

May & Baker sort out coughs.

'Vallex' for the "chesty" sort

'Vallex' combines the sedative and local analgesic properties of Trimiprazine Tartrate ('Vallergan') with the bronchodilator effect of phenylpropanolamine and also contains guaiphenesin, ipecacuanha, sodium citrate, and citric acid. Whatever the cause of bronchial congestion, help your patients "get it off their chests" with 'Vallex'.

'Phensedyl' for the "hacking" sort

'Phensedyl' has been carefully formulated as a specific treatment for dry, "hacking" coughs. It contains codeine, as an antitussive, promethazine ('Phenergan'), as a sedative and local analgesic, and ephedrine as a bronchodilator. 'Phensedyl' is available as linctus, and also as capsules, which contain noscapine instead of codeine.

'Tixylix' for the young sort

Smaller people don't mean smaller coughs. But their coughs need gentler treatment. 'Tixylix' is gentle, effective and well-tolerated. Children like its pleasant cherry flavour. It contains pholcodine, an effective antitussive which does not cause constipation; phenylpropanolamine, similar in action to ephedrine, but without its stimulating effect; and promethazine ('Phenergan') as a central sedative, and as an analgesic to soothe sore and inflamed throats.

M&B cough preparations for all sorts of coughs.

More pain-free days

In angina pectoris, Inderal protects the heart from the oxygen-wasting effects of emotion and effort.

The unique action of 'Inderal' represents a revolutionary new concept of long-term relief of angina, rather than just the treatment of the condition as and when it arises.

Through adrenergic beta-receptor blockade, 'Inderal' protects the heart from the action of adrenaline. There is a slowing of the heart-rate and reduction in the oxygen needs of the myocardium.

The results: more pain-free days; increased effort tolerance. Inderal is the only treatment to have been proved consistently in double-blind clinical trials. Tests also show it to be effective in very severe cases of angina (unlike other forms of angina therapy).

in staphylococcal septicaemia powerful · bactericidal · antistaphylococcal

The potential severity of staphylococcal septicaemia demands prompt antibacterial therapy—often well before sensitivity reports become available. FUCIDIN is rapidly and easily absorbed, and gives serum levels which are bactericidal against almost all pathogenic staphylococcal strains; FUCIDIN exhibits remarkable ability to reach the nidus of infection despite poverty of blood supply or presence of pus. For early control of these dangerous infections FUCIDIN has proved a reliable and economical choice—in over five years of clinical use.

Private treatment today

In this space BUPA reports from time to time on matters which may be of interest to those concerned with private treatment in this country. BUPA's own interest is clear and declared; we believe a strong private sector in medicine to be an essential corollary to a successful public sector. Alone among the provident associations, we are sponsoring (through Nuffield Nursing Homes Trust) the creation of new and expanded facilities for private treatment.

The BUPA Medical Centre

Britain's first health screening and diagnostic centre is to be set up in Central London at a cost of £100,000 following an agreement between The British United Provident Association and the Institute of Directors.

The BUPA Medical Centre will be run in conjunction with the Institute of Directors' Medical Centre which has pioneered executive health checks in Britain. Sir John Richardson, Consultant Physician to St. Thomas's Hospital, the Metropolitan Police and London Transport, will be President of the new Medical Centre. Sir John is already Chief Medical Adviser to both BUPA and the Institute of Directors' Medical Centre.

Dr. H. Beric-Wright, Director of the Institute of Directors' Medical Centre, will combine this role with direction of the new Centre.

The Centre will be available to BUPA subscribers referred to it by their own doctors, to patients referred for screening or diagnosis by any doctor, and to users of the Institute of Directors' Medical Centre. Using automation techniques, linked with computerised record keeping, the new Centre will provide cheaper and quicker medical diagnosis. Screening will take about an hour and will include detailed body measurements, X-rays, cardiograph, blood count and chemistry, and tests for breast and womb cancer. Each division will be supervised by a consultant. The cost to the user of the screening service is expected to be less than £20.

It is hoped to run an evening shift so that people can be screened on their way home from work, with the results available within about two hours.

Nuffield Nursing Homes Trust—Tunbridge Wells

The Trust's fourteenth Home, in Kingswood Road, Tunbridge Wells, is to open this autumn, under the care of the newly appointed Matron, Miss M. D. French, who joins the Trust from the National Heart Hospital.

This modern £192,000 Home will open with twenty beds, but the Home is so designed as to allow further extension of accommodation as local needs increase.

Nuffield Nursing Homes Trust—Slough

The new Nuffield Nursing Homes Trust 'mini hospital', the £200,000 Slough Nuffield Nursing Home, is nearing the end of its first year with a full complement of 30 single-bedded rooms in use. This modern, two-storey building in Wexham Street embodies the high standards of equipment and accommodation of the Trust in setting up surgical nursing homes for local communities.

Every room is equipped with individual 'call nurse' facilities, bedside phone and, if desired, television. In addition to the fully equipped modern operating theatre suite there is a diagnostic X-ray department, the Home being intended primarily for the treatment of short-stay acutely ill medical and surgical cases—although long-term patients may be admitted at the discretion of the Matron.

Enquiries should be addressed to the Matron, Miss Kathleen Rolfe.

the first broad-spectrum, bactericidal chemotherapeutic agent

Discovered by Wellcome Research

Trimethoprim is a synthetic antibacterial compound, discovered and developed by Wellcome Research. It is a potent inhibitor of dihydrofolic acid reductase – an enzyme which plays a vital role in bacterial purine synthesis. Trimethoprim thus effectively blocks production of DNA in the bacterial cell.

Unique bactericidal action

Acting alone, at low concentration, trimethoprim inhibits the growth of a wide range of bacteria. When it is combined with small amounts of sulphonamide there is a strong mutual potentiation, giving an intense bactericidal effect. As the sulphonamide blocks an earlier stage in bacterial purine synthesis the total bactericidal effect may be described as 'sequential double blockade'. This unique mode of action minimises the possibility of bacterial resistance developing.

Broad-spectrum activity

The combination of trimethoprim and sulphonamide exerts its bactericidal action across a wide spectrum of organisms and is much more effective than either agent alone. Its range of action compares favourably with that of the broad-spectrum penicillins.

The Septrin formula

The most suitable sulphonamide for use with trimethoprim is sulphamethoxazole because it is absorbed, and excreted, at approximately the same rate. The optimum ratio dose is 1:5. Each 'Septrin' tablet therefore contains trimethoprim 80 mg, sulphamethoxazole 400 mg.

- bactericidal to a wide spectrum of common pathogenic organisms, both Gram-positive and Gram-negative
- effective against particularly troublesome pathogens – Proteus species, E. Coli and H. Influenzae
- quickly reaches high tissue concentrations, especially in lung and kidney, after oral administration
- rapid and almost complete absorption from the gut avoids disturbance of intestinal flora
- well tolerated by the patient – no significant toxic effects have been observed
- effective against penicillinase-producing organisms – no cross-resistance with other antibacterial drugs has been reported
- safe for the penicillin-hypersensitive patient
- unlikely to allow the development of bacterial resistance – because of its unique mode of action

Prescribing Information

SEPTRIN

Sensitive organisms

'Septrin' is active against the following pathogenic bacteria :
Gram-positive : Streptococcus pneumoniae, Staphylococcus aureus, Streptococcus pyogenes.

Gram-negative : Haemophilus influenzae, Klebsiella pneumoniae, Klebsiella aerogenes, Proteus species, Escherichia coli, Neisseria gonorrhoea, Salmonella species, Shigella species, Bordetella pertussis, Vibrio cholera.
Bacterial resistance to 'Septrin' is unknown. Its effectiveness is unimpaired against bacteria resistant to other chemotherapeutic agents or antibiotics.

Pharmacology

Absorption by the oral route is rapid, significant plasma levels are obtained within an hour. Peak levels are reached between two and four hours and are maintained over a period of seven hours. Detectable amounts have been found after 24 hours. Tissue concentrations of trimethoprim are higher than the corresponding plasma levels, the lungs and kidneys showing especially high concentrations. Levels in secretions exceed the corresponding plasma concentrations, the only exception being the cerebro-spinal fluid and even there an effective antibacterial concentration is reached.

40-50% of the ingested trimethoprim is excreted in the urine within 24 hours on normal fluid intake. Sulphamethoxazole is mainly excreted in the urine, 60% in the acetylated form.

Toxicity

In mice and rats the minimal lethal dose of trimethoprim is approximately 1000 mg/kg orally and is not increased by addition of the sulphonamide. In chronic toxicity studies of 'Septrin', weight gain and haemopoiesis were depressed at near lethal doses.

A distinct teratogenic effect was found with excessive oral doses (minimal 160 mg/kg trimethoprim) in rats but not in rabbits; the effect was countered by administration of folates. Neither trimethoprim nor sulphamethoxazole possess any significant pharmacodynamic activities in animals or man.

Indications

The broad-spectrum, bactericidal action of 'Septrin' is valuable in Gram-positive, Gram-negative and mixed infections. It is effective against penicillinase-producing organisms and can be given to patients who are hypersensitive to penicillin. A successful clinical response has been demonstrated in the following conditions:

Respiratory tract – acute and chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, empyema, lung abscess, lobar and broncho-pneumonia. 'Septrin' is particularly active against Haemophilus influenzae.

Urinary tract infections – including urethritis, cystitis, pyelitis, chronic pyelonephritis, prostatitis and gonococcal urethritis. 'Septrin' is notably effective against Gram negative organisms, especially Proteus.

Septicaemia – particularly striking successes have been shown in septicaemias due to problem organisms resistant to other antibacterials.

Dosage

Adults and Children over 12 years : Two tablets twice daily. In severe infections a loading dose of four tablets is recommended except in cases with renal failure – see below. In overwhelming infections and septicaemias three tablets twice daily or two tablets three times a day may be given.

Children 6-12 years : Half the adult dose, usually one tablet twice daily.

In cases with marked renal impairment, reduced or more widely spaced dosage is recommended. A satisfactory urine output should be ensured. Ideally, in such patients, dosage should be controlled by regular estimations of blood levels (methods are available on request).

In acute infections 'Septrin' should be given for at least five days or until symptoms have been absent for 24-48 hours. In acute urinary tract infections many authorities advise that treatment should continue for at least 10-14 days because of the danger of sub-clinical or low grade chronic pyelonephritis persisting and leading to permanent renal impairment and its sequelae. In chronic infections the duration of treatment will depend upon response.

Adverse effects have not been reported in long-term prophylactic administration.

Side-effects and precautions

With 'Septrin' in the recommended dosage no serious side-effects have been reported.

Malaise, nausea and vomiting have occurred with trimethoprim alone, but only when the daily dose exceeded 1 g. which is three times that included in the average recommended dosage. These reactions appear to be of central origin. Rashes have occurred in a few cases. No undesirable haematological effects have been observed in short-term treatment with 'Septrin'. After prolonged administration, some minor biochemical changes and also morphological evidence of alterations in folate metabolism were noted in the granulocytes. However, these changes had no practical implications; with cessation of the drug there was prompt return to pre-treatment levels in all these cases.

The usual caution in prescribing any drug for women of child-bearing age should be exercised with 'Septrin'. The drug should not be given during pregnancy. 'Septrin' is contra-indicated in patients known to be sensitive to sulphonamides.

Care is needed in patients with marked renal impairment (See under Dosage).

Presentation

a new fundamental approach to the problem of sputum

mobilises mucus mobilises the bronchitic tablets and elixir

A feltwork of fibres is responsible for the thick, sticky sputum characteristic of the bronchitic.¹

Bisolvon alone solves the problem for the patient with non-purulent sputum by:

- I. disrupting this feltwork of fibres
- II. reducing sputum stickiness
- III. promoting the flow of easily expectorated sputum
- IV. decreasing sputum volume after a few days' treatment

Composition Bisolvon is N-cyclohexyl-N-methyl-(2-amino-3, 5-dibrombenzyl)-amine hydrochloride

Pharmacology In animal experiments Bisolvon stimulates increased secretion of fluid by mucous glands of the respiratory tract and it also breaks down the feltwork of acid mucopolysaccharide fibres which are responsible for the viscosity of non-infected bronchitic sputum.²

Clinical Effects When given orally Bisolvon's effect becomes apparent to the patient within 2-3 days by an increased production of thin, easily expectorated sputum. As treatment progresses sputum volume decreases without an increase in viscosity, and with continued ease of expectoration.

Indications Acute and chronic bronchitis and other conditions where tenacious sputum is a problem.

Contra-indications There are no absolute contra-indications, but caution should be observed when administering Bisolvon to patients with gastric ulceration.

Precaution When a patient under treatment for tuberculosis is receiving Bisolvon, sputum cultures for tubercle bacilli should be continued for at least three months before a negative result is assumed.

Side-effects Mild gastro-intestinal side-effects may occasionally occur. In a small number of patients a transient rise in serum transaminase levels may be seen, but these should fall again as treatment with Bisolvon continues.

Dosage Adults: 8 mg. three times daily. Children age 5 to 10: 4 mg. four times daily. Children under 5: 4 mg. twice daily.

Availability Tablets, 8 mg.; packs of 20 and 250. Elixir, 4 mg. in 5 ml. (with 17.5 mg. chloroform); packs of 200 ml. and 1-litre.

Women... can't help it

'Saluric' can in premenstrual tension with oedema

Women suffering from premenstrual tension with oedema cannot avoid the tiresome and inevitable signs and symptoms of this common condition, which may last for 7 to 10 days every month, prior to the menses. Because many of the distressing symptoms may be directly related to fluid retention, effective diuresis usually brings prompt relief.

'Saluric' can relieve swelling of the ankles, breast engorgement, and fullness of the abdomen. It may well help to alleviate the concomitant irritability and nervousness. 'Saluric' has been proved by 10 years of clinical experience to be a dependable diuretic which can be used month after month to control premenstrual tension with oedema.

Each tablet of 'Saluric' contains 500 mg chlorothiazide BP. Detailed information is available to physicians on request.

How would you like to get out of bed 3 or 4 times on a cold night-

In dealing with urinary frequency in the elderly the physician faces two problems. Such patients may often feel a need to micturate when urine volume is quite small or a fraction of the bladder's capacity: Cetiprin helps the doctor to control this need by blocking the innervation and increasing bladder capacity. The second problem is more intractable and requires the breaking of the established habit of frequent urination. In such cases the physician expects no immediate marked response and persists with treatment for at least 14 to 21 days. Cetiprin, time and the doctor's tolerance are all needed to overcome urinary frequency.

The alert physician recognizes that frequency is more than a distressing condition per se. He sees in it a common cause of interrupted sleep and consequent impaired physique, and of lower morale—further conditions making in-roads into his already precious time. He sees—and prescribes CETIPRIN®.

Dosage: For nightly tenesmus in the adult and geriatric patient two tablets at bedtime. In chronic cases it is advisable to start with 3-4 tablets at bedtime and reduce the dose when control is established.

Contraindications:
Gastric retention;
glaucoma; large residual urine retention.

Are doctors immortal?

Some patients seem to think that doctors never die. Or become ill. Or have accidents.

But as a doctor you know that your chances of falling sick, or breaking a leg tomorrow are the same as everyone else's. And the effect on your life and family is much graver.

Your practice, for instance, must be kept going. So your income plunges overnight. And your life becomes stifled by financial worries: how to keep your family, meet school fees, pay the mortgage. To a sick man worry is a poisonous enemy.

That's why it's so wise to insure against sickness or early death. Wiser still to insure with the company run exclusively for doctors and dentists: the Medical Sickness Society.

You know that one day you may need this insurance. So write today. Together we'll find the policy which will work hardest for you.

Do it now.

2 weeks

In the treatment of psoriasis, triacetoxanthracene has been shown to exhibit the healing properties of dithranol while displaying none of the side effects of burning or staining the skin. It therefore may be used by the patient in his own home without the fear that any harm will result if it accidentally comes in contact with normal skin.

"Dithranol (trihydroxyanthracene) is one of the most effective drugs in the treatment of psoriasis. Unfortunately it has two disadvantages — it may irritate the skin and even cause blistering and it stains both the skin and the patient's under-clothes and bed linen. Within the last few months a modification of dithranol — 1,8,9-triacetoxanthracene — has been developed which neither burns the skin nor stains clothes. It is now being marketed as Exolan paste"

Pharmaceutical Journal (1966) 2, 175

"Exolan is a recently developed synthetic derivation of dithranol. The active ingredient is preferentially liberated by hydrolysis on the surface of the psoriatic plaques. The molecule is so adapted that the staining and much of the irritant properties of dithranol are avoided with loss of only some of its potency . . . It may also be tolerated in cases where the psoriasis is too inflamed or acute for dithranol, or where staining makes it cosmetically unacceptable."

British Medical Journal (1966) 2, 993

"Patients known to be sensitive to dithranol were not treated with the new drug, but in one case such a patient was given triacetoxanthracene without any adverse reaction occurring"

British Medical Journal (1967) 1, 682

"After three weeks treatment with triacetoxanthracene paste there was an amazing clearance and he was able to roll up his sleeves for the first time for 25 years. After a further 3 weeks he was practically clear and better than he had been for 30 years."

British Journal of Dermatology (1967) 79, 491

Psoriasis case history. Male patient aged 72 years with widespread chronic psoriasis admitted to hospital 18th October, 1966. Exolan Cream prescribed for application twice daily. Psoriasis practically clear; patient discharged 1st November, 1966.

Exolan is the only specific treatment for Psoriasis which has been given an A.2. classification by the Standing Joint Committee on the Classification of Proprietary Preparations. (A.2.: "A preparation of a single therapeutically active drug which has been shown to the Committee's satisfaction to have an acceptable degree of efficacy in relation to its toxicity and therapeutic indications and which in the light of alternative available preparations can be recommended for use.") Exolan is entirely a product of British research.

AIM FOR THE BAD'UNS WITH 'ILOSONE'

With 'Ilosone', your aim is effective and selective. Killing off the pathogenic bacteria, allowing the normal gut flora to pursue their useful life.

The real 'bad 'uns', of course, are Gram positive cocci, causing most of the infections you see every day. Against these infections 'Ilosone' is much more active than, for example, the tetracyclines and it will not discolour teeth or deposit in bone. Nor is 'Ilosone' likely to cause diarrhoea or gastro-intestinal upset—disadvantages which the tetracyclines share with the broad spectrum penicillins.

Effective. Selective. Use 'Ilosone' when you go gunning for bad 'uns—in acute tonsillitis or acute bronchitis or any common bacterial infection of the upper respiratory tract. Haemophilus influenzae? Yes, 'Ilosone' deals with this 'bad 'un' too!

'Pulvules' of 250 mg* and 125 mg*; a pleasant tasting suspension containing 125 mg*/5 ml. *Base equivalent. Full information available on request.

Expectorant-
of course

Benylin Expectorant* may not have given the word expectorant to the language, but it is surely one of the best-known of all expectorant formulae. It is certainly prescribed appreciably more often than any other ethical linctus.

Benylin Expectorant combines the well-known antihistamine Benadryl* (diphenhydramine hydrochloride B.P. Parke-Davis) with traditional expectorant agents to control allergic factors contributing to cough. Also it is a pleasant, raspberry-flavoured syrup that is readily acceptable by even the most fastidious palate.

Ponderax also very effectively regulates hunger without stimulation

major metabolic activity in obesity proved by British research...

Obese patients develop a block to muscle glucose uptake causing a diversion of ingested carbohydrate to adipose tissue.

Fenfluramine is the first drug to have been shown to correct this metabolic defect. By restoring the metabolic equilibrium, fenfluramine re-activates muscle glucose uptake and diverts the ingested carbohydrate away from adipose tissue. Thus weight loss is encouraged.

It is probable that the known very effective, non-cns hunger regulation of Ponderax is mediated through the metabolic action.

Glycoliptic agents act to restore equilibrium where an imbalance exists between the tissues in glucose and/or lipid metabolism.

Ponderax is the first such agent and marks a really significant advance in treating obesity.

PONDERAX[®] FENFLURAMINE is the first glycoliptic agent

"...fenfluramine does in fact mimic the metabolic pattern seen in lean subjects who have greater muscle glucose uptake than fat persons"

THOSE ODD SHARES and CAPITAL GAINS TAX

Many generous donors would like to transfer stocks and shares to War on Want during lifetime, this would save death duty bearing heavily on the estate. If, since original purchase, the value of shares has appreciated, capital gains tax is unfortunately charged to the donor. War on Want has created a special fund from which it can repay donors any tax arising from their act of generosity. War on Want pleads for this form of long term aid which will guarantee the future of countless hopeless people dependent on War on Want—our Trade Schools, Orphanages, Co-operative farm projects, etc.
