

Bronchitis is back at school

But this winter Ceporex can help keep the classroom full. Ceporex Syrup from Glaxo contains cephalexin, the broad spectrum bactericidal antibiotic that has proved so successful in bronchitis. Children get on well with Ceporex Syrup which has a pleasant blackcurrant flavour and produces strikingly few side effects.

MEDICINE IN A TROPICAL ENVIRONMENT

Edited by A.G. Shaper, J.W. Kibukamusoke, M.S.R. Hutt.

Medicine in a Tropical Environment is intended for medical students and doctors working in tropical and developing countries. The essays bring together specific problems of the tropical environment which have been the subject of recent investigation, and the authors write on them from personal experience. Little of the material on which the essays are based was available more than five years ago. To doctors in temperate climates preparing themselves for medical work in developing parts of the world Medicine in a Tropical Environment is essential reading.

TALKING OF HOLIDAYS

To many people, the annual vacation is a time for relaxation, rest, bathing in the sun or sea and, above all, quietly letting the cares of the world float by unheeded. To other people, the vacation is a time for more energetic pursuits, either physical or intellectual. In this connection membership of the World Expeditionary Association (WEXAS) has much to offer. This Association was founded in 1962 "to encourage those with an inclination for adventurous travel to undertake enterprising projects abroad as people interested in learning from the experience to be gained from cultural, scientific and ethnic intercourse in a foreign environment. WEXAS offers something for everyone from the amateur traveller roughing it to the sophisticated explorer." Among the many advantages of membership are cheap air travel to most parts of the world.

It is inevitable that holidays this year are going to be even more costly than before and many countries, particularly on the Continent, have nearly priced themselves out of the market for many of the individualists who prefer to choose their own means of travel and select hotels according to their own taste. Alternatives have been found and many people have resorted to caravan touring and camping (luxury style) and, of course, to touring by car but not staying in the big resorts or towns. A careful study of a Michelin Guide can result in many first class hotels at reasonable prices being found off the main routes in beautiful areas that can still be classified as unspoilt.

A further alternative is renting a villa and this is now very popular especially for doctors with families. Staying in hotels can be very embarrassing at times when there are young children but apart from that, children do prefer the security and comfort of a place of their own. In most areas, maid service and baby sitters are part of the deal and even a cook may be employed. Villas can either be rented independently as many are advertised in the national press but a safe, reliable and cheaper way is through an agency or club when the cost includes travel. There seems to be a very wide variety of countries available—Spain, France, Sardinia,

In Portugal there is a particularly attractive Holiday Village at Albufeira in the Algarve. It is situated about two miles outside this small fishing town and half a mile from the magnificent sandy beach of Praia da Oura (Golden Beach). The village has been designed by Antonio Jacobetty, a well known Portuguese architect, in the traditional Moorish style. It includes a sauna bath, ladies hairdresser, tennis court, restaurant and other amenities. One can either choose a small or large villa or there are apartment houses available.

The Algarve is now much more accessible since an airport was opened at Faro, the capital, and although the province is relatively quite small, only having a coastline of about 150 miles, it is most attractive. There are many excellent beaches, rocky cliffs and bays and many hilly and mountainous areas in the north. It is relatively easy for the motorist to reach as there are car ferry services to Lisbon and naturally cars can be hired. The roads are good and not crowded and the little villages on the coast are quite a joy to see.

Albufeira Holiday Village

For the golfer there are three excellent Championship courses and residents at the local hotels either pay no green fees or there is a reduction of 25%. Two of the courses, the Penina and the Vale do Lobo, were designed by Henry Cotton and all three are reputed to be in the finest surroundings of any European country.

Many golfers would dispute this claim as there are some lovely courses in the United Kingdom and it is not everyone who wants to travel quite so far for a game.

Although many people prefer a more static holiday there is no gainsaying the continued popularity of cruising. The Mediterranean and the Greek islands are particularly in favour with stops at Istanbul, Haifa, Beirut, Dubrovnik and Alexandria appearing on a number of itineraries.

The ease and speed of air travel these days is quite fascinating and one rather takes for granted the fact of having an early breakfast at home and lunch at, for instance, the Hotel Rif in Tangier or one of the many first class hotels in Morocco or Tunisia.

Bleomcyin Lundbeck

A new oncolytic agent

Lundbeck announce the introduction of bleomycin, a new oncolytic agent which has been shown to have:

No toxic effect on the bone marrow.
No immunosuppressive action.

Bleomycin may be useful in the management of

1. Squamous cell carcinoma affecting the mouth, nasopharynx and paranasal sinuses, larynx, oesophagus, external genitalia or skin. Well differentiated tumours usually respond better than anaplastic ones.
2. Hodgkin's disease and other lymphomas including mycosis fungoides.
3. Testicular teratoma.

There have been no reports of cross resistance with other currently used oncolytic agents.

Dose: 15mg-30mg intramuscularly or intravenously to a total dose of up to 300mg depending on factors including the condition to be treated and the age of the patient.

Adverse reactions: Side effects which may occur include fever, anorexia, tiredness, nausea and the development of lesions of the skin or oral mucosa. Interstitial pneumonia may occur during, or occasionally, after a course of treatment. This condition may, on occasions, develop into fatal pulmonary fibrosis but such an occurrence is rare on recommended doses. Patients undergoing treatment should have chest X-rays taken weekly.

relieves insomnia while treating its cause

But what?

A hypnotic will certainly give her a good nights' sleep, but if she is one of those patients – and there are many of them – whose insomnia originates from anxiety/depression, sleep is all she'll get. The root cause of the condition will always remain untreated with the patient becoming more and more dependent on the medication. Moreover, the degree of this dependence is further heightened by the fact that, because they distort normal sleep patterns, all major hypnotics (and many antidepressants as well) can give rise to unpleasant symptoms upon withdrawal. Patients, therefore, feel most disinclined to discontinue a treatment which, although giving symptomatic relief, is not removing the cause of their condition. These people, in fact, need more than just "something" to help them sleep – they need 'Surmontil'.

- immediately restores sound natural sleep
- relieves daytime anxiety/depression
- avoids long-term hypnotic therapy by treating the underlying condition
- removes the risk of withdrawal problems due to REM suppression/rebound, and possible dependence encountered with both hypnotics and other major tricyclic antidepressants
- unlike a number of other antidepressants does not increase intra-sleep restlessness, thus its sleep-restoring properties are enhanced

NATIONAL HEALTH SERVICE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL FOR BUCKINGHAMSHIRE

MILTON KEYNES HEALTH SERVICES LIAISON COMMITTEE GENERAL MEDICAL SERVICES AT WOUGHTON MILTON KEYNES

Milton Keynes marks a new approach to the planning and provision of health care. From the beginning an integrated service will be provided, based on health centres supported by a district general hospital, of which the first phase (planned to start in 1974) will be a community hospital. It is hoped that general practitioners will be able to act as family doctors and in addition have the opportunity, if they wish, to develop their own particular specialist interests.

A general practitioner is now required to establish the first new practice in the city, in the Woughton area, adjacent to the site of the new district general hospital. A health centre serving an ultimate population of 42,000 is at present being planned and should open in 1974, temporary facilities being available from early 1973.

The post presents opportunities for developing general practice along modern lines, and includes a commitment to help with the planning and development of health services in the new city. It is hoped that the general practitioner appointed might assume some teaching responsibilities.

A type D Initial Practice Allowance, which takes the form of a guarantee that the doctor's income will be made up to an amount agreed with the Executive Council, will be payable, provided that the successful applicant has been qualified for about ten years, of which two have been in hospital appointments and five in a busy general practice in this country. He should be experienced in maternity work and be acceptable for the obstetric list.

Application forms and further information may be obtained from the Clerk, Executive Council for Buckinghamshire, Paterson House, Oxford Road, Aylesbury, Bucks.

The closing date for receipt of completed forms is 20th January, 1973. (H9802) 5

INDUSTRIAL APPOINTMENTS

Attention is drawn to the British Medical Association's statement of policy on the Remuneration of Industrial Medical Officers as approved by the Representative Body, which is available on request from the Secretary.

National Coal Board MEDICAL SERVICE

The Board invite applications for three vacancies as Deputy Area Medical Officers in the Yorkshire, Nottingham/Leicestershire and Lancashire/Staffordshire coalfields.

In view of the wide range of occupational hazards in the industry and the Board's firm policy of progressively improving the working environment, the doctor's role in the Medical Service is unusually challenging requiring competence both in clinical and preventive medicine. The Service is closely associated with the Institute of Occupational Medicine in Edinburgh.

The selected candidates will be given full training in occupational medicine and an opportunity to acquire a specialist qualification in this subject.

Starting salary will be dependent on ability and experience. The maximum of the range is £5,550 but all three posts carry prospects of promotion and are embodied in the Board's long term staffing plan.

Please reply in writing to the Director of Staff Administration, Room 202, Hobart House, Grosvenor Place, London, SW1X 7AE.

GOVERNMENTAL

Part-time Medical Advisers for the Employment Medical Advisory Service

There are further vacancies in the Employment Medical Advisory Service for part-time Medical Advisers and the Department of Employment invites applications for them from men and women.

Posts are expected to arise in the following locations, which are the bases from which the Advisers will work:—

Billingham	Northampton
Derby	Shrewsbury
Glasgow	Southampton
Lincoln	Swindon

Most part-time Advisers will work in groups with one or more full-time Advisers, although some will work alone. Hours of work will be 20 per week except at Lincoln where they will be 15. The duties will include investigations and formal surveys, advice about working conditions, and medical supervision of young people who are not fully fit for employment and of people undergoing training or rehabilitation. The work is wide-ranging and will take an Adviser into many different work-places, particularly factories and will require him to give advice on occupational medicine to workers (and their representatives) and employers, as well as maintaining liaison with medical practitioners and hospitals on the medical aspect of their patients' work.

Applicants (men or women) must be fully registered medical practitioners in the United Kingdom. Experience in industrial medicine or in allied subjects such as toxicology, pulmonary physiology or psychiatry is desirable and the possession of higher qualifications will be an advantage. A current driving licence is essential.

The salary will be pro rata (based on a 37 hour week) of the full-time Adviser's salary scale which is £4,313—£6,045 per annum. There is a non-contributory pension scheme for part-time staff working more than 18 hours per week.

For full details of these posts and an application form (to be returned by 13 January 1973) please write to Mr. C. H. Acres, Department of Employment (Est B3c), 12 St. James's Square, London SW1Y 4LL.

IS IT TRUE...

don't make aspirin any longer

If aspirin is the choice for chronic rheumatic patients, then longer action is the true criterion of aspirin. And no-one makes it any longer—in effectiveness—than Levius.

Longer sojourn—in the form of aspirin—for relief of day-time pain, with continuing comfort through the night. Sustained high level of total salicylate for anti-inflammatory effect, reducing stiffness and aching joints the following morning.

The Levius tablet rapidly disintegrates into 35,000 separately-encased microgranules, which release the aspirin at a controlled rate. With full dosage, high concentrations are avoided—greatly lowering the incidence of gastro-intestinal irritation, nausea and anorexia.

In the long term treatment of rheumatic diseases, few drugs have gained the wide acceptance of aspirin. And Levius is the logical extension of aspirin.
