

She needed something to help her sleep

SURMONTIL relieves insomnia while treating its cause

But what?

A hypnotic will certainly give her a good nights' sleep, but if she is one of those patients – and there are many of them – whose insomnia originates from anxiety/depression, sleep is all she'll get. The root cause of the condition will always remain untreated with the patient becoming more and more dependent on the medication. Moreover, the degree of this dependence is further heightened by the fact that, because they distort normal sleep patterns, all major hypnotics (and many antidepressants as well) can give rise to unpleasant symptoms upon withdrawal. Patients, therefore, feel most disinclined to discontinue a treatment which, although giving symptomatic relief, is not removing the cause of their condition. These people, in fact, need more than just "something" to help them sleep – they need 'Surmontil'.

- immediately restores sound natural sleep
- relieves daytime anxiety/depression
- avoids long-term hypnotic therapy by treating the underlying condition
- removes the risk of withdrawal problems due to REM suppression/rebound, and possible dependence encountered with both hypnotics and other major tricyclic antidepressants
- unlike a number of other antidepressants does not increase intra-sleep restlessness, thus its sleep-restoring properties are enhanced

Clinical experience with chemotherapeutic agents*

Studies of 6,500 cases treated with cephalixin

A further 5,000 patients had been treated with cephalixin and reported in the world literature since a review of more than 1,500 cases was presented to the Sixth International Congress on Chemotherapy.

The infections reported were of the urinary tract (2,238); lower respiratory tract (1,235); ear, nose and throat (892); skin and soft tissue (610); genitals (959); septicaemia (28); endocarditis (4); osteo-articular infections (87); biliary tract infections (13); peritonitis (11); and intestinal infections (45). Satisfactory responses included (a) clinical and bacteriological cure and, (b) clinical cure or marked clinical improvement without full bacteriological clearance. A summary of the results obtained with infections of urinary and lower respiratory tracts, is given in the tables below:

Urinary tract infections treated with cephalixin

Infection	Number	Per cent satisfactory response
Cystitis, acute or simple	216	92
Cystitis, chronic or complicated	105	57
Pyelonephritis, acute or simple	222	88
Pyelonephritis, chronic or complicated	440	77
Unspecified	1,255	87

*Summary of papers presented at the VIIth International Congress of Chemotherapy, Prague, August 1971.

Lower respiratory infections treated with cephalixin

Infection	Number	Per cent satisfactory response
Pneumonia/bronchopneumonia	345	91
Bronchitis, acute	134	94
Chronic bronchitis/bronchiectasis	326	87
Lung abscess/empyema	32	81
Unspecified	416	87

The presenters of the survey emphasised the need for the dosage to be adequate — particularly in lower respiratory infections. A statistically significant difference had been shown in favour of using 3 G to 4 G a day compared with 2 G a day for the treatment of these infections.

In most of the acute infections treated cephalixin had given excellent results. In certain chronic infections, particularly of the lung and bone, the response was not so rapid, but when treatment had been prolonged, clinical results had been very good. The adoption of higher doses, 4 G to 6 G or more daily, had widened the scope of cephalixin in the field of severe infections such as septicaemia and endocarditis. The results so far obtained with such infections had been encouraging although the number of cases treated was relatively small.

Even when cephalixin had been used in high dosage or for long periods, the tolerance had been good. Only rarely had treatment been discontinued because of side effects. When side effects had occurred they usually had been mild, many disappearing during treatment. Changes in haematological and biological parameters had been infrequent. There had been no evidence of nephrotoxicity. Cephalixin had been used successfully and safely in patients with impaired renal function, although accumulation of the antibiotic might occur in such patients unless dosage were decreased according to the creatinine clearance.

94% success rate with cephalixin in acute bronchitis

New clinical evidence* shows that cephalixin has achieved a 94% success rate in acute bronchitis. 87% clinical success rate was also noted in chronic bronchitis and bronchiectasis. The total number of bronchitic patients treated with cephalixin was 460.

These excellent results in bronchitis were achieved with a remarkably low incidence of side effects such as diarrhoea and sensitivity rashes. And it was noted that "No cross sensitivity was seen with cephalixin in the eight patients with a history of penicillin hypersensitivity."

Cephalexin in lower respiratory infections

Research workers from Royal Northern Hospital, London, expressed the opinion, on the basis of trials they described, that cephalexin was a suitable antibiotic for lower respiratory infections requiring treatment in hospital, and for urinary infections. For the respiratory infections, daily dosages of 3 G or 4 G produced a significantly quicker response as shown by X-ray, than 2 G — without increased incidence of side effects.

Nineteen men and 16 women (aged 21 to 85 years) with chronic urinary tract infection were treated with cephalexin 500 mg six hourly for 10 days. Twenty-eight of these had abnormal excretion pyelograms. Sixty-one per cent of Escherichia coli infections; 80 per cent of Proteus mirabilis infections, and both cases of Klebsiella aerogenes infection were cleared at 10 days. Overall eradication of pathogenic organisms was obtained in 68 per cent of the cases. The relapse rate after 14 days was 23 per cent.

Fifty in-patients with lower respiratory infections were given orally 2 G cephalexin per day (group A); a further 60 in-patients were given a dosage of 3 G or 4 G daily (group B). The groups received treatment for seven to ten days, they were matched for age.

Eighty of the patients had bronchopneumonia, 58 with chronic airways obstruction. Nine patients had lobar pneumonia, and 15 chronic bronchitis with airways obstruction, in whom the superimposed infection was the primary reason for hospital admission. All received physiotherapy, and 21 with airways obstruction were given a bronchodilator. Every patient with pneumonia was treated for 10 days. Forty-nine per cent of the pneumonia patients in group A showed complete resolution of radiological signs on day seven, compared with 72 per cent of those in group B — a significant difference. On the tenth day, however, no significant difference in radiological signs was detectable between the two groups. Clinical cure (clear X-ray, sterile sputum, no fever, no leucocytosis) at 10 days was obtained in 68 per cent of the patients in group A and in 81.5 per cent in group B, the difference not being significant. Bacteriological eradication was obtained in 73 per cent of group A and 91 per cent of group B patients, the difference being significant.

No cross sensitivity was seen with cephalexin in the eight patients with a history of penicillin hypersensitivity. The antibiotic was discontinued in five patients; in one for diarrhoea and four for vomiting, but in two cases the drug was not wholly to blame since vomiting continued after its withdrawal. Generally cephalexin was well tolerated.

For your detailed reading
Ceporex cephalexin

Contra-indication
Ceporex is contra-indicated in persons who have shown hypersensitivity to cephalosporins.

Precautions
In patients treated with Ceporex, a false-positive reaction for glucose in the urine may occur with Benedict's or Fehling's solutions, or with 'Clinitest' tablets, but not with enzyme-based tests such as 'Clinistix'.

Ceporex is usually tolerated well by patients allergic to penicillin, but cross-reaction can occur occasionally.

As with other antibiotics, Ceporex should be administered with caution in patients with a history of allergy, especially to drugs. When renal function is markedly reduced, Ceporex will accumulate in the serum and tissues unless dosage is suitably reduced.

Laboratory experiments with animals and clinical experience show no evidence of teratogenicity, but as with all drugs, caution is needed during pregnancy.

Adverse reactions

A small proportion of patients receiving Ceporex may experience gastrointestinal disturbances such as nausea, vomiting, diarrhoea, anorexia and general abdominal discomfort. As with all broad-spectrum antibiotics, superinfection (sometimes monilial) can occur, and may present as vulvo-vaginitis. Reversible neutropenia has occurred in a few patients, but is very rare. Generalised drug rashes — urticarial or maculopapular — are uncommon.

Administration and dosage

Ceporex is administered orally. Treatment should continue for at least two days after the temperature has returned to normal and symptoms have subsided. However, in chronic, recurrent or complicated upper urinary tract infections a course of at least two weeks' duration may be necessary.

When renal function is considerably impaired, the dosage should be reduced. If the creatinine clearance is 20 to 50 ml/minute, the adult dosage of Ceporex should not exceed 3 grams/day; if between 5 and 20 ml/minute, not more than 1.5 grams daily; if the clearance is below 5 ml/minute, dosage should not exceed 500 mg/day.

Patients receiving intermittent dialysis should be given an additional 500 mg of Ceporex after each dialysis; i.e., a total dosage of up to 1 gram on that day.

New facts about oral Ceporex confirm very low incidence of side effects

New clinical data on cephalexin confirms the extremely low incidence of side effects accompanying the high clinical success rate.

"Even when cephalexin had been used in high dosage or for long periods, the tolerance had been good. Only rarely had treatment been discontinued because of side effects. When side effects had occurred they usually had been mild, many disappearing during treatment."*

It all adds up to the simple fact that in acute bronchitis, you can trust Ceporex to reduce the risks and improve the results.

Doctors in the Australian Army get the best of all worlds

A new life in Australia. With first class passage paid for you and your family. A job waiting—and all the advantages of a service practice.

With extraneous administration taken off your hands, you can really do your job properly. You could be in an R.M.O. unit, field ambulance station or military hospital and there are opportunities for updating medical knowledge and techniques. Then there's the sports and social side, too.

The sort of man we're looking for is preferably under 40—with medical qualifications registrable in the Commonwealth of Australia. He's medically fit—prepared to serve anywhere and is a British subject eligible for permanent residence in Australia. If this sounds like you, this is what we'll do for you.

You'll be appointed to a Short Service Commission for 4 years in the Medical Corps of the Australian Army in the minimum rank of Captain, where your salary would amount to £4,773 per annum after the equivalent of 5 years service. (Your professional experience in England serves to ante-date your period of service). Tax and a refunded retirement benefit will be deducted from this—though your clothing and marriage allowances of £51 and £345 per annum are not taxed. You also receive a bounty of about £1,540.

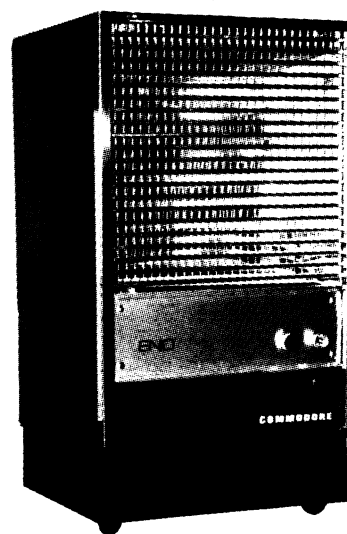

If this sounds like your sort of life, contact: Brig. C. F. Flint, O.B.E., Australian Army Representative, Australia House, Strand, London WC2. Telephone: 01-836 2435 Extn. 356.

The Future General Practitioner

Learning and Teaching

General or family practice is a special subject. This book is written by six experienced teachers selected by the Council of the Royal College of General Practitioners. It is intended chiefly for teachers, but it will also be valuable to those who are learning and to all who are concerned about the place of family practice within a country's medical services.

A syllabus is developed in five main parts:

Health and Diseases
Human Development
Human Behaviour
Medicine and Society
The Practice

Throughout the book the authors have tried to indicate ways in which the teacher may approach the task of passing on what he had learned by his own experience. The theme is the search for objectives which will satisfy the needs of learner and teacher. The belief is that this search will benefit the future family practitioner and through him the community of his patients.

'They laughed when I said I was joining the Army.'

Doctor, 25

When a good doctor decides to join the Royal Army Medical Corps, the reaction among his friends may be one of surprise or amusement.

"Won't the military aspect get in the way of your medical career?" is often the attitude.

In fact, your medical career gets first priority in the RAMC. With a fuller, more varied way of life thrown in.

To begin at the beginning. Every doctor we accept automatically assumes the rank of Captain.

So at 24, you could be earning around £3,942 a year, with generous allowances. (A doctor of some years' experience stands a good chance of entering as a Major.)

You'll look after soldiers, and their families, in fully equipped, up to date surgeries.

You'll spend some time working abroad, getting to see something of the world.

You may study for higher qualifications, and some are able to specialise.

On top of that, you reap the rewards of Army life. Responsibility and challenge. A wide social circle. Sports and recreation facilities. And 6 weeks holiday each year on full pay.

If you take a Short Service Commission, you're free to leave after 3 or 5 years. By that time you'll have gained some invaluable experience and a tax-free gratuity to give you a good start in civilian practice.

Or you can always apply for a Regular Commission.

If you're interested, let us know, and we'll send you all the details. Or you may call in and see us. We can also arrange for you to visit one of our medical establishments.

Then we think you'll agree that there's nothing funny about a good doctor ending up in the Army.

Septrin rated top in major British survey¹ of urinary pathogen sensitivities

Six clinical bacteriology laboratories – in Glasgow, Liverpool, Hull, Cardiff, Guildford and Salisbury – tested widely used antibacterials against a total of 23,491 urinary isolates (all species). Both out-patient and in-patient strains were included. The results showed that trimethoprim/sulphamethoxazole (SEPTRIN[®]) outscored all other oral preparations:

Percentage sensitivity of isolates. Summation of six centres.

In-patient		Out-patient
Trimethoprim/sulphamethoxazole	88	Trimethoprim/sulphamethoxazole	93

Some premature deaths might be prevented, however, by substituting Flora margarine, the spread highest in polyunsaturated fats, for animal fats in normal diet.

For 50% of Flora's fat content is natural cis-cis linoleic essential fatty acid.

And it is widely accepted that substituting polyunsaturated fats for saturated fats can lower the risk of coronary heart disease.

Because of its cholesterol-reducing properties, Flora margarine is particularly effective as part of the dietary treatment of hyperlipidaemia.

For people at risk from coronary heart disease, indeed for almost anyone, Flora margarine makes very good advice.

ALLERGIC RHINITIS

A completely fresh approach

The unique way in which sodium cromoglycate prevents asthmatic reactions has been the subject of over 150 clinical trials. Prompted by this success, more recent investigators have shown that, in the form of RYNACROM, sodium cromoglycate has a similar protective effect on the nasal mucosa and can provide year-round prophylaxis in allergic rhinitis²

RYNACROM is not a decongestant, anticholinergic, antihistamine or steroid. Its action is unlike any other form of treatment.

In the face of challenge – pollen, house dust, feathers, pets, etc. – RYNACROM (sodium cromoglycate) prevents the degranulation of those cells which would normally rupture and release histamine and inflammatory agents. Thus regular insufflation of RYNACROM provides continuous prophylaxis from a condition which, hitherto, has been difficult to control symptomatically and even more difficult to prevent. A number of patients who have failed to respond to other forms of treatment have greatly benefited from RYNACROM!

RYNACROM does not produce inconvenient side effects associated with conventional therapy.

THE HISTAMINE CHALLENGE:

Can any single antihistamine tablet fight off attacks for 24 hours?

In a study† designed to test the duration of protection afforded by PRO-ACTIDIL*, human volunteers were given intradermal injections of histamine and the areas of flare and weal response were measured. After the responses had completely disappeared one PRO-ACTIDIL tablet was administered to each volunteer and the histamine challenge was repeated. By measuring the reduction in areas of flares and weals the protective effect of PRO-ACTIDIL could be plotted for the 24 hours following administration. After 24 hours the weals still showed a reduction of 65 per cent and the flares a reduction of 83 per cent. The authors concluded that the anti-histaminic effect of PRO-ACTIDIL lasts for 24 hours.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL FOR THE CITY OF SHEFFIELD MOSBOROUGH DEVELOPMENT

TYPED
INITIAL PRACTICE ALLOWANCE
A vacancy exists for a suitably qualified general medical practitioner to start a new group of doctors to provide general medical services in the first phase of the Mosborough Development.

The Mosborough Development is planned to take place in the south east part of the City on land which was transferred from Derbyshire County Council in April 1967. The Development will provide housing for about an additional 50,000 people within a number of independent townships. Each township will have dwellings for about 5,000 people grouped around a primary school and a local centre containing shops, public houses and other facilities. The first phase of the Development, comprising the townships of Halfway, Westfield and Waterthorpe is expected to be completed in 1978.

It is planned to provide the Health Services for the first phase of the Development from a Health Centre to be sited at Westfield. Until the Health Centre is ready, (probably late 1973), Sheffield Corporation will make available a house in Westfield for use as temporary accommodation. It is intended there will be full attachment of health visitors and nursing staff and close co-operation with Social Services Department of the Local Authority. There is open access to laboratory and X-ray facilities in the Sheffield Hospitals.

The vacancy attracts a special Type D initial practice allowance, which guarantees that the doctor's net annual professional income for the first three years, or earlier if a partnership develops, will not be less than his previous net professional income up to a maximum of £5,820. The experience expected will normally be about ten years as a qualified doctor, of which two have been in hospital appointments and five in a busy general practice in this country. In due course the appointed doctor will be expected to take partners and to become the leader of the medical team in the Development area. He should have enthusiasm for administering a new project and the ability to attract and work with other practitioners. He should be used to maternity work and acceptable for the obstetric list. The successful applicant will be expected to commence practising on 1st April, 1973.

There is a possibility that at a future date this practice could be associated with the new Department of Community Care and General Practice in the University of Sheffield.

There will be two interviews for this vacancy, one in Sheffield and the other in London. The final selection will be made by the Medical Practices Committee, London. Application forms and further information may be obtained from the Clerk of the Council, Executive Council for the City of Sheffield, Brincliffe House, Osborne Road, Sheffield S11 9BD. Closing date for receipt of completed application forms is 23rd October, 1972. (H8256) 5

SERVICES

Are you in your Pre-Registration Year —or recently fully registered?

Before you commit yourself to your permanent pattern of life, consider what the RAF has to offer

General Practice? With a difference. At this RAF Clinic, in the busy town of Limassol, in Cyprus, almost all the patients are women and children (specially children). Staff is 7 doctors, each with his (or her) own panel of patients; and 5 dentists. There are 5 SRN Nurses, and 7 Health Visitors. Next door is the RAF's Child Guidance Clinic, with psychiatrist, educational psychologist and speech therapist.

The chance to practise total medicine care, as a GP

Your first job would probably be a Junior Medical Officer on a large RAF Station. There would be at least one other doctor. Between you, you would have a 'list' of 2000 to 3000 people—servicemen and their families. You would meet all the usual clinical problems of a GP—and get plenty of experience in pediatrics. As well as this, you would be actively involved in the practice of aviation medicine and gain experience in the preventive, occupational and social fields.

Conditions of work are extremely good. You would have a consulting room in a specially built Medical Centre—like a small hospital with its own treatment room, theatre and resuscitation room, and wards for a dozen or so short-stay patients. There is a full secretarial and nursing staff. Your clinical freedom would be absolute.

The chance to specialise, too

Because General Practice is so highly developed in the RAF, this does not mean you have no chance to specialise. The contrary is true. 47% of all RAF doctors are now working in specialist departments. On a 'full career' contract you have every opportunity to reach consultant status in your late or middle thirties; perhaps earlier.

The chance to study for higher qualifications

Any RAF doctor, whether specialist or GP (as long as he is not on the very shortest of contracts) can apply for six months study leave on full salary. On a permanent commission, he may have up to two years' external study leave.

The chance to travel

The RAF operates in many different conditions and climates. Abroad, the RAF doctor looks after RAF personnel and their families and, very often, the local population as well. Your gain in clinical experience would be marked.

The chance of a good social and family life

The RAF is a young community, with a full and active social life. There are facilities for almost every kind of sport and, which is most important, the time to enjoy your family while you are still a young man. Living conditions are excellent. If you are single you live in the Officers' Mess, which has all the amenities of a good hotel. If you are married, you will nearly always have a furnished house that goes with the job; rent for this is very modest; and it can save a large financial outlay at the beginning of your career.

A realistic pay scale

Pay is based on the average earnings of a civilian GP. Immediately after full registration, the present basic salary is £3942; after 5 years it rises to £4767; after 13 years to £5898. There are various other allowances; for instance, with children at boarding school the figures are £363 (net) for one child, £795 (net) for two children, £1314 (net) for three children. There are tax-free gratuities of £1500 after 3 years, or £3000 after 5 years. After service of 16 years or more there is a pension, payable for life, and a generous terminal grant.

For full information please write, giving your age, nationality, and date of full registration, to Group Captain D. G. M. Hills, OBE, MB, BS, DPH, RAF, Ministry of Defence, 1-6 Tavistock Square (724 KH1), London, WC1H 9NL. Or visit your nearest RAF Careers Information Office.

AS A NAVAL DOCTOR, YOU'D GET A WHOLE LOT MORE OUT OF LIFE.

(AND SO WOULD YOUR FAMILY)

Right from the start, you'd have a complete change of scene.

Serving either with the Navy at sea or among service personnel and their families at a naval establishment. Very likely in another part of the world.

Either way, you'd never find yourself short of assistance. (Every naval doctor is fully supported by medical staff).

Equally important, you'd never find yourself getting into a rut – for in two years or so you'd receive a new appointment.

In a new place. Doing a different job. Perhaps with the chance to learn something of the special problems of diving, aviation, or tropical medicine for example.

It's a stimulating life. Not only for yourself but for your family too.

For in most cases they'd accompany you. And wherever you go there are usually married quarters – fully furnished houses or flats, equipped with everything you need. And at very reasonable rents.

What's more, a generous education allowance is made for your children if they are at boarding school. £363 p.a. for a first child, £432 p.a. for a second, £519 p.a. for a third. On top of this, removal and other allowances are also provided.

Add this to the salary and you'll see how well a naval doctor's pay compares with a civilian doctor's.

For instance, with five years' post registration experience you would join us as a Surgeon Lieutenant-Commander on £4,767 a year.

And any specialist qualifications/experience you have could increase your salary even more.

There are opportunities, too, to keep up with the latest developments in medicine. For the Navy fully recognises the need for such opportunities both in the interests of naval medicine and a doctor's professional advancement.

That's not all. You can join on a 3-year or 5-year commission (each carrying a tax-free terminal gratuity of £1,500 and £3,000 respectively) and you can transfer to a full 16-year pensionable commission if you wish.

Applicants should be of British nationality and parentage. To find out more, write to Surgeon Cdr. F. M. Kinsman, O.B.E., R.N. (724AB8), Dept. of the Medical Director-General (Navy), Empress State Building, London S.W.6.

COUNTY BOROUGH OF SOUTHPORT

There is an opportunity to live and work in a very attractive seaside resort, having a pleasant climate and ample facilities for sport and recreation. Doctors who are interested should apply for the appointment of

DEPUTY MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH AND DEPUTY PRINCIPAL SCHOOL MEDICAL OFFICER

(£3,795-£4,200 p.a.)

There is an additional payment of £213 per annum for the duties of Deputy Referee at Southport Crematorium subject to Home Office approval. Assistance with removal expenses and 'casual user' car allowance will also be paid.

The post will provide administrative experience and some clinical duties in all branches of a busy Health Department with involvement in personal and environmental health, epidemiology, developmental paediatrics and a special interest in Handicapped Children.

The present Deputy has been appointed Medical Officer of Health elsewhere after only 8 months in this post.

An illustrated guide of the town, a list of some of the estate agents and an application form with conditions of service will be sent on request. Anyone requiring further information about this post should not hesitate to telephone or write to Dr. P. W. Lang, Medical Officer of Health, Health Department, 2 Church Street, Southport. Telephone Southport 5523 or Southport 67339 after office hours. Closing date for applications 27th October, 1972. (16549)

Oxfam is proposing to send four experienced personnel to the Republic of Zaire (formerly Congo, Kinshasa) to advise voluntary agencies, mainly missions, engaged in rural development. As part of the group we will require:

A Public Health Officer

(preferably a woman) to advise on rural health education, including the improvement of water supplies and environmental sanitation and the improvement of local diets.

The group will be led by a co-ordinator/administrator with detailed knowledge of the area (already appointed). Further specialists may be added on a short-term basis.

All candidates should have appropriate qualifications and experience on working in a tropical country, preferably in Africa, and be reasonably fluent in French. The initial contract will be for 24 months. Salaries will be based on qualifications and experience. Free travel (including travel for eligible family members), field allowances and subsidised accommodation provided.

Applicants should write to: Oxfam Overseas Aid Director, (Zaire Group) 274 Banbury Road, Oxford, marking the envelopes "Confidential" and giving age, marital status and full details of qualifications and experience.

SPECIALIST ANAESTHETIST Nigeria

A specialist anaesthetist is required by the Maxillo Facial Unit of the Ahmadu Bello University Hospital in Kaduna.

The appointment, to be made under Her Majesty's Government, is for a minimum tour of six months, but preferably for a year or more, starting at the end of December. An enhanced salary, according to qualifications and experience, would be payable related to that of the equivalent grade in the National Health Service in the U.K. and subject to British Income Tax. A tax-free allowance of £925-1,760 p.a. depending on marital status, is also payable.

Officers who are appointed for a period of 12 months or more, will have free family passages by air. For shorter periods only the officer's passage will be paid but free accommodation for his family will be provided if he wishes to bring them at his own expense. Superannuation may be continued.

Candidates should normally be citizens of, and permanently resident in, the United Kingdom. They must be fully registrable with the General Medical Council of the U.K. and possess the F.F.A.R.C.S.

For more information write, giving your age and a brief statement of your qualifications and experience to:

Intal doesn't relieve asthmatic attacks

It prevents them

Steroids, bronchodilators and antihistamines, whether in aerosol or tablet form, are only symptomatic treatments. Whereas INTAL actually protects the patient from asthmatic attacks—day in, day out.

By preventing the release of spasmogens INTAL affords daily prophylaxis for as long as any challenge exists. More than 150 clinical trials have proved its effectiveness, safety and ease of administration.

But only an asthmatic can really appreciate the difference it makes.
