiotic being destroyed by penicillinase-producing organisms does not arise.

It all adds up to shorter exacerbations, less damage to lung tissue and a better prognosis for the patient.

Respiratory tract infections— Penbritin Territory

Penbritin is being used increasingly in the treatment of urinary tract infections because it

- kills rather than inhibits the main causative organisms,
- is active in renal tissue as well as in urine,
- has the safety of penicillin,
- offers a choice of presentations.

Penbritin's value in the treatment of urinary tract infection is confirmed by 8 years' published evidence which reveals a success rate of more than 80% in acute infections.

At the recommended dosage of 500 mg. three times a day Penbritin achieves high blood and urine levels and can attack and eradicate pathogens in all parts of the urinary tract. Having the safety of traditional penicillins, it may confidently be prescribed for children, for expectant mothers and even for patients with impaired renal function. Furthermore, Penbritin is available in a complete range of presentations: 500 mg. and 250 mg. capsules, syrups of 125 mg. and 250 mg./5 ml. strengths, 125 mg. paediatric tablets and three strengths of injectable.

Adult Dosage: 500 mg. three times daily.

Contra-indication: Penicillin allergy.

Side-effects: As with other penicillins.

Further information is available on request.

SERVICES

What's in the RAF for a young doctor?

Interesting out-of-the-rut medicine

The typical R.A.F. station doctor is a G.P. - with probably a lot of experience in pediatrics! He also has important responsibilities in aviation medicine, public health and industrial health. He does much more preventive work than most civilian doctors are able to do. There are wide opportunities for hospital practice - 47% of R.A.F. doctors are now working in specialist departments.

The chance to travel

You could live and work abroad, in many different conditions and climates, treating not only R.A.F. personnel and their families, but local populations. Your gain in clinical experience would be marked.

... a fair crack of the whip for the Doctor's wife

A Doctor's wife is a Doctor's wife. She should not also have to be his telephone-answerer, appointment-maker, dispenser and general auxiliary! In the R.A.F., these things are done by professionals: the typical R.A.F. doctor, on a typical R.A.F. station, works in a fully equipped Medical Centre, which he shares with another doctor; between them they would probably have about 12 staff—secretarial as well as nursing.

£3,000 (tax free) after 5 years

In the first case, you would probably join the R.A.F. for 5 years. If you decide to go back to civil life at the end of this time, you would take with you a tax-free honorarium; at present £3,000. (You might of course wish to stay on: you can apply after the first year.) Now for income: suppose you are a married man of 25, fully registered. If you were in the R.A.F., your income would be at least £3,249 p.a. The R.A.F. would probably provide you with a house, furnished right down to the last coffee-cup.

To find out more please write, giving your age, nationality, qualifications and date of full registration with General Medical Council, to The Directorate General of Medical Services, RAF (MA1 (RAF)), Ministry of Defence (724QS11), 1-6 Tavistock Square, London W.C.1.

ENTREPRENEURIAL DOCTORS

c. £5,000

Spain Scandinavia Eastern Europe

The discovery of a new major group of drugs leads this British company to develop its world-wide markets. Sales in this country have quickly reached exceptionally high levels, and the new Medical Advisers will be principally concerned with demonstrating the drugs' efficacy to medical opinion abroad. The work will entail arranging clinical trials and studies with the co-operation of medical authorities, consultants and G.P.s. It offers an interesting alternative career to a doctor seeking wider horizons. Negotiations at senior levels will be involved, as well as frequent contacts with the U.K. research centre and close liaison with the marketing department.

Candidates should be in the 30-45 age range and ideally will have a postgraduate qualification. They may now be in a hospital, in practice or in the Services. For the posts in Madrid and Stockholm, we envisage the appointment of men who qualified in those countries, and who can converse easily in English. The Eastern Europe adviser may choose to be based in this country or on the continent, and will travel extensively. In addition to English, fluent German or knowledge of a Slavonic language would be a strong recommendation. Salaries and fringe benefits will be appropriate for the countries concerned, and will correspond to a U.K. salary in the region of £5,000 with a car provided.

JOURNALISM (see also p. lii)

EXECUTIVE EDITOR

A major publishing company is looking for an executive editor for a group of four medical publications. We want a man with authority and flair to direct the editorial development of the existing publications and to establish new publications in other areas of medical publishing.

The executive editor will have control of an existing staff of professional journalists and we are therefore seeking someone who has more the ability to inspire and direct, rather than to teach people their jobs. The work will be arduous and invigorating—but the salary and prospects are enviable.

euglucon[®]

new single daily dosage

During the 15 years since tolbutamide was introduced, the search for improved oral anti-diabetic agents has continued. The investigation of more than 8,000 sulphonylurea compounds showed Euglucon to be the most potent yet best tolerated oral anti-diabetic agent so far available.

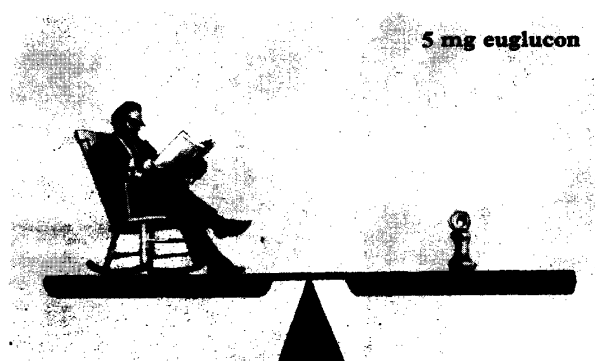

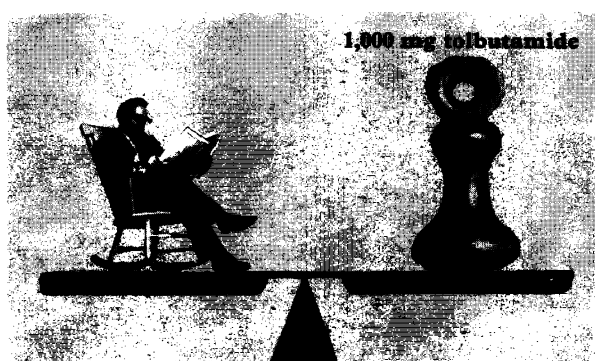

International clinical experience with more than 5,000 patients has shown that the majority of maturity-onset diabetics can be effectively controlled on a daily dosage of 10 mg or less of Euglucon, usually in a single administration. At the same time, Euglucon is well tolerated even in prolonged therapeutic dosage, being in this respect at least comparable to tolbutamide. Because of its potency, Euglucon may be suitable for the management of patients who have failed to respond to other oral anti-diabetic agents.

First British publication on Euglucon

Euglucon has been made the subject of extensive clinical trials in this country. The first published report* reviews full metabolic studies carried out with healthy adults and diabetic patients. It also describes the results of a clinical trial involving 135 patients with maturity-onset diabetes.

In their conclusions, the authors state:
 'Glibenclamide was found to be an effective agent for the treatment of maturity-onset diabetes and compared favourably in this trial with other sulphonylureas. The potency of the drug was such that some patients could be maintained on as little as 2.5 mg glibenclamide compared with 500 mg chlorpropamide. No gastro-intestinal or other side-effects were observed ...'

when acute peri-articular disorders lead to loss of work or play is treating pain with simple analgesics enough?

Pain must be relieved of course; but it is the inflammation behind the peri-articular disorder that can delay recovery. This is why 'Indocid' can play such an important part in treatment.

'Indocid' is both analgesic and anti-inflammatory. 'Indocid' may help patients begin graded exercise sooner — and hence speed full recovery.
