

PROGNOSIS IN ELEVATED BLOOD PRESSURE

Implications of insurance statistics

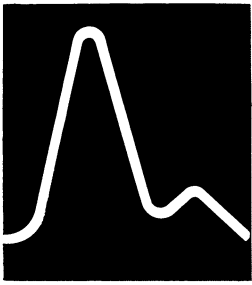

The charts on the opposite page are based on the accumulated experience of 26 insurance companies in America covering nearly 4,000,000 people who were accepted for life insurance. The statistics reveal that even modest elevations of blood pressure are associated with definite decreases in life expectancy.

For example, a male of 45 years with a blood pressure 150/100 mm Hg has his average life expectancy reduced from 32 to 20½ years—a loss of 11½ years.

Fortunately, substantial evidence has accumulated to show that effective treatment with modern antihypertensive drugs can considerably improve the depressing prognosis indicated by the insurance companies' statistics.

Prognosis in Elevated Blood Pressure

Reduction in Life Expectancy

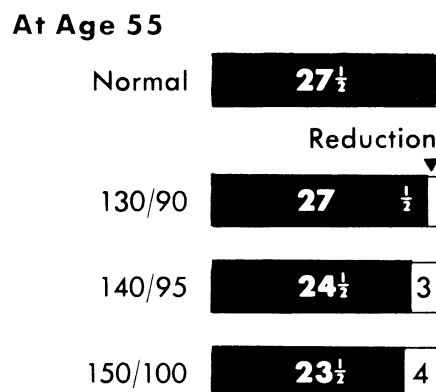

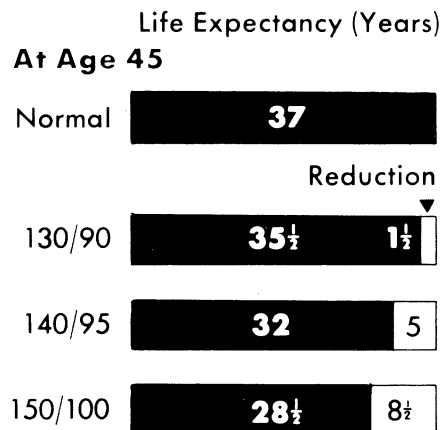

Life Expectancy in Elevated Blood Pressure Compared with Normal Expectancy

Reductions in expectation of life associated with elevated blood pressure are not proportionate to the degree of excess mortality. This holds even for very high blood pressures.

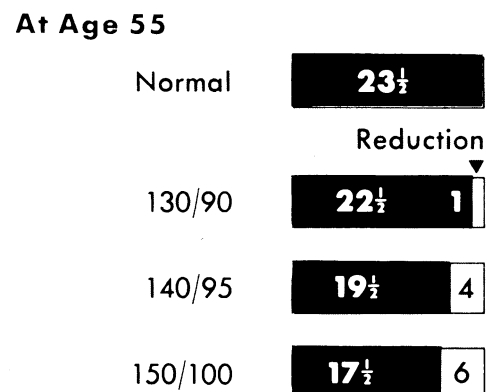

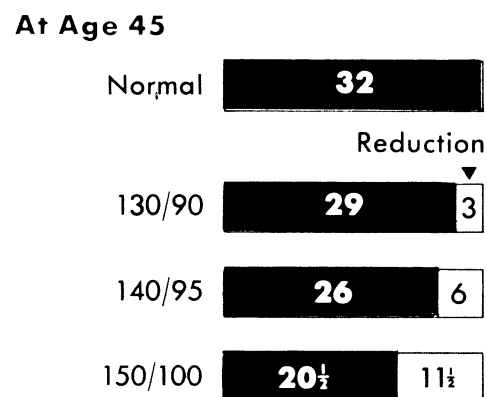

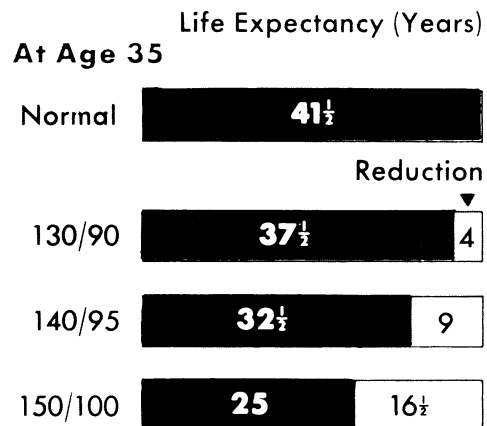

The magnitude of the reduction in life expectancy increases with elevation in blood pressure, but decreases with age.

The figures illustrate approximate reductions in life expectancy associated with indicated elevations in blood pressure.

Now a fundamental treatment for peptic ulcer symptoms

Maxolon's action in restoring normal gastro-duodenal motility² is of great benefit to all who suffer peptic ulcer symptoms, including those patients with no demonstrable pathology, and post-operative cases.

Maxolon provides a rational method of treatment not afforded by either antacids or anticholinergics. These relieve symptoms by lowering acid levels in the stomach. Maxolon promotes gastric emptying¹, and thus removes both the stimulus to secrete and the excess acid present in the stomach. In this way it also relieves the symptoms of "over-fullness".

Maxolon's effect of synchronising antral and duodenal contractions² is even more significant in treating peptic ulcer symptoms. By eliminating regurgitation through the pyloric and oesophageal sphincters³, it prevents the repeated reflux of acid or bile which aggravates the condition. This action also relieves the symptoms of regurgitation and epigastric pain⁴.

Maxolon introduces a new concept into the treatment of peptic ulcer. But it can be prescribed with more confidence than if it were something entirely new. Maxolon, in establishing a seven-year record of clinical success as an anti-emetic, has demonstrated a reassuring freedom from toxicity, even when used for long periods.

Practical Psychiatry

Most doctors who have been qualified for more than ten years received very little training in psychiatry as medical students. Yet psychiatric problems confront all those practising clinical medicine. The articles collected together in this book were written for the B.M.J. to give practical advice to general practitioners and others on how to recognize and cope with the more common forms of mental disorder. Many patients are anxious or depressed; when should the doctor try to do something about it? This is the sort of question the authors set out to answer. As far as possible they have avoided the use of psychiatric jargon, and case histories have been used freely to illustrate the points made. Any doctor who feels ignorant about psychological medicine will find here a readable introduction to the practical aspects of clinical psychiatry.

Diseases of the Joints

Arthritis and rheumatism are common complaints, even if patients are often vague about the exact meaning of the terms they use. In the last few years the diagnosis of joint disorders has become more exact, while the introduction of local and systemic steroid therapy and the powerful non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs has revolutionized treatment. In an attempt to bring doctors up to date in this field, the B.M.J. published in 1969 a series of short articles giving practical advice on the common disorders of the joints. The articles have now been revised by their authors and collected together to form this handbook on the management of arthritis.

The New General Practice 2

What important developments are there in General Practice? Does the General Practice Team work successfully? What is the Family Doctor's future role in the Hospital Service? These and other questions are answered in The New General Practice 2 which, published two years after the first volume in this series, also deals with topics such as the use of computers, plans for the new towns, and Scandinavian developments in general practice. This second volume contains 27 articles published in the B.M.J. in the last two years. The introduction has been written by Professor J. D. E. Knox, Professor of General Practice at Dundee University.

Hypertension. Introduce her to treatment gently with Neo-NaClex-K.

When a patient is new to hypertension, Neo-NaClex-K makes it a lot easier to live with.

Easier, because just once-a-day treatment can control the mild to moderate case.

Easier, because her sleep won't be disturbed by diuresis during the early days of treatment.

Easier, because postural hypotension won't be something she'll wake up to.

And even in severe hypertension you can still keep her on Neo-NaClex-K in conjunction with minimal doses of a more potent antihypertensive. So you can control the severe condition with less risk of side effects.

Neo-NaClex-K is a unique two layered tablet containing bendrofluazide to lower blood pressure safely and surely, plus a potassium supplement to replace any loss. And right from the start, it provides a gentle introduction to the long-term treatment your new hypertensive patient may need.

Road Accidents and the Family Doctor

Road accidents are now acknowledged to be one of the major epidemics of our time. It has been estimated that many accident deaths could be saved by skilled treatment at the site of the accident, and recently doctors in Britain and abroad have been playing an increasingly active part in this. This booklet, which reprints a series of articles which appeared in the B.M.J., contains contributions on organization and medical equipment, the management of soft-tissue injuries, resuscitation, fractures of the spine, and extrication of persons trapped in a vehicle. The introduction is written by Mr. Norman Capener, Chairman of the Medical Commission on Accident Prevention.

A name to conjure with.

'Largactil' has been a name to conjure with in psychiatric medicine for over sixteen years. An influence of such magnitude and long duration can be explained by examining this legendary name.

'Largactil' was so named because of its LARGE variety of ACTIONS; apart from being the first major tranquillizer, it acts in two other pharmacologically distinct ways – as a potentiator of central nervous depressants, including analgesics, narcotics and sedatives, and as an anti-emetic.

'Largactil' has achieved success in the fields of psychiatry, general medicine and anaesthetics in an ever-widening range of indications. These include major and minor psychoses; as an adjuvant to E.C.T.; drug withdrawal; senile dementia; the control of terminal pain and nausea and vomiting.

Recent clinical and double blind trials^{1,2,3} have confirmed that PAROVEN provides outstanding relief of symptoms due to chronic venous insufficiency or back pressure. Particularly good results were obtained in night cramps, heavy legs and chronic aching pain. Other symptoms which respond to long-term therapy with PAROVEN include: superficial thrombophlebitis, varicose ulcers, varicose eczema, ankle oedema, restless legs, paraesthesia, haemorrhoids.

Dosage. Initial treatment: 4 capsules a day, preferably with meals. In most cases, at least four weeks treatment with PAROVEN is required before significant benefit is felt. At the point where the patient experiences benefit, the dosage may be adjusted to a maintenance level. Maintenance treatment: 1-2 capsules a day.

Side effects and Precautions. In a few patients, slight gastro-intestinal disorders, flushes and headaches have been reported. These are usually overcome by taking the capsules with meals or by slight adjustment of dosage. There are no known contra-indications to PAROVEN; it is virtually non-toxic and has no teratogenic effects. In keeping with current teaching and practice its use during the first trimester should, however, be avoided.

Availability. Capsules, each containing 250 mg of $\text{O} - (\beta - \text{hydroxyethyl}) - \text{rutosides}$ (not less than 45% troxerutin), in bottles of 20 and 100 capsules.

MEDICAL ADVISER

Upjohn Limited wish to appoint a Medical Adviser to assist with the continuing expansion of the Company's clinical research activity, particularly in the fields of antibiotics, steroids and prostaglandins.

The man appointed will probably be under forty years of age.
He will hold a British Medical Qualification and will have a sound postgraduate experience in hospital or in general practice. His responsibilities will include the establishment and follow-up of programmes of clinical evaluation for both new and existing products, and will involve liaison with physicians and surgeons in teaching hospitals. An interest in therapeutics and in clinical pharmacology will therefore be required. Previous experience in the pharmaceutical industry will not be regarded as essential.

The position is one of considerable responsibility and the salary, which will be reviewed annually, is negotiable according to experience. The conditions of service include non-contributory life assurance, a superannuation scheme, and the provision of a company car. The successful candidate will report to the Medical Director, and be based at the Company's headquarters in Crawley, Sussex.

Applications, which will be treated as strictly confidential within the Company, should be forwarded, together with a curriculum vitae to:

SALARY SCALES OF HOSPITAL MEDICAL STAFF

Following the Twelfth Report of the Review Body, new salary scales have been approved. These came into force on April 1, 1970. The scales are set out below:

HOUSE OFFICER: Each post in this grade shall be tenable for six months. £1,626 per annum for the posts held during the first year; £1,755 per annum for posts held during the second year; £1,884 per annum for posts held during the third and subsequent years, subject to full registration.

Deductions of £177 per annum in respect of lodging only for voluntary residence.

SENIOR HOUSE OFFICER: £2,040 per annum in the first year; £2,184 per annum in the second year; £2,328 per annum in the third or subsequent years.

Deductions of £210 per annum in respect of lodging only for voluntary residence.

REGISTRAR: £2,328 per annum x £144(3) x £126(1) — £2,886.

Deductions of £210 per annum for those with remuneration at the first incremental point on the scale, and £243 per annum for those on the second and subsequent points will be made in respect of lodging only for voluntary residence.

On assimilation to the scale for Registrars, one increment and one only shall be given for any year or part of a year in excess of two spent previously in the senior house officer grade.

Allowances at rates up to £183 per annum shall be payable to house officers, senior house officers and registrars occupying posts approved for such allowances in peripheral hospitals.

SENIOR REGISTRAR: £2,760 per annum x £126(1) x £174(1) x £177(1) x £174(1) x £177(1) — £3,588.

Deductions of £270 per annum in respect of lodging only for voluntary residence.

On assimilation to the salary scale for senior registrars, increments to a maximum of two shall be given for each year or part of a year in excess of three spent previously in the registrar grade.

MEDICAL ASSISTANT: £2,520 per annum x £144(1) x £156(3) x £144(10) — £4,572.

Deductions of £270 per annum in respect of lodging only for voluntary residence.

CONSULTANT: £4,512 per annum x £201(8) x £210(1) — £6,330.

Deductions of £420 per annum in respect of lodging only for voluntary residence.

COMPULSORY RESIDENCE: The Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical and Dental Staff state:

173. A practitioner who is required as a condition of his appointment to reside in a hospital shall be provided with lodging without charge, except where the practitioner elects to occupy a house, flat or apartment for which a rental is appropriate.

All National Health Service hospital appointments are in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical Staff.

Further details concerning standards of residential accommodation, telephone charges, removal allowances, study leave and other matters may be obtained from the Hospital Secretary; or by B.M.A. members from the Secretary, British Medical Association. November 1970

GOVERNMENTAL

Blood Group Serologists

Applications are invited from blood group serologists for appointment by the Home Secretary as persons responsible for testing blood samples under Part III of the Family Law Reform Act 1969.

This Act enables any court in civil proceedings in England and Wales to have the benefit of evidence from blood tests in determining the paternity of a person. The court may on application direct that tests should be made. A procedure is to be prescribed for blood samples to be taken and tested and for the appointed tester to make a report in writing on the result of the tests. This report will be received as evidence by the court that made the direction for tests.

The scale of remuneration for this service has not yet been prescribed, but it is likely to be about £25 for each three-party test and report.

Applicants are asked to state

- their qualifications,
- their training and experience in serological methods,
- the laboratory where tests will be done, and
- the range of tests they can offer, in particular which red cell and serum antibodies are usually available and which tests, if any, for other characters, such as haptoglobins or isozymes, can be included.

Application should be made to:— The Under-Secretary of State, Home Office (Room 110), Whitehall, London SW1

Applications for the first appointments should reach Home Office by 14 September 1971.

ST. ANDREW'S HOSPITAL
NORTHAMPTON

Medical Director: James Harper, M.B., F.R.C.P. (Edin), D.P.M.

St. Andrew's Hospital is a private psychiatric hospital situated in 130 acres of parkland in the county town of Northampton. In general, patients are admitted to Wantage House, a reception unit in the grounds which is equipped for the investigation and treatment of all forms of psychiatric illness. In addition, there is accommodation mainly in private rooms, both in the main hospital and in various villas, for longer-stay patients and geriatric patients. The hospital's amenities include Gloucester House, which comprises an Occupational Therapy Department, a swimming pool, a squash court and library, while in the grounds there are tennis courts, a nine-hole golf course, etc.

Fees range from £31.50 per week, and subscribers to private medical insurance schemes such as British United Provident Association and Private Patients Plan, may claim benefit in respect of these charges.

Further particulars may be obtained from the Medical Director, St. Andrew's Hospital, Northampton (Tel: Northampton 34354), who can be seen in consultation by appointment, either at the hospital or at 55 Harley Street, London, W.1. 99
