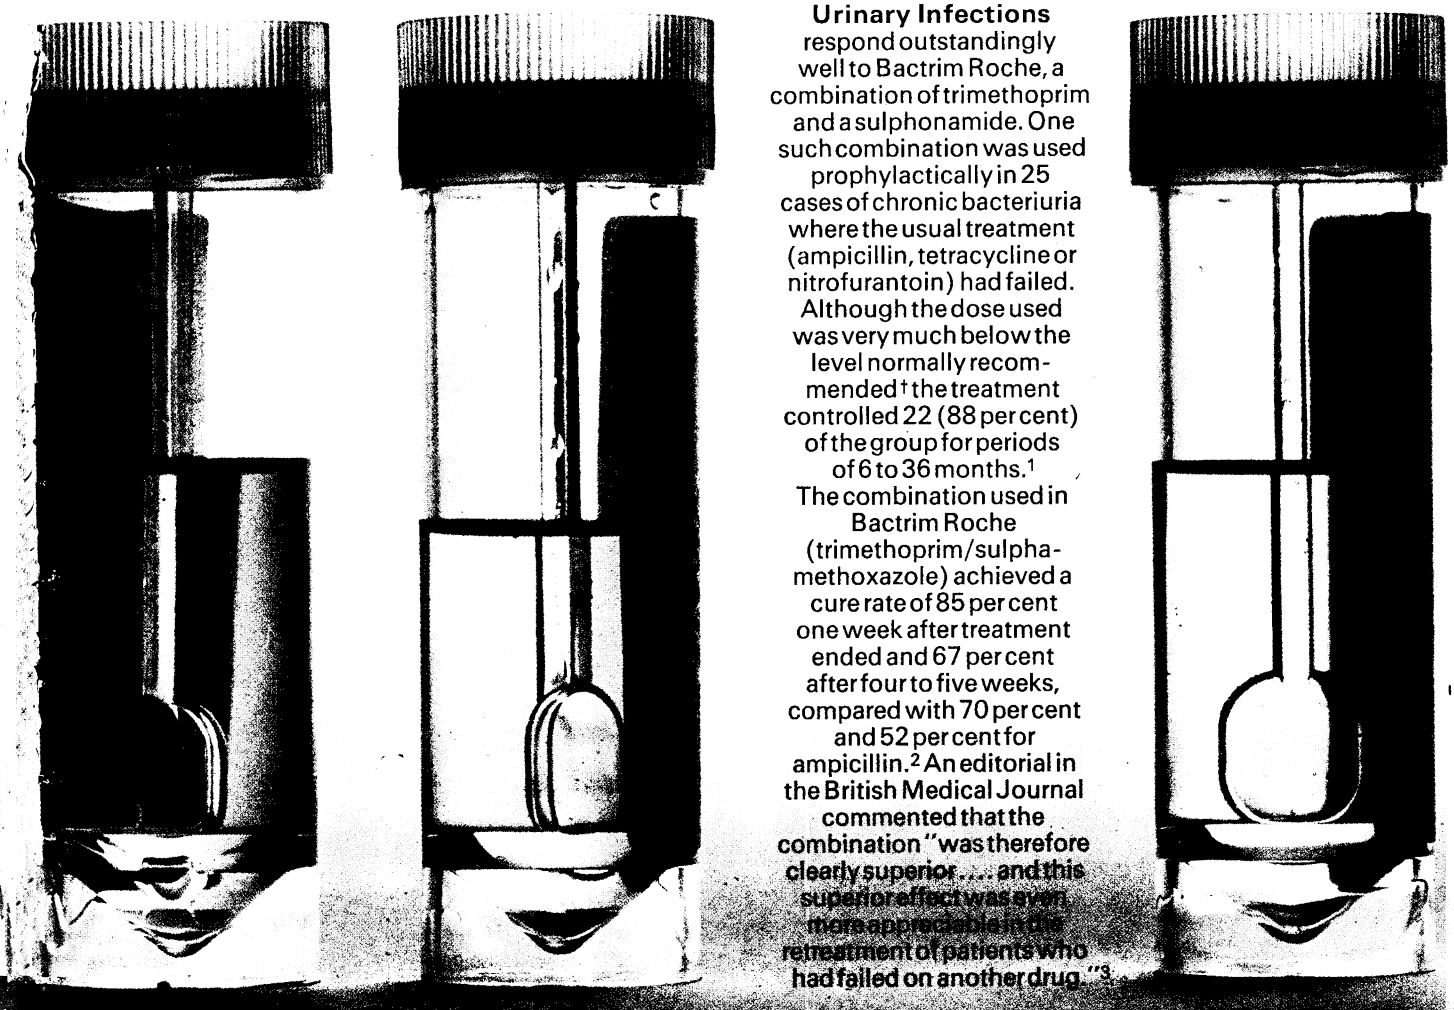
six good reasons for prescribing Bactrim*Roche for urinary tract infections

Staphylococcus pyogenes

E.coli

Proteus spp.



Urinary Infections respond outstandingly well to Bactrim Roche, a combination of trimethoprim and a sulphonamide. One such combination was used prophylactically in 25 cases of chronic bacteriuria where the usual treatment (ampicillin, tetracycline or nitrofurantoin) had failed. Although the dose used was very much below the level normally recommended† the treatment controlled 22 (88 per cent) of the group for periods of 6 to 36 months.[1] The combination used in Bactrim Roche (trimethoprim/sulphamethoxazole) achieved a cure rate of 85 per cent one week after treatment ended and 67 per cent after four to five weeks, compared with 70 per cent and 52 per cent for ampicillin.[2] An editorial in the British Medical Journal commented that the combination "was therefore clearly superior.... and this superior effect was even more appreciable in the retreatment of patients who had failed on another drug."[3]

Living dangerously...

HOW DANGEROUS?

Obesity can lead to high blood pressure, diabetes, heart disease and anxiety states. It can also worsen many other degenerative disorders. Obesity, in fact, can be a killer.

HOW WIDESPREAD?

It has been estimated that 22,500,000 people in the U.K. alone are overweight to a lesser or greater degree. In the Western world as a whole, obesity is the largest single nutritional disorder. The cost in absenteeism and ill-health is incalculable. The cost to Britain alone, in financial terms, is probably of the order of tens of million pounds per annum.

IS DIETING THE ANSWER ?

Dieting alone is not often effective – except under controlled conditions which rarely occur. Normally weight loss through diet alone is usually only temporary and is often accompanied by psychological disturbances of varying severity. Another complicating factor is that defective glucose metabolism can defeat the efforts of the most diet-conscious and co-operative of patients.

ARE STIMULANTS A RISK?

The risks involved in prescribing simple appetite depressants of the stimulant variety are well recognised. Not only are most of these drugs relatively ineffective but they can also produce dependence of a serious nature. This view is reinforced by the BMA Working Party's recommendation that amphetamines should no longer be prescribed in the treatment of obesity. Plus the fact that legislation is now being proposed to curtail their use.

CAN DIAGNOSIS BE ACCURATE?

Yes, it can. But to determine the severity of obesity it is necessary to measure the amount of fat in the body. Weighing machines and weight tables are virtually useless as a precise measurement of body fat. Other methods are more complicated and call for expensive equipment. A simple but highly accurate method is now provided by new and freely available skinfold calipers.

IS THERE A SOLUTION?

There is. A non-stimulant, metabolic regulator that causes muscles to increase their glucose uptake to levels seen in the lean person. A therapy which reduces weight naturally. And with it a more up-to-date, direct and effective method of obesity measurement.

The name of the therapy is Ponderax – the No. 1 obesity therapy.

...make it safer with PONDERAX®

FENFLURAMINE

Ponderax (fenfluramine) is a glycoliptic agent which can effect a reduction in weight of up to 3.6 lb. per week without the dangers of stimulant addiction. It does not excite mechanisms involved with the central nervous system. Ponderax works by reducing the amount of glucose available for conversion to lipid, by mobilising fat and reducing lipid synthesis.

The fact that Ponderax represents a major breakthrough in the treatment of obesity is supported by over 150 published papers and several long-term clinical trials. They confirm its glycoliptic (fat mobilisation) action; its proven weight-reducing properties; its mild hypotensive effect and its importance in the treatment of diabetic obesity. It is also important to note that after eight years widespread international use no case of dependence of any kind has occurred with Ponderax.

Ponderax, in fact, has been specifically excluded from prohibitive legislation on amphetamines in the Irish Republic and Australia and in new proposals recently announced in the U.K.

Diagnosis with Ponderax skinfold calipers is more effective than by weighing machine. A new spring-loaded version is now available. These new calipers are even more accurate and are useful as an effective guide to dosage. Evaluation of fact density from skinfold thickness measurements correlate well with values obtained from more elaborate methods.

ANTIBIOTICS AND THE INTESTINAL FLORA

Treatment with broad spectrum antibiotics suppresses the normal flora, which may be replaced by abnormal resistant organisms causing diarrhoea.

This change can be prevented or reversed by the implantation of Lactobacillus acidophilus which has been rendered antibiotic-resistant, and is thus able to multiply freely under these abnormal conditions. The products of growth of the organism are inimical to that of many other bacteria[1 2] and thus contribute to its rapid preponderance over other species.

Oral treatment with antibiotic-resistant L. acidophilus in the form of ENPAC has been shown to eliminate Candida from the faeces of infants with antibiotic-induced diarrhoea, with relief of symptoms succeeded by rapid gain in weight[3 4] and greatly to reduce the numbers of staphylococci in the faeces of patients treated with tetracyclines.[5]

FOLEX 350

The question of the optimum dose of folic acid has not been easy to establish but recent work* suggests that not less than 300 mcg. and not more than 400 mcg. daily can be considered adequate. In the light of this knowledge Folex-350 containing 350 mcg. of folic acid and 308 mg. of ferrous fumarate (equivalent to 100 mg. elemental iron) has been introduced.

When you diagnose Tonsillitis, you're in Penbritin Territory

The right-first-time antibiotic for Upper Respiratory Infections

Penbritin is right because it destroys penicillin-sensitive bacteria as effectively as penicillin V or G, and also kills other respiratory pathogens sensitive to broad-spectrum antibiotics only.

Penbritin is right because the sensitivity of respiratory pathogens is unchanged after 9 years' extensive use. In contrast, some bacteria, especially streptococci, now show a much reduced sensitivity to tetracyclines.

Penbritin retains the safety of penicillin which makes it an ideal treatment for children's infections and other situations where safety is a prime consideration. This is an advantage not shared by any other broad-spectrum antibiotic.

Two syrups, capsules and tablets enable you to prescribe Penbritin in the right form for each patient. Twenty papers involving 400 patients and showing an overall success rate of 95% confirm Penbritin as the right-first-time antibiotic in upper respiratory infections.

Dosage: Adults and children over 10 yrs. 250 mg q.i.d. a.c.
Children under 10 yrs. 125 mg q.i.d. a.c.

Contra-indication: Penicillin allergy.

Side-effects: As with other penicillins.

Why patients who hate the idea of elastic hosiery like wearing Scholl

Scholl know as well as you do just how much women hate the idea of elastic stockings. That's why they've made Scholl elastic stockings as acceptable to women as they are effective in bringing relief. Scholl elastic stockings do look nicer than ordinary elastic stockings. That's why patients are going to wear them when you prescribe them. Not just for the support. Not just for the comfort. But for the look of stockings that look like stockings—or are indescernible under them.

Scholl 'Nylastik' (illustrated)
(prescribed as 'Lightweight Elastic Yarn)' Nylastik are suitable for mild to average varices or for expectant mothers. They are worn instead of nylons and, on the legs, appear almost indistinguishable from an ordinary 30-denier stretch stocking.

Scholl 'Soft Grip'
(prescribed as 'Standard Elastic Yarn') Scholl Soft Grip are suitable for average to moderately severe varices. They are worn under normal sheer nylons. They are circular knit in double-expansion mesh with two-way elasticity to give firm, even support around the leg with plenty of comfortable 'give' lengthwise.

If the patient who has started on new therapy is to co-operate fully, maintain his composure and increase his confidence, early effective control of blood pressure must also be accompanied by the lowest possible risk of distressing side-effects. Because ESBATAL* meets these criteria it is of special value for the new hypertensive patient and also for those patients who are uncomfortable or uncontrolled on other therapy. Individual dosage is rapidly and reliably achieved, and dose response is soon predictable in a particular patient. In a report† of clinical experience with ESBATAL, the authors stated: 'There would now seem to be no case for beginning treatment with guanethidine or methyldopa in any new patient . . .'

International conference confirms success of Ceporex results in 2,000 patients show high success rates with few side effects

Twenty papers on the use of cephalexin (Ceporex) were presented at the International Conference on Cephalosporins* at Brighton in June. Treatment of 2,000 patients with a wide variety of infections in hospital and general practice emphasised the effectiveness of this new oral cephalosporin.

One report described the use of Ceporex in a multi-centre trial in general practice. 341 infections, including ENT, skin and soft tissue, respiratory and urinary tract, were treated. Overall success rate was 91%. Side effects were minimal.

This Autumn you can confirm the effectiveness of the wide activity of Ceporex in the treatment of pneumonia, bronchopneumonia, bronchitis, and other moderate and severe infections of the respiratory tract in patients of all ages. Ceporex is well tolerated, and can be considered for patients hypersensitive to the penicillins. It is available in a range of six presentations including 250 mg and 500 mg capsules, pleasant syrups, and small identified film-coated tablets.

*(A full report of the papers presented at the International Conference on Cephalosporins – organised jointly by the Fellowship of Postgraduate Medicine and Glaxo – will appear in the October Supplement of the Postgraduate Medical Journal.)

Selective action on β_2-receptors

new Numotac

more bronchodilation for less cardiac stimulation

In clinical trials, Numotac not only outperformed other bronchodilator tablets – choline theophyllinate and orciprenaline[1,2] – but even matched an orciprenaline aerosol in all but onset of relief[2].

This unusual degree of relief was obtained without significant effect on heart rate or blood pressure[1,2] – the result of selective action on β_2-receptors which gives more bronchodilation for less cardiac stimulation.

Composition
Each tablet contains isoetharine hydrochloride 10 mg. in a porous plastic matrix.
Indications
For relief of bronchospasm in chronic bronchitis, bronchial asthma and pulmonary emphysema.
Dosage
Adults: one or two tablets three or four times daily. For patients who have not previously been prescribed oral bronchodilator therapy or who are known to be sensitive to the action of sympathomimetic amines, treatment should be started on the lower dosage (three or four tablets daily). Dosage may then be adjusted upwards, if necessary, to achieve optimum response. Clinical and pharmacological studies have shown that Numotac acts for between four and six hours. In susceptible patients, administration at shorter intervals may give rise to side-effects. When this occurs dosage should be adjusted accordingly. Children: the 10 mg. tablet should not be broken, and this dose is not recommended for children aged 12 years or under.
Side-effects
Side-effects are unlikely to occur within the recommended dose range of Numotac. With higher doses, or in persons sensitive to sympathomimetic amines, tachycardia, palpitations, tremor or vertigo may occur.
Caution
Numotac should be used with caution in the presence of cardiac disease or hypertension.
Contra-indications
The use of Numotac is contra-indicated in thyrotoxicosis.

Numotac is a Registered Trade Mark.

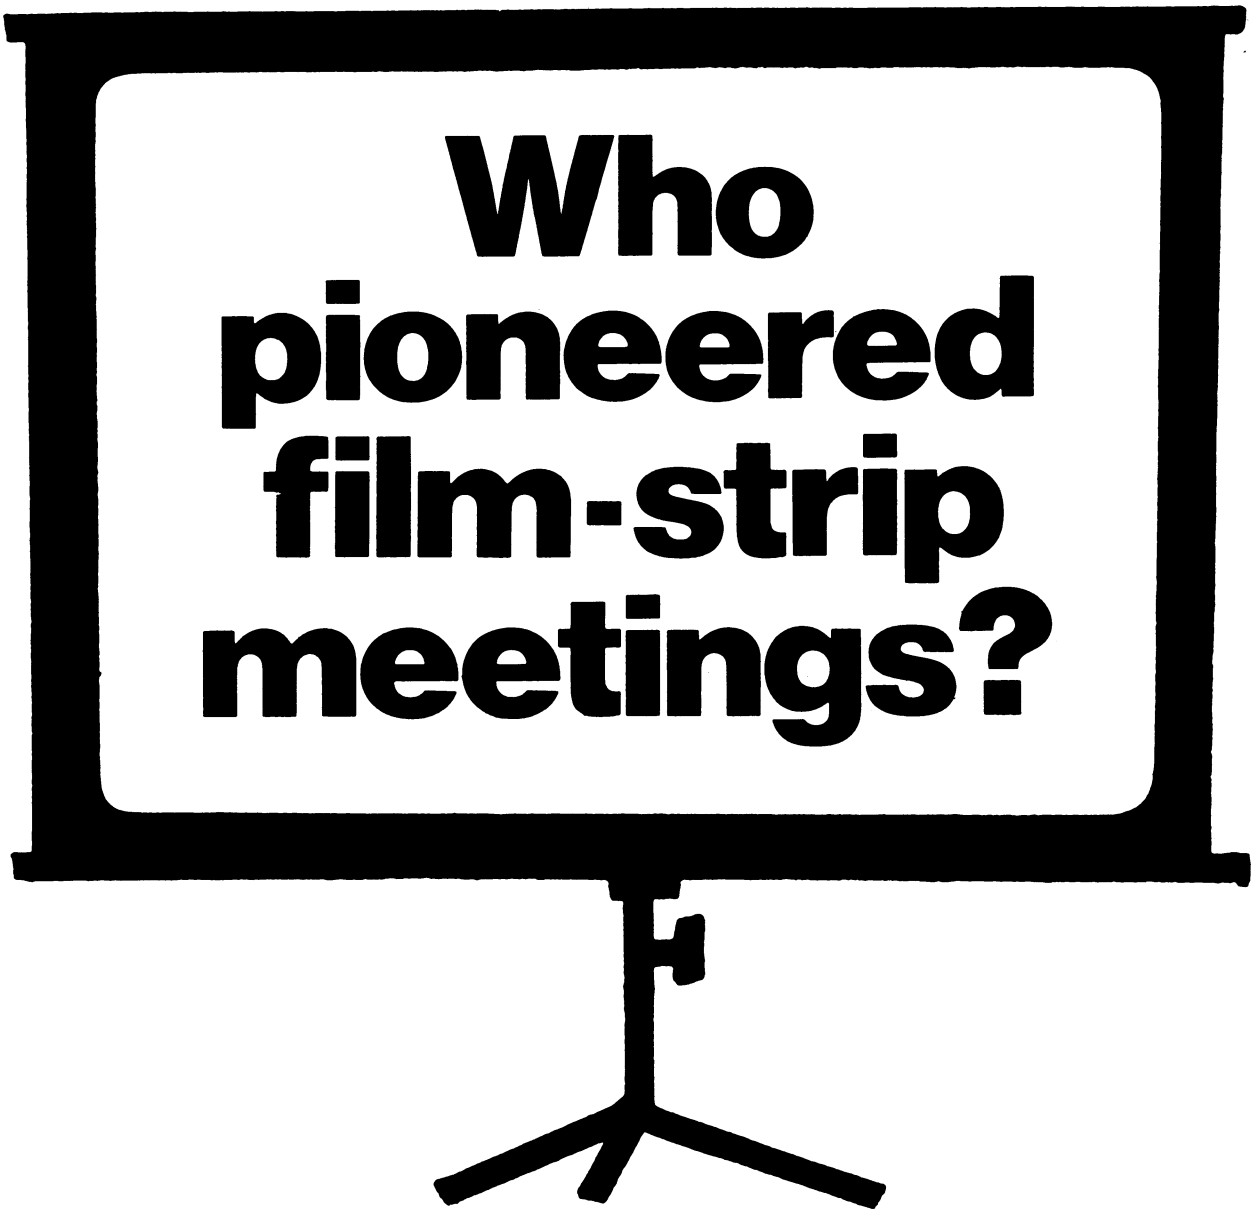
Who pioneered film-strip meetings?



Back in the days when doctors received many more mailings than they do now, we decided to stop and re-think the whole question of communication. It was obviously necessary both from the doctors' point of view and from ours. But surely there was a more efficient, more acceptable way of providing them with the product information they required? Thus was born the idea of the filmstrip meeting and just over 10 years ago we, somewhat tremulously, held the first one. Today the filmstrip meeting has become an accepted part of communication between the pharmaceutical industry and the medical profession. Doctors get the information they need. Have the opportunity to question representatives at length. Can discuss common problems with their colleagues. And it all happens in the pleasant and relaxed atmosphere that is conducive to good two-way communication. We're proud of having pioneered this mutually beneficial development in communication. But we're aware that there's still plenty of room for improvement. We're working on that too.

Prosthetic and Orthotic Practice

Edited by GEORGE MURDOCH

Surgeon in Charge, Dundee Limb Fitting Centre

This book is based upon lectures presented at the Conference on Priorities in Prosthetic and Orthotic Practice held in Dundee and on two seminars held during the Conference. The material has been amplified in various ways: it includes an edited discussion on each of the main sections of the Conference and reports on five identified subjects. In compiling the volume it was felt that the greatest need was for a description of the replacement or the supportive apparatus, linked with the clinical need. The emphasis is, therefore, on prostheses and orthoses.

To promote interest and advance knowledge in the field, a glossary of terms, recommended reading matter and selected literature have been provided.

The volume suggests many ideas which will stimulate all those interested in this important subject.

"The idea behind hay fever desensitisation is OK, but does it work?"

D-VAC Pollens means effective desensitisation from hay fever in 80% of patients. And yet the complete course consists of only three injections. D-VAC Pollens contains the 12 grass pollens that cause the vast majority of classical hay fever and grass pollen asthma. Patients are quick to appreciate the benefit of a short course of D-VAC Pollens.

D-VAC Pollens

means 80% success in classical hay fever and grass pollen asthma.

D-VAC* Pollens should preferably be ordered before 31st December so that the course can be started between 8th February and 6th March 1971. Each dose of vaccine will be automatically delivered at four-week intervals, a few days before it is needed.

A CONFERENCE ON THE ADVANCE IN ORTHOTICS

will be held at the University of Dundee from June 21 to 25, 1971
Sponsored by the Eastern Regional Hospital Board and in association with the Scottish Home and Health Department and the University of Dundee.

The Conference will outline and review the various locomotor and functional disabilities which may require prescription of orthotic devices. Emphasis will be placed on the assessment and description of functional incapacity, prescription techniques, a realistic appreciation of the functional advantages and disadvantages of the presently accepted apparatus, description and demonstration of new and advanced designs and the formulation of guidelines for research, development and design for the future. At the same time the place of orthotic management vis-à-vis surgical treatment, in certain specified conditions and in relation to the growth period will be explored. An international team of experts representing all relevant disciplines has been assembled to ensure comprehensive discussion.

The Conference proceedings will be dealt with under the following headings:—

Biomechanical Matching	Cerebral Palsy
Rationale of Prescription	Spina Bifida
Upper Extremity Orthotics	First Aid
Lower Extremity Orthotics	Rheumatoid Arthritis
Spinal Bracing	Orthotics and the Elderly
Wheelchairs	Paraplegia
Fracture Bracing	Club Foot

Administration, Supply and the Clinic Team

The Conference is properly multidisciplinary and is intended for general and orthopaedic surgeons, physical medicine specialists, prosthetists, orthotists or orthopaedic technicians, therapists and remedial gymnasts, biomedical engineers and others with a stated interest in the field.
It is anticipated that the consolidated registration fee inclusive of board and accommodation will be of the order of £35.
Excellent hostel accommodation is available. Details may be obtained from the Dundee Limb Fitting Centre, 133 Queen Street, Broughty Ferry, Dundee, Scotland.

UNIVERSITY OF EXETER
Postgraduate Medical Institute

A full-time postgraduate course lasting 10 weeks will begin on January 13, 1971. These courses are held 3 times a year starting in October, January and April. Each course includes instruction in general medicine, paediatrics, preventive medicine, pathology, psychiatry, orthopaedics and general surgery. The programme is planned so that students wishing to specialise in a particular clinical subject are given facilities to do so, while other students are taught in each of the main clinical departments. Unpaid clinical attachments can be arranegd at the end of the course for students requiring a longer period of training, but these are normally reserved for students sponsored by some official body.

It is sometimes possible to accept general practitioners for 1 or 2 weeks of a course, and attendance for this period is recognized under Section 63 of the Health Services and Public Health Act 1968. These courses are also recognized under the special scheme for the retraining for general practice of doctors who have been out of the Health Service for at least 5 years.

The fee for this course will be £40 (£83 for students from outside the United Kingdom).

Further particulars and application forms for these courses are obtainable from the Director, The Postgraduate Medical Institute, The University, Exeter, Devonshire. (12746) 2 to commence February 1, 1971.

UNITED NORWICH HOSPITALS

VOCATIONAL TRAINING SCHEME FOR GENERAL PRACTITIONERS

The scheme is of four rotating S.H.O. posts over two years through inpatient departments as follows: Obstetrics, six months; General Medicine and Dermatology, six months; Paediatrics, three months; Geriatrics, three months; Accident and Emergency, three months. There will be, in addition, a period of three months during which the S.H.O. will locum his colleagues' holidays, and will be able to undertake study of a subject of particular interest to him. Throughout the two year period, one half-day per week will be allocated for attendance at specialist clinics, e.g., Rheumatology, Chest Medicine, Ophthalmology, etc.

Married accommodation can be provided during the two years of hospital appointments.

A third year will be spent as a trainee in General Practice in the area.

During the whole three year period, there will be a programme of evening tutorials with meetings covering particularly Psychiatry, but also a variety of topics of interest to general practice. There will also be an intensive course on Practice Organisation and Methods early in the trainee year.

Further information can be obtained on request from the Clinical Tutor, Norfolk and Norwich Institute of Medical Education, Norfolk and Norwich Hospital, Norwich, Norfolk, NOR 53A.

Applications with full particulars must be sent to the Group Secretary, Norwich, Lowestoft and Great Yarmouth Hospital Management Committee, St. Stephen's Road, Norwich, by November 28, 1970. (38467) 9-1

TRAINING POSTS

Applications are invited for training posts as Senior House Officer to take up duties in January, April, July or October. Successful trainees can look forward to promotion to higher training grades and research posts in the Hospital.

The course of instruction provided in the University Department, of which Professor G. M. Carstairs is Chairman, commences each October and extends over three years. It covers general and special aspects of psychiatry comprehensively. Teaching is scheduled on two days each week during University terms. Fees are paid by the Regional Hospital Board.

The in-service clinical training usually covers three years. There is a planned rotation through the general psychiatric units of the hospital and some of the special units selected after discussion with the trainee. The special units include those dealing with General Hospital psychiatry, child and adolescent psychiatry, the treatment of alcoholism and metabolic and psycho-pharmacological research, etc. The training includes a theoretical and practical programme in psychotherapy involving individual and group work. Opportunity is also available for study of research methods, forensic psychiatry and mental deficiency. Medical Research Council Units for the Epidemiological Studies in Psychiatry and for Brain Metabolic Studies are associated with the Department and the Hospital. Many other research activities are in progress including those undertaken in the psycho-physiological and sleep laboratories.

Applications should be made on a form obtainable from Dr. J. W. Affleck, the Physician Superintendent, Royal Edinburgh Hospital, Morningside Park, Edinburgh, 10. Professor H. J. Walton, Department of Psychiatry at the same address, should be contacted regarding academic arrangements.

Travel with the Navy for three years before you go into practice.

Just because you've finished your training, it doesn't mean you have to settle down into practice or a routine hospital job.

Especially when you can spend three years, as a naval doctor, seeing something of the world and getting a lot of useful experience on the way.

You'll get plenty of variety and all the responsibility you can handle. And at sea, as the only doctor on board your ship, you will find yourself having to cope with medical emergencies of every kind.

But you're more than just a doctor. Above all you are a naval officer—with the ever-changing scene and the full, satisfying life that every naval officer enjoys.

How do you become a naval doctor?

If you are in your pre-registration year or are already a qualified practitioner, you simply apply to join for a 3-year or 5-year commission. Then, if selected, you enter the Navy as a Surgeon-Lieutenant at £3,395 p.a. You are then given a short course in the special problems of maritime practice (including nuclear and underwater medicine) after which you take up your first appointment.

At sea, you would be looking after the health of a whole ship's company. Ashore, you may be looking after their families as well. (So we can even give you experience in obstetrics and paediatrics.)

And, at the end of your commission, you'll not only have a lot of useful experience and happy memories, but you'll also have a pretty useful tax-free gratuity. £1,500 after three years and £3,000 after five years.

Even if you're still at medical school, it's not too early to join us. Every year, we award about twenty-five Medical Cadetships to selected 2nd M.B. students. Each award pays for tuition fees and gives a salary of £1,697 a year in the rank of Surgeon Sub-Lieutenant. When you're registered, you're promoted to Surgeon Lieutenant and you begin your five-year commission.

Write now to Surgeon-Commander F. M. Kinsman, R.N., (724AY1), Dept. of the Medical Director-General (Navy), Empress State Building, London, S.W.6, and tell him your age and qualifications. In return he'll tell you more about the advantages of spending the first years of your career with the Royal Navy.

CONSULTING ROOMS AVAILABLE

HARLEY STREET

Through re-development it is expected that a number of consulting suites will shortly be available for rental on a sessional basis. The architects have ensured that these suites will have every modern amenity. It is likely that tenancies would commence early in 1971 and initial applications are now invited.

It is emphasised that the lessors are anxious to create a multi-discipline complex, including general practice and dental surgery and they will be viewing applications to this end.

ST. ANDREW'S HOSPITAL
NORTHAMPTON

Medical Director: James Harper M.B., F.R.C.P. (Edin.), D.P.M.
St. Andrew's Hospital is a private psychiatric hospital situated in 130 acres of parkland in the county town of Northampton. In general, patients are admitted to Wantage House, a reception unit on the grounds, which is equipped for the investigation and treatment of all forms of mental and nervous illness. In addition, there is accommodation mainly in private rooms, both in the main hospital and in various villas, for longer-stay patients and geriatric patients.
The hospital's amenities include Gloucester House, which comprises an Occupational Therapy department, a swimming pool, a squash court and library, while in the grounds there are tennis courts, a nine-hole golf course, etc.
Fees range from £31 10s. per week, and subscribers to private medical insurance schemes, such as British United Provident Association and Private Patients Plan, may claim benefit in respect of these charges.
Further particulars may be obtained from the Medical Director, St. Andrew's Hospital, Northampton (Tel. Northampton 34354), who can be seen in consultation by appointment, either at the hospital or at 55 Harley Street, London, W.1. 67-13

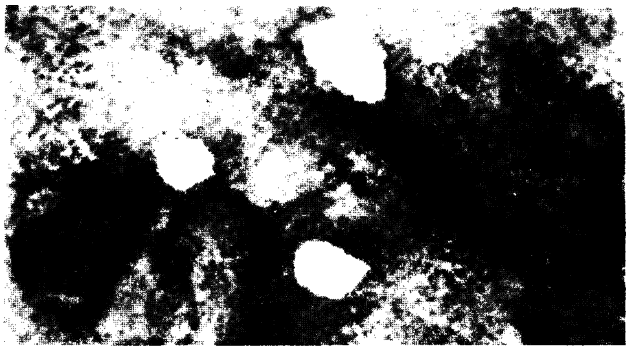
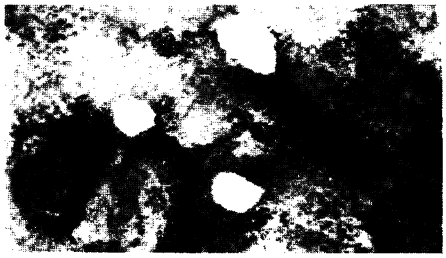
Gastric ulcers—endoscopic photograph



Gefarnil brings the ulcer problem down to size.



Traditional treatment in suspected or confirmed peptic ulcer cases is mostly symptomatic – geared simply to relief of pain.

Now there is Gefarnil – the unique healing agent. Its anti-ulcer properties have already been well established in animal experiments and clinical trials[1,2,3].

Its systemic action means that Gefarnil can reach ulcer sites in both stomach and duodenum, and while many other agents act by surface contact, merely providing an environment for healing, Gefarnil takes effect through its blood-tissue level, independent of conditions in the gut lumen.

The expected sequence of events with Gefarnil is as follows:
15 days—remission of symptoms (usual antacid/antispasmodic treatment advisable during this period)
30 days—ulcers no longer detectable radiographically (but may still be evident endoscopically)
60 days—ulcers no longer detectable endoscopically.

Only minor transient side effects occur with Gefarnil, which can thus be used with confidence not only in confirmed but also in suspected ulcer patients.

Gefarnil* is presented as capsules, each containing 50 mg. Gefarnate, and as injection solution, 50 mg. per ml.

New from Beecham

Floxap

simplifies antibiotic treatment

en

Floxapen, the new antibiotic from Beecham, simplifies treatment in several ways that are important in clinical practice.

It is effective against pneumococci, streptococci and staphylococci, irrespective of their sensitivity to other antibiotics. It is also particularly effective against resistant staphylococci, an increasing problem in general practice. [1, 2.]

Floxapen has the penicillin advantages of low toxicity, bactericidal action, high blood levels and good tissue penetration.

Floxapen is simple to prescribe; 250 mg. four times a day.

It is equally effective orally or by injection. Oral administration achieves blood levels equivalent to intramuscular injection.

The simple dosage of Floxapen, combined with its antibacterial activity and other advantages, makes it an ideal antibiotic, especially when treating debilitated patients or patients with a history of treatment failure.

Indications: Infections due to Gram-positive organisms: cellulitis, abscesses, boils and carbuncles, furunculosis, infected wounds and burns, infected ulcers and other skin infections, pharyngitis, tonsillitis, otitis media, sinusitis, pneumonia (especially post-influenzal), empyema, osteomyelitis.

Contra-indications: Penicillin allergy. Not suitable for subconjunctival injection.

Side-effects: Rare and mild, as with other penicillins.

Dosage: Oral and intramuscular:
Adults 250 mg. q.i.d.

'The Neurotic Skin'

Valium* Roche was used in the treatment of 500 patients, in whom emotional distress and anxiety had played a part in the development and exacerbation of their dermatological disorders[1]. The major dermatological disorders were lichen simplex chronicus, atopic dermatitis, eczema and psoriasis. Valium Roche was administered in conjunction with a standard topical treatment. Ninety per cent of the patients had good results. It was noted that as the patients became less tense and agitated there was a marked decrease in itching and scratching.
