when cough complicates the cold

Cough Suppressant

BENAFED reduces the frequency and severity of coughing through the actions of Benadryl* and dextromethorphan, the most widely used non-narcotic antitussive.

BENAFED reduces the cough-triggering post-nasal drip, decongests the sinuses and relieves nasal stuffiness through the action of pseudoephedrine.

BENAFED exerts an effective expectorant action through recognised expectorant agents ammonium chloride and sodium citrate which help to loosen tenacious sputum.

BENAFED makes breathing easier through the bronchodilatory actions of Benadryl* and pseudoephedrine without the marked central-stimulant action of ephedrine.

Each 5 ml. syrup contains: Diphenhydramine Hydrochloride B.P. 12.5 mg. Dextromethorphan Hydrobromide B.P. 15 mg. Pseudoephedrine Hydrochloride B.P.C. 30 mg. Ammonium Chloride B.P. 125 mg. Sodium Citrate B.P. 57 mg. Chloroform B.P. 20 mg. Menthol B.P. 1 mg.

Stemetil

"... a tranquillizer of distinct value ..."<sup>1</sup>

Prompt, positive restoration of calm without drowsiness or any dulling of mental powers. For the worried patient who must continue to cope with daily routine 'Stemetil'* brings significant benefits indeed.

As a highly efficient tranquillizer with well-known antinauseant properties too, 'Stemetil' rapidly breaks the stranglehold of anxiety, fear and tension and provides immediate control of associated physical symptoms.<sup>1,2</sup>

As an anxiolytic that calms and relaxes with no adverse effects on alertness or thinking powers,<sup>3</sup> 'Stemetil' successfully relieves an incapacitating condition without producing incapacitation of a different kind.

'Stemetil' is effective in low dosages, causes few, if any, problems of tolerance and carries no risk of habituation. It makes good economic sense too, treatment costing on average just 2p per day.

Prescribing information

Indications

'Orudis' is a potent non-steroidal, anti-inflammatory analgesic agent. It is an inhibitor of prostaglandin synthesis.

'Orudis' is recommended in the management of the rheumatic diseases:

rheumatoid arthritis
osteoarthritis ankylosing spondylitis gout

other forms of non-infectious arthropathy acute articular and periarticular disorders – bursitis, tendinitis, synovitis, tenosynovitis, capsulitis of the shoulder painful musculo-skeletal conditions.

Administration and dosage

'Orudis' is administered orally and *should always be taken with food.

Dosage is usually one capsule (50 mg) three times daily. This dosage may be increased to one capsule four times daily or decreased to one capsule twice daily depending on the size and condition of the patient and on the severity of the disease.

Side-effects and precautions

No serious side-effects have been reported. Symptoms of dyspepsia have occurred in a small percentage of patients and, in some such instances, a reduction of dosage has been helpful. 'Orudis' should always be prescribed "To be taken with food".

Skin rashes have been rare.

In common with other anti-inflammatory agents, 'Orudis' should be used with caution in patients with a history of peptic ulcer and in those with impaired hepatic function.

No embryopathic effects have been recorded but it is a sound medical principle to exercise caution in prescribing any medication during the first trimester of pregnancy.

Presentation

Capsules each containing 50 mg ketoprofen, in packs of 100 and 500. The capsules are bi-coloured (opaque green/opaque purple), each half printed ORUDIS 50 in white.

Basic NHS cost (as at November 1973)
25 capsules of 50 mg £1.14
(ex dispensing pack)

NEW REPORT

non-ergotamine migraine treatment SHOULD BE TRIED FIRST!

This was the conclusion to the report of a trial in which Migraleve was compared with an ergotamine/cyclizine tablet in the treatment of 59 patients with well defined symptoms of migraine.

Both preparations were effective in relieving the symptoms of migraine, but vomiting was less severe with Migraleve - calling into question the use of ergot preparations, particularly in view of the limited period over which they could be administered with safety. In contrast, therapy with Migraleve can be continued as long as necessary.<sup>1</sup>

This confirms the results of an earlier trial<sup>2</sup> which showed that 65% of regular ergotamine users preferred Migraleve and that Migraleve successfully treated the migraine attack in 79% of patients.

With Migraleve, many migraine sufferers feel that for the first time in the history of their condition they have something which is effective in averting or relieving their attacks. A typical response to a first trial with Migraleve is . . .

" RELIEF! Only a fellow migraine sufferer can appreciate what it means! "

BRUFEN
BENEFIT

Brufen has the powerful analgesic and anti-inflammatory properties needed to relieve the pain, stiffness and swelling of arthritis. There is now little doubt that Brufen is the best tolerated of the available antirheumatic drugs.

Experience has shown that at least 7 out of every 10 arthritic patients on Brufen improve as judged by both subjective and objective criteria. It has been well demonstrated that patients prefer Brufen to other drugs.

Given at the recommended dosage, Brufen can do much for those who suffer with arthritis.

Brufen is ibuprofen, available as tablets containing 200 mg and as a Suspension containing 100 mg in each 5 ml. Full information from The Boots Company Ltd., Nottingham.

Prothiaden quickly breaks the web of depressive illness

Rarely does one encounter a depressed patient who does not also show definite signs of anxiety. A common problem for the prescriber. 'Tranquillizer? Anti-depressant? Or both?

Buttered toast —the big question

By ALAN MASSAM

LOTS OF BUT TOAST WITH butterings of butter may be beneficial. But is it good for you?

Animal fat is a killer, says doctor

Western Daily Press features the doctor's views on the health benefits of butter.

Margarine to prevent coronaries?

Finland has the highest incidence of coronary heart disease in the world—in an effort to reduce the death rate subjects with polyunsaturated fat diets.

Egg'n bacon 'can kill'

In hospital N, for males on the experimental diet, coronary disease death rates were 5.72 compared with the ordinary diet figure of 12.57. For coronary disease, the figures were 5.56 compared with 5.77. For stroke, in hospital K, the figures were 7.50 compared with 15.18 and 4.28 compared with 4.01.

For females, in hospital N the respective figures were 3.96/2.74 and 6.69/4.58 and in hospital K, 6.46/5.86 and 5.13/4.25.

Mortality from other causes had to be considered. Turpinson and colleagues concluded that there was no important difference in mortality between the two groups. The subjects were not normal or experienced and the study was not a randomised trial.

The validity of diet as a means of lowering serum cholesterol was considered proved.

There was no support in the investigation for a previous report that a cholesterol-lowering diet reduces the incidence of coronary disease.

Dramatic drop in coronaries following polyunsaturate diet

ONE of the first really long-term studies to investigate the effects of cholesterol-lowering diets on mortality and morbidity from coronary heart disease has recently been carried out by the Department of Biochemistry, Institute of Cardiovascular Health, Helsinki.

Health risk in butter and eggs?

By ALAN MASSAM

A DOCTOR claimed that the health benefits of butter and eggs may be overrated. Government health warnings against saturated fats in milk and meat may be premature. The doctor, Dr. J. Vartiainen, of the University of Helsinki, Finland, said that the health benefits of butter and eggs may be overrated. He said that the health benefits of butter and eggs may be overrated. He said that the health benefits of butter and eggs may be overrated.

Eventually, after several months the total body fat, obtained by needle biopsy, showed that body fat closely approximated to dietary fat. Much more quickly, however, the lipids changed.

The incidence of new episodes of coronary heart disease fell dramatically over the first years compared with the hospital that stood on the traditional hospital fare.

After six years the two hospitals were switched around and another set of figures obtained that can be summarised thus:

Which Hospital	Test diet	Normal diet
Kellokoski Hospital	Normal diet	Test diet
Kellokoski Hospital	Normal diet	Test diet

Animal fats: a warning of diet, also tested from. Better filled, possibly, with the hospital of the survey. Professor J.

fresh light on the intimate way in which polyunsaturates may act biochemically.

"Our studies lead us to believe that the actual thrombotic episode in coronary disease may be due to a relative deficiency of linoleic acid," he told BMJ. "This acts in such a way as to inhibit the intrathrombotic production of prostaglandin E<sub>2</sub>."

E<sub>2</sub> normally has a pronounced anticoagulant effect. But if the important polyunsaturated fat, linoleic acid, is deficient, no substitute will do.

So it looks as though...

It is safer to eat Flora

Few people now discount the relationship between saturated fats, high blood cholesterol levels and coronary heart disease.

Many authorities would argue that some substitution of polyunsaturated fats for saturated fats in normal diet may reduce the risk of coronary heart disease. And, because of its cholesterol-reducing properties, Flora is particularly effective in the dietary treatment of some hyperlipidaemias.

Where the risk of heart disease is present — Flora margarine makes very good advice.

Flora Highest in polyunsaturated fats.

At least 50% of Flora's fat content is linoleic essential fatty acid. Flora has a fat content of not less than 80% of the total product and is sold in half pound tubs.

She thinks she's ugly.

She changes her outfits nine times before a personal appearance. And often has whole days when she feels too ugly to be seen.

She cries when she forgets her lines; feels unfulfilled as an actress, empty and abandoned as a woman. She is terrified of losing her looks, persecutes her husband with trivialities, is a constant emotional burden to her friends.

She has fame, fortune and adulation, yet she is chronically anxious and depressed.

Today, we are aware of the pervasive nature of anxiety. What we are only beginning to realise is how often it is associated with depression and the need to treat both.

Limbitrol combines an effective anxiolytic Librium with amitriptyline, a proven antidepressant. The patient feels the supportive benefit of the anxiolytic almost immediately. Her depression begins to lift within days.

The General Practitioner Research Group used both drugs over a period of years as standards for comparison for newer psychotropic agents. They have concluded, 'None of the newer drugs that we have investigated has proved to be significantly better than the two standard drugs, namely: chlordiazepoxide in anxiety, and amitriptyline in depression!'

M.Sc. Social Medicine

The next academic course leading to the Higher Degree of Master of Science in Social Medicine, in the Faculty of Medicine of the University of London, will start on 30th September, 1974 and extend over two calendar years. The course provides professional training for doctors wishing to become Community Medicine Specialists and follow careers in

Health-Services Administration or Teaching and Research

The training has been designed to prepare the graduate for the variety of medical administrative posts in the reorganized National Health Service, including the development of its special services and information systems. There is a widespread shortage of university teachers of social medicine which it is hoped that the Course will also help to meet. The Course is an integrated one of statistics — epidemiology — social and behavioural sciences (jointly with London School of Economics) — principles of management and innovation in relation to policies and services for the promotion of health, prevention and control of disease, and medical and social care. During the second year each student is attached to an academic or service unit in order to gain practical experience particularly in the application of epidemiological methods: this experience is also related to intended future career.

Application has been made to the Faculty of Community Medicine for recognition of the Course and Degree as exempting from Part I of the examination for Membership, and it is anticipated that the project work undertaken in the second year will similarly qualify.

Applicants must be medically qualified with at least 2 years' clinical experience post-registration.

Bursaries at the level of Registrars' or Senior Registrars' emoluments are available to suitable candidates from the Department of Health and Social Security, and others from the Medical Research Council. "Trainee" appointments, with initial secondment to the Course, may also be arranged with particular Regional Boards. The Course is whole-time.

Further details and application forms may be obtained from the Registrar, London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, Keppel Street (Gower Street), London WC1E 7HT, to whom applications for admission should be addressed before 15th February, 1974. Interviewing will begin in January. (21293) 4

The Future General Practitioner

Learning and Teaching

General or family practice is a special subject. This book is written by six experienced teachers selected by the Council of the Royal College of General Practitioners. It is intended chiefly for teachers, but it will also be valuable to those who are learning and to all who are concerned about the place of family practice within a country's medical services.

A syllabus is developed in five main parts:

- Health and Diseases
- Human Development
- Human Behaviour
- Medicine and Society
- The Practice

Throughout the book the authors have tried to indicate ways in which the teacher may approach the task of passing on what he had learned by his own experience. The theme is the search for objectives which will satisfy the needs of learner and teacher. The belief is that this search will benefit the future family practitioner and through him the community of his patients.

1973 British Trial Evidence

"Our results seem to indicate a real, if modest, gain by these elderly patients in their ability to cope with everyday life . . . In the virtual absence of side effects, this suggests that Cyclospasmol is a safe and effective therapy in cerebral arteriosclerosis."

'Treatment of the Cerebral Manifestations of Arteriosclerosis with Cyclandelate', to be published in British Journal of Psychiatry.

"We would make the point that early treatment of patients who are believed to be suffering from minor cerebrovascular disorder may be the most appropriate cases for treatment with Cyclospasmol."

Bronchitis is harming his education

Every G.P. knows the problem of the 'chesty' child.

Every winter it's the same. He loses days, even weeks from school because of bronchitis.

Ceporex Syrup helps the 'chesty' child beat bronchitis. Because Ceporex Syrup contains cephalexin, a broad spectrum bactericidal antibiotic with a high proven success rate in bronchitis.

But unpleasant side effects, such as teeth-staining, rashes and diarrhoea, so often a problem with some antibiotics, are extremely rare with Ceporex Syrup.

This winter you can help the 'chesty' child because

Bencard inject commonsense into the treatment of hay fever

New Pollinex is commonsense because it offers all the benefits of the immunological approach to the treatment of hay fever in a streamlined and simplified form.

Pollinex contains modified extracts of the twelve grass pollens which cause most hay fever in Britain – modified, by a unique process. The result is that unwanted side-effects are to a large extent eliminated, without affecting the stimulation of antibody production which protects the patient against hay fever.

The modified active material is adsorbed on to a natural base which is fully metabolised in the body. The result is simpler, safer, prevention of hay fever.

Only three injections

Only three injections are required, and pre-filled disposable syringes ensure trouble-free administration and accuracy of dosage.

Simplicity with safety

With simplicity goes safety.

The active material in Pollinex is released slowly but completely for maximum efficiency and minimum risk of side-effects.

Preventive therapy

With Pollinex the immunological approach to the treatment of hay fever becomes a really practical proposition, so many more patients experience the relief which comes from preventive therapy.

Pollinex is prescribable on form E.C.10 and is available from stock. An illustrated booklet with full information on Pollinex (regd.) is available from Bencard, Freepost, Brentford, Middlesex.
