The right-first-time antibiotic for Urinary Tract Infections

Penbritin is right because it is active against the three principal urinary pathogens—E. coli., Proteus mirabilis and Strep. faecalis. This contrasts with the antibacterials and sulphonamides. Penbritin also minimises the risk of relapse, since it destroys bacteria rather than merely inhibiting them.

Penbritin is right because its safety is well proven. Penbritin can be confidently prescribed where safety must be a prime consideration—in pregnancy, women of child-bearing age, and patients with impaired renal function. This contrasts with the trimethoprim/sulphamethoxazole combinations.

The wide range of presentations—capsules, tablets, syrups, and injectables enables you to prescribe Penbritin in the right form for any patient. Following the recent price reduction the average daily cost of treating a urinary tract infection with Penbritin is just 18p.

Penbritin is right because it is clinically proven. Seventy-three papers reporting 1,200 patients, show overall success rates of 82% in acute and 65% in chronic infections. These figures confirm Penbritin as the right-first-time antibiotic.

Adult dosage: 500 mg t.d.s. $\frac{1}{2}$ –1 hour a.c.

Contra-indications: Penicillin hypersensitivity

Side-effects: as with other penicillins

WHEN EXCESSIVE
ANXIETY EXPLODES
INTO THE BODY

NOBRIUM

Anxiety starts in the mind but profoundly effects the body

When excessive anxiety arises in the amygdala it is transmitted, mainly by the hypothalamus, to the body, where it produces a collection of physical changes which, if repeated too often or sustained for too long, give rise to chronic functional disorders and organic disease

Anxiety makes the heart work harder but less efficiently

In anxiety, heart rate and variation in heart rate¹ increase, so does the blood pressure. Blood viscosity rises and clotting time shortens² often to a fraction of the normal value. Serum cholesterol levels rise.³ Recovery from exercise is slow and inefficient. Cardiac arrhythmias are not uncommon. These effects can produce cardiac reactions in previously healthy patients. In existing cardiac disease they may be a direct threat to the patient's life

3 Circulation, 1959, 19, 496

Anxiety attacks, often damages, the gastro-intestinal tract

Direct observations through gastrostomies, dating back as far as 1833¹ record changes in the tone, motility, secretion, and vascularity of the digestive tract produced by emotional stress, changes which frequently lead to functional disorders and structural damage. Authoritative lists of gastro-intestinal conditions produced or exacerbated by anxiety typically² range from one end of the tract to the other: from globus hystericus to irritable colon

2 Med. Clin. N. Amer. 1956, 40, 329

Anxiety that takes the patient's breath away

Anxiety increases the rate of respiration¹ but impairs respiratory efficiency.² Hyperventilation, which is common in anxiety³ can produce dizziness, visual disturbances, feelings of unreality, sighing, yawning, sensations of suffocation and many other symptoms, apparently involving the heart, gastro-intestinal tract or the body generally. Anxiety often plays a distinct role in the aetiology and exacerbation of asthma

Anxiety as a burden on the muscles

The physical tension characteristic of anxiety has been measured electromyographically. This tension is associated with physical symptoms and disorders. Skeletal muscle hypertonia is associated, in susceptible persons subject to emotional stress, with low back pain.² Patients with limb pain or 'rheumatic pain' showed high forearm readings while those with headaches showed high frontalis levels.³

In December 1970 a survey⁷ was made of 783 published clinical trials of Nobrium. Analysis of these data showed that of 563 patients with symptoms affecting the heart, gastro-intestinal system and lungs, or with headache presumably related to muscular tension, 406 (72.1%) showed a good or excellent response to treatment with Nobrium. Of 1122 symptoms reported as anxiety with physical symptoms and psychosomatic disorders, 830 (73.9%) showed a good to excellent response.

Prepared feeds. In a couple of shakes.

No more mixing. No more bottles to wash.

Cow & Gate Prepared Feeds are ready to use. And they come in disposable sterilised bottles. With sterilised teat units.

There's no need for the feed or the teat to be touched by human hand.

Use at room temperature or warm up if preferred and after feeding simply throw the bottle away.

There are four Prepared Feeds available exclusively to hospitals.

Half-Cream. Full-Cream.

Distilled Water. And 5% Dextrose.

The Milk Feeds are the same as reconstituted Cow & Gate Milk Foods.

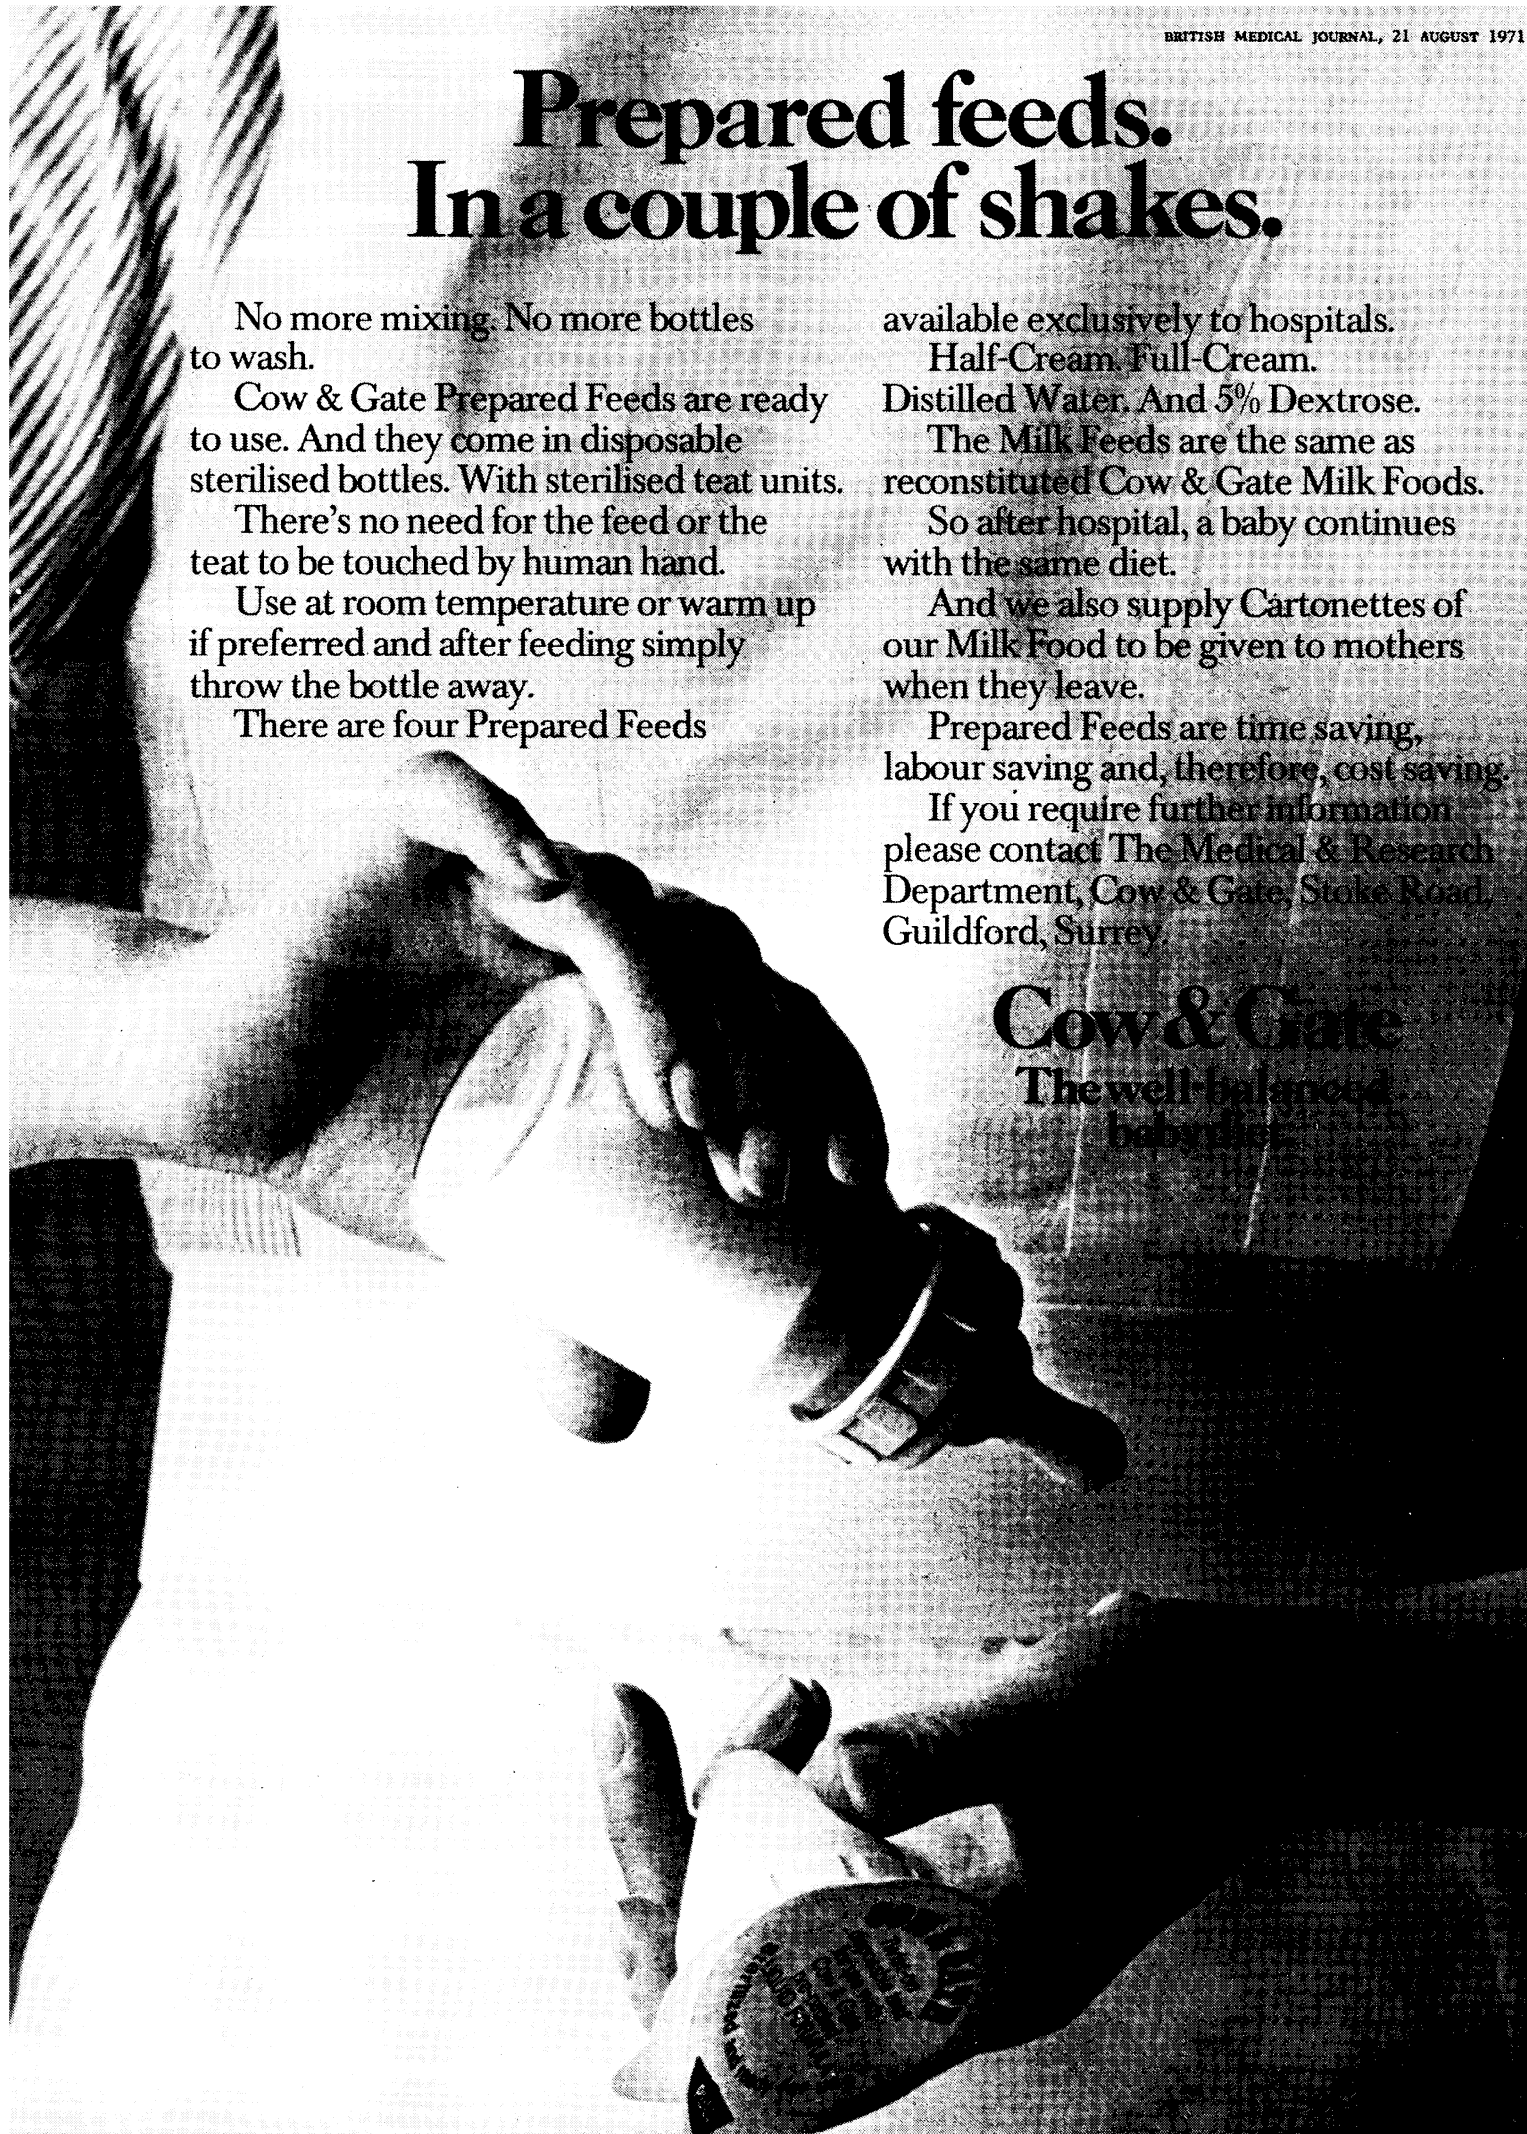

So after hospital, a baby continues with the same diet.

And we also supply Cartonettes of our Milk Food to be given to mothers when they leave.

Prepared Feeds are time saving, labour saving and, therefore, cost saving.

Diseases of the Urinary Tract

One of the most rapidly growing specialties over the last few years has been that of urology. Many doctors now in practice could not have been taught much of the present-day management of many urinary tract diseases. Last year the B.M.J. published a series of "Current Practice" articles on diseases in the urinary tract, and these have now been collected together in a booklet. Beside articles on the newer aspects of the specialty, the booklet contains articles on established methods of managing renal disorders. Any doctor who wishes to bring himself up to date on modern practice in this field will find this a readable account of the important aspects of the specialty.

six good reasons for prescribing Bactrim* Roche for urinary tract infections

Urinary Infections respond outstandingly well to Bactrim Roche, a combination of trimethoprim and a sulphonamide. One such combination was used prophylactically in 25 cases of chronic bacteriuria where the usual treatment (ampicillin, tetracycline or nitrofurantoin) had failed. Although the dose used was very much below the level normally recommended† the treatment controlled 22 (88 per cent) of the group for periods of 6 to 36 months.¹ The combination used in Bactrim Roche (trimethoprim/sulphamethoxazole) achieved a cure rate of 85 per cent one week after treatment ended and 67 per cent after four to five weeks, compared with 70 per cent and 52 per cent for ampicillin.² An editorial in the British Medical Journal commented that the combination "was therefore clearly superior . . . and this superior effect was even more appreciable in the treatment of patients who had failed on another drug."³

Chances are you have over 100 Psoriatics on your list... ...Alphosyl could help them.

A great many people in Britain suffer from Psoriasis. On average, more than 100 for every G.P. in the country. And that's why every G.P. should know about Alphosyl.

Alphosyl Lotion is the most widely prescribed treatment specifically for Psoriasis. Patients get complete clearing or a marked improvement without systemic reactions, without uncomfortable restrictive dressings and without serious side effects or contraindications.

Alphosyl Lotion is the primary treatment, for use all over the body. And its effectiveness is backed up by the Cream and Application PC. The Cream is particularly effective in the intertrigenous areas, and Application PC removes scales from the scalp and prepares the head for treatment with the Lotion.

Alphosyl therapy (Lotion, Cream and Application PC) can be adjusted to suit the patients individual needs . . . or preferences.

Alphosyl is available as a 5% refined alcoholic extract of coal tar and allantoin (2%) in a Cream and Lotion. Alphosyl Application PC is a unique combination of coal tar extract (5%) and hexachlorophane (1%).

The tablet that started the psychiatric revolution in 1954, derives its name from an early worker's description of chlorpromazine's LARGE variety of ACTIONS. Apart from being the first major tranquillizer, 'Largactil' acts in two other pharmacologically distinct ways—as a potentiator of central nervous depressants, including analgesics, sedatives and narcotics and as an anti-emetic. 'Largactil' has achieved success in the fields of psychiatry, general medicine and anaesthetics in an ever-widening range of indications. These include major and minor psychoses; drug withdrawal; senile dementia; the management of terminal pain and nausea and vomiting.

Half-hearted measures in the treatment of hypertension can be fatal.

There is now convincing evidence that in hypertension, whether mild or severe, blood pressure must be maintained in the normal range. Any degree of hypertension – and by inference, incomplete therapeutic control – still carries a high long-term morbidity.

Complete control is usually impracticable with conventional antihypertensive agents because of prohibitive side effects. Not so with 'Inderal'. This drug maintains normal blood pressure by night as well as day. Hypotensive crises due to changes in posture, activity or external temperature do not occur. Mental, sexual and gastro-intestinal functions are unimpaired.

'Inderal', with a thiazide diuretic, controls some 80% of hypertensive patients. It is a real step forward in preventive medicine.

Detailed information, available on request, should be consulted before prescribing.

UNIVERSITY OF EXETER

POSTGRADUATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE Full-time postgraduate course of 10 weeks duration will begin on 6th October, 1971. These courses are held 3 times a year starting October, January and April. Each course includes instruction in general medicine, paediatrics, preventive medicine, pathology, psychiatry, orthopaedics and general surgery. The programme is planned so that students wishing to specialise in a particular clinical subject are given facilities to do so, while other students are taught in each of the main clinical departments. Unpaid clinical attachments can be arranged at the end of the course for students requiring a longer period of training, but these are normally reserved for students sponsored by some official body.

It is sometimes possible to accept general practitioners for 1 or 2 weeks of a course, and attendance for this period is recognised under Section 63 of the Health Services and Public Health Act 1968. These courses are also recognised under the special scheme for the re-training for general practice of doctors who have been out of the Health Service for at least 5 years. The fee for this course will be £40 (£83 for students from outside the United Kingdom).

Further particulars and application fees for these courses are obtainable from the Director, The Postgraduate Medical Institute, The University, Exeter, Devonshire. (10608) 2

Executive Council for Royal County of Berkshire Practice Vacancies Bracknell New Town Great Hollands Neighbourhood

Applications are invited from registered medical practitioners to succeed to an expanding partnership practice having a combined list of approximately 4,950 patients and a considerable amount of maternity work in the Great Hollands Neighbourhood of Bracknell New Town, which is at present classified as 'Open'. Joint applications will be considered. The vacancy arises as a result of the resignation on the 31st October, 1971, of a husband and wife partnership. A Health Centre is planned for the area within the next two years and from which the successful applicants will be required to practise. COMMERCIAL APPOINTMENTS

MERCK SHARP & DOHME LIMITED

MEDICAL ADVISER

This is an opportunity for a qualified doctor, male or female, to establish a career outside the direct practice of medicine. This leading manufacturer of ethical pharmaceuticals requires a physician to join its team of Medical Advisers which, under the Medical Director, provides a service of information and advice to the profession on the application of the Company's products, and the investigation of clinical problems. The team also monitors published data and product information material and trains the Company's Medical Representatives. The training of Representatives is very important and the candidate should enjoy teaching.

The Medical Adviser has a very important position in the Company and in this appointment there is considerable scope for a physician who also possesses commercial aptitude.

The work is highly congenial and the offices are situated in a pleasant part of Hertfordshire near London. Benefits include a company car, life insurance and superannuation. Please write for further details and application form to:

The Group Personnel Manager,
Merck Sharp & Dohme Limited,
Hoddesdon,
Hertfordshire.

Telephone: Hoddesdon 67123.

Trends in Clinical Pathology

Essays in Honour of Gordon Signy

This book is no pious collection of personal tributes but a survey of the old and the new disciplines in clinical pathology since the second world war — research in atherosclerosis and ischaemic heart disease, progress in medical virology, microbiology and cytology, the impact of antibiotics on medical bacteriology, chemical pathology and also molecular defence, haematology in mid-century, including haemostasis and blood transfusion. The place of fibrin in the story of hyalin is another modern study, so also is that on automation. The outlook on some members of the family Enterobacteriaceae is changing, and the 'old' forensic medicine is indeed new. And those pathologists working in the under-developed countries are not forgotten. The contributors are internationally renowned.

GOVERNMENTAL

GOVERNMENT OF NORTHERN IRELAND

DIRECTOR OF RESEARCH AND INTELLIGENCE UNIT

The Ministry of Health and Social Services has recently set up a Research and Intelligence Unit which will be primarily responsible for the collection, analysis and publication of data on the operation of the personal health and personal social services, for carrying out research into the operation of these services and for the development of computer applications. Its growth is anticipated and the Ministry is now seeking a suitable person to take over as Director.

The Director's main responsibility will be to supervise and co-ordinate the three elements of the Unit — the statistical, operational research and computer sections. He will also have as an important part of his duties the written and oral exposition of the Unit's work and the development of close relationships with colleagues in the personal health and personal social services, etc.

The successful candidate may or may not be medically qualified but is likely to have an Honours degree or equivalent. He should have had experience either of medical statistics, epidemiology or operational research.

The Salary will be in the range £4,390 — £5,015.

Entry to the scale will be determined according to age, qualifications and experience.

The post will be permanent and pensionable.

Application forms and further details of the post can be obtained from the Secretary, Civil Service Commission, Clarendon House, Adelaide Street, Belfast BT2 8ND (Telephone Belfast 27963 ext.
26). Completed applications should be returned by 8th September,

Order from: The Subscription Manager, British Medical Journal.

SERVICES

Are you in your Pre-Registration Year —or recently fully registered?

Before you commit yourself to your permanent pattern of life, consider what the Royal Air Force has to offer.

The chance to practise total medical care, as a GP

Your first job would probably be a Junior Medical Officer on a large RAF Station. There would be at least one other doctor. Between you, you would have a 'list' of 2000 to 3000 people—servicemen and their families. You would meet all the usual clinical problems of a GP—and get plenty of experience in pediatrics. As well as this, you would be actively involved in the practice of aviation medicine and gain experience in the preventive, occupational and social fields.

Conditions of work are extremely good. You would have a consulting room in a specially built Medical Centre—like a small hospital with its own treatment room, theatre and resuscitation room, and wards for a dozen or so short-stay patients. There is a full secretarial and nursing staff. Your clinical freedom would be absolute.

The chance to specialise, too

Because General Practice is so highly developed in the RAF, this does not mean you have no chance to specialise. The contrary is true. 47% of all RAF doctors are now working in specialist departments. On a 'full career' contract you have every opportunity to reach consultant status in your late or middle thirties—perhaps earlier.

The chance to study for higher qualifications

Any RAF doctor, whether specialist or GP (as long as he is not on the very shortest of contracts) can apply for six months study leave on full salary. On a permanent commission, he may have up to two years' external study leave.

The chance to travel

The RAF operates in many different conditions and climates. Abroad, the RAF doctor looks after RAF personnel and their families and, very often, the local population as well. Your gain in clinical experience would be marked.

The chance of a good social and family life

The RAF is a young community, with a full and active social life. There are facilities for almost every kind of sport and, which is most important, the time to enjoy your family while you are still a young man. Living conditions are excellent. If you are single you live in the Officers' Mess, which has all the amenities of a good hotel. If you are married, you will nearly always have a furnished house that goes with the job; rent for this is very modest; and it can save a large financial outlay at the beginning of your career.

General Practice? With a difference. At this RAF Clinic, in the busy town of Limassol, in Cyprus, almost all the patients are women and children (specially children). Staff is 7 doctors, each with his (or her) own panel of patients; and 5 dentists. There are 5 SRN Nurses, and 7 Health Visitors. Next door is the RAF's Child Guidance Clinic, with psychiatrist, educational psychologist and speech therapist.

A realistic pay scale

Pay is based on the average earnings of a civilian GP. Immediately after full registration, the present basic salary is £3395; after 5 years it rises to £4106; after 13 years to £5110. There are various other allowances; for instance, with children at boarding school the figures are £306 (net) for one child, £669 (net) for two children, £1104 (net) for three children. There are tax-free gratuities of £1500 after 3 years, or £3000 after 5 years. After service of 16 years or more there is a pension, payable for life, and a generous terminal grant.

For full information please write, giving your age, nationality, and date of full registration, to Group Captain J. G. Donald, MB, ChB, DTM&H, RAF, Ministry of Defence, 1-6 Tavistock Square (724JZ1), London, WC1H 9NL. Or visit your nearest RAF Careers Information Office.

CANADA

Newfoundland, Canada's newest and rapidly developing province, looks for graduates of British Medical Schools. Vacancies will exist in 1972 for the following posts:

SENIOR MEDICAL OFFICERS

Suitable for doctors with, preferably, some surgical experience, not necessarily to fellowship standard. A good background of experience in general medicine would be helpful. The successful applicant will, with his assistants, be responsible for the medical and health needs of a population of from 5,000 to 10,000 people. Minimum salary is $28,000 (£11,336). A furnished house at reasonable rent is available. Benefits include subsidized pension plan, medical and hospital coverage for whole family, transportation and removal costs paid if applicant agrees to complete two years' service, three weeks' vacation and a month's study leave after a year. Road or air facilities are available for transfer of serious cases from smaller to larger centres.

* There are six posts becoming vacant during 1972. These hospitals are connected with the main highway system. Facilities exist for the usual basic laboratory and X-ray investigations. Memorial University in St. John's has a medical school where opportunities for postgraduate study exist.

ASSISTANT MEDICAL OFFICERS

Suitable for recent graduates and provide considerable experience in all fields of medicine. The salary commences at $20,000 (£8,096) per annum with increments. There are also the benefits described above.

PUBLIC HEALTH OFFICERS

Two vacancies exist for doctors with the Diploma in Public Health. These doctors will be based at Corner Brook for Western Newfoundland and Grand Falls for Central Newfoundland and will work as assistants to the Chief Public Health Officer in St. John's. Corner Brook and Grand Falls are the sites of large paper mills. Facilities for recreation include hunting, fishing, golf, and there is an active theatrical group in both places. These doctors will be responsible for the public health of their areas, including the supervision of the Public Health Nurses and the Health Inspectors located there and, in addition, advise and assist local doctors regarding public health. Starting salary is $23,000 (£9,311) per annum but under review. The benefits described for (a) will apply, including a furnished house, as well as car mileage allowances.

For other information, write by air mail the Deputy Minister, Department of Health, Confederation Building, St. John's, Newfoundland, Canada. A recruiting team will visit the United Kingdom in October where interviews will be held.

Treatment with Paroven significantly altered the PO_2 , oxygen saturation, and the oxygen content of varicose vein blood and the oxygen extraction in tissues of varicose vein legs towards normal values. The improved venous blood oxygenation and the reduced tissue oxygen extraction indicated better tissue perfusion with less blood oxygen having been taken from the increased capillary blood flow.

improves capillary flow relieves varicose disorders

"The most obvious effect of treatment with HR (Paroven) is the very constant relief of night cramps, with an improvement exceeding 90 per cent".

(Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161)

"The degree of relief in chronic aching pain in the legs was not so marked (compared with 90% improvement in night cramps and 70% improvement in heaviness of the legs), but still amounted to 54 per cent".

(Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161)

"Symptoms of heavy legs are improved in 70 per cent, and it was generally agreed that not only did legs feel lighter but the patients were more agile".

(Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161)

Long term treatment with PAROVEN[®] in varicose veins and post phlebitic syndrome

Recent clinical and double blind trials^{1,2,3} have confirmed that PAROVEN provides outstanding relief of symptoms due to chronic venous insufficiency or back pressure. Particularly good results were obtained in night cramps, heavy legs and chronic aching pain. Other symptoms which respond to long-term therapy with PAROVEN include:

- superficial thrombophlebitis, varicose ulcers, varicose eczema, ankle oedema, restless legs, paraesthesia, haemorrhoids.

Dosage. Initial treatment: 4 capsules a day, preferably with meals. In most cases, at least four weeks treatment with PAROVEN is required before significant benefit is felt. At the point where the patient experiences benefit, the dosage may be adjusted to a maintenance level. Maintenance treatment: 1-2 capsules a day.

Side effects and Precautions. In a few patients, slight gastro-intestinal disorders, flushes and headaches have been reported. These are usually overcome by taking the capsules with meals or by slight adjustment of dosage. There are no known contra-indications to PAROVEN; it is virtually non-toxic and has no teratogenic effects. In keeping with current teaching and practice its use during the first trimester should, however, be avoided.

Availability. Capsules, each containing 250 mg of O - (β - hydroxyethyl) - rutosides (not less than 45% troxerutin), in bottles of 20 and 100 capsules.

unlike the tranquillo-sedatives,
Integrin acts on the basic biochemical disturbance associated with anxiety.

INT

capsule

Indications: Acute and chronic anxiety states and psychosomatic conditions whether or not accompanied by depressive overlay; tension, apprehension, agitation, and sleep disturbances.

Dosage: The usual adult dose is one 10mg capsule three times daily, with a further capsule at bedtime if required. In certain cases up to 60mg daily may be needed. Should a milder effect be required the midday dose may be omitted.

Side Effects: Even in high doses, Integrin is well tolerated, with only minor, often transient, side effects. Some patients may experience some drowsiness. Dry mouth and dizziness have also been reported.

Precautions: Alcohol or other tranquillizers may potentiate the effect of Integrin and patients intending to drive should be made aware of this. Where MAO inhibitors have been used, 2-3 days should elapse before Integrin is started.

Safety Margins: No reports of toxicity or overdosage have been received, even where patients have taken up to 56 capsules in 24 hours. Neither dependence nor withdrawal symptoms have been reported.
Presentation: Containers of 100 capsules. Each grey/green capsule contains 10mg oxypertine.
Basic NHS cost of one week's treatment (1 capsule 10mg t.d.s.) is 36p.

'Fundamental' for anxiety!

Found effective in 90% of patients

In recent G.P. studies improvement was shown in 9 out of 10 patients within 2 weeks. In double-blind comparisons with chlordiazepoxide, Integrin gave relief to nearly 10% more patients.

Gives more profound relief from anxiety

Seventy eight patients, most of whom were already on tranquillo-sedatives, were switched to Integrin. Their average anxiety-rating dropped to less than one third of its previous level.

In another trial, Integrin gave complete – as opposed to partial – relief from anxiety within 4 weeks to as many as 35% of patients: nearly twice the rate of chlordiazepoxide.

Lifts any depressive overlay

In contrast to the tranquillo-sedatives, Integrin actually enhances mood and restores a normal sense of well-being.

Fast action—fast clinical response

Integrin answers the need for a faster acting tranquillizer. Clinical trials show that up to 90% of patients improve within the first week of treatment.
