BRONCHITIS PENBRITIN

He didn't expect to be back at work so soon. Ten days ago he went down with Bronchitis—his first time off work in years. He's lucky—his was an isolated attack and he can now expect a trouble-free winter. For the Chronic Bronchitic the prognosis is not so good and repeated attacks must be expected.

Penbritin is the answer – first time

Whether your patient suffers from Acute or Chronic Bronchitis you want your first prescription to be the one which works. You need a broad spectrum antibiotic mainly because of the possibility of H. influenzae being involved. (British evidence, [1,2,3,4] shows this to be by far the most troublesome pathogen in Chronic Bronchitis – the "English Disease"). The most active of all antibiotics against haemophilus is Penbritin, which at normal dosage achieves bactericidal levels in both serum and lung tissue to ensure a rapid clinical response and minimise the risk of relapse or complications.

Being a penicillin, the dosage of Penbritin may be safely increased in severe illness: in severely disabling bronchitis high dosage Penbritin therapy can achieve bactericidal concentrations in the sputum, eliminuting reservoirs of infection and affording the patient unprecedented freedom from infection [1]. Additionally, when more rapid control of infection is imperative, Penbritin may be given by injection.

In the treatment of Bronchitis, Penbritin is the answer – first time. And so often the only prescription needed.

Bronchitis Dosage:
Children under 2 years: 62.5-125 mg.
2-10 years: 125-250 mg.
Adults: 250 mg.
All dosages q.d.s. a.c.
In severe infections these doses may be increased or Penbritin given by injection.
(High dosage regimen for severely ill Chronic Bronchitics: 1 gram q.d.s.)
Contra-indication: Penicillin allergy.
Side-effects: As with other penicillins.

Betnovate

Scalp Application
the classic answer to scalp dermatoses

For your detailed reading

Description
Betnovate Scalp Application is formulated specifically for treating dermatoses of the scalp. It is an alcoholic solution of Betnovate, containing 0·1% w/w betamethasone as 17-valerate. The viscosity has been adjusted so that the preparation is not too fluid, yet spreads easily over the scalp without adhering to the hair. The application has a pleasant cooling effect. On drying it leaves no odour and no visible residue.

Indications
Steroid-responsive dermatoses of the scalp, such as psoriasis and seborrhoea capitis.

Application
Betnovate Scalp Application is issued in a plastic squeeze bottle with an elongated nozzle. The nozzle can pass through the hair so that the liquid may be applied only to the affected areas. A small quantity of Betnovate Scalp Application should be applied morning and night until improvement is noticeable; it may then be possible to sustain improvement by applying once a day, or less frequently.

Precautions
Betnovate Scalp Application is usually well tolerated, but if signs of hypersensitivity should appear, the application should be discontinued promptly. If occlusive dressings are used for an extensive area of the scalp over long periods, the possibility of systemic absorption, as can occur with any topical steroid, should be borne in mind. Care must be taken to keep the preparation away from the eyes.
Betnovate Scalp Application, being spirituous, is flammable and may damage polished surfaces.

Syntex offer you a simple method to select clinically the oral contraceptive best-suited to your patient's hormone balance

Every woman's sex hormone pattern is a balance of oestrogen and progestogen. The pattern may be weighted towards either hormone, or balanced between the two. Similarly, while oral contraceptives are mainly oestrogenic in nature, others are progestogenic and some are balanced. It would obviously make good sense to choose an oral contraceptive which would maintain a balanced hormonal status, or (in oestrogenic or progestogenic women) tend to balance these forces. The practical benefits to the patient would include a reduced risk of tiresome side-effects, as well as a reduction in premenstrual and menstrual symptoms. Syntex have developed an easy-to-use method of achieving this scientific choice of oral contraceptive, without the need for protracted prior investigations. The core of the Syntex method is a simple assessment form to estimate the hormonal profile of the patient. Ask your Syntex representative to give you a supply of these assessment forms in the new oral contraceptive selection wallet — or write to Department AIJ at the address below.

AIM FOR THE BAD'UNS WITH 'ILOSONE'

With 'Ilosone', your aim is effective and selective. Killing off the pathogenic bacteria, allowing the normal gut flora to pursue their useful life.

The real 'bad 'uns', of course, are Gram positive cocci, causing most of the infections you see every day. Against these infections 'Ilosone' is much more active than, for example, the tetracyclines and it will not discolour teeth or deposit in bone. Nor is 'Ilosone' likely to cause diarrhoea or gastro-intestinal upset—disadvantages which the tetracyclines share with the broad spectrum penicillins.

Effective. Selective. Use 'Ilosone' when you go gunning for bad 'uns—in acute tonsillitis or acute bronchitis or any common bacterial infection of the upper respiratory tract. Haemophilus influenzae? Yes, 'Ilosone' deals with this 'bad 'un' too!

'Pulvules' of 250 mg* and 125 mg*; a pleasant tasting suspension containing 125 mg*/5 ml. *Base equivalent. Full information available on request.

'...but doctor, she's so moody and irritable these days– we just can't shake her out of it.'

The over-anxious patient needs your sympathy... and the calming effect of BENVIL

Your reassurance, understanding and encouragement play an absolutely vital part in the treatment of any patient you feel is emotionally distraught. To help you keep your patients relaxed, calm and attuned to the realities of life you may wish to prescribe Benvil.

In cases of acute anxiety and tension, Benvil relaxes, calms, and restores a feeling of well-being. And it does this without over-sedation, which means that patients can successfully go about their daily work – an important aid to readjustment.

Moreover, reports on Benvil suggest that it is free from dependence.

Benvil is available as a new, smaller blue capsule containing 250 mg. tybamate in an original pack of 50.

Dosage: One capsule 3 or 4 times a day. For elderly patients it is recommended that therapy be started on the lower dosage. The dosage can be increased if necessary to a maximum of eight capsules in 24 hours to suit the individual concerned.

Precautions: Side effects are mild and infrequent at the normal dosage. In the aged, hypotensive effects are possible at higher doses. If drowsiness or mild dizziness occur, the patient should avoid activities requiring optimal alertness. If symptoms of hypersensitivity occur, treatment should be stopped and appropriate symptomatic therapy given.

Consumption of alcohol or concurrent administration of other psychotropic agents (e.g. phenothiazines, monoamine oxidase inhibitors) may have an additive effect. The customary precautions should be taken in administering Benvil to patients with a history of drug allergies, blood dyscrasias, hepatic or renal disease. There has been no evidence to suggest development of tolerance or dependence with Benvil: in common with other psychotropic agents however, it is advisable to give Benvil cautiously to addiction-prone subjects and to withdraw therapy slowly after prolonged use. Although animal tests suggest freedom from teratogenic effects, Benvil cannot at present be recommended during the early weeks of pregnancy.

the first broad-spectrum, bactericidal chemotherapeutic agent

Discovered by Wellcome Research

Trimethoprim is a synthetic antibacterial compound, discovered and developed by Wellcome Research. It is a potent inhibitor of dihydrofolic acid reductase – an enzyme which plays a vital role in bacterial purine synthesis. Trimethoprim thus effectively blocks production of DNA in the bacterial cell.

Unique bactericidal action

Acting alone, at low concentration, trimethoprim inhibits the growth of a wide range of bacteria. When it is combined with a sulphonamide there is a strong mutual potentiation, giving a bactericidal effect. As the sulphonamide blocks an earlier stage in bacterial purine synthesis the total bactericidal effect may be described as 'sequential double blockade'. This unique mode of action minimises the possibility of bacterial resistance developing.

Broad-spectrum activity

The combination of trimethoprim and sulphonamide exerts its bactericidal action across a wide spectrum of organisms and is much more effective than either agent alone. Its range of action compares favourably with that of the broad-spectrum penicillins.

The 'Septrin' formula

The most suitable sulphonamide for use with trimethoprim is sulphamethoxazole because it is absorbed, and excreted, at approximately the same rate. The optimum ratio of dosage is 1:5. Each 'Septrin' tablet therefore contains trimethoprim 80 mg., sulphamethoxazole 400 mg.

- bactericidal to a wide spectrum of common pathogenic organisms, both Gram-positive and Gram-negative
- effective against particularly troublesome pathogens – Proteus species, E. coli and H. influenzae
- quickly reaches high tissue concentrations, especially in lung and kidney, after oral administration
- rapid and almost complete absorption from the gut avoids disturbance of intestinal flora
- well tolerated by the patient – no significant toxic effects have been observed
- effective against penicillinase-producing organisms – no cross-resistance with other antibacterial drugs has been reported
- can be used in the penicillin-hypersensitive patient
- unlikely to allow development of bacterial resistance – because of its unique mode of action

Prescribing Information

SEPTRIN

Sensitive organisms

'Septrin' is active against the following pathogenic bacteria:
Gram-positive: Streptococcus pneumoniae, Staphylococcus aureus, Streptococcus pyogenes.
Bacterial resistance to 'Septrin' is unknown. Its effectiveness is unimpaired against bacteria resistant to other chemotherapeutic agents or antibiotics.

Pharmacology

Absorption by the oral route is rapid, significant plasma levels are obtained within an hour. Peak levels are reached between two and four hours and are maintained over a period of seven hours. Detectable amounts have been found after 24 hours.
Tissue concentrations of trimethoprim are higher than the corresponding plasma levels, the lungs and kidneys showing especially high concentrations. Levels in secretions exceed the corresponding plasma concentrations, the only exception being the cerebro-spinal fluid and even there an effective antibacterial concentration is reached.
40-50% of the ingested trimethoprim is excreted in the urine within 24 hours on normal fluid intake. Sulphamethoxazole is mainly excreted in the urine, 60% in the acetylated form.

Toxicity

In mice and rats the minimal lethal dose of trimethoprim is approximately 1000 mg./kg. orally and is not increased by addition of the sulphonamide. In chronic toxicity studies of 'Septrin', weight gain and haemopoiesis were depressed at near lethal doses.
A distinct teratogenic effect was found with excessive oral doses (minimal 160 mg./kg trimethoprim) in rats but not in rabbits; the effect was countered by administration of folates.
Neither trimethoprim nor sulphamethoxazole possess any significant pharmacodynamic activities in animals or man.

Indications

The broad-spectrum, bactericidal action of 'Septrin' is valuable in Gram-positive, Gram-negative and mixed infections. It is effective against penicillinase-producing organisms and can be given to patients who are hypersensitive to penicillin.
A successful clinical response has been demonstrated in the following conditions:
Respiratory tract – acute and chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, empyema, lung abscess, lobar and broncho-pneumonia. 'Septrin' is particularly active against Haemophilus influenzae.
Urinary tract infections – including urethritis, cystitis, pyelitis, chronic pyelonephritis, prostatitis and gonococcal urethritis. 'Septrin' is notably effective against Gram-negative organisms, especially Proteus.
Septicaemia – particularly striking successes have been shown in septicaemias due to problem organisms resistant to other antibacterials.

Dosage

Adults and Children over 12 years: Two tablets twice daily.
In severe infections a loading dose of four tablets is recommended except in cases with renal failure – see below.
In overwhelming infections and septicaemias three tablets twice daily or two tablets three times a day may be given.
Children 6-12 years: Half the adult dose, usually one tablet twice daily.
In cases with marked renal impairment, reduced or more widely spaced dosage is recommended. A satisfactory urine output should be ensured. Ideally, in such patients, dosage should be controlled by regular estimations of blood levels (methods are available on request).
In acute infections 'Septrin' should be given for at least five days or until symptoms have been absent for 24-48 hours. In acute urinary tract infections many authorities advise that treatment should continue for at least 10-14 days because of the danger of sub-clinical or low grade chronic pyelonephritis persisting and leading to permanent renal impairment and its sequelae. In chronic infections the duration of treatment will depend upon response.
Adverse effects have not been reported in long-term prophylactic administration.

Side-effects and precautions

With 'Septrin' in the recommended dosage no serious side-effects have been reported.
Malaise, nausea and vomiting have occurred with trimethoprim alone, but only when the daily dose exceeded 1 G. which is three times that included in the average recommended dosage. These reactions appear to be of central origin. Rashes have occurred in a few cases. No undesirable haematological effects have been observed in short-term treatment with 'Septrin'. After prolonged administration, some minor biochemical changes and also morphological evidence of alterations in folate metabolism were noted in the granulocytes. However, these changes had no practical implications and with cessation of the drug there was prompt return to pre-treatment levels in all these cases.
The usual caution in prescribing any drug for women of child-bearing age should be exercised with 'Septrin'.
The drug should not be given during pregnancy.
'Septrin' is contra-indicated in patients known to be sensitive to sulphonamides.
Care is needed in patients with marked renal impairment (See under Dosage).

Presentation

'Septrin' brand tablets, each containing 80 mg. of trimethoprim and 400 mg. of sulphamethoxazole.

Bactrim Roche brings a new potency to the treatment of infections. Its unique dual, bactericidal action destroys bacteria by blocking two successive stages in bacterial metabolism.

Bactrim Roche produces its highly potent bactericidal activity from the potentiating action of its two components – trimethoprim and sulphamethoxazole. A leading article in the British Medical Journal on 18 May 1968 drew attention to the important therapeutic potential of this bactericidal synergy.

Bactrim Roche also improves the picture on side-effects. Gastrointestinal reactions are few. Superinfection, fungal overgrowth and tooth staining have not been reported.

In a trial[1] Bactrim Roche* was given to 50 chronic bronchitics whose clinical condition, and purulent sputum, showed that they were suffering from an infective exacerbation. In all cases treatment with one or more antibiotics had already failed.

In all 50 cases five to seven days of treatment with Bactrim Roche produced a rapid clearance of purulence and marked clinical improvement.

Clearly, the successful treatment with Bactrim Roche was due to its dual, bactericidal action against a broad range of bacteria. Of particular interest in treating acute exacerbations of chronic bronchitis is the activity of Bactrim Roche against Haemophilus influenzae: an organism commonly involved in these episodes and often unresponsive to antibiotics.

The New General Practice answers these and many other questions. The book contains 22 articles published in the B.M.J. in the last two years, many of them describing pioneering work in the field of general practice. THE NEW GENERAL PRACTICE

". . . this book will be widely read by general practitioners and will, no doubt, be passed from partner to partner and principal to staff in many practices. . . . What is more important, however, is that the book should be read by others outside general practice, particularly those who teach."
Brit. med. J. (1968), 4, 173.

"Many of these articles are important and aspirants to membership of the College might be expected to be aware of them. . . ." ". . . most useful to those who wish to know more about how best a general practice may be organized." J. roy. Coll. gen. Practit. (1968), 16, 406.

"It is well to restate at this moment, as this paperback does, what we should, and could, and have aimed for in the past as in the present, in order to achieve proper general practice doctoring as applicable in the second half of the twentieth century." Update (1968), 1, 63.

"Provides a valuable account of the experiences of methods by which another country tackles its problems of organization of health services. It is recommended to everyone interested in the problems of medical care available to all." Swedish Medical Journal (1968), 65, 3661.

Sustanon makes a man a man again

in body and in mind

When gonadal activity is inadequate the young or middle-aged male may demonstrate diminished genital structure, and response, to the point of impotence. Understandably the repercussions reach far beyond the purely physical – often playing havoc with the patient's psyche, marriage and career.

Every physician knows how complex is diagnosis of the condition, with the patient frequently hiding the facts not only from his doctor but from himself. Even when the diagnosis is established, therapy is not straightforward and many factors must be considered. Nevertheless with Sustanon a clear, early and sustained response may occur at all levels, physical, mental, and emotional.

Sustanon is preferable to testosterone propionate as of course no single testosterone ester provides both lengthy activity and rapid onset of action. This Sustanon does. Its prolonged activity is such that only an occasional injection is needed to maintain the required therapeutic level.

Sustanon '100'

2 weeks' activity–contains 100mg testosterone per ml:

Testosterone Propionate B.P. 20mg
Testosterone Phenylpropionate B.P. 40mg
Testosterone Isocaproate 40mg

Sustanon '250'

4 weeks' activity–contains 250mg testosterone per ml:

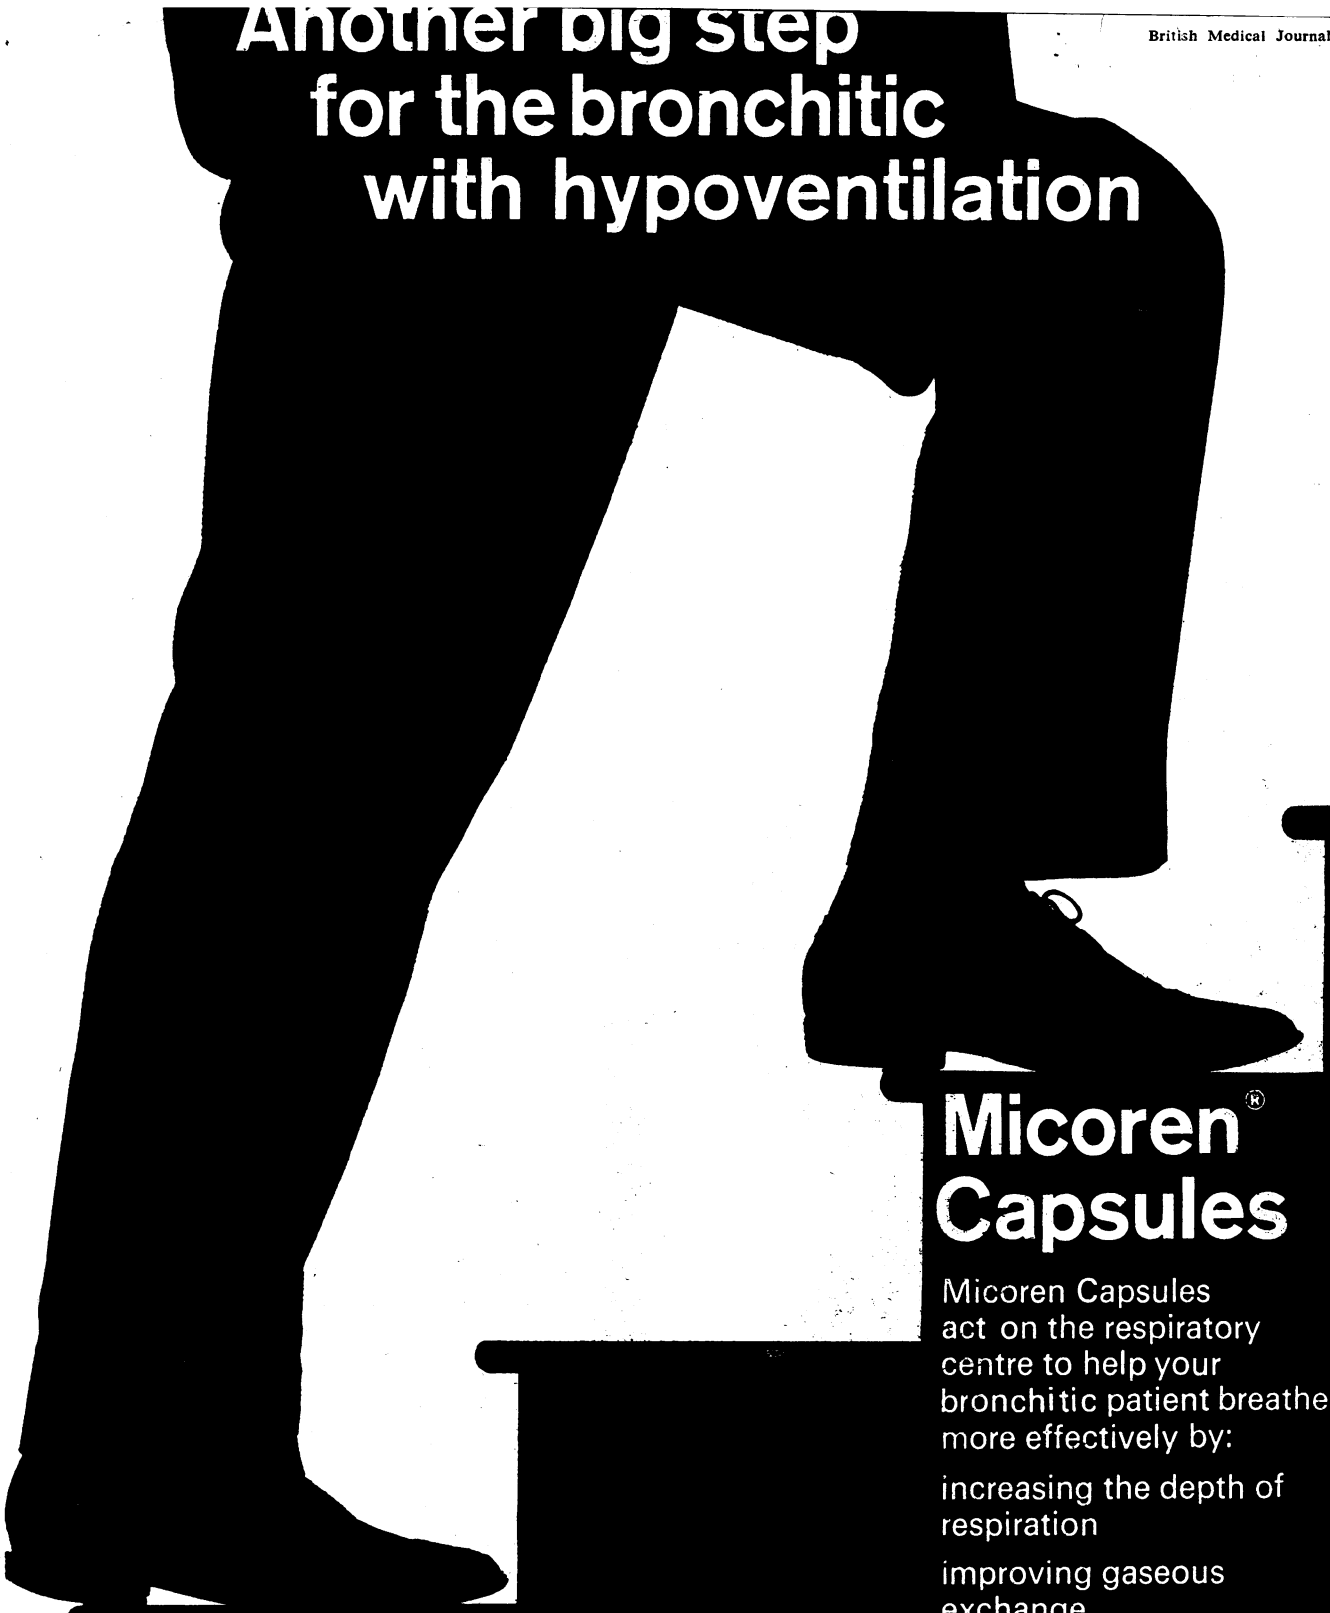

Testosterone Propionate B.P. 30mg
Testosterone Phenylpropionate B.P. 60mg
Testosterone Isocaproate 60mg
Testosterone Decanoate 100mg

Packs: Boxes of 3 ampoules of 1 ml in either strength.
Single 1 ml Orgaject disposable syringes in either strength.
Contraindication: in males, carcinoma of the prostate.

'ZYLORIC' brand Allopurinol puts gout into reverse

In the gouty patient, 'Zyloric' controls uric acid formation. 'Zyloric' limits the formation of uric acid from its metabolic precursors, and they are excreted in much more soluble forms. Consequently the amount of uric acid passing through the kidney is not increased as with the uricosuric agents. Thus 'Zyloric' lowers serum uric acid, and at the same time prevents kidney damage—a major cause of death in 25 per cent of patients with chronic gout.

By markedly reducing the production of serum uric acid 'Zyloric' permits the gradual resorption of urates from tissues. Slowly and steadily the deposition of urates is reversed, joints become more mobile and tophi regress.

3 injections

that is all that is required for a hay fever free summer. D-VAC Pollens is a 'depot' desensitising vaccine for the treatment of hay fever and pollen asthma. This short course of injections alleviates the symptoms by building up the patient's resistance to airborne grass pollens which circulate between May and July. The doses are easy to administer and are prepacked in special disposable syringes. Using the procedure outlined opposite will ensure that D-VAC Pollens is given at the best possible time.

Highly effective

D-VAC Pollens has been used in clinical practice for five years following three years of extensive trials. Reported success rates have been as high as 80% of patients treated [1-6]. Patient acceptability has been high and the treatment is generally well tolerated [1,5,6]. For maximum long term benefit, D-VAC Pollens should be given for three successive years.

Prescribe now:

D-VAC Pollens injections are made to order only. Each prescription should be for the whole course—either Primary or Advanced*—and should state when the first injection is to be given (10th February—8th March). The three injections will be automatically despatched at four-week intervals to arrive a few days before they are required.

Prescriptions should be completed before 31st December.

Ten reasons why Acthar Gel is the most widely prescribed ACTH

ACTHAR GEL is the most reliable form of ACTH[1].

ACTHAR GEL is highly purified and standardised to ensure reliable potency, and has been used safely and effectively for fifteen years.

ACTHAR GEL provides optimum length of adrenal stimulation – twelve to sixteen hours,[4,6,7] this allows pituitary recovery time. Risk of pituitary suppression is minimal – no growth stunting[4].

ACTHAR GEL has been shown to have a clinical effect lasting up to three days or more[3] from one injection.

ACTHAR GEL is safe and side effects, when seen, are usually symptoms of overdosage[1,5].

ACTHAR GEL is not a steroid[8] and treatment can be stopped when unnecessary – no withdrawal symptoms,[2,3,9] no problem of bruising or when presenting for surgery.

ACTHAR GEL is now liquid at normal room temperatures and is easy to inject.

ACTHAR GEL is a solution not a suspension and accurate dosage is ensured.

ACTHAR GEL Gelatin is the optimum delay medium[7] and unlikely to cause side effects.

ACTHAR GEL has featured in the vast majority of published clinical papers on ACTH. Some of the latest are given.

OCTOBER 4 THE PROBLEM A large weeping ulcer infected with staph. pyogenes and with a dirty central slough. Previous treatment with paraffin gauze and a local steroid antibiotic merely enlarged the ulcer four times.

TWO WEEKS LATER DESLOUGHING. After treatment with Aserbine Cream to the ulcer and Aqueous Ichthyol to the surrounding skin, complete desloughing has taken place.

NOVEMBER 14 HEALING The ulcer is completely healed. After desloughing with Aserbine Cream, the ulcer was treated with a closed dressing.

When the presence of slough delays healing...

... in varicose ulcers, burns, pressure sores, trophic ulcers, etc.

Presentation: Aserbine is available as a cream (100 G. jars) and as a solution (500 ml. bottles).

Method of Application: Aserbine Cream should be applied once or twice daily. Aserbine Solution should be applied as a wet dressing and it is important to keep the dressing moist.
