In a recent multicentre trial which included over 6,000 outpatients, the three most common causative organisms in urinary infections were reported to be E. coli, Proteus mirabilis and Klebsiella aerogenes. # Ceporex 250mg q.d.s. means success in bronchitis

In a recent clinical trial* conducted among General Practitioners, 156 bronchitic patients were treated with Ceporex 250mg q.d.s. Both chronic and acute conditions were treated, mainly of mild to moderate severity. Success rate with this economical dosage regimen was high – 80% in acute bronchitis and 81% in chronic bronchitis.

In bronchitis, Ceporex 250mg q.d.s. can reduce the risks and improve the results.

Ceporex

*GP trial – references available from Medical Department

Dosage recommendations for Ceporex

As indicated in the table below, the dosage requirements in some infections can vary considerably from patient to patient. However, most cases of urinary tract and skin infections, sinusitis, otitis media and bronchitis treated in General Practice respond well to a dosage of 1 gram a day.

Guide to adult dosage (oral)

	15–30mg/kg/day or 250mg q.d.s.	30–60mg/kg/day or 500mg q.d.s.	60–100mg/kg/day 1G t.d.s. to 1.5G q.d.s. or 2G t.d.s.
Urinary tract infections	Acute simple cystitis	Chronic, recurrent or complicated cystitis and pyelonephritis	Prostatitis (3G daily)
	Acute simple pyelonephritis 250–500mg q.d.s. Asymptomatic bacteriuria 250–500mg q.d.s.
Ear, nose and throat infections	Acute tonsillitis Acute pharyngitis	Chronic sinusitis Chronic otitis media Peritonsillar abscess Mastoiditis
	Acute sinusitis 250–500mg q.d.s. Acute otitis media 250–500mg q.d.s.
Respiratory tract infections	Bronchitis 250–500mg q.d.s.		Pneumonia† Lung abscess†
Skin and soft- tissue infections	Furunculosis Lymphadenitis Lymphangitis Superficial wound infections	Cholecystitis Cholangitis	Infections with less sensitive gram- negative organisms, and deep or serious infections†
Gynaecological and obstetrical infections		Uterine and adnexal infections and acute mastitis	More severe infections or those with less sensitive organisms
Osteo-articular infections			Acute or chronic osteomyelitis and acute septic arthritis (4 grams daily)†
Severe systemic infections			Septicaemia† Bacterial endocarditis†
Dental treatment in heart disease		Temporary replacement of penicillin
Venereal diseases (If penicillin is unsuitable)	Gonorrhoea : a single dose of 3 grams cephalixin with 1 gram probenecid is usually effective in males, and 2 grams cephalexin with 0.5 gram probenecid in females Syphilis : 500mg q.d.s. for two weeks

†Dosage may be reduced later depending upon the response, and the sensitivity of the organism.

Ceporex is cephalixin, a semi-synthetic antibiotic derived from cephalosporin C. It is acid-stable, and well absorbed after oral administration. Ceporex has a broad range of bactericidal activity, has little toxicity, and is apparently not nephrotoxic even in high dosage.

Antibacterial activity

Ceporex is bactericidal to many gram-positive and gram-negative micro-organisms. It acts more rapidly against the latter than against gram-positive organisms and appears to be completely stable to staphylococcal penicillinase. Most strains of Staphylococcus aureus (including penicillin-resistant types) are susceptible, but the rare methicillin-resistant strains are usually resistant to Ceporex. Other sensitive organisms include Streptococcus pyogenes, Diplococcus pneumoniae, Corynebacterium diphtheriae and most strains of Streptococcus viridans. Str. faecalis varies in its sensitivity. Sensitive gram-negative organisms include most strains of Escherichia coli, Klebsiella pneumoniae, Proteus mirabilis and many strains of Haemophilus influenzae. Neisseria gonorrhoeae and N. meningitidis are highly sensitive. Salmonella and Shigella spp. are also sensitive.

Ceporex is rarely active against Proteus morgani or Pr. vulgaris and is inactive against Aerobacter aerogenes, Mycobacterium tuberculosis and Pseudomonas aeruginosa (pyocyanea). Bacterial resistance develops slowly in a step-wise manner on repeated subculture.

Pharmacology

Absorption of Ceporex is probably from the duodenum after oral dosage and is rapid and nearly complete. If the antibiotic is given immediately after a large meal, absorption is slower and the peak serum levels are slightly reduced, but the total amount absorbed is unchanged. The peak serum level usually occurs between one and two hours after administration. The serum half-life of Ceporex is normally about one hour. In the new-born, serum levels are likely to be higher and more prolonged. Binding to serum protein is low, and reversible. The extent varies from zero to 30% depending upon the method of estimation.

Concurrent administration of probenecid usually raises peak serum Ceporex levels by 50 to 100%.

Ceporex is excreted in unchanged active form in the urine by glomerular filtration and by tubular secretion. Between 80 and 100% of a dose can be recovered from the urine within 24 hours (mostly within the first six hours).

The mean urinary concentration of Ceporex after one oral dose of 250mg falls from a peak of about 1,000 micrograms/ml to about 40 micrograms/ml over twelve hours.

About 3 to 5% of Ceporex is excreted in the bile, where concentrations are one to four times the concurrent concentration in the serum. The peak concentration in the milk after a dose of 500mg is about 5 micrograms/ml.

Precautions

In patients treated with Ceporex, a false-positive reaction for glucose in the urine may occur with Benedict's or Fehling's solutions, or with 'Clinitest' tablets, but not with 'Clinistix'.

Ceporex is usually tolerated well by patients allergic to penicillin, but cross-reaction can occur occasionally.

As with other antibiotics, Ceporex should be administered with caution in patients with a history of allergy, especially to drugs. When renal function is markedly reduced, Ceporex will accumulate in the serum and tissues unless dosage is suitably reduced.

Laboratory experiments with animals and clinical experience show no evidence of teratogenicity, but as with all drugs, caution is needed during pregnancy.

Contra-indication

Hypersensitivity to cephalosporins.

Adverse reactions

A small proportion of patients receiving Ceporex may experience gastrointestinal disturbances such as nausea, vomiting, diarrhoea, anorexia and general abdominal discomfort. As with all broad-spectrum antibiotics, superinfection (sometimes monilial) can occur, and may present as vulvo-vaginitis. Reversible neutropenia has occurred in a few patients, but is very rare.

Generalised drug rashes – urticarial or maculopapular – are uncommon.

Administration and dosage

Ceporex is administered orally. Treatment should continue for at least two days after the temperature has returned to normal and symptoms have subsided. However, in chronic, recurrent or complicated upper urinary tract infections a course of at least two weeks' duration may be necessary.

When renal function is considerably impaired, the dosage should be reduced. If the creatinine clearance is 20 to 50ml/minute, the adult dosage of Ceporex should not exceed 3 grams/day; if between 5 and 20ml/minute, not more than 1.5 grams daily; if the clearance is below 5ml/minute, dosage should not exceed 500mg/day.

Patients receiving intermittent dialysis should be given an additional 500mg of Ceporex after each dialysis, i.e., a total dosage of up to 1 gram on that day.

Edited by A.G. Shaper, J.W. Kibukamusoke, M.S.R. Hutt.

Medicine in a Tropical Environment is intended for medical students and doctors working in tropical and developing countries. The essays bring together specific problems of the tropical environment which have been the subject of recent investigation, and the authors write on them from personal experience. Little of the material on which the essays are based was available more than five years ago. To doctors in temperate climates preparing themselves for medical work in developing parts of the world Medicine in a Tropical Environment is essential reading.

Septrin rated top in major British survey<sup>1</sup> of urinary pathogen sensitivities

Six clinical bacteriology laboratories—in Glasgow, Liverpool, Hull, Cardiff, Guildford and Salisbury—tested widely used antibacterials against a total of 23,491 urinary isolates (all species). Both out-patient and in-patient strains were included. The results showed that trimethoprim/sulphamethoxazole (SEPTRIN*) outscored all other oral preparations:

The certainty of positive microbicidal action, against all classes of vaginitis pathogens, is provided by Betadine vaginal pessaries. Therefore the risk of overgrowth of non-susceptible organisms associated with specific therapies is avoided.

Because of povidone iodine's decisively microbicidal action Betadine pessaries deodorize, which is particularly important in all forms of infective vaginitis.

Oral systemic anti-protozoal agents, antifungals and antibiotics may be used concomitantly if this is desired.

There is no chemical or clinical equivalent to Carbenoxolone.

A decade of clinical success and biochemical research distinguishes carbenoxolone sodium from liquorice. Carbenoxolone sodium, the single active principle of BIOGASTRONE and DUOGASTRONE, is not a mere extract of liquorice. It is a unique drug, behaving in many ways quite differently from the parent glycoside from which it was first synthesised.

There is abundant evidence, clinical, radiological and endoscopic, that carbenoxolone accelerates the healing of both gastric and duodenal ulcers.

No liquorice extract can show any comparable weight of proof.

SERVICES

AS A NAVAL DOCTOR, YOU'D GET A WHOLE LOT MORE OUT OF LIFE.

(AND SO WOULD YOUR FAMILY)

Right from the start, you'd have a complete change of scene.

Serving either with the Navy at sea or among service personnel and their families at a naval establishment. Very likely in another part of the world.

Either way, you'd never find yourself short of assistance. (Every naval doctor is fully supported by medical staff).

Equally important, you'd never find yourself getting into a rut – for in two years or so you'd receive a new appointment.

In a new place. Doing a different job. Perhaps with the chance to learn something of the special problems of diving, aviation, or tropical medicine for example.

It's a stimulating life. Not only for yourself but for your family too.

For in most cases they'd accompany you. And wherever you go there are usually married quarters – fully furnished houses or flats, equipped with everything you need. And at very reasonable rents.

What's more, a generous education allowance is made for your children if they are at boarding school. £330 p.a. for a first child, £393 p.a. for a second, £471 p.a. for a third. On top of this, removal and other allowances are also provided.

Add this to the salary and you'll see how well a naval doctor's pay compares with a civilian doctor's.

For instance, with five years' post registration experience you would join us as a Surgeon Lieutenant-Commander on £4,767 a year.

And any specialist qualifications/experience you have could increase your salary even more.

There are opportunities, too, to keep up with the latest developments in medicine. For the Navy fully recognises the need for such opportunities both in the interests of naval medicine and a doctor's professional advancement.

That's not all. You can join on a 3-year or 5-year commission (each carrying a tax-free terminal gratuity of £1,500 and £3,000 respectively) and you can transfer to a full 16-year pensionable commission if you wish.

Applicants should be of British nationality and parentage. To find out more, write to Surgeon Cdr. F. M. Kinsman, O.B.E., R.N. (724AB6), Dept. of the Medical Director-General (Navy), Empress State Building, London S.W.6.

our anti-nauseant

Vertigo. Migraine. Gastric disturbance. Whatever the cause of nausea and vomiting, 'Stemetil' can be relied upon to bring welcome relief – quickly, effectively and with a tolerance one would expect of a preparation boasting more than 13 years' successful clinical use.

Full information is available on request

does that little bit more

In addition to its anti-nauseant action, 'Stemetil' exerts a mild tranquillizing effect which helps the patient cope with both physical and mental discomfort. In fact, 'Stemetil' frequently makes patients feel not just better, but better than they've felt for some time. Moreover, because it combines two effects in the one prescription item, 'Stemetil' makes economic, as well as therapeutic sense.
