arthritic

“To get through the day is a hard enough fight for the patient with crippling osteoarthritis or severe rheumatoid arthritis, but when nights have been sleepless and pain-wracked, the next day is started with physical and psychological stores depleted and the patient already exhausted at the starting-post.”

Lancet, 1970,i,881 (25 Apr)

For many patients afflicted by arthritis, ‘Indocid’ Suppositories can bring about a noticeable improvement during the night. Many will enjoy a better night’s sleep, less interrupted by pain and stiffness, and find it easier to get started in the morning. The addition of ‘Indocid’ Capsules will help to keep them mobile during the afternoon and evening.

ADULTS ANTISPASMODIC MIXTURE

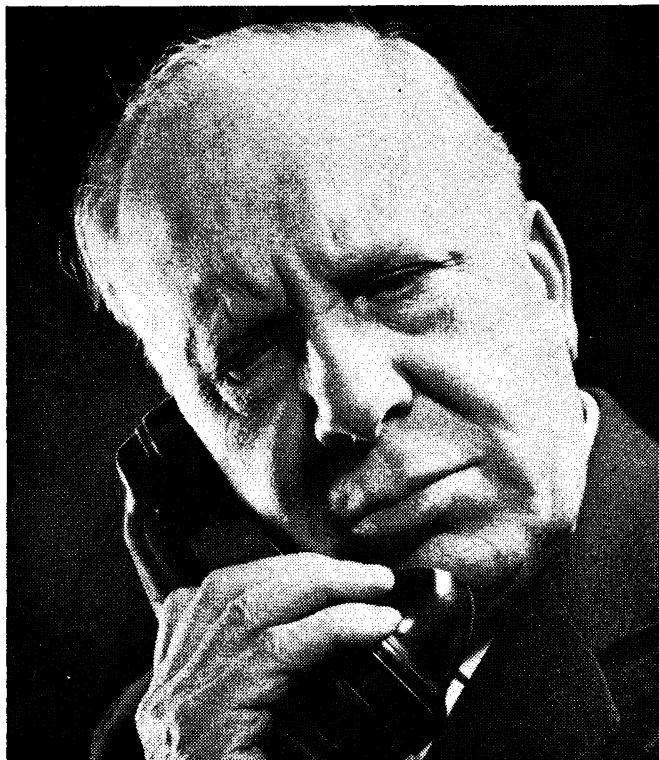

FULL ANTISPASMODIC EFFECT FROM FRACTIONAL
DOSE OF EPHEDRINE — PLEASANTLY FLAVOURED

FOR asthma and bronchitis

TESTS show that 2-Diethylaminoethyl- α -phenylbutyrate Citrate has a more pronounced bronchodilatory effect than ephedrine. Three parts of 2-Diethylaminoethyl- α -phenylbutyrate Citrate producing the same effect as 5 parts of ephedrine. It acts more rapidly than ephedrine, reaches maximum effect somewhat later and falls away at a slightly slower rate. With a mixture of the substances the curve of bronchial dilation showed that the effect produced was considerably greater than when double the quantity of each substance was administered separately.

4 mg. OF THE MIXED SUBSTANCES
(CONTAINING 2 mg. OF EPHEDRINE)
HAS THE BRONCHODILATORY EFFECT
OF 8 mg. EPHEDRINE

Whilst a full bronchodilatory effect is produced with this mixture, side-effects, such as nausea, restlessness, sweating, etc., due to overdosage or idiosyncrasy to ephedrine are avoided.

COMPOSITION

Ephedrine Hydrochloride..... 15 mg.
2-Diethylaminoethyl- α -phenylbutyrate 15 mg.

ANTIBIOTICS AND THE INTESTINAL FLORA

Treatment with broad spectrum antibiotics suppresses the normal flora, which may be replaced by abnormal resistant organisms causing diarrhoea.

This change can be prevented or reversed by the implantation of Lactobacillus acidophilus which has been rendered antibiotic-resistant, and is thus able to multiply freely under these abnormal conditions. The products of growth of the organism are inimical to that of many other bacteria^{1 2} and thus contribute to its rapid preponderance over other species.

Oral treatment with antibiotic-resistant L. acidophilus in the form of ENPAC has been shown to eliminate Candida from the faeces of infants with antibiotic-induced diarrhoea, with relief of symptoms succeeded by rapid gain in weight^{3 4} and greatly to reduce the numbers of staphylococci in the faeces of patients treated with tetracyclines.⁵

cause for confidence in Ventolin Therapy.

DOCTORS RECOGNISE THE EFFECTIVENESS OF VENTOLIN THERAPY.

Over 30 published references in 18 months confirm the effectiveness of Ventolin (salbutamol), and the weight of favourable comment continues to grow.

"... it seems clear, therefore, that because of its effectiveness in producing bronchodilatation, its long duration of action, its lack of cardiovascular stimulant action, and its lack of tendency to produce falls in PaO_2 , salbutamol is the most effective drug at present available by aerosol inhalation for the relief of asthmatic airway obstruction."

Brit. med. J. (1970), 2, 23.

PATIENTS PREFER VENTOLIN THERAPY.

Following a double-blind, cross-over sequential trial in general practice, comparing salbutamol (100mcg per puff) with isoprenaline sulphate (100mcg per puff), the author concluded: "My trial has shown unequivocally that patients prefer salbutamol to isoprenaline."

Practitioner, (1970) 205, 213.

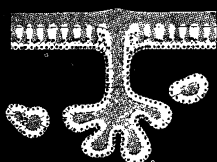

"... In the double-blind subjective assessment it (Ventolin) was rated as the best of four treatments (placebo, isoprenaline 100mcg, orciprenaline 1,500mcg and Ventolin 200mcg) by 13 patients, while only three preferred orciprenaline."

Brit. med. J., (1969) 2, 287.

Bisolvon[®]

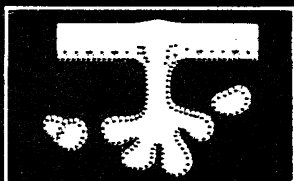

SPUTUM VISCOSITY LOWERED^{1,4,5}

"This double-blind controlled clinical trial shows clearly that in a dose of 16 mg. thrice daily bromhexine [Bisolvon] in bronchitic patients increases sputum volume and reduces its viscosity and yield values."¹

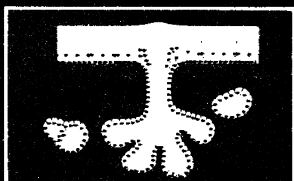

EXPECTORATION EASED^{1,3,5}

"As a result of this trial and our subsequent clinical experience with this drug in a wide variety of patients with respiratory disease, where retention of bronchial secretion was a problem, we think it is a valuable therapeutic advance in the difficult problem of aiding expectoration in the respiratory patient."¹

PULMONARY FUNCTION IMPROVED²

"This showed that a significantly larger proportion of patients experienced improvement in vital capacity during treatment with bromhexine [Bisolvon]."²

ALL-ROUND IMPROVEMENT^{2,3,4,5}

"The results from this double-blind crossover study of bromhexine [Bisolvon] show that in comparison with a placebo the drug exerts a beneficial effect on pulmonary function, or clinical state, or both, in a substantial majority of patients."²

Psychological Medicine is a journal for the publication of original research in clinical psychiatry and the basic sciences related to it. These will comprise not only the several fields of biological inquiry traditionally associated with medicine, but also the various psychological and social sciences whose relevance to medicine has become increasingly apparent. Editorials and commissioned review articles will also be published from time to time.

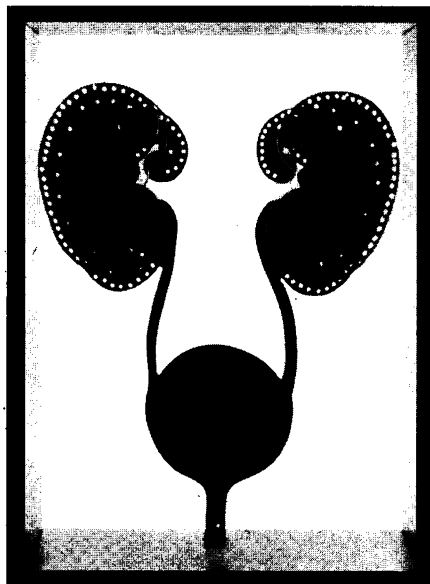

The first issue was published in November 1970. Subsequent issues will appear quarterly in February, May and August. Each issue will contain approximately 80 pages. The title page, contents list and volume index for the first five issues will be contained in the November (1971) issue.

Higher cure rates

These comparative results were obtained in treating hospital in-patients with UTI¹, most of whom were infected with entrenched hospital pathogens.

70% cure rate	ampicillin
40% cure rate	sulphadimidine

(Cure criterion=eradication of original organism 1 week after treatment ended.)

SEPTRIN was "clearly superior to either of the other treatments" and this superior effect was "even more appreciable in the re-treatment of patients who had failed on another drug."²

Clear reasons for using Septrin

Abstracted from a Leading Article in the *British Medical Journal*².

- ☐ Trimethoprim not only attains therapeutic tissue levels, but is excreted unchanged in high concentration in the urine.
- ☐ All Gram-negative bacilli occurring in the urine, except Pseudomonas aeruginosa, are usually highly sensitive to it.
- ☐ Its minimum inhibitory concentration is extremely low.
- ☐ Trimethoprim and a sulphonamide, by blocking successive stages in the same bacterial metabolic process, exert a strong synergic effect, and this action is bactericidal.

barbiturates

*Mogadon

To date, no authenticated death (up to 80 tablets produced no harmful effects)¹

“Now that satisfactory and safe alternative hypnotics such as nitrazepam are available it would seem high time that prescribing of barbiturates, at any rate to outpatients, be restricted or better still abandoned”²

In one year 1,857 people died of barbiturate poisoning, including 1,260 suicides.³ ☐ Is there really any excuse for such a high figure any more? ☐ With Mogadon, the safe hypnotic, comes the possibility of safe sleep. ☐ To date it has resulted in no authenticated deaths or suicides. Indeed as many as 80 tablets have produced no harmful effects¹ and clinical and animal experiments lead us to believe that the amount necessary to produce death could probably not be consumed in tablet form. ☐ When such a drug exists (and a recent trial in the British Medical Journal showed it to be comparable in effectiveness to butobarbitone)¹ is one any longer justified in using anything else?

"It's the same

Michael's had asthma since he was three. Every winter it's the same old story – he gets a cold which quickly sets up the familiar pattern of bronchitis and severe asthma causing anxiety for Michael, his mother and his doctor.

Now Ceporex (cephalexin) is the effective answer. Ceporex kills most of the bacteria, including penicillin-resistant staphylococci, which commonly cause acute respiratory infections. The absorption of Ceporex is rapid and virtually complete, giving high serum levels within an hour of administration. Ceporex has very low toxicity, is well tolerated and can be considered the logical alternative for patients hypersensitive to the penicillins.

At the International Conference on Cephalosporins, 1970 twenty papers were presented on cephalexin. These reported on the treatment of 2,000 patients with a wide variety of conditions.

During a trial conducted in adults and children by General Practitioners, * 341 infections were treated, including those of the ear, nose, throat and soft tissue, as well as those of the urinary and respiratory tracts. An over-all success rate of 91% was achieved with Ceporex at a dosage of 20 mg/kg per day or over. Confirmation that Ceporex really works. Make it your first choice in bronchitis.

"And I've found Ceporex just as successful in cystitis and otitis media"

Ceporex is fast becoming acknowledged as a highly effective treatment for urinary and ENT infections as well as those of the respiratory tract. And recent trials* on an international scale have proved this growing and increasingly widespread confidence to be completely justified.

Floxap

simplifies antibiotic treatment

en

Floxapen, the new antibiotic from Beecham, simplifies treatment in several ways that are important in clinical practice.

It is effective against pneumococci, streptococci and staphylococci, irrespective of their sensitivity to other antibiotics. It is also particularly effective against resistant staphylococci, an increasing problem in general practice.^{1, 2}

Floxapen has the penicillin advantages of low toxicity, bactericidal action, high blood levels and good tissue penetration.

Floxapen is simple to prescribe; 250 mg. four times a day.

It is equally effective orally or by injection. Oral administration achieves blood levels equivalent to intramuscular injection.

The simple dosage of Floxapen, combined with its antibacterial activity and other advantages, makes it an ideal antibiotic, especially when treating debilitated patients or patients with a history of treatment failure.

Indications: Infections due to Gram-positive organisms: cellulitis, abscesses, boils and carbuncles, furunculosis, infected wounds and burns, infected ulcers and other skin infections, pharyngitis, tonsillitis, otitis media, sinusitis, pneumonia (especially post-influenza), empyema, osteomyelitis.

Contra-indications: Penicillin allergy. Not suitable for subconjunctival injection.

Side-effects: Rare and mild, as with other penicillins.

Dosage: Oral and intramuscular:

Adults 250 mg. q.i.d.

Children 2-10 years— $\frac{1}{2}$ adult dose.

Under 2 years— $\frac{1}{4}$ adult dose.

Oral doses should be taken one hour before meals.

In severe infections, dosages may be safely increased.

Availability: Capsules (black/caramel) and Vials each containing 250 mg. flucloxacillin.

Magnified section of skin on ichthyotic forearm.

Love at first sight...

The hyperkeratotic skin presents the physician with a dermatological problem with very high and pressing psychological and social overtones. Not the least of the merits of Calmurid is the speed with which it controls dry, rough, scaly skin.

The difficulty of combining sufficiently high concentrations of urea in a suitable base and still maintaining its stability under normal conditions has been overcome by exclusive manufacturing and formulation techniques perfected by Pharmacia. Now for the first time, urea in a stable emulsified form is available for the effective treatment of dominant and sex-linked ichthyosis, and other hyperkeratotic conditions.

Besides having exceptionally good keratolytic properties, Calmurid is designed to retain moisture in the skin by increasing the concentration of the water binding substances, urea and betaine. The direct result is that the skin becomes softer and assumes a natural appearance.¹ The acidity of Calmurid, together with the bactericidal and fungicidal properties of urea protect against infection. Calmurid is non-toxic, non-allergenic and causes no sensitivity problems.

...but not at second

Composition

Carbamide (urea) B.P. 10%.
Stabilising emulsified basis to 100g.

Indications

Dry and hyperkeratotic skin conditions, especially ichthyosis vulgaris and sex-linked ichthyosis; as adjunct therapy in atopic eczema.

Contraindications

None. The cream contains substances natural to the body. No adverse reaction has ever been reported.

Unwanted effects

Possibly a mild burning sensation immediately after the first application, if the skin surface is raw. Local anaesthetic properties of carbamide makes this of short duration. It is not likely to occur with subsequent applications.

Application

Apply a thick layer twice daily to the affected areas. Leave for 3 to 5 minutes to allow penetration before smoothing. The application must be after washing or bathing. Calmurid is non-greasy and disappears quickly on application. Once the skin responds to treatment the frequency of application may be reduced.

UNIVERSITY OF EXETER Postgraduate Medical Institute

A full-time postgraduate course lasting 10 weeks will begin on January 13, 1971. These courses are held 3 times a year starting in October, January and April. Each course includes instruction in general medicine, paediatrics, preventive medicine, pathology, psychiatry, orthopaedics and general surgery. The programme is planned so that students wishing to specialise in a particular clinical subject are given facilities to do so, while other students are taught in each of the main clinical departments. Unpaid clinical attachments can be arranged at the end of the course for students requiring a longer period of training, but these are normally reserved for students sponsored by some official body.

It is sometimes possible to accept general practitioners for 1 or 2 weeks of a course, and attendance for this period is recognized under Section 63 of the Health Services and Public Health Act 1968. These courses are also recognized under the special scheme for the retraining for general practice of doctors who have been out of the Health Service for at least 5 years.

The fee for this course will be £40 (£83 for students from outside the United Kingdom). Further particulars and application forms for these courses are obtainable from the Director, The Postgraduate Medical Institute, The University, Exeter, Devonshire. (12746)

Wellcome

CLINICAL RESEARCH

Applications are invited from registered medical practitioners for this research appointment within the Clinical Research Division of the Wellcome Foundation Limited.

Preference will be given to applicants who are under 35 years of age, possess a higher qualification and are already actively engaged in research projects which they may not wish to abandon at the end of their current appointment. Although these researches may or may not be of a clinical nature, it is desirable that they should have an immunological or antitumour bearing.

A proportion of the successful applicant's time may be allocated for the continuation of his personal research studies, but for the most part he will be engaged in advising research teams at the Wellcome Research Laboratories, initiating and supervising clinical trials of therapeutic substances and in preparing scientific reports on these substances. His office will be in the pleasant parkland surrounding the Wellcome Research Laboratories at Beckenham, only 15 miles from London and in a good residential area.

For further information and application form, please write quoting reference AM.38, to the Senior Personnel Officer, Group Personnel Division,

The Wellcome Foundation Limited,
183 Euston Road, London N.W.1.

The right-first-time antibiotic for Bronchitis

Penbritin is right because of its clinical record. In more than 1000 cases of bronchitis reported over eight years Penbritin has proved successful in 95% of acute and 79% of chronic infections.

Penbritin is right because it is effective against the bacteria commonly involved in bronchitis, Strep. pneumoniae and H. influenzae, some strains of which are resistant to tetracyclines.

Penbritin is right because of its safety record. Nearly 2,000 references demonstrate its suitability for a wide range of patient-types.

Penbritin is available in capsule, syrup, tablet and injectable forms. You can prescribe the right antibiotic in the right presentation for each patient.

Usual Adult Dosage: 250 mg. q.i.d. $\frac{1}{2}$ -1 hr. a.c.

Contra-indication: Penicillin allergy.

Side-effects: As with other penicillins.

Further information is available on request.

What happens if CMC is added to ACTH?

CROOKES ACTH/CMC

ACTH/CMC is ACTH with a difference. The difference is convenience. ACTH/CMC is a clear, mobile liquid, even under storage conditions. It is highly purified, has a prolonged storage life and is virtually painless on injection.

Which all adds up to easier therapy in bronchial asthma, Bell's palsy and rheumatoid arthritis. Even with long courses there are no dangers of withdrawal symptoms. ACTH/CMC stimulates natural corticosteroid production. And so it removes the risk of adrenal atrophy so common with synthetic corticosteroid treatment.

ACTH/CMC is the modern form of ACTH

Corticotrophin complexed with carboxymethylcellulose

Erythroped – part of growing up

Every child has a bacterial infection at some time in his life. Upper respiratory infections, otitis media, acute bronchitis . . . come; and quickly go with Erythroped. Erythroped works. Decisively. Safely. Economically. Children take it; it tastes so good. With Erythroped as treatment, children's common bacterial infections assume their proper importance: just a passing part of the very busy business of growing up.

Erythroped (erythromycin ethyl succinate \equiv 200 mg/5 ml erythromycin activity). For infants and babies under 2 years old: Erythroped p.i. (pro. inf.) (erythromycin ethyl succinate \equiv 100 mg/5 ml erythromycin activity). In either case the 100 ml pack provides a full five-day course of treatment.

prescribe Erythroped®-kids love it.
