What happens if CMC is added to ACTH?

CROOKES ACTH/CMC

ACTH/CMC is ACTH with a difference. The difference is convenience. ACTH/CMC is a clear, mobile liquid, even under storage conditions. It is highly purified, has a prolonged storage life and is virtually painless on injection.

Which all adds up to easier therapy in bronchial asthma, Bell's palsy and rheumatoid arthritis. Even with long courses there are no dangers of withdrawal symptoms. ACTH/CMC stimulates natural corticosteroid production. And so it removes the risk of adrenal atrophy so common with synthetic corticosteroid treatment.

ACTH/CMC is the modern form of ACTH

50 years ago

Fifty years ago Markus Guggenheim – working in the Roche Research Laboratories in Grenzach – first isolated and described a simplified means of producing L-Dopa, the substance now widely regarded as the most significant single breakthrough in treatment in the whole history of Parkinson's Disease.

Today, Roche Products Limited are happy to announce that Larodopa, the Roche brand of L-Dopa, is now generally available both to hospitals and to general practice.

October 1970: Larodopa

is now available to General Practitioners

Larodopa* (L-Dopa) is, by common consent, an advance of unquestioned value and significance in the treatment of Parkinson's Disease: a major breakthrough.

Along with the pleasure of announcing such a step forward Roche feel a responsibility for providing Doctors with full and current information on Larodopa, as and when it becomes available.

How they propose to meet that responsibility will be announced shortly. For the moment, the briefest possible summary of the salient facts about Larodopa is given below.

Full prescribing information is being despatched.

Larodopa: the benefits

The first treatment – medical or surgical – to ease the paralysis (akinesia) of Parkinson's Disease as well as the rigidity and tremor.

Two thirds or more Parkinsonian patients derive significant, often dramatic, improvements in mobility.

Larodopa: procedure

Diagnosis is important: there is little evidence of worthwhile benefit in conditions other than Parkinson's Disease.

Dosage starts at a low level and is increased gradually to match individual needs and response.

Larodopa: cautions

Side effects – which are both dose-dependent and reversible – occur in a large percentage of cases. They can be mitigated to some extent by adjustments in dosage.

Long term safety and efficacy have yet to be established.

*Larodopa is the trade mark for pharmaceutical preparations containing 3-(3,4-dihydroxyphenyl)-alanine.

PRACTICAL PSYCHIATRY

from the British Medical Journal

Most doctors who have been qualified for more than ten years received very little training in psychiatry as medical students. Yet psychiatric problems confront all those practising clinical medicine. The articles collected together in this book were written for the B.M.J. to give practical advice to general practitioners and others on how to recognize and cope with the more common forms of mental disorder. Many patients are anxious or depressed; when should the doctor try to do something about it? This is the sort of question the authors set out to answer. As far as possible they have avoided the use of psychiatric jargon, and case histories have been used freely to illustrate the points made. Any doctor who feels ignorant about psychological medicine will find here a readable introduction to the practical aspects of clinical psychiatry.

What is the word for emotional distress?

The presenting symptoms? "Can't sleep... irritable... no appetite... tired... aches and pains"—consultation after consultation.

The task? To penetrate behind the facade to the underlying condition.

The aim? To make the patient feel better quickly and reveal the problem, without unnecessary consultations.

Tranquillizers or hypnotics may deal with part of this aim, but only part.

Prothiaden can meet all the requirements. It is rapidly effective in both anxiety and depression.

One ingredient, a single-strength capsule means straightforward dosage.

Prothiaden is well tolerated even by the elderly. Prothiaden can mean trouble-free treatment of anxiety, depression, in fact any manifestation of emotional distress.

ANTIBIOTICS AND THE INTESTINAL FLORA

Treatment with broad spectrum antibiotics suppresses the normal flora, which may be replaced by abnormal resistant organisms causing diarrhoea.

This change can be prevented or reversed by the implantation of Lactobacillus acidophilus which has been rendered antibiotic-resistant, and is thus able to multiply freely under these abnormal conditions. The products of growth of the organism are inimical to that of many other bacteria^{1,2} and thus contribute to its rapid preponderance over other species.

Oral treatment with antibiotic-resistant L. acidophilus in the form of ENPAC has been shown to eliminate Candida from the faeces of infants with antibiotic-induced diarrhoea, with relief of symptoms succeeded by rapid gain in weight^{3,4} and greatly to reduce the numbers of staphylococci in the faeces of patients treated with tetracyclines.⁵

Anxiety symptoms often mask depressive states

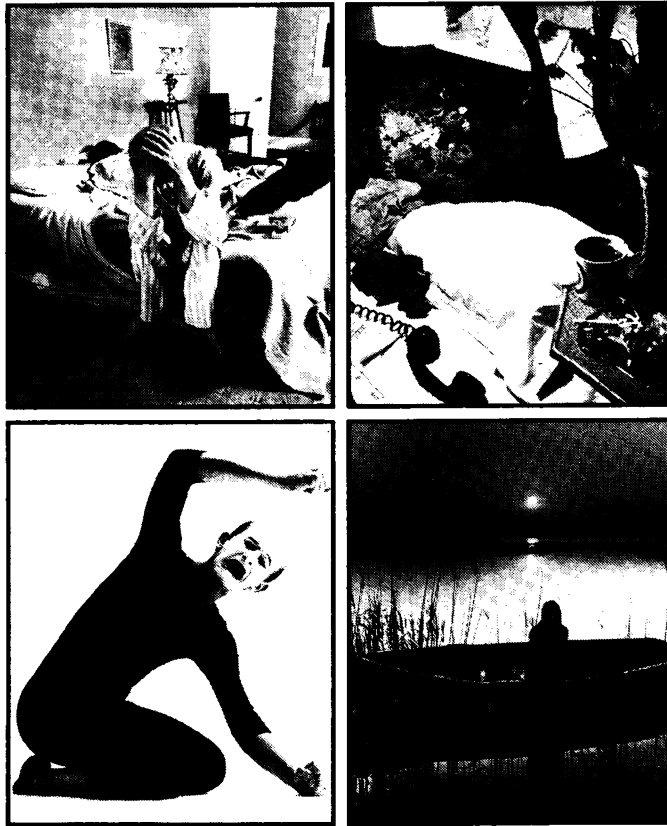

Mr A: "It's my nerves, doctor, I can't seem to settle to anything . . . nothing seems to get done . . ."

Mr A is anxious because his apathetic and depressive state is affecting his work performance—things are piling up, and he feels unable to deal with them.

Many patients show symptoms of anxiety when their slowly increasing depression begins to affect their performance. On the other hand, long periods of stress may give rise to a depressive state. Treat such patients purely for anxiety—and their depression may get worse: treat them for depression alone—and they can become severely agitated. When anxiety precedes, hides, or accompanies depression Limbitrol* is indicated to deal with both aspects of the anxiety/depression syndrome.

Why disrupt the flu virus?

So it won't disrupt your patient.

WELLCOME* Flu Vaccine is prepared by a special 'split virus' technique in which the killed virus is disrupted by chemical action to dissolve the outer coating of the virus and release the active immunizing principles as sub-unit particles. The splitting of the virus by this treatment produces a vaccine which is less reactogenic than the older, conventional vaccines but which retains its immunizing properties in full.

WELLCOME Flu Vaccine provides effective protection against the current strains of influenza virus—A2/Hong-Kong/68 and the current B strains. For your vaccination programme, WELLCOME Flu Vaccine means worthwhile protection with fewer reactions.

International conference report on Ceporex in urinary tract infections

"Cephalexin compares very favourably with the other drugs at present being used for the treatment of UTI..." 2 g of cephalexin daily was successful in treating 83% of renal infections and 90% of bladder infections.

Twenty papers on the use of cephalexin (Ceporex) were presented at the International Conference on Cephalosporins* at Brighton in June. Treatment of 2,000 patients with a wide variety of infections, in hospital and general practice, emphasised the effectiveness of this new oral cephalosporin.

One report from Australia described 68 female patients with recurrent urinary tract infections who were treated with 2 g/day of Ceporex. 70% of all the patients in the trial had renal infection, as determined by the bladder wash-out method, and of these 83% cleared. There was no significant difference in the success rate between one or two weeks' treatment or the presence or absence of renal abnormalities. Of the remaining patients who had bladder infections, 90% cleared on treatment.

This autumn you can confirm the effectiveness of the wide activity of Ceporex in the treatment of recurrent urinary tract infections and those of the respiratory tract, in patients of all ages. Ceporex is well tolerated and can be considered for patients hypersensitive to the penicillins. It is available in a range of six presentations – 250 mg and 500 mg capsules, pleasant syrups, and small identified film-coated tablets.

* (A full report of the papers presented at the International Conference on Cephalosporins – organised jointly by the Fellowship of Postgraduate Medicine and Glaxo – appears as the October Supplement to the Postgraduate Medical Journal.)

cause for confidence in Ventolin Therapy.

DOCTORS RECOGNISE THE EFFECTIVENESS OF VENTOLIN THERAPY.

Over 30 published references in 18 months confirm the effectiveness of Ventolin (salbutamol), and the weight of favourable comment continues to grow.

"... it seems clear, therefore, that because of its effectiveness in producing bronchodilatation, its long duration of action, its lack of cardiovascular stimulant action, and its lack of tendency to produce falls in PaO_2 , salbutamol is the most effective drug at present available by aerosol inhalation for the relief of asthmatic airway obstruction."

Brit. med. J. (1970), 2, 23.

PATIENTS PREFER VENTOLIN THERAPY.

Following a double-blind, cross-over sequential trial in general practice, comparing salbutamol (100mcg per puff) with isoprenaline sulphate (100mcg per puff), the author concluded: "My trial has shown unequivocally that patients prefer salbutamol to isoprenaline."

Practitioner, (1970) 205, 213.

"... In the double-blind subjective assessment it (Ventolin) was rated as the best of four treatments (placebo, isoprenaline 100mcg, orciprenaline 1,500mcg and Ventolin 200mcg) by 13 patients, while only three preferred orciprenaline."

The bronchodilator paradox and Medihaler-duo

FOR many years it was assumed that bronchodilators – by improving ventilation – must have a beneficial effect on oxygenation of the blood. However, several investigations^{1,2,3,4} have shown that the converse is often the case, probably because of disproportionate increases in lung perfusion caused by these single agents^{5,6,7}.

The combination product, Medihaler-duo, is a notable exception^{8,9,10}. In three clinical trials involving a total of 47 patients with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and reversible bronchospasm, relief of airways obstruction was followed by improved arterial oxygen tension in the majority of cases. In addition, raised blood carbon dioxide levels were reduced in most cases where they were measured.

It should not be necessary for the patient to take further treatment for at least thirty minutes, or more than eight treatments a day. Children Medihaler-duo should be administered to children only under the supervision of a responsible adult. Basic NHS price Standard pack (complete 400-dose unit) 17/-. Our tax-saving retirement plan is now even better.

If you are in general or private practice, or draw part of your income as a part-time consultant, the taxman allows you to invest in a personal pension policy. All your contributions qualify for full income tax relief and surtax relief.

That means you pay less tax now, and enjoy an excellent pension later. You could say the taxman is subsidising your retirement investment. Which is quite a bargain.

Now we've made this outstandingly attractive policy even better. An additional bonus will be paid at the time when your pension starts. Which means that the annual sum we pay you is even higher than it was before.

If you pay tax under Schedule 'D', it's time you discovered what you are missing. Write to us today quoting reference 5003 and tell us your name, address and date of birth, before the taxman makes another demand.

*Co-ferol provides an adequate
Iron and Folic Acid pregnancy supplement at low cost!*

Co-ferol is a well accepted therapy for routine prophylaxis in pregnancy. It contains 120 mg. of Ferrous Fumarate and 200 micrograms of Folic Acid.

"Doses of 300 to 400 mcg. of Folic Acid daily by mouth will maintain normal serum, and red cell folate levels throughout pregnancy and in the postpartum period." British Medical Journal, 2, 1568, 1966.

This is the equivalent of 2 Co-ferol tablets daily. A month's G.P. treatment (at 2 Co-ferol tablets per day) would be 60 tablets at a cost to the N.H.S. of only 1/6d. (ex 1000 pack). For bulk orders from hospitals, this figure could be less than 1/-. These economical prices are possible without any loss in the quality which is expected from a product manufactured by our associate company, Arthur H. Cox, Britain's leading tablet house.

Co-ferol

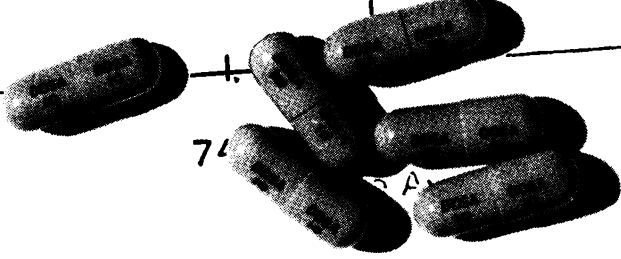

Available in the new Palm N Turn pack which cannot be opened simply by turning or pulling.

in bronchitis more effective than ampicillin or tetracycline

Compared with ampicillin

In a controlled single-blind trial involving 50 patients with chronic bronchitis SEPTRIN* was shown to be more effective than ampicillin, with reference to reduction of sputum volume and purulence.

Sputum volume reduction

There was a significantly greater reduction in mean sputum volume after treatment with SEPTRIN than after treatment with ampicillin.

Sputum purulence reduction

23 out of 24 cases with purulent sputum receiving SEPTRIN improved (using MRC sputum grading) as compared with 16 cases out of 22 cases with purulent sputum receiving ampicillin who improved in this respect. The success rate for SEPTRIN was significantly higher than for ampicillin.

Clinical improvement

Clinically, 24 out of 25 cases receiving SEPTRIN responded as compared with 19 out of 25 receiving ampicillin.

Reference: Postgrad med J, (1969) 45, Supplement (November) 86.

Compared with tetracycline

In a trial designed to compare the effect of SEPTRIN with that of tetracycline in the treatment of chronic bronchitis, it was found that a week's course with SEPTRIN was more beneficial than a week's course of tetracycline.

24 patients received SEPTRIN and 22 received tetracycline, and objective data was collected from the two groups at the beginning and at the end of treatment.

Sputum volume

The decrease in mean sputum volume after treatment, as a fraction of the initial measurements, was significantly larger for the SEPTRIN group.

Sputum purulence

Objective grading of reduction in purulence of the sputum showed better results with SEPTRIN than with tetracycline at the end of treatment.

Reference: Postgrad med J, (1969) 45, Supplement, (November) 91.

SEPTRIN Tablets, SEPTRIN Paediatric Suspension and SEPTRIN Paediatric Tablets contain trimethoprim and sulphamethoxazole.

for bacterial infections
Septtrin
an advance on the antibiotics

The quicker a boil is treated, the better

The patient is worried, but tries to make light of the situation. "Hardly worth troubling you, Doctor," he says. The infected area is larger than a spot, and reddening. It is painful.

You notice thickening of the skin, and induration. You recognise the start of a boil, or possibly even a carbuncle. You decide on effective antibiotic therapy—immediately.

Broxil is an excellent way of treating soft tissue infections. It achieves high blood levels at the site of infection extremely rapidly. The capsules and tablets allow ambulant patients to take the right dose at the right time—without any disruption of daily routine.

Broxil works. In practice, patients do seem to get better quicker with Broxil. It has the excellent safety record of a well-tried penicillin.

For soft tissue infections, ENT, upper respiratory infections, no other antibiotic treatment can match up to Broxil's record of safety and effectiveness over ten years of practice.

Inderal-80

Prescribing information

Dosage

Most patients can be maintained in normotension with 80 mg. or less, four times daily.

The starting dose is 20 mg. four times daily, taken before food. Increments of 20 mg. four times daily can be made at each visit—usually weekly or fortnightly during the stabilisation period—until a satisfactory reduction in blood pressure has been achieved. One of the pharmacological effects of 'Inderal' is to reduce the pulse rate. Dosage can be increased incrementally until either the blood pressure falls to the desired level or the heart rate falls to 55-60 beats per minute.

The anti-hypertensive effect of 'Inderal'-80 develops gradually and if control still seems inadequate at a dose of 80 mg. four times daily, further increments should be withheld for one month in case response is delayed. Thereafter further increases may still be necessary. Slightly subnormal blood pressure, with dizziness and weakness, is an indication that the optimum dose has been exceeded. Whilst small excesses should be corrected, they are not likely to cause acute hypotensive episodes.

Concomitant therapy

The addition of a thiazide diuretic (plus potassium) to the regimen may be advantageous, since this enhances the effect of 'Inderal' and may permit some reduction in dosage.

When a patient is being transferred from a sympatholytic drug to 'Inderal', dosage of the former is cautiously reduced whilst that of 'Inderal' is gradually increased as already described.

Contraindications

'Inderal' is contraindicated in heart block and in patients with a history of bronchospasm. It is also contraindicated after prolonged fasting and in diabetic ketoacidosis or metabolic acidosis.

Precautions

Patients with overt or incipient cardiac failure depend on uninhibited sympathetic drive for the maintenance of cardiac contractility. These patients should not be given 'Inderal' unless cardiac contractility is maintained with digitalis and/or diuretics and symptoms fully controlled. β -receptor blockade is compatible with 'Fluothane' (halothane) anaesthesia, but may be incompatible with other volatile anaesthetics. When possible, 'Inderal' therapy should cease 24 hours before elective surgery.

Pregnancy

There is no evidence of teratogenicity with 'Inderal', but like all other drugs it should be avoided in pregnancy unless its use is essential.

Adverse reactions

'Inderal' is usually well tolerated. Minor side effects such as nausea, insomnia, lassitude and diarrhoea are transient or may be avoided by gradual introduction of treatment. Isolated cases of purpura, erythematous rash and paraesthesia of the hands have been reported. In the rare event of idiosyncratic hypersensitivity to 'Inderal', with bradycardia and hypotension, the drug should be withdrawn.

Overdosage

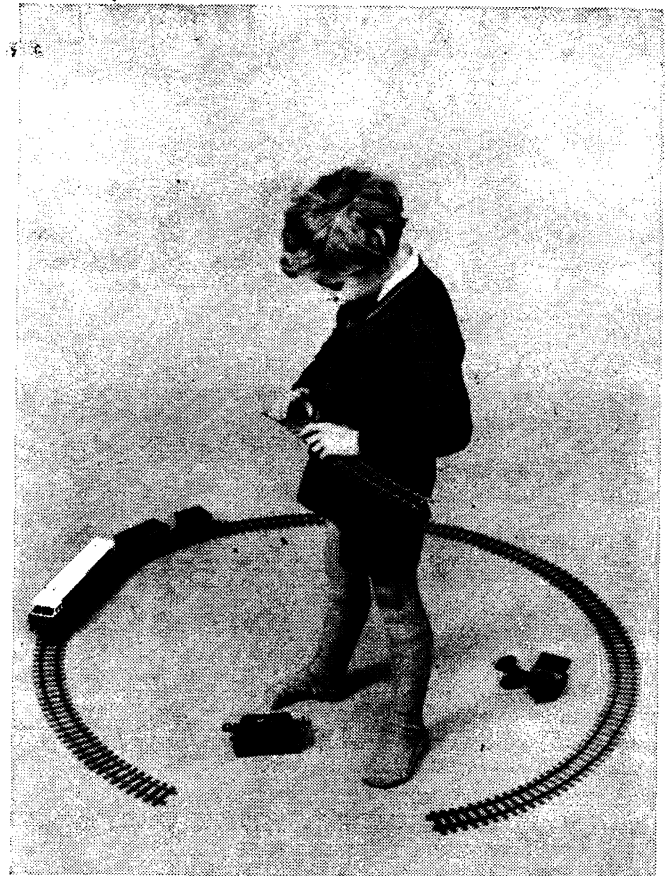

Excessive bradycardia can be countered with atropine 1-2 mg. intravenously followed, if necessary, by a β -receptor stimulant such as isoprenaline 25 μ g. intravenously or orciprenaline 0.5 mg. intravenously.

Break the threadworm life-cycle with single-dose Pripsen

Threadworms often infect families, one child can infect the others.

A single dose of Pripsen, taken by each member of the family, can eradicate threadworm infection. Pripsen treats the affected child and protects others against infection. As a precaution against possible re-infection a second dose of Pripsen should be given after two weeks.

Pripsen (piperazine phosphate and standardized senna) is also effective against roundworms.

Tube of 10G (one full dose). Tins of 80G (dose measure enclosed).
Pripsen can be mixed with milk or water.

Latest research suggests unique action of Negram

Artist's impression of Esch. coli.

Penicillins and Cephaloridine weaken the cell wall.

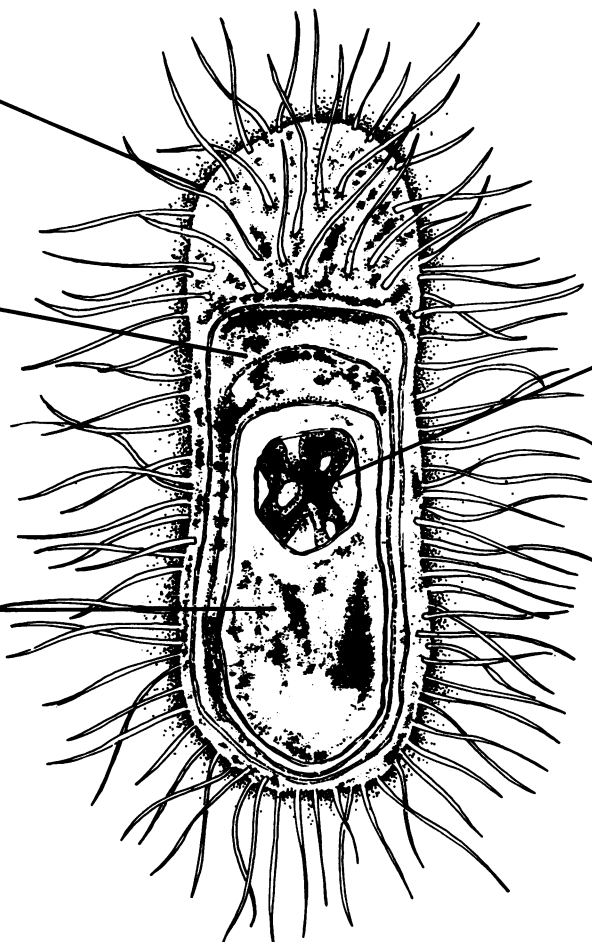

This may kill the bacteria by removing their outer defences. But it can – and often does – result in the survival of L-forms.^{1, 2}

Sulphonamides, Trimethoprim and Nitrofurantoin block the metabolic pathways.

Each of these antibacterials blocks only one specific step in the process. Very often these particular steps can be by-passed without detriment to the bacteria.¹

Tetracyclines and Chloramphenicol affect the ribosomes.

Though the ribosomes are the 'assembly plants' of the cells, their function is controlled by DNA. Unless this control is knocked out, the cell functions are never completely destroyed.²

Only Negram destroys bacterial DNA, the basis of all bacterial life!

DNA controls the whole structure and function of bacteria. For cells to divide and multiply, the DNA must replicate itself. It is at this point that Negram attacks. It prevents the replication of DNA. This fundamental disruption of the control element not only prohibits the proliferation of bacteria but destroys the complete bacterial system.³

BETNOVATE SCALP APPLICATION GETS DOWN TO THE ROOT OF SCALP DERMATOSES... AND NO MESSING!

Betnovate Scalp Application has been developed specifically for the treatment of steroid-responsive dermatoses of the scalp such as psoriasis and seborrhoea capitis. It contains, in a slightly gelled, alcoholic solution, 0.1% betamethasone as 17-valerate — the most successful topical steroid.

Betnovate Scalp Application is contained in a plastic squeeze bottle with an elongated nozzle. This allows the liquid to be applied directly to the affected area without disturbing the hair. The slightly gelled solution needs no rubbing-in — it spreads itself easily without dripping.*

Betnovate Scalp Application leaves no odour and no visible residue. The spirituous nature of the liquid allows the preparation to dry off quickly and cleanly, leaving only an invisible layer of Betnovate. This quick-drying action produces a cooling effect on the scalp, accompanied by the rapid relief which Betnovate (trade mark) brings from itching and inflammation.

Rondomycin*

It is distinctly more active than tetracycline against the organisms commonly associated with respiratory infections¹ and its spectrum of activity is broader than that of the penicillins, including ampicillin.

It clears purulent sputum quickly – even sputum which has remained stubbornly infected in the face of tetracycline therapy.²

It has been shown to shorten exacerbations far more decisively than either tetracycline or ampicillin.³

High, sustained blood levels ensure therapeutic activity for up to 24 hours after the final dose.¹ This is a distinct advantage over tetracycline and the penicillins.

The problem of the antibiotic being destroyed by penicillinase-producing organisms does not arise.

It all adds up to shorter exacerbations, less damage to lung tissue and a better prognosis for the patient.

Road Accidents and the Family Doctor

Road accidents are now acknowledged to be one of the major epidemics of our time. It has been estimated that many accident deaths could be saved by skilled treatment at the site of the accident, and recently doctors in Britain and abroad have been playing an increasingly active part in this. This booklet, which reprints a series of articles which appeared in the B.M.J. last autumn, contains contributions on organization and medical equipment, the management of soft-tissue injuries, resuscitation, fractures of the spine, and extrication of persons trapped in a vehicle. The introduction is written by Mr. Norman Capener, Chairman of the Medical Commission on Accident Prevention.
