Duogastrone is receiving full recognition

In recent years, increasing use of the fibroscope has confirmed what clinical papers* have been saying for some time—Biogastrone and Duogastrone are highly effective, specific ulcer-healing agents. What is more—both gastric and duodenal ulcers have been seen to heal more rapidly than with other treatments. And because they eliminate the need for long-term treatment with antacids or anticholinergics, these preparations make economic, as well as therapeutic sense.

*more than 40 English language papers have been published on the clinical use of carbenoxolone.

Otitis media isn't child's play

It needs effective treatment - and quickly.

Otherwise chronic otitis media, with deafness and continual discharge, can be the legacy in later life.

Ceporex Syrup containing cephalexin, a broad spectrum antibiotic with a success rate of 94% in acute otitis media,* is the treatment to choose.

Cephalexin destroys most of the organisms which cause otitis media, including H. influenzae, the pathogen most commonly encountered in young children.

And children experience the very minimum of distressing side effects with Ceporex Syrup– the safe answer to a troublesome condition.

Our daily bread is often underestimated as an essential source of goodness and nourishment.

In the average national diet (according to the 1971 National Food Survey), bread plays a key part, providing over one-sixth of a person's daily protein and iron intake; over one-fifth the daily thiamine; and nearly onesixth the daily calcium, niacin and energy value.

This means, of course, that the importance of including bread in one's diet should never be underestimated. To cut out bread, even when slimming, may produce an unsatisfactory diet. For health's sake, it's worth recommending bread in every diet.

Penny for penny, bread provides nearly twice as much protein as cheese, and nearly three times that of white fish or beef. Which makes our daily bread one of the best food bargains in the world.

Nobrium is the most recent product of the vast Roche international research programme into anxiety. It has a precise action which curbs anxiety at the source-the amygdala in the limbic system of the brain. \(^1\) Nobrium also damps the transmission of anxiety into the body by its action on the hypothalamus. As other brain structures are virtually unaffected, \(^1\) the incidence of side-effects is remarkably low.

This precise action is highly effective in anxiety and the many conditions caused by or associated with it. In clinical trials Nobrium has consistently produced success rates of between 80 and  $90^{\circ}_{\circ}$  in a wide range of conditions including psychosomatic disorders of the gut, heart or lungs; organic disease complicated by anxiety; phobias; menopausal syndrome; and alcoholism.

She thinks she's ugly.

She changes her outfits nine times before a personal appearance. And often has whole days when she feels too ugly to be seen.

She cries when she forgets her lines; feels unfulfilled as an actress, empty and abandoned as a woman. She is terrified of losing her looks, persecutes her husband with trivialities, is a constant emotional burden to her friends.

She has fame, fortune and adulation, yet she is chronically anxious and depressed.

Today, we are aware of the pervasive nature of anxiety. What we are only beginning to realise is how often it is associated with depression and the need to treat both.

Limbitrol combines an effective anxiolytic Librium with amitriptyline, a proven antidepressant. The patient feels the supportive benefit of the anxiolytic almost immediately. Her depression begins to lift within days.

The General Practitioner Research Group used both drugs over a period of years as standards for comparison for newer psychotropic agents. They have concluded, 'None of the newer drugs that we have investigated has proved to be significantly better than the two standard drugs, namely: chlordiazepoxide in anxiety, and amitriptyline in depression'!

Some awkward questions to ask next time you're buying a new car.

Whatever you buy, it'll set you back a lot of money. This, unfortunately, is unavoidable.

But you might suffer more set-backs once you've bought the thing. Like a host of delivery faults, and expensive repairs.

Which is the price you pay for taking too much on trust.

Fortunately, it's avoidable. Simply find out what the car went through at the factory. Ask about the attention to detail, the checks and double-checks, the testing of the finished product.

This tells you how conscientious the manufacturer is, and gives you a fair idea of the car's long-term performance and reliability prospects.

The better it's made, the better it goes – and the longer it keeps going.

So before you reach for your cheque book, it's in your interest to ask the dealer these questions:

- 1. Is each and every stressed part (e.g. crank-shaft, connecting rods, steering arms) and every casting (e.g. gearbox housing) crack-tested and inspected before installation and assembly?
- 2. Is every engine run on a test-bed before it's cleared for installation?
- 3. Is every gearbox tested in each gear before it gets the go-ahead?
- 4. Is the body protected against rust by an electrophoretic process while totally immersed in an aqueous solution?
- 5. Is every car taken from the end of the assembly-line to a test-track and driven by highly qualified test-drivers over pavé, slab pavement, shallow steps, uneven flagged pavement; through a wiggle-woggle test, a braking tunnel (for dry braking performance), chevron ridges and a whole series of lumps and bumps?
- 6. Is every fault that shows up in the tracktest rectified, however minor?
- 7. Is the car then checked and tested again?
- 8. Are a number of cars selected at random each day and road-tested for at least 60 miles?
- 9. Is at least 12% of the manufacturer's work force employed on quality control inspection?
- 10. Is the manufacturer one of the biggest in Europe?

If all the answers are an unqualified "yes", you're at a Peugeot showroom.

If not, you know where to go.

Vertigo is an anxious business. Hence Vertigon.

The psychological aspects of vertigo can be critical. Anxiety can trigger the attacks.1 And the attacks intensify anxiety.2

That's why therapy must be aimed at both. That's why we've produced 'Vertigon'.

'Vertigon' is a powerful vestibular sedative with both anxiolytic<sup>3,4,5</sup> and antemetic properties.6,7,8

It is effective during attack and can provide protection, too. Taken early or in stressful situations it should usually avert the active phase.

'Vertigon' is available as sustained-release 'Spansule' Capsules. It gives smooth, continuous, day-long control so there is steady drug release, less chance of break-through symptoms and fewer side effects.

Vertigon' can be taken for long periods of time.9,10 Further information available on request. References

two medical advisers

Smith, Kline & French Laboratories Limited wish to appoint

Smith, Kline & French Laboratories Limited is the U.K. subsidiary of a leading international pharmaceutical company. The U.K. headquarters and research institute are situated in Welwyn Garden City which is approximately 25 miles from the centre of London.

We are now at an exciting and vital stage of our present research programme. As a result of this and other activities we have a clearly established plan for new product introduction over the next 5 years.

To enable us to complete successfully both the clinical and commercial development work necessary we require to expand the present Medical Department by at least 2 doctors. Both will report to the Medical Director and will be involved in the establishment of clinical trials. They will both personally be involved in the research and commercial function of the business.

We see our ideal applicant being in the age range of 28-45 years. He will have either a hospital or general practice background and if he has pharmaceutical industry experience this would be an advantage. It is important that the selected doctors have the attitude of mind and the intellectual ability to be successful in an industrial environment.

The rewards are of the best - salary would not be less than 3rd year consultant grade and could be considerably more. In addition there will be the full use of a company car.

Those interested are invited to apply in complete confidence giving sufficient information about qualifications, experience, etc., for us to decide a short list of candidates we wish to interview.

Applications should be addressed to: K. J. London, Group Personnel Manager, Smith, Kline & French Laboratories Limited, Mundells, Welwyn Garden City, Herts.

Radiological Services

The National Coal Board recognises the problem posed by dust exposure in coal mines and has intensive programmes on dust control, dust measurement and medical supervision. The medical programme includes periodic chest radiographs of all miners. Mobile and static X-ray units operate from bases in six coalfields; some 80,000 chest films are taken each year. In addition, work is undertaken for other industries with a potential dust problem, e.g. asbestos, pottery, foundry. It is planned to extend the medical programme and a young doctor is sought to join the present team of five in charge of these radiological services. He would in the first instance be employed in Yorkshire.

Applicants should have had experience in chest diseases or radiology and should have an interest in both. Training will be given in the radiological interpretation of industrial pulmonary disease. Association with local hospital services for chest diseases is encouraged. There is ample opportunity for research both in the clinical and epidemiological fields. Close liaison is, of course, maintained with the other doctors in the Board's Medical Service and there is opportunity for experience in the field of occupational health in general.

It is unlikely that the starting salary would be less than £4,500 per annum. The maximum of the range for this post is £5,500 but rises to £6,500 when full experience is gained.

Please write quoting ref. AM.31 to the National Coal Board, Director of Staff Administration, Room 202, Hobart House. Grosvenor Place, London, SW1X 7AE.

for expanding community health programme in Canada.

SERVICES

AS A NAVAL DOCTOR, YOU'D GETA WHOLE LOT MORE OUT OF LIFE.

(AND SO WOULD YOUR FAMILY)

Right from the start, you'd have a complete change of scene.

Serving either with the Navy at sea or among service personnel and their families at a naval establishment. Very likely in another

Either way, you'd never find yourself short of assistance. (Every naval doctor is fully supported by medical staff).

Equally important, you'd never find yourself getting into a rut – for in two years or so you'd receive a new appointment.

In a new place. Doing a different job. Perhaps with the chance to learn something of the special problems of diving, aviation, or tropical medicine for example.

It's a stimulating life. Not only for yourself but for your family too.

For in most cases they'd accompany you. And wherever you go there are usually married quarters – fully furnished houses or flats, equipped with everything you need. And at very reasonable rents.

What's more, a generous education allowance is made for your children if they are at boarding school. £363 p.a. for a first child, £432 p.a. for a second, £519 p.a. for a third. On top of this, removal and other allowances are also provided.

Add this to the salary and you'll see how well a naval doctor's pay compares with a civilian doctor's.

For instance, with five years' post registration experience you would join us as a Surgeon Lieutenant-Commander on £4,767 a year.

And any specialist qualifications experience you have could increase your salary

There are opportunities, too, to keep up with the latest developments in medicine. For the Navy fully recognises the need for such opportunities both in the interests of naval medicine and a doctor's professional advancement.

That's not all. You can join on a 3-year or 5-year commission (each carrying a tax-free terminal gratuity of £1,500 and £3,000 respectively) and you can transfer to a full 16-year pensionable commission if you wish.

To find out more, write to Surgeon Cdr. L. C. Banks, M.B., B.Ch., R.N. (724 ABJ), Dept. of the Medical Director-General (Navy), Empress State Building, London S.W.6.

When did you last use one of these?

Paraffin heated sterilizers are past history in the health service.

In some developing countries paraffin is the only available power source and these sterilizers are urgently needed. The Joint Mission Hospital Equipment Board supplies them.

Many of your colleagues in the emergent nations in mission hospitals and medical relief programmes work in primitive conditions and with outmoded equipment. Will you help them a little by helping the Joint Mission Hospital Equipment Board to supply them with up-to-date equipment very cheaply?

All it needs is a money gift which will be carefully spent.

Please send what you think you can spare to: Sir John Richardson, BT., M.V.O., M.D., F.R.C.P., Joint Mission Hospital Equipment Board, 5 Robin Hood Lane, Sutton, Surrey.

The Joint Mission Hospital Equipment Board is a registered charity and benefits from income tax rebates on covenanted gifts.

Please write for details of how to take out a personal covenant or banker's order. All gifts will be personally acknowledged. Thank you.
