

She needed something to help her sleep

SURMONTIL relieves insomnia while treating its cause

But what?

A hypnotic will certainly give her a good nights' sleep, but if she is one of those patients – and there are many of them – whose insomnia originates from anxiety/depression, sleep is all she'll get. The root cause of the condition will always remain untreated with the patient becoming more and more dependent on the medication. Moreover, the degree of this dependence is further heightened by the fact that, because they distort normal sleep patterns, all major hypnotics (and many antidepressants as well) can give rise to unpleasant symptoms upon withdrawal. Patients, therefore, feel most disinclined to discontinue a treatment which, although giving symptomatic relief, is not removing the cause of their condition. These people, in fact, need more than just "something" to help them sleep – they need 'Surmontil'.

- immediately restores sound natural sleep
- relieves daytime anxiety/depression
- avoids long-term hypnotic therapy by treating the underlying condition
- removes the risk of withdrawal problems due to REM suppression/rebound, and possible dependence encountered with both hypnotics and other major tricyclic antidepressants
- unlike a number of other antidepressants does not increase intra-sleep restlessness, thus its sleep-restoring properties are enhanced

As the weather worsens, demands on your time increase. This winter you can relieve some of the pressure by prescribing Magnapen for the more serious chest infections which you see. For acute-on-chronic bronchitis. For pneumonia. For infections following flu.

Magnapen gives you a greater chance of first time success in these serious cases because it is active against virtually all bacteria encountered in General Practice. So you can rely on Magnapen even when there are no laboratory reports to guide you.

When chest infection Magnapen relieves

Magnapen—for greater

Magnapen's greater certainty means that the patient is more likely to respond quickly.

More likely to be up and about again sooner.

- And Magnapen can save you the time which you might otherwise have to spend on repeat visits, second consultations or night calls to patients who may fail to respond to other antibiotics.

In the Nobrium general practice survey 228 British GPs studied 691 patients with anxiety, most of whom kept a subjective record of their progress. Both the GPs and the patients recorded a substantial remission of symptoms with Nobrium (a total pretherapy symptom score of 9167 was reduced to 3888). A detailed analysis of these results is now being circulated to all general practitioners under the title of the Nobrium general practice survey: Results in 691 patients

Doctors in the Australian Army get the best of all worlds

A new life in Australia. With first class passage paid for you and your family. A job waiting—and all the advantages of a service practice.

With extraneous administration taken off your hands, you can really do your job properly. You could be in an R.M.O. unit, field ambulance station or military hospital and there are opportunities for updating medical knowledge and techniques. Then there's the sports and social side, too.

Do you have MARTINDALE at your elbow?

Martindale
The Extra Pharmacopoeia
Twenty-sixth edition

Martindale, says The Practitioner, "puts every other textbook of treatment in the English language in the shade, so far as the practising clinician is concerned." And it goes on to say: "The general practitioner who does not have a copy of this 'opus magnum' permanently at his elbow is not only depriving himself of a 'must', he is asking for unnecessary trouble." Martindale is the world's most comprehensive guide to drugs and medicines. The 26th edition, published recently, is a book of 2,346 pages containing about two million words. Martindale now includes over 2,800 drug monographs with information (where appropriate) about pharmacological action; toxic effects and their treatment; precautions to be observed on administration; interactions with other drugs; absorption, metabolism, and fate in the body; actions, uses and dosage; proprietary drug preparations. Both proprietary and non-proprietary names are included in the 34,000-entry main index. The information is supported by abstracts and references selected from more than 30,000 specially prepared for this edition. The formulas are given of over 1,700 medicines that can be bought by the public without prescription, information often essential in compiling a clinical history. For rational prescribing, Martindale is an essential tool. Ask your pharmacist to show you his copy—but don't expect him to let you borrow it! You can get your own copy from any medical bookseller, or post free from The Pharmaceutical Press.

Who cares about family planning?

We do.

By the time you finish reading this, another 90 babies will have been born into the world.

Many will be welcomed, loved and provided for.

Many won't.

Every single baby will need food, clothes and shelter. And space.

Oxfam believes that no matter where a child is born, he or she should be positively wanted.

For this reason we're currently financing family planning projects in 16 countries.

If you agree that family planning is one of the most important contributions towards a better world, please do something about it.

Give us your time. Contact your local Oxfam organiser via the phone book or by writing to the address below.

Send as much money as you can. We need it urgently to continue the projects we have started and also to tell others in this country about some of the problems which poor countries face.

In return, we will send you a copy of A Kind of Caring — a report of five journalists on Oxfam's work in the field.

We believe this is the kind of project you approve of.

Discovering the World of Prostaglandins

Upjohn

Following extensive clinical trials carried out in major centres in the British Isles and elsewhere, Upjohn is proud to announce the forthcoming introduction of the first commercially available prostaglandins, Prostin E₂ and Prostin F₂ alpha.

First identified in the 1930's by Dr. M. W. Goldblatt of England and Dr. U. S. von Euler of Karolinska Institute, Sweden, the prostaglandins remained uncharted territory for nearly a quarter of a century. Interest in exploring this new world of compounds was rekindled in 1956 when Dr. Sune Bergstrom, a Karolinska colleague of Dr. von Euler's, enlisted the aid of The Upjohn Company in collecting large quantities of sheep vesicle glands – the raw material from which sufficient amounts of prostaglandins could be extracted to permit further research.

With Upjohn's continuing financial and technical support, Dr. Bergstrom quickly isolated the first two prostaglandins, PGE₁ and PGF₁ alpha. He was to devote the next five years to determining their chemical structures.

Research efforts were given further impetus with the independent development by groups of Upjohn, Swedish, and Dutch investigators of techniques for the biosynthesis of prostaglandins in relatively large amounts. Total synthesis was achieved by Upjohn and Harvard University researchers in the 1960's, thus providing the necessary logistic base for further research and clinical testing.

Chemically, all natural prostaglandins contain 20 carbon atoms and have the same basic carbon skeleton – prostanic acid. There are 14 known prostaglandins, all but one occurring in man. The substances are widely distributed – in minute amounts – throughout mammalian tissues, with the highest concentration in seminal fluid. Recent investigations have also revealed prostaglandins in some non-mammalian tissues, such as frog's skin and spinal cord, and in certain forms of coral.

On the basis of their structure, the prostaglandins have been divided into four main categories, each with a letter designation: E, F, A, and B. Three of the E group and three of the F group are considered primary in that none is derived from any of the others. The remaining eight are metabolites of the parent six.

The first observed activity of the prostaglandins – stimulation of smooth muscle – gave no indication of the compounds' wide spectrum of physiological effects. These actions include the ability to alter blood pressure, inhibit gastric secretion, platelet aggregation, and lipolysis; cause nasal vasoconstriction and bronchodilation; cause sedation when administered into brain ventricles; and produce persistent miosis and increased intraocular pressure when injected into the anterior chamber of the eye. These activities suggest possible future applications in a variety of fields, including gastroenterology, cardio-vascular disease, respiratory disease, and reproduction.

It is in the field of obstetrics and gynaecology – especially in the induction of labour – that Upjohn has provided the necessary bridge between basic research and applied therapeutics. Studies have shown that both the E and F groups of prostaglandins are effective in this area.

Upjohn prostaglandins E₂ and F₂ alpha will be available only to hospitals and specialised clinics.

There is much yet to discover in the new world of prostaglandins. Upjohn offers a beginning.

A new acquaintance a good can soon become friend.

Amoxil can soon become a good friend because of its reliability in the routine treatment of a wide range of infections.

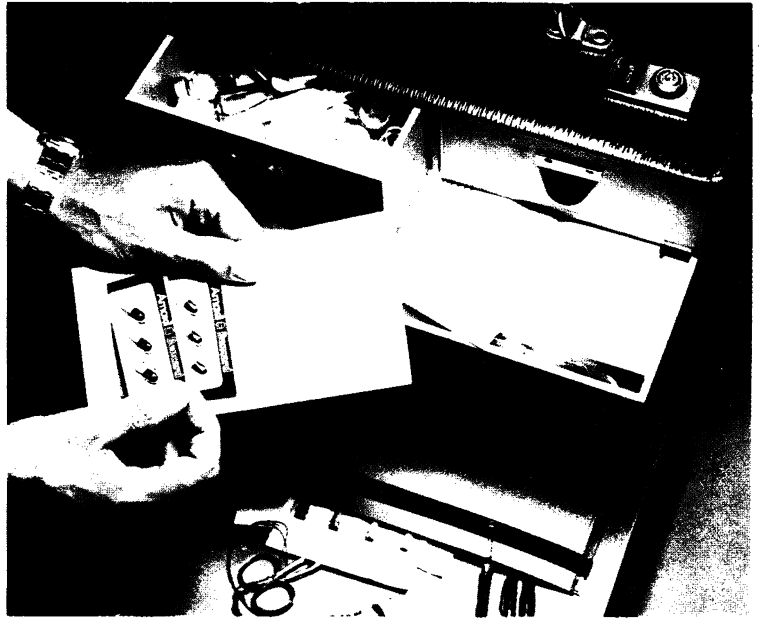

Outstanding oral absorption, not greatly affected by the presence of food, broad spectrum of activity and bactericidal action are among the more notable qualities of Amoxil.

Rapid decisive action coupled with the degree of safety associated with penicillin therapy inspires a high level of confidence in everyday use.

A convenient t.d.s. dosage, independent of meal times, a range of highly acceptable presentations, treatment costing as little as 16p per day – further good reasons why Amoxil represents practical antibiotic therapy at its best.

Extensive clinical trials have demonstrated that in Upper and Lower respiratory infection, Urinary tract and Skin and Soft tissue infections, Amoxil is dependable and trustworthy – as all good friends should be.

Further information on Amoxil (amoxycillin) is available from: Bencard, Freepost, Great West Road, Brentford, Middlesex.

To help you further in your practice, Amoxil starter packs are available from your Bencard representative or from the Company.

Prescribing information

Dosage: Adults 250 mg three times a day. Children – up to 10 years: 125 mg three times a day. In the case of severe infections the dosage should be doubled.

Contra-indication: Amoxil is a penicillin and should not be given to penicillin hypersensitive patients.

Side effects: In clinical trials involving more than 1,500 patients no serious side effects were reported. Those side effects which were encountered were of a mild transitory nature.

Flora margarine can help prevent heart disease.

In 1972, one in four deaths will be caused by coronary heart disease. Many victims dying before retiring age.

Some premature deaths might be prevented, however, by substituting Flora margarine, the spread highest in polyunsaturated fats, for animal fats in normal diet.

For 50% of Flora's fat content is natural cis-cis linoleic essential fatty acid.

And it is widely accepted that substituting polyunsaturated fats for saturated fats can lower the risk of coronary heart disease.

Because of its cholesterol-reducing properties, Flora margarine is particularly effective as part of the dietary treatment of hyperlipidaemia.

For people at risk from coronary heart disease, indeed for almost anyone, Flora margarine makes very good advice.

Our new 304S models are rather grand touring cars. So why don't we call them GT's?

Today's family saloons seem to be suffering from a severe attack of the GT's. Not to mention the bolt-on goodies. In fact, GT now has more to do with gimmicky trimmings than grand touring.

But we're individualists. So when we decided to add some zippy "S" versions to our 304 range, we went about it in the typically thorough and professional Peugeot manner.

The 304S doesn't suffer from a spoiler on the boot, because it would only spoil the boot. Or go-faster stripes, because they wouldn't help it go faster. Or fake alloy wheels, because we never fake anything.

The 304S is no sports car. But it does sport some very worthwhile modifications in the places where they matter – the underbonnet and braking departments.

We made the 1300 cc engine breathe more freely through a twin-choke carburettor. The power's up to 80 BHP. So it goes quickly.

We made the brakes more powerful. So it stops quickly.

And it rides smoothly, but firmly. So it corners quickly.

None of the usual Peugeot refinements have been sacrificed. Inside, you'll find reclining seats with headrests, seatbelts, through-flow ventilation, rev-counter, steering lock, sunshine roof and heated rear window. All standard.

The 304S comes in saloon, 2+2 coupe and 2-seater cabriolet versions. Like all Peugeots, they have to be driven to be appreciated, because they have a special feel of their own. Beautifully balanced. Safe and comfortable. Really rather grand touring cars.

Judging by our rocketing UK sales figures, a lot of people think Peugeots feel just right.

Try a 304S. We think you'll agree.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL
FOR THE CITY OF SHEFFIELD
MOSBOROUGH DEVELOPMENT

INITIAL PRACTICE ALLOWANCE

A vacancy exists for a suitably qualified general medical practitioner to start a new group of doctors to provide general medical services in the first phase of the Mosborough Development.

The Mosborough Development is planned to take place in the south east part of the City on land which was transferred from Derbyshire County Council in April 1967. The Development will provide housing for about an additional 50,000 people within a number of independent townships. Each township will have dwellings for about 5,000 people grouped around a primary school and a local centre containing shops, public houses and other facilities. The first phase of the Development, comprising the townships of Halfway, Westfield and Waterthorpe is expected to be completed in 1978.

It is planned to provide the Health Services for the first phase of the Development from a Health Centre to be sited at Westfield. Until the Health Centre is ready (probably late 1973), Sheffield Corporation will make available a house in Westfield for use as temporary practice accommodation. It is intended there will be full attachment of health visitors and nursing staff and close co-operation with Social Services Department of the Local Authority. There is open access to laboratory and X-ray facilities in the Sheffield Hospitals.

The vacancy attracts a special Type D initial practice allowance, which guarantees that the doctor's net annual professional income for the first three years, or earlier if a partnership develops, will not be less than his previous net professional income up to a maximum of £5,820. The experience expected will normally be about ten years as a qualified doctor, of which two have been in hospital appointments and five in a busy general practice in this country. In due course the appointed doctor will be expected to take partners and to become the leader of the medical team in the Development area. He should have enthusiasm for administering a new project and the ability to attract and work with other practitioners. He should be used to maternity work and acceptable for the obstetric list. The successful applicant will be expected to commence practising on 1st April, 1973.

There is a possibility that at a future date this practice could be associated with the new Department of Community Care and General Practice in the University of Sheffield.

There will be two interviews for this vacancy, one in Sheffield and the other in London. The final selection will be made by the Medical Practices Committee, London.

Application forms and further information may be obtained from the Clerk of the Council, Executive Council for the City of Sheffield, Brincliffe House, Osborne Road, Sheffield S11 3BD. Closing date for receipt of completed application forms is 18th November, 1972. (H8716) 5

SERVICES

Are you in your Pre-Registration Year —or recently fully registered?

The RAF hospital at Akrotiri, Cyprus. It has 120 beds and can be adapted to accommodate up to 250. Here are a few figures for 1971: outpatients, 19,846; admissions, 4,984; X-Rays, 11,438; path lab tests, 62,432; anaesthetics, 2,193. The hospital has specialist departments of surgery, orthopaedic surgery, medicine, gynaecology and obstetrics, pathology, dentistry, neuropsychiatry, radiology, anaesthetics, otorhinolaryngology and ophthalmology; and, in the tamarisk trees by Dreamers' Bay, perhaps the most beautiful location of any hospital.

Before you commit yourself to your permanent pattern of life, consider what the RAF has to offer

The chance to practise total medical care, as a GP

Your first job would probably be a Junior Medical Officer on a large RAF Station. There would be at least one other doctor. Between you, you would have a 'list' of 2000 to 3000 people—servicemen and their families. You would meet all the usual clinical problems of a GP—and get plenty of experience in paediatrics. As well as this, you would be actively involved in the practice of aviation medicine and gain experience in the preventive, occupational and social fields.

Conditions of work are extremely good. You would have a consulting room in a specially built Medical Centre—like a small hospital with its own treatment room, theatre and resuscitation room, and wards for a dozen or so short-stay patients. There is a full secretarial and nursing staff. Your clinical freedom would be absolute.

The chance to specialise, too

Because General Practice is so highly developed in the RAF, this does not mean you have no chance to specialise. The contrary is true. 47% of all RAF doctors are now working in specialist departments. On a 'full career' contract you have every opportunity to reach consultant status in your late or middle thirties; perhaps earlier.

The chance to study for higher qualifications

Any RAF doctor, whether specialist or GP (as long as he is not on the very shortest of contracts) can apply for six months study leave on full salary. On a permanent commission, he may have up to two years' external study leave.

The chance to travel

The RAF operates in many different conditions and climates. Abroad, the RAF doctor looks after RAF personnel and their families and, very often, the local population as well. Your gain in clinical experience would be marked.

The chance of a good social and family life

The RAF is a young community, with a full and active social life. There are facilities for almost every kind of sport and, which is most important, the time to enjoy your family while you are still a young man. Living conditions are excellent. If you are single you live in the Officers' Mess, which has all the amenities of a good hotel. If you are married, you will nearly always have a furnished house that goes with the job; rent for this is very modest; and it can save a large financial outlay at the beginning of your career.

A realistic pay scale

Pay is based on the average earnings of a civilian GP. Immediately after full registration, the present basic salary is £3942; after 5 years it rises to £4767; after 13 years to £5898. There are various other allowances; for instance, with children at boarding school the figures are £363 (net) for one child, £795 (net) for two children, £1314 (net) for three children. There are tax-free gratuities of £1500 after 3 years, or £3000 after 5 years. After service of 16 years or more there is a pension, payable for life, and a generous terminal grant.

For full information please write, giving your age, nationality, and date of full registration, to Group Captain D. G. M. Hills, OBE, MB, BS, DPH, RAF, Ministry of Defence, 1-6 Tavistock Square (724 KJ1), London, WC1H 9NL. Or visit your nearest RAF Careers Information Office.

Diseases of the Urinary Tract

One of the most rapidly growing specialties over the last few years has been that of urology. Many doctors now in practice could not have been taught much of the present-day management of many urinary tract diseases. Last year the B.M.J. published a series of "Current Practice" articles on diseases in the urinary tract, and these have now been collected together in a booklet. Beside articles on the newer aspects of the specialty, the booklet contains articles on established methods of managing renal disorders. Any doctor who wishes to bring himself up to date on modern practice in this field will find this a readable account of the important aspects of the specialty.

Intal doesn't relieve asthmatic attacks

It prevents them

Steroids, bronchodilators and antihistamines, whether in aerosol or tablet form, are only symptomatic treatments. Whereas INTAL actually protects the patient from asthmatic attacks—day in, day out.

By preventing the release of spasmogens INTAL affords daily prophylaxis for as long as any challenge exists. More than 150 clinical trials have proved its effectiveness, safety and ease of administration.

But only an asthmatic can really appreciate the difference it makes.

The Future General Practitioner

Learning and Teaching

General or family practice is a special subject. This book is written by six experienced teachers selected by the Council of the Royal College of General Practitioners. It is intended chiefly for teachers, but it will also be valuable to those who are learning and to all who are concerned about the place of family practice within a country's medical services.

A syllabus is developed in five main parts:

Health and Diseases
Human Development
Human Behaviour
Medicine and Society
The Practice

Throughout the book the authors have tried to indicate ways in which the teacher may approach the task of passing on what he had learned by his own experience. The theme is the search for objectives which will satisfy the needs of learner and teacher. The belief is that this search will benefit the future family practitioner and through him the community of his patients.
