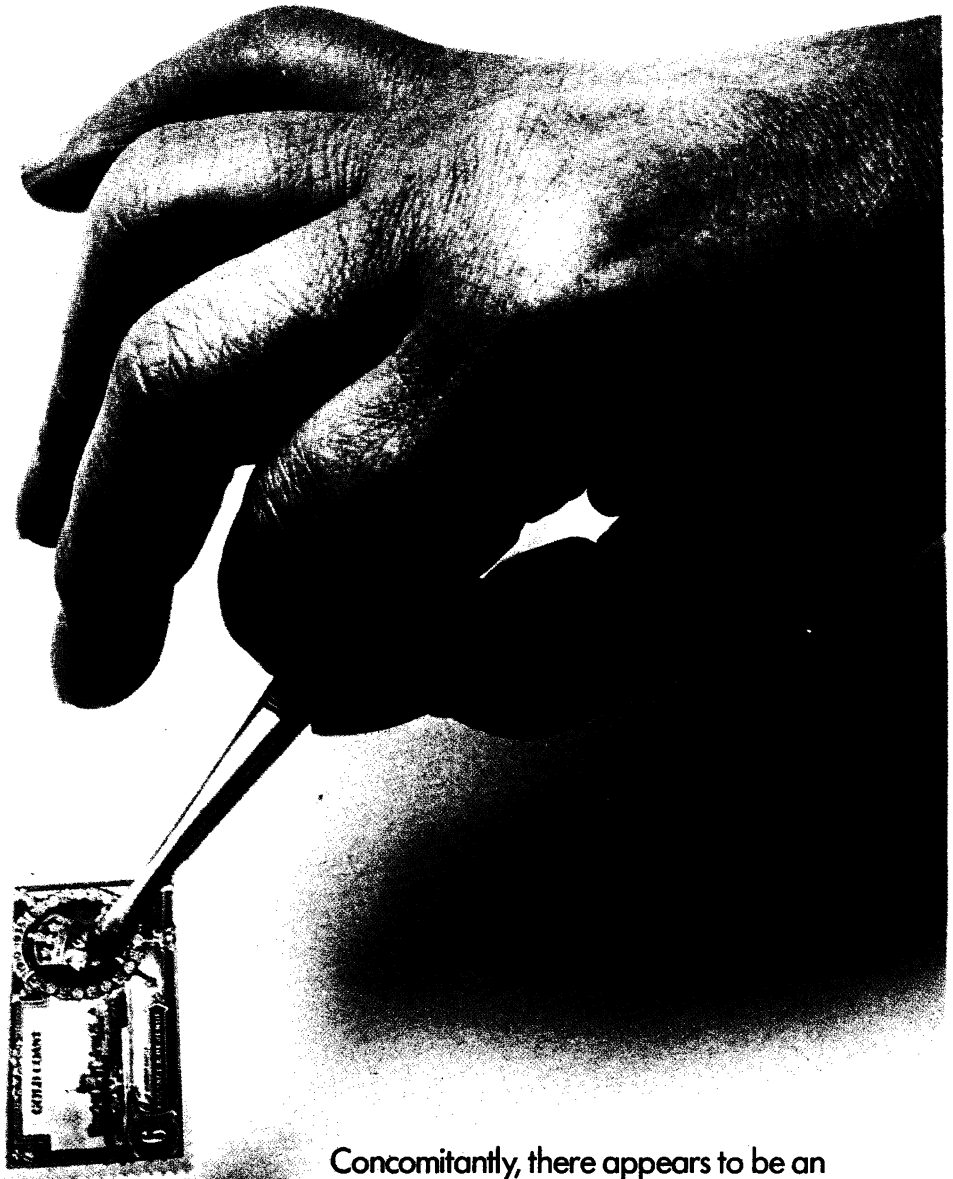
another little victory for Prinalgin



In rheumatoid arthritis, every small gain can increase the patient's pleasure in life. In this respect, the anti-rheumatic agent Prinalgin is showing itself to be an outstanding therapy.

Significant improvement of major physical indices such as grip strength and joint size is a major feature of Prinalgin therapy.

Concomitantly, there appears to be an antidepressant factor involved in Prinalgin therapy that re-awakens the psychic momentum of the patient.[1]

In a field where a little victory is really a big victory, shouldn't you be considering Prinalgin for your patients? 1. Lancet (1973), 1, 936.

HEART ATTACK!

Excessive anxiety–generated in the amygdala (orange spot) and transmitted into the body by the hypothalamus (red spot)–affects the cardiovascular system and may precipitate angina, heart failure, or even myocardial infarction in patients with pre-existing heart disease.

Nobrium relieves excessive anxiety by a precise action on the amygdala, the source of anxiety. It also damps the transmission of anxiety to the cardiovascular system by a supplementary action on the hypothalamus. This precise action is highly effective[1, 2] relieving associated anxiety[2] in over 90% of patients with cardiovascular disorders while causing few side effects.[2, 3]

The way I feel isn't funny.

If humour is twisting the ordinary to produce the unexpected, this man is an original. And a very funny man. But he's truly unhappy. His wit and humour are torn from a personality all too often racked by anxiety and depression.

He is well known, well loved and well thought of. But at such times none of this helps.

We are all aware of anxiety. The world is full of it. What we are only beginning to realise is how often it is linked with, or covers, a basic depression; how frequently an apparently anxious or depressed patient is, in fact, both.

Obviously, we must treat both the anxiety and the depression. That's why we need Limbitrol. Limbitrol combines an effective anxiolytic, Librium, with amitriptyline, a proven antidepressant. The patient feels the supportive benefit of the anxiolytic almost immediately. His depression begins to lift within days.

The General Practitioner Research Group used both drugs over a period of years as standards for comparison for newer psychotropic agents. They have concluded, 'None of the newer drugs that we have investigated has proved to be significantly better than the two standard drugs, namely: chlordiazepoxide in anxiety, and amitriptyline in depression'.[1]

A

For a full year without relapse, 12 tablets a day for up to 16 weeks*

The Practitioner

June 1973 Vol. 210 pp. 820 - 823

* This dosage regimen was established in a recent trial of Caved-S on patients all with intractable duodenal ulcer and a history of more than six relapses in the year prior to the trial. Of twenty patients receiving 12 Caved-S tablets a day for 16 weeks, 12 had no relapse in a full year's follow-up, and the other 8 had two or one relapse in the follow-up year. All these patients had actually been referred for surgery, but surgery was avoided in all cases. Another similar group of 20 patients received 8 Caved-S tablets a day for 8 weeks – the condition of patients selected was too serious for controls with a placebo. Of this second group 3 had no relapse, 7 up to two relapses, and 10 up to 4 relapses in a year's follow-up.

No significant side effects occurred. Only one patient discontinued treatment, and he later resumed treatment successfully.

The authors conclude:

"Caved-S . . . should be given in high dosage before surgery is attempted in patients with duodenal ulcer who fail to respond to a low dose or other treatments."

reduces hyperplasia of the respiratory mucosa.

MUCODYNE presents a completely different concept in the treatment of mucus congestion. Experimentally, it has been shown to reduce the pathological increase in mucus-producing cells. Clinically it reduces the volume of bronchial secretions and restores pathologically sticky mucus to a more normal consistency. A consistency that enables it to be removed more easily. And more quickly. Recent British evidence* has shown that MUCODYNE shifts sticky mucus 4 days faster than bromhexine. For your next congested patient therefore this mucodynamic action of MUCODYNE will mean relief comes that 4 days earlier.

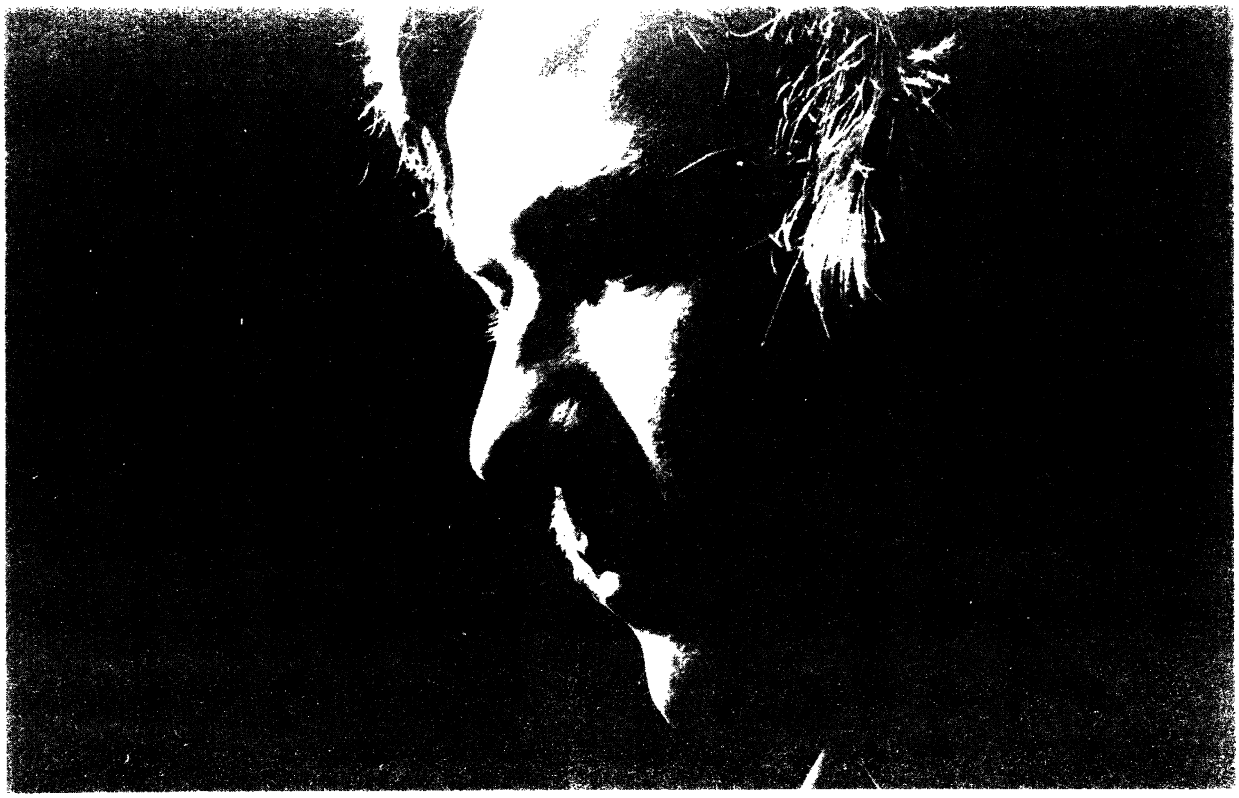
John Armstrong suffers from bouts of deep depression



He has psoriasis

Have you ever stopped to think what it is really like to be a psoriatic? Psoriasis is more than a skin disease. It is a terrible mental affliction, particularly for young people and can literally ruin their lives. Most forms of treatment are equally depressing.

Steroids under polythene? True the lesions may resolve rapidly but in almost all cases the rebound factor will bring back the psoriasis even more quickly and more severely. And the patient will rebound into your surgery with a questioning look after doing unspeakable things to himself in a youth hostel – or trying to lead a normal love life in a plastic bag!

Coal Tar? Anointing oneself with smelly tar is even less appealing.

Dithranol? Certainly very effective treatment, but patients jib at the burning and particularly the staining which makes the lesions even more noticeable while under treatment.

The Advantages of Exolan Treatment Exolan attacks the psoriatic lesions with the striking effectiveness of dithranol but without its unpleasant side effects of burning and staining.

Exolan has been available for years as a paste and a cream – and now, in response to the suggestions of dermatologists – Exolan has been formulated as a Lotion, particularly for those patients with dry scaly lesions, lesions of the scalp, and of the flexures, where a soothing emollient effect is required.

Exolan Lotion could make your surgery a less depressing place for you and your patient.

Exolan (triacetoxyanthracene) is available as a Paste, as a Cream and as a Lotion.

Auntie remembers– taking her Lucidril.

Forgetfulness presents itself in many ways in old age–for example, a patient often forgets when and how much to take of any prescribed medication.

Lucidril can help a patient's memory by an action that does not depend on improving the blood supply to the brain.

Lucidril starts the old brain working again–along different lines. Firstly, it stimulates the metabolism of the brain, probably through different pathways. Secondly, it removes the lipofuscin pigments which are a concomitant of old age and which may impair cellular metabolism.

Lucidril thus improves mental function; as a recent clinical paper has pointed out:*

"These preliminary results [with Lucidril] are encouraging, because they indicate that the intellectual impairment exhibited by such patients may be reversible, even when the underlying causes are presumably of an organic nature, such as cerebral arteriosclerosis."

Lucidril 300 contains 300 mg. meclofenoxate hydrochloride. Product Licence Number 0098/5002. Lucidril is a trade mark.

Excellent in chil

Amoxil is an excellent antibiotic for the commonly occurring bacterial infections in children. For a start, Amoxil is pleasant to take. The citrus-flavoured syrup or paediatric suspension pleases even the fussiest of patients.

Then Amoxil can get to work. Its broad spectrum of bactericidal activity and outstanding oral absorption[1] ensure the high serum levels necessary for a rapid response. In fact, just three daytime doses give 24 hour therapeutic effect.

It is not surprising, therefore, that Amoxil's extensive clinical trials have proved it so reliable: a recent study[2], involving 150 children, demonstrated a success rate of 94%.

Add to this Amoxil's penicillin safety and low treatment cost and you really have an excellent antibiotic for children – and for grown-ups too.

Further information on Amoxil (regd) is available from Bencard, Freepost, Brentford, England.

Bencard

Bencard inject commonsense into the treatment of hay fever

New Pollinex is commonsense because it offers all the benefits of the immunological approach to the treatment of hay fever in a streamlined and simplified form.

Pollinex contains modified extracts of the twelve grass pollens which cause most hay fever in Britain – modified, by a unique process. The result is that unwanted side-effects are to a large extent eliminated, without affecting the stimulation of antibody production which protects the patient against hay fever.

The modified active material is adsorbed on to a natural base which is fully metabolised in the body. The result is simpler, safer, prevention of hay fever.

Only three injections

Only three injections are required, and pre-filled disposable syringes ensure trouble-free administration and accuracy of dosage.

Simplicity with safety

With simplicity goes safety.

The active material in Pollinex is released slowly but completely for maximum efficiency and minimum risk of side-effects.

Preventive therapy

With Pollinex the immunological approach to the treatment of hay fever becomes a really practical proposition, so many more patients experience the relief which comes from preventive therapy.

Pollinex is prescribable on form E.C.10 and is available from stock. An illustrated booklet with full information on Pollinex (regd.) is available from

The end of the horsedrawn era.

New HUMOTET* Human Tetanus Immunoglobulin is now available, and offers patients at risk the proven[1,2,3] superiority, efficacy and reliability of homologous human serum over equine tetanus antitoxin.

A single dose of HUMOTET gives a protective level of tetanus antitoxin for four weeks. Anaphylaxis is practically non-existent, and local sensitivity reactions, or constitutional disturbances, are rare, transient and never serious.

HUMOTET is also eminently suitable for use in combined passive and active immunization with Adsorbed Tetanus Vaccine.

"The advantages of homologous antitoxin over heterologous serum are so outstanding that one must seriously question the justification for continued use of the latter".[1]

When bronchitis causes concern

In acute-on-chronic bronchitis and other severe chest infections, you can be more certain of first-time success when you prescribe Magnapen.

Magnapen's greater certainty means that the patient is more likely to respond quickly, minimising the damage to lung tissue. And Magnapen can save you the time which you might otherwise have to spend on repeat visits, second consultations or night calls to patients who may fail to respond to other antibiotics.

Magnapen destroys virtually all the bacteria met in general practice. So you can rely on Magnapen even when there are no laboratory reports to guide you.

* Figures from 1971 National Food Survey

Our daily bread is often underestimated as an essential source of goodness and nourishment.

In the average national diet (according to the 1971 National Food Survey), bread plays a key part, providing over one-sixth of a person's daily protein and iron intake; over one-fifth the daily thiamine; and nearly one-sixth the daily calcium, niacin and energy value.

This means, of course, that the importance of including bread in one's diet should never be underestimated. To cut out bread, even when slimming, may produce an unsatisfactory diet. For health's sake, it's worth recommending bread in every diet.

Penny for penny, bread provides nearly twice as much protein as cheese, and nearly three times that of white fish or beef. Which makes our daily bread one of the best food bargains in the world.

AMINO ACID METABOLISM AND ITS DISORDERS

(Major Problems in Clinicial Pediatrics—Volume X)

The foundation for this work is in the amino-acidopathies section of Duncan's Diseases of Metabolism in which the two authors contributed. However, much new material has been developed for the monograph and the presentation has been altered to appeal primarily to the paediatrician. Units have been added on genetic principles pertinent to amino-acid metabolism, the effect of nutritional state, effects of hormonal events and circadian rhythm on the amino-acid steady-state in the plasma, membrane transport and vitamin-responsive amino-acidopathies.

OUTPATIENT SURGERY

Heavily illustrated, this book encompasses all areas of minor surgery. Special emphasis in placed on such vital areas of treatment as acute surgical emergencies and the preoperative evaluation and the postoperative management of the outpatient. Besides dealing with traditional concepts, the author and his twenty collaborators feature the most recent advances in the field. Since the boundaries of surgical specialities are less distinct in outpatient practice, the book is able to present all of this area's specialities.

Eaton & Ferrucci:

RADIOLOGY OF THE PANCREAS AND DUODENUM

(Saunders Monographs in Clinical Radiology—Volume III)

The authors and their collaborators have created a superb problem-oriented approach to radiographic investigation of duodenal and pancreatic disease. It emphasises the anatomic and functional inter-relationships of pancreatico-biliary-duodenal area and covers newer special procedures such as angiography, scanning, and ultrasound, as well as conventional radiographic techniques. The authors describe indications, interpretation, and accuracy figures for various radiographic approaches and the text is so extensively illustrated that it will serve as an atlas-like review to this diagnostically complex area.

By S. Boyd Eaton, Jr., MD, Associate Clinical Professor, Emory University School of Medicine, Atlanta, Georgia and Joseph T. Ferrucci, Jr., MD, Assistant Professor of Radiology, Harvard Medical School, Boston, Massachusetts.

Chase:

ATLAS OF HAND SURGERY

A de luxe atlas made up of 95 individual "lessons" (or chapters) grouped under ten major headings and covering the entire field of hand surgery. Large operative drawings are placed within the text, exactly where the discussion refers to them, so that there are no separate legends. Each lesson consists of a surgical principle and a case example, with sometimes a further discussion and most of the time a set of preoperative and postoperative photographs. Cross-references are used to effectively render limitless the number of step-by-step procedures that can be explained and understood with this atlas.

By Robert A. Chase, MD, Stanford University School of Medicine.

Director

Medical Research Council
Demyelinating Diseases Unit

The Medical Research Council are seeking a Director for their Demyelinating Diseases Unit at Newcastle upon Tyne.

The Unit is situated within the grounds of the Newcastle General Hospital, close to the Regional Neurological Centre. It is at present engaged on a wide-ranging programme of research into the demyelinating diseases, particularly multiple sclerosis. It is hoped that work on these diseases will continue to form a significant part of the Unit's research. The Council are, however, anxious to maintain and develop their research effort in the general area of clinical neurology and the precise scope of the Unit's future programme would be a matter for discussion between the Director and the Council.

The person appointed as Director must have an established reputation as a scientific investigator in his own specialist field and evident ability to manage a research team. While he need not necessarily be medically qualified he will be expected to have a wide general interest in the application of fundamental research to clinical neurological problems and to establish collaborative links with clinicians in this field.

The Council attach great importance to maintaining and developing the Unit's association with relevant academic departments in the University of Newcastle upon Tyne, in particular the Department of Neurology, and with the clinical neurological department of the University Hospital Group. Arrangements for collaborative work with such departments will be a matter for negotiation between the Council and the University – with the participation of the Director and in the light of his research interests.

If the Director's work makes it possible for him to hold an honorary clinical contract and this is awarded at consultant level, he will be paid on the MRC clinical scale at a suitable point in the NHS consultant grade (maximum at present £7599 p.a.). If the holding of a clinical contract is not appropriate, the Director will be paid at MRC non-clinical rates at a suitable point in the range up to £7641 p.a. Superannuation provision under the Federated Superannuation Scheme for Universities.

Applications should be submitted not later than 21 January 1974 in the form of a statement of about 400 words outlining in general terms the scientific programme that the applicant would wish to undertake and indicating the type of staff and other facilities required, together with a curriculum vitae and list of publications, to the Secretary, Medical Research Council, 20 Park Crescent, London W1N 4AL. Further particulars may be obtained from Mr. P. G. Daly, at the same address (or telephone 01-636 5422 ext. 101).

OPPORTUNITIES WITH HOECHST

Medical Director

HOLLAND

We are looking for a Physician interested in therapeutics to head the Medical Department of the Pharmaceutical Division of Hoechst in Holland. The ideal person will be aged 28—35 and will already be a Member or Fellow of a Royal College.

The work is primarily concerned with the clinical evaluation of new drugs, from the stage of their first introduction to patients, and these activities will be co-ordinated within the research effort of the North Western European Countries. This will necessitate close and frequent contact with other Hoechst Medical Departments, e.g. in the United Kingdom and Germany. The person appointed will also be involved with established compounds, and will be expected to initiate appropriate research projects to determine their total pharmacological profile and to resolve therapeutic problems as they arise from time to time. He will become an expert on the company's products.

He will also be expected to participate actively in drug registration and information activities. The latter includes interpreting current medical attitudes to his non-medical colleagues within the company, and interpreting data concerning the company's products in a way readily understood by those outside. He will also co-operate with the Marketing Manager, regarding aspects of marketing and promotion.

This post is ideal for someone possessing an academic background but who has his feet on the ground, who has initiative and enthusiasm, but who can be part of a multi-discipline team.

Where appropriate, training for the successful candidate in clinical pharmacology at a university department could be arranged. A knowledge of Dutch is not necessary, although it would be useful, but facilities to learn Dutch will be provided.

The Medical Director will live in or near The Hague, or Amsterdam (where the company is located), will be provided with a car, and there will be assistance with moving and with housing.

This post offers intellectual satisfaction, occasional international travel and substantial financial rewards.

This is a splendid opportunity to join Hoechst, one of the world's largest chemical and pharmaceutical companies.

Clinical Pharmacologist

UNITED KINGDOM

We are looking for a Physician with some experience in clinical pharmacology to investigate the absorption, metabolism and excretion of novel compounds at our new Research Establishment in Milton Keynes.

The Physician will be either male or female, ideally aged between 28 and 35, and will already be a Member or Fellow of a Royal College. Although initially the work will be primarily concerned with pharmacokinetics, it is envisaged that there will be an increasing interest in pharmacodynamics.

Close liaison with those personnel performing similar research in animals and also with those in the Development Laboratory will be an essential feature of this post. Moreover, the Physician will be a member of an enthusiastic medical team which will later evaluate the same products in patients.

There will be an initial training period of several weeks in which the appointed doctor will visit company headquarters in Frankfurt to work in the Clinical Pharmacology Laboratory there.

The research effort is international and it is within this international context that the team works.

This is a fascinating opportunity for a doctor to join an existing new venture at the very beginning, a venture supported by Hoechst, one of the largest chemical companies in the world.

A competitive starting salary will be offered and the excellent benefits include an annual bonus, contributory pension scheme and free membership of Private Patients Plan.

Please write, in strictest confidence, giving full details of career to date, to:

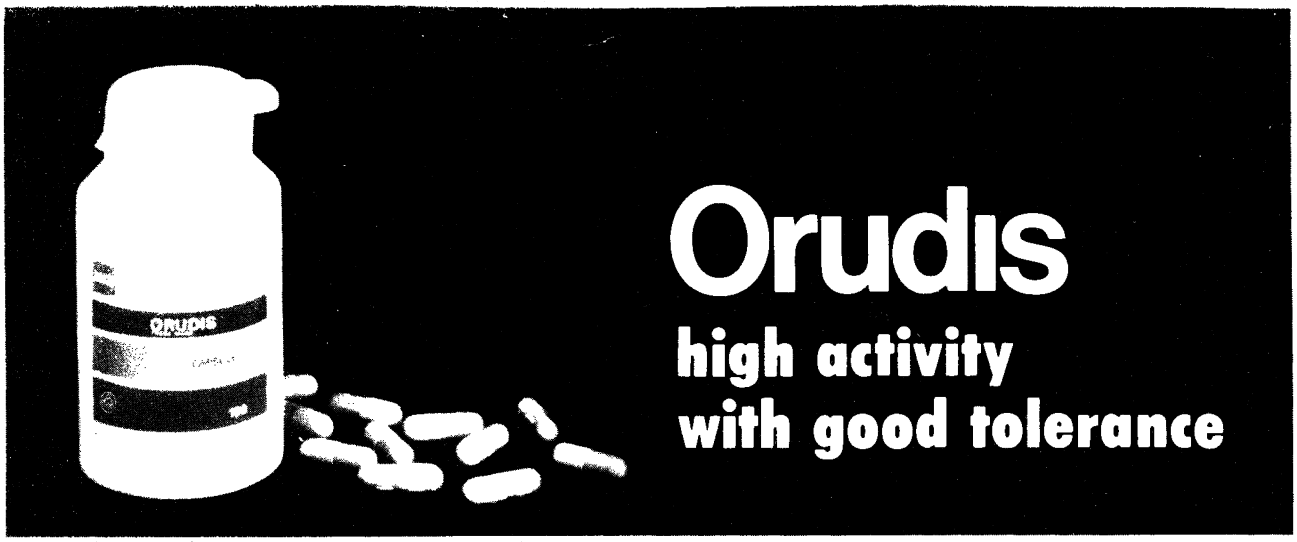
supplied as capsules of 50 mg in easy-to-open containers



Prescribing information

Indications

'Orudis' is a potent non-steroidal, anti-inflammatory analgesic agent. It is an inhibitor of prostaglandin synthesis.

'Orudis' is recommended in the management of the rheumatic diseases:

rheumatoid arthritis
osteoarthrosis
ankylosing spondylitis gout
other forms of non-infectious arthropathy acute articular and periarticular disorders – bursitis, tendinitis, synovitis, tenosynovitis, capsulitis of the shoulder painful musculo-skeletal conditions.

Administration and dosage

'Orudis' is administered orally and should always be taken with food.

Dosage is usually one capsule (50 mg) three times daily. This dosage may be increased to one capsule four times daily or decreased to one capsule twice daily depending on the size and condition of the patient and on the severity of the disease.

Side-effects and precautions

No serious side-effects have been reported.

Symptoms of dyspepsia have occurred in a small percentage of patients and, in some such instances, a reduction of dosage has been helpful. 'Orudis' should always be prescribed "To be taken with food".

Skin rashes have been rare.

In common with other anti-inflammatory agents, 'Orudis' should be used with caution in patients with a history of peptic ulcer and in those with impaired hepatic function.

No embryopathic effects have been recorded but it is a sound medical principle to exercise caution in prescribing any medication during the first trimester of pregnancy.

Presentation

Capsules each containing 50 mg ketoprofen, in packs of 100 and 500. The capsules are bi-coloured (opaque green/opaque purple), each half printed ORUDIS 50 in white.

Basic NHS cost (as at November 1973)
25 capsules of 50 mg £1·14

GOOD NEWS FOR CHRONIC BRONCHITICS

Bactrim Roche

In April 1973 an article[1] in The Practitioner showed that Bactrim Roche – already an established treatment for acute exacerbations of chronic bronchitis superior to ampicillin,[2] the tetracyclines[3,4] and cephalexin[5] – can also play a valuable role in the long-term management of that condition.

Another victim of Angina ...years before his time

The pain of angina continues long after angina has ceased to be a problem.

But, do people die from angina?

Strictly speaking no. Angina is a symptom but in most cases it is a symptom of the fatal condition ischaemic heart disease.

About 25% of angina patients are likely to have a coronary within 5 years of diagnosis and the prognosis beyond that is extremely poor.[4]

Pain killers alleviate the symptoms but do nothing to the underlying disease.

In three long-term studies [1,2,3] 'Atromid'-S (clofibrate) reduced the death-rate in angina patients by 55%, 62% and 67% respectively as well as reducing the infarction rate by 39 and 44% [1,2].

"A good deal of attention is justifiably given to relieving symptoms and increasing exercise tolerance in angina patients.

However, even more important is secondary prevention aimed at reducing the high likelihood of a myocardial infarction and premature death."[4]

WHEN THE DIET IS SHORT OF POTASSIUM...

...THE ELDERLY NEED

'SLOW-K'

The diet of elderly patients is often grossly deficient in potassium. Surveys of potassium status in the elderly have shown the incidence of hypokalaemia to be up to 10%.[1] Even if patients can afford to buy foods such as fresh fruit and green vegetables, there is no guarantee that they will do so.

'Slow-K' provides an economical and reliable means of administering potassium to such patients. Over 12 years' clinical usage has confirmed its excellent tolerability and complete absorption of potassium.
