Dixarit®

(clonidine hydrochloride)

The non-ergotamine
anti-migraine tablet

Dixarit...

... is the only specific migraine prophylactic not derived from ergot alkaloids

... diminishes the response of peripheral blood vessels to constrictor and dilator stimuli

... has a simple dosage regimen

Dixarit is the only specific preparation for migraine prophylaxis which is not derived from the ergot alkaloids. Therefore patients do not experience ergot-like side effects. In particular it does not compromise the peripheral blood supply. On the contrary, Dixarit, a pharmacologically simple preparation, is ideal for the prophylactic management of the migrainous patient, exerting its effect by diminishing the responsiveness of the peripheral blood vessels to constrictor and dilator stimuli.<sup>1</sup>

Convenient morning and evening dosage means the patient is unlikely to forget his dose which is often the difference between therapeutic success or failure.

There is conclusive evidence from controlled clinical trials that Dixarit is effective in lessening the severity and frequency of migraine attacks.<sup>2,3,4</sup>

Chemistry

Dixarit is 2-(2, 6-dichlorophenylamino)-2-imidazoline hydrochloride. (Approved name clonidine HCl).

Pharmacological Action

Dixarit diminishes the responsiveness of peripheral vessels to constrictor or dilator stimuli.

Indications

Dixarit is indicated for the prophylactic management of migraine or recurrent vascular headaches in adult patients.

Contra-indications

There are no absolute contra-indications to the use of Dixarit.

Precautions

Dixarit is unsuitable for patients suffering from migraine who have co-existing or previous history of depressive illness, since further depressive episodes have been attributed to it.

As with any drug, during the first trimester of pregnancy normal precautions must be observed. Animal tests have shown no foetal abnormality.

Using higher doses than those recommended for migraine, clonidine is an effective anti-hypertensive agent. It is available for this indication as Catapres tablets and ampoules.

Caution must be used in patients where anti-hypertensive agents are being used. Provided the dosage regimen below is followed, no difficulty should arise during the routine management of such patients. Where Catapres is already being used Dixarit therapy is obviously illogical.

Accidental overdosage could give rise to hypotension and bradycardia; these effects may be counteracted by  $\alpha$ -adrenergic blocking drugs such as phentolamine.

Side effects

In general these occur only during the initial period of treatment. Sedation and dry mouth occur in some patients. Dizziness, nausea and nocturnal unrest have been reported. Occasional rashes have been attributed to Dixarit.

A single case of toxic hepatitis has been reported during the use of clonidine for the treatment of hypertension at doses considerably higher than those recommended for migraine. However at these higher dosages monitoring of haematological, renal and hepatic status in large numbers of patients has revealed no drug-related adverse effects.

Dosage

Adults only: a simple twice daily dosage, morning and evening.

1 tablet twice daily. If after 2 weeks there has been no remission, increase to 2 tablets twice daily. In turn this may be increased to a maximum of 3 tablets twice daily.

Duration of treatment depends upon frequency and severity of attacks.

Presentation and Identification

Tablets, each containing 0.025 mg Dixarit in containers of 100. Blue, biconvex, sugar-coated tablets with Company symbol on one side.

Note: Compressed tablets each containing 0.1 mg clonidine hydrochloride are available as Catapres for the treatment of hypertension.

Now a fundamental treatment for peptic ulcer symptoms

Maxolon's action in restoring normal gastro-duodenal motility<sup>2</sup> is of great benefit to all who suffer peptic ulcer symptoms, including those patients with no demonstrable pathology, and post-operative cases.

Maxolon provides a rational method of treatment not afforded by either antacids or anticholinergics. These relieve symptoms by lowering acid levels in the stomach. Maxolon promotes gastric emptying<sup>1</sup>, and thus removes both the stimulus to secrete and the excess acid present in the stomach. In this way it also relieves the symptoms of "over-fullness".

Maxolon's effect of synchronising antral and duodenal contractions<sup>2</sup> is even more significant in treating peptic ulcer symptoms. By eliminating regurgitation through the pyloric and oesophageal sphincters<sup>3</sup>, it prevents the repeated reflux of acid or bile which aggravates the condition. This action also relieves the symptoms of regurgitation and epigastric pain<sup>4</sup>.

Maxolon introduces a new concept into the treatment of peptic ulcer. But it can be prescribed with more confidence than if it were something entirely new. Maxolon, in establishing a seven-year record of clinical success as an anti-emetic, has demonstrated a reassuring freedom from toxicity, even when used for long periods.

Improved tax incentives for business investment.

In the House of Commons on 27 October 1970, the Chancellor of the Exchequer proposed the introduction of a revised system of investment incentives for industry. In his statement on 19 July 1971 Mr Barber announced that some of these incentives were being further improved.

Expenditure on most plant and machinery bought after 26 October 1970 and used for the purposes of a trade now qualifies for allowance against profits at the following rates:

THE FIRST-YEAR ALLOWANCE

- |  |      |
|--|------|
| 1. Generally   | 60%  |
| 2. On expenditure incurred between 20 July 1971 and 31 July 1973 inclusive   | 80%* |
| 3. On expenditure on new immobile plant and machinery in use for industrial purposes in a development area or Northern Ireland | 100% |

For expenditure incurred after 19 July 1971 this allowance applies* to plant and machinery used in those areas for non-industrial purposes.

(Companies may now set the 100% allowance against the profits of the preceding three years if it cannot be absorbed by their current year's profits.)

*Subject to legislation

THE ANNUAL WRITING-DOWN ALLOWANCE

On all plant and machinery which does not qualify for 100% first-year allowance ("free depreciation"), calculated on each year's reducing balance 25%

The benefits of early investment are clear. The high rate of 80% first-year allowance is now in operation – but only until 31 July 1973. It follows that where capital projects can be brought forward, so that expenditure on them is incurred before 1 August 1973, they will qualify for the extra 20% first-year allowance.

Businessmen who wish for information about the working of the new allowances should consult their accountants or the local Inspector of Taxes.

Act now. Early investment can mean better allowances.

For children such as Johnny who, every year, seem to be more often in the surgery than out of it, Keflex has a lot to offer.

Rapidly absorbed and reaching high serum levels, Keflex has a broad spectrum of antibacterial activity that even includes penicillinase-producing pathogens, and so increases the chances of first-time success in treating infective episodes.

All these properties, plus an extremely low incidence of rash and gastro-intestinal disturbance, make the pleasant-tasting Keflex suspensions a treatment which ensures that most patients like Johnny can overcome infection quickly and with the minimum of complications.

"My whole face hurts"

Frank Adams has sinusitis. He gets it nearly every time he gets a cold. Over the years his doctor's prescribed a number of antibiotics without any great success. This time he's trying Ceporex.

In sinusitis "the choice of an antibiotic can be based on culture and sensitivity results obtained from nasal swabs or antral washings. When in doubt a broad-spectrum antibiotic should be administered, since mixed infections are often encountered". * Ceporex kills both gram-positive and gram-negative bacteria, that's why it's so suitable. It's also very effective against penicillin-resistant staphylococci and can be the logical alternative if penicillin hypersensitivity is suspected. Ceporex gives high serum levels within an hour of administration and penetrates fast to the tissues.

With Ceporex you have a broad-spectrum oral antibiotic that acts fast and is well tolerated. In sinusitis, it usually eradicates the bacterial infection, with the subsequent relief of both the congestion and pain. So make Ceporex your first choice.

At the International Conference on Cephalosporins, 1970, Ceporex was found to be of great value in infections of the respiratory and urinary tracts. * Its broad-spectrum and bactericidal activity against both gram-positive and gram-negative pathogens, coupled with its rapid absorption and excellent serum and tissue levels, make it a valuable new treatment for stubborn cases of bacterial infection.

MIGRIL* acts in the minutes between initial warning and the otherwise inevitable full-blown attack. As well as containing an effective dose of ergotamine (2mg in each tablet), enhanced by caffeine, MIGRIL contains the anti-emetic, cyclizine. # new Hiprex can end the frustration of treatment failure in persistent urinary infection

She was in the surgery
last winter . . . and in June . . .
and again a few weeks ago

Yet another flare-up of urinary tract infection. Frequency, scalding and stress incontinence. Examination shows a small cystocele.

The treatment: Hiprex. For maintained anti-bacterial action to eradicate resistant organisms. For prolonged, effective treatment in the knowledge that no serious adverse reactions have been reported following extensive use. For continued treatment at simple dosage and low cost – as little as 4p a day.

"It's the difficulty and pain", he says.

Prostatic hypertrophy, with occasional episodes of urinary retention requiring catheterisation. Symptoms: urinary urgency, hesitancy and burning. O/E bladder palpable well above the pubis, and tender.

The treatment: Hiprex. To clear up resistant infection. To prevent the recurrence which is virtually certain because of urinary stasis. To make life simpler and happier for him.

"Those other tablets upset me, doctor."

Symptoms: urinary frequency and scalding. Known pyelonephritis with associated hypertension. Allergic to sulphonamide and reports side-effects from nitrofurantoin. The treatment: Hiprex. For at least as good a prospect of eliminating the current bout of infection. For the likelihood of better patient acceptance and co-operation over the prolonged course of treatment envisaged. For assurance that no serious adverse reactions have been reported in long-term treatment.

Composition Each tablet contains hexamine hippurate 1 g. Indications The treatment of urinary tract infections, such as pyelitis, cystitis and urethritis, but excluding acute pyelonephritis. The treatment of chronic pyelonephritis, and as maintenance therapy after successful antibiotic treatment of acute pyelonephritis. The treatment of asymptomatic bacteriuria, including that occurring during pregnancy. Prophylaxis before and after urological surgery. Dosage Adults: 1 tablet twice daily. Children: 6-12 years:  $\frac{1}{2}$  tablet twice daily. In refractory cases, the dosage may be increased to: 1 tablet three or four times daily in adults.  $\frac{1}{2}$  tablet three or four times daily in children aged 6-12 years. Doses in excess of those recommended may cause severe bladder irritation, haematuria, albuminuria or painful micturition. Alkalinuria Some patients may have an alkaline urine as a result of a predominantly vegetarian diet or occasionally due to Proteus or Pseudomonas infection. In these cases, additional acidification may be necessary to lower the urinary pH to the level required to degrade the hexamine moiety. Administration of ascorbic acid 1 g. four times daily is recommended in these cases. Side-effects Occasionally, rashes, gastric irritation, or irritation of the bladder may occur. With prolonged administration at high dosage, the latter may lead to haematuria. All side-effects are reversible on withdrawal of the drug. Treatment of side-effects Patients experiencing painful micturition or bladder irritation should be instructed to discontinue the medication. Prompt relief of these symptoms can be obtained by the consumption of copious quantities of water and 2-3 teaspoonfuls of bicarbonate of soda. Contraindications Renal insufficiency, hepatic insufficiency or severe dehydration. Hiprex is also contra-indicated as the principal therapeutic agent in acute parenchymal infections of the kidney. Basic N.H.S. prices 100 tablets £2.00 plus Purchase Tax. Hiprex: registered trade mark

Let the blood flow through

In the treatment of ischaemia due to intermittent claudication, cerebral arteriosclerosis and vasospastic disorders, Bradilan® has achieved excellent results. Because Bradilan employs tetranicotinoylfructose, the molecule of which is gradually hydrolysed in the intestine, release is smooth and even - with no peaks or troughs. Consequently, efficient and prolonged vasodilation is maintained, with less risk of over dilation in flush areas. For the same reason, headaches are a rare occurrence. Bradilan acts directly on vessel walls and is especially indicated when ischaemia is due to vasospasm. Ideally, treatment should be continued for at least 12 weeks so that progress can be realistically evaluated.

SERVICES

Flying. As well as being responsible for the medical care of aircrew, RAF doctors are encouraged to fly and thereby gain first-hand knowledge of the operational environments. Their responsibilities can also include aero-medical evacuation, by the RAF's remarkable long-range airborne ambulance service, using Britannias and VC10s of Air Support Command. In 1970 approximately 2000 patients were flown back to the United Kingdom. Equipment on the aircraft is most elaborate, and can include Radcliffe ventilators, dialysis machines, air-conditioned oxygen cots and a number of items specially designed by RAF consultants. A doctor—say a physician, a surgeon or an anaesthetist—may often be needed as part of the team to 'special' a patient.

Are you in your Pre-Registration Year —or recently fully registered?

Before you commit yourself to your permanent pattern of life, consider what the Royal Air Force has to offer.

The chance to practise total medical care, as a GP

Your first job would probably be a Junior Medical Officer on a large RAF Station. There would be at least one other doctor. Between you, you would have a 'list' of 2000 to 3000 people—servicemen and their families. You would meet all the usual clinical problems of a GP—and get plenty of experience in pediatrics. As well as this, you would be actively involved in the practice of aviation medicine and gain experience in the preventive, occupational and social fields.

Conditions of work are extremely good. You would have a consulting room in a specially built Medical Centre—like a small hospital with its own treatment room, theatre and resuscitation room, and wards for a dozen or so short-stay patients. There is a full secretarial and nursing staff. Your clinical freedom would be absolute.

The chance to specialise, too

Because General Practice is so highly developed in the RAF, this does not mean you have no chance to specialise. The contrary is true. 47% of all RAF doctors are now working in specialist departments. On a 'full career' contract you have every opportunity to reach consultant status in your late or middle thirties—perhaps earlier.

The chance to study for higher qualifications

Any RAF doctor, whether specialist or GP (as long as he is not on the very shortest of contracts) can apply for six months study leave on full salary. On a permanent commission, he may have up to two years' external study leave.

The chance to travel

The RAF operates in many different conditions and climates. Abroad, the RAF doctor looks after RAF personnel and their families and, very often, the local population as well. Your gain in clinical experience would be marked.

The chance of a good social and family life

The RAF is a young community, with a full and active social life. There are facilities for almost every kind of sport and, which is most important, the time to enjoy your family while you are still a young man. Living conditions are excellent. If you are single you live in the Officers' Mess, which has all the amenities of a good hotel. If you are married, you will nearly always have a furnished house that goes with the job; rent for this is very modest; and it can save a large financial outlay at the beginning of your career.

A realistic pay scale

Pay is based on the average earnings of a civilian GP. Immediately after full registration, the present basic salary is £3395; after 5 years it rises to £4106; after 13 years to £5110. There are various other allowances; for instance, with children at boarding school the figures are £330 (net) for one child, £723 (net) for two children, £1194 (net) for three children. There are tax-free gratuities of £1500 after 3 years, or £3000 after 5 years. After service of 16 years or more there is a pension, payable for life, and a generous terminal grant.

For full information please write, giving your age, nationality, and date of full registration, to Group Captain J. G. Donald, MB, ChB, DTM&H, RAF, Ministry of Defence, 1-6 Tavistock Square (724KB2), London, WC1H 9NL. Or visit your nearest RAF Careers Information Office.

PROVINCE OF SASKATCHEWAN, CANADA DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH PSYCHIATRIC SERVICES BRANCH requires DIRECTOR for PSYCHIATRIC CENTRE, WEYBURN

SALARY: In the range $25,176-$35,424 depending on qualifications and experience. Salary range currently under review.

Additional pay for duty outside working hours.

The Saskatchewan Hospital, Weyburn was opened in 1921 to serve the southern half of the province. By 1946 the in-patient population had risen to 2,063. In the early 1950s the hospital became the focal point for new approaches to the care of the mentally ill. By the mid-fifties programmes emphasizing rehabilitation had begun to reverse the upward in-patient population trend. During the 1960s this effect was greatly accelerated, and extensive post-discharge follow-up services were provided. The in-patient population now stands at 400. As a result, on November 1, 1971 a portion of the hospital complex will be designated for use as an extended care facility and will no longer be under the Branch. Services in psychiatry for the south-east area of the province will be provided from another part of the complex, the Weyburn Psychiatric Centre which will have about 60-70 beds.

The Director will be responsible for the provision of services in psychiatry to the Weyburn Mental Health Region, an area with 112,000 population, and for consultative services to the extended care facility.

QUALIFICATIONS: Several years' experience in psychiatry, including experience in a senior administrative capacity. Minimum formal qualification requirement, postgraduate qualification in psychiatry and medical licence.

Please note that university graduates of accredited medical schools in the United Kingdom and Ireland are eligible to be fully licensed by reciprocity. In addition, certain other British and Irish qualifying medical diplomas are recognized through reciprocity.

The Government of Saskatchewan may arrange to assist in the payment of transportation costs for those accepting employment and members of the immediately family. In return, the applicant agrees to employment with Psychiatric Services Branch for two years.

Further particulars and application forms available by writing to: Colin M. Smith, M.D., F.R.C.P. When it comes to blowing trumpets...

there's more to VENTOLIN than any other bronchodilator.

Aerosol of choice...

It is well known that salbutamol
(Ventolin) is the best bronchodilator available. (British Medical Journal 1970 1: 155-157.)

Tablet of choice...

Salbutamol (Ventolin) is a potent aerosol (20mg) and tablet (2mg) bronchodilator. It is a powerful stimulant and a mild diuretic. It is the drug of choice.

(Prescribed list J, 1971, 47, 181.)

Ventolin Inhaler. A metered aerosol delivering 100mcg salbutamol per inhalation with a specially designed actuator.

Ventolin Tablets. Each tablet contains salbutamol of 2mg as sulphate.

Ventolin Syrup. Each 5ml contains salbutamol of 2mg as sulphate in a fruit-flavoured base.

Ventolin—a real advance in bronchodilator therapy.

When diag Otitis Media, Penbritin Territory

The right-first-time antibiotic for infections in children

Penbritin is right because it is active against the causative organisms in Otitis Media. Its broad spectrum includes H. influenzae which commonly causes this infection in the under fives. This pathogen is insensitive to oral Penicillin V and G and only partially sensitive to the erythromycins. Penbritin destroys it.

Penbritin is right because its safety is well proven. This contrasts with recent publicity drawing attention to the problems of tooth staining and bone deposition which may follow tetracycline therapy.

Two palatable syrups, capsules, tablets and the new paediatric suspension enable you to prescribe Penbritin in the right form for any patient. Injectable Penbritin is also available if required. Following the recent price reduction the average daily cost of treating Otitis Media with Penbritin is just 8½p.

Penbritin is right because it is well proven. Published references involving more than 600 patients with Otitis Media show an overall success rate of 84%. This figure confirms Penbritin as the right-first-time antibiotic.

Dosage:

Children under 10 years — 125 mg q.i.d.  $\frac{1}{2}$  — 1 hour a.c.
Older children and adults — 250 mg q.i.d.  $\frac{1}{2}$  — 1 hour a.c.
In severe infections these dosages may be increased.

Contra-indication: Penicillin hypersensitivity.

Side-effects: as with other penicillins.

Further information is available on request.

Adagio cantabile...e sostenuto

The diuretic you prescribe for patients needing long-term therapy should be gentle.

'Massive, rapid diuresis might produce considerable reductions in blood volume and blood pressure, which might be particularly dangerous in elderly patients.'*

Such a diuretic should be combined with a potassium supplement, but there is a risk of small bowel ulceration or obstruction when patients take preparations which release a large concentration of potassium ions in the small bowel.

CENTYL K reduces the risk by combining the highly effective diuretic, bendrofluazide BP (a Leo discovery) with a slow-release potassium chloride supplement to provide greater safety during long-term maintenance therapy.
