

The kind of power you need in arthritis.

Prescribing Information

Presentation: NAPROSYN (naproxen) is a non-steroidal anti-inflammatory agent, developed by Syntex Research. It is unrelated to salicylates or the corticosteroid hormones. It is presented as a yellow half-scored tablet containing 250 mg of naproxen, inscribed NAPROSYN on one side, and SYNTEX on the other.

Indications: NAPROSYN is indicated for the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, osteoarthritis (degenerative arthritis) and ankylosing spondylitis.

NAPROSYN has been shown to have striking anti-inflammatory properties when tested in classical animal test systems. In addition, it has marked analgesic and anti-pyretic actions. It exhibits its anti-inflammatory effect even in adrenalectomised animals, indicating that its action is not mediated through the pituitary-adrenal axis. It inhibits prostaglandin synthetase, as do other non-steroidal anti-inflammatory agents. As with other agents, however, the exact mechanism of its anti-inflammatory action is not known.

Dosage and Administration: The recommended starting dose (and usual maintenance dose) of NAPROSYN is 250 mg twice daily, usually given with the morning meal and about 12 hours later. Dosage adjustment within the range of 375 mg to 750 mg daily, maintaining twice-daily administration, may be required for long-term maintenance.

As safety and efficacy studies in children are not yet complete, the product is currently not recommended for use in children under 16 years of age.

Contra-indications: There are no known absolute contra-indications.

Special Precautions and Warnings: NAPROSYN has been found to be well tolerated by patients exhibiting dyspepsia with other similar agents. Nonetheless, episodes of gastro-intestinal bleeding have been reported in patients with NAPROSYN therapy. NAPROSYN should be given under close supervision to patients with a history of gastro-intestinal disease.

Due to the high plasma protein binding of NAPROSYN, patients simultaneously receiving hydantoins, anti-coagulants or a highly protein-bound sulphonamide should be observed for signs of over-dosage.

Occasional skin rashes and angio-oedema have been reported. Patients who have exhibited aspirin hypersensitivity in the past (usually as the angio-oedema/asthma syndrome) may exhibit the same phenomenon on NAPROSYN.

The following additional occurrences have been reported with NAPROSYN but a causal relationship to NAPROSYN has not been established: abdominal discomfort, epigastric distress, headache, inability to concentrate, insomnia, thrombocytopenia, tinnitus, vertigo.

Sporadic abnormalities in laboratory tests (e.g. liver function tests) have occurred in patients on NAPROSYN therapy but no definite trend was seen in any test indicating toxicity.

Mild peripheral oedema has been observed in a few patients receiving NAPROSYN. Although sodium retention has not been reported in metabolic studies, it is possible that patients with questionable or compromised cardiac function may be at greater risk when taking NAPROSYN.

Teratology studies in rats and rabbits, at dose levels equivalent on a human multiple basis to those which have produced foetal abnormality with certain other non-steroidal anti-inflammatory agents, e.g. aspirin, have not produced evidence of foetal damage with NAPROSYN. As with other drugs of this type, NAPROSYN produces delay in parturition in animals. The relevance of this finding to human patients is unknown. However, good medical practice indicates minimal drug usage in pregnancy, and use of this class of therapeutic agent requires cautious balancing of possible benefits against potential risks to the mother and foetus.

Overdosage: Should a patient ingest a large number of NAPROSYN tablets accidentally or purposefully, the stomach may be emptied and usual supportive measures employed. Animal studies indicate that the prompt administration of activated charcoal in adequate amounts would tend to reduce markedly the absorption of the drug.

Pharmaceutical Precautions: Protect from light.

Legal Category: To be supplied on prescription only.

Package Quantities: NAPROSYN is supplied in canisters of 250 tablets. (N.H.S. cost - 14p per day.)

Further Information: In addition to the excellent therapeutic efficacy demonstrated by NAPROSYN in comparative clinical trials, good tolerance has been demonstrated, even in patients exhibiting multiple intolerance to other commonly used non-steroidal anti-inflammatory agents.

Product Licence Number PL/0286/0031B.

Powerful in arthritis. Kind to patients.

A burning problem.

Now from Beecham: an oral penicillin specifically for Urinary Tract Infections.

Urinary tract infections are rarely as simple as they seem. Patients with renal infection may present with no symptoms other than dysuria and frequency. And management is very often complicated by relapse and recurrence.

Now Beecham have introduced Uticillin, a powerful oral penicillin indicated specifically for the treatment of urinary tract infections such as cystitis and pyelonephritis. Uticillin will successfully treat 9 out of 10 patients first time, with a reduced risk of relapse.

Uticillin has the inherent safety of penicillin. Unlike many urinary antibacterials, Uticillin can be prescribed both in pregnancy and when the possibility of pregnancy must be considered.

And the dosage is simple to remember, 1 tablet three times a day.

Uticillin. The decisive answer to acute and chronic urinary tract infections.

Adult dosage: Simple urinary tract infections, 1 tablet (500 mg) t.i.d.

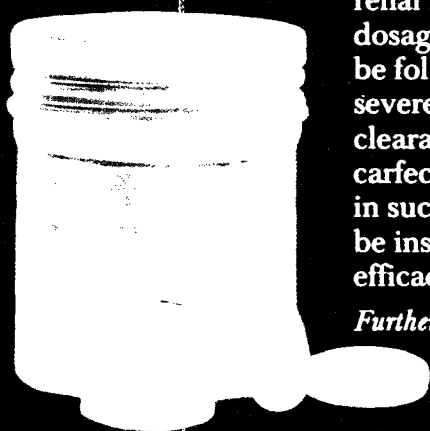

Complicated and recurrent urinary tract infections, 2 tablets (lg) t.i.d.

Contra-indication: Penicillin hypersensitivity.

Side-effects: As with other penicillins.

Precaution: In mild and moderate degrees of renal impairment, the normal dosage recommendations should be followed. In patients with severe renal failure (creatinine clearance of 10 ml/min or less) carfecillin is not recommended; in such patients urine levels may be insufficient for therapeutic efficacy.

TUTORIALS IN DIFFERENTIAL DIAGNOSIS

E. R. BECK, J. L. FRANCIS and R. L. SOUHAMI

This exciting new book has made an immediate impact in the few weeks since publication. Unlike the average textbook, it adopts the problem-orientated, case study approach in order to present clinical situations as they are seen in real life. Each case study is developed along the lines of the MRCP (UK) examination. Graphic, exciting, clinically wise and reasonably priced, this is essential reading for every medical student, postgraduate, general practitioner, and anyone who wishes to improve their study of differential diagnosis.

THE BASIS OF CLINICAL DIAGNOSIS

R. A. PARKINS, and G. D. PEGRUM

Approaches the study of clinical diagnosis by stressing the underlying changes in function. Teaches the student to appreciate the disordered function and develops the ability to deduce a diagnosis in a logical manner. An outline of normal structure and function, and the disease processes affecting them is presented for each system in turn, followed by an account of the appropriate investigations, their relative value, reliability, and diagnostic significance. Aimed primarily at the student at the start of the clinical period, and reinforces an integrated approach. Also valuable for recently qualified postgraduates and ECFMG candidates.

Deviant Sexual Behaviour

Modification and Assessment

John Bancroft

This book examines the way in which social and ethical factors have interacted with aetiological theories to influence the medical approach to the treatment of deviant sexual behaviour. Behavioural techniques in the study of male sexuality are described in detail, studies of their application are critically evaluated, and the theoretical basis of such techniques is discussed. The book concludes by offering a comprehensive and flexible clinical approach to treatment. £5

Memory and Nerve Cell Connections

Criticisms and Contributions from Developmental Neurophysiology

Richard F. Mark

An enormous amount of experimental work has gone into the problem during the past twenty years, but there is still no universally held theory of memory. In this book direct experimental investigations into memory are critically reviewed so that the deficiencies in knowledge become clear. Then, by combining the facts of neurophysiology, neuroembryology, and behaviour, a new theory is built up. £2.95

Eye-Movements and Visual Perception

The effects of small eye-movements on pattern perception, colour vision, and detection of motion are all discussed. £9.50

THE RATIONALE FOR Hypovase^{*} brand of prazosin hydrochloride *Trade Mark IN ALL GRADES OF BENIGN HYPERTENSION

Hypovase is structurally unrelated to any other drug at present used in the treatment of hypertension, and was developed as the result of a carefully designed programme set up to discover a drug which would fulfil a series of ideal criteria in the treatment of hypertension.

It was postulated that such a drug would be effective in benign hypertension of all degrees of severity, and would reduce both standing and lying blood pressure, its action would be smooth and progressive in onset, no tolerance should develop to its antihypertensive effect, and it should be free from toxicity and have the lowest possible incidence of side-effects. A pre-requisite for all this would be that the drug should lower blood pressure, not by reducing the cardiac output, but by reducing the increased peripheral resistance which constitutes the fundamental pathological change in essential hypertension.

A number of drugs in current use reduce peripheral resistance, most by interfering with sympathetic nervous function, either at ganglionic or post-ganglionic level, or at the alpha-receptor sites. By its nature, this mode of action results in generalised autonomic effects, involving other organ systems, which are experienced by the patient as side-effects. In addition, the peripheral vasodilatation so produced is a generalised one, and affects the veins as well as the arterioles, so that pooling tends to occur, and orthostatic hypotension complicates treatment. Hydrallazine, the vasodilator effect of which is confined largely to the arterioles, also causes an increase in cardiac output, which may be hazardous in certain hypertensive patients, particularly those with concurrent coronary arterial disease.

One of the most important mediators of relaxation in plain muscle is cyclic 3', 5'-adenosine monophosphate (cyclic AMP). The levels of this substance in muscle are regulated by two enzymes, adenyl cyclase, which increases the synthesis of cyclic AMP, and phosphodiesterase, which causes its degradation. Either of two mechanisms, therefore, (stimulation of adenyl cyclase or inhibition of phosphodiesterase), can be expected to increase tissue levels of cyclic AMP and thus lead to a fall in blood pressure.

Inhibition of phosphodiesterase offered a more promising approach in the search for a new anti-hypertensive agent, particularly in the light of recent developments, which indicate that phosphodiesterase activity is increased in the arterial tissue of hypertensive rats compared with normal rats. Furthermore, a phosphodiesterase inhibitor with appropriate tissue distribution could cause vasodilatation without significant cardiac stimulation.

It was established in the course of a study of structure-action relationships, that certain chemical groupings were particularly effective as phosphodiesterase inhibitors. The most active of these was selected for further study. Tissue distribution studies, using radio-actively tagged material, showed that high concentrations of this compound were achieved in arteries and arterioles. The pharmacological action was found to be predominantly confined to the arterioles, indicating that the tissue distribution in these sites was relatively high. This compound was given the approved name prazosin (Hypovase).

Haemodynamic studies in hypertensive human patients confirmed that Hypovase produced a significant and substantial reduction in total peripheral resistance, while at the same time, there was no significant increase in heart rate or cardiac output. The central dynamics in these patients could be regarded as restored to normal.

The specificity of the vasodilator effect of Hypovase suggested that, in the absence of any venous dilatation and pooling, orthostatic hypotension would be unlikely. This was first tested in experimental animals. Dogs treated with Hypovase were suddenly changed from the horizontal to the vertical position. The effect of this in normal animals is to produce a transient fall in blood pressure, which is rapidly compensated by the action of the pressor receptors. Dogs treated with sympatholytic antihypertensive agents show a persistent fall in blood pressure, which manifests as postural hypotension. Dogs treated with Hypovase, however, showed a response similar in all respects to that of normal dogs, apart from the fact that the MAP was reduced by the drug before the change in position. No persistent fall in blood pressure below this level was produced by the change in position.

This experimental finding has been confirmed in human clinical trial, where the incidence of postural hypotension has been found to be extremely low. Clinical Trials have further demonstrated the following properties:

Hypovase reduces blood pressure smoothly in patients with all grades of benign essential and renal hypertension.

A thiazide diuretic may be added to enhance the effect.

Impotence and loss of libido do not occur.

Tolerance does not occur.

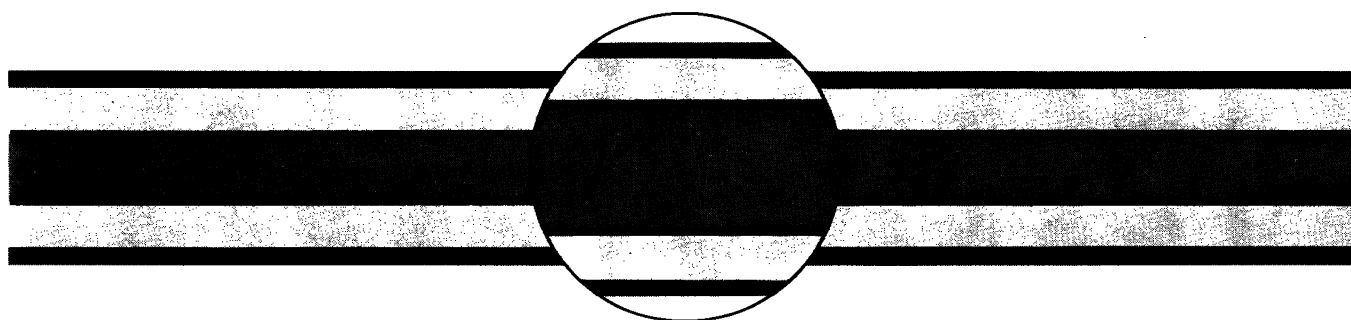

Hypovase may be given concurrently with cardiac glycosides, antidiabetic agents, anti-inflammatory/analgesic agents and uricosurics.

Hypovase reduces blood pressure without altering the cardiac output, heart rate, renal blood flow or glomerular filtration rate.

Hypovase is available as 2mg. and 5mg. scored tablets.

Full information on request.

Sinetens controls hypertension like nothing else can

SINETENS acts through cellular metabolism, relaxing arteriolar smooth muscle without significant impairment of sympathetic function.¹

There is no increase in cardiac output or heart rate: SINETENS may actually benefit the heart.^{1,2}

SINETENS is effective in all grades of hypertension, smoothly and gradually reducing both supine and standing blood pressure.^{3,4}

Side-effects are mild and transient, giving greater patient acceptance and resulting in fewer treatment problems.^{1,3,4}

When an infection causes concern

In treating difficult ENT infections including quinsy and sinusitis, you can be more certain of first-time success when you prescribe Magnapen.

Magnapen destroys all the bacteria commonly met in general practice. This greater certainty means that the painful and worrying symptoms of these infections are quickly relieved.

So you can depend on Magnapen in severe infections even when there are no laboratory reports to guide you.

Full information on Magnapen* (ampicillin with flucloxacillin in equal parts) is available from

Anxiety fully relieved
Alertness fully preserved

Another example of Stemetil at work

"Significant anxiolytic action"¹ to dispel the emotional disturbance.

A prompt antinauseant/anti-emetic effect to control its physical symptoms.²

And most important of all, no dulling of thought, judgement or concentration in return.¹

'Stemetil'* fully meets the requirements of an efficient, "wide-awake" tranquillizer for daytime use and is thus the logical choice in the many anxious patients who must continue working during treatment.

Listen to the difference between Amoxil and other antibiotics.

The difference which has given significantly longer periods of relief from acute exacerbations of chronic bronchitis than tetracyclines, ampicillin and cephalosporin.¹ The difference that makes Amoxil more effective than ampicillin in the treatment of chest infections.^{1,2,3,4}

The difference which takes over where the tetracyclines have done all you can expect of them in bronchitis—

so that significantly greater relief of all clinical symptoms, can be demonstrated.⁵

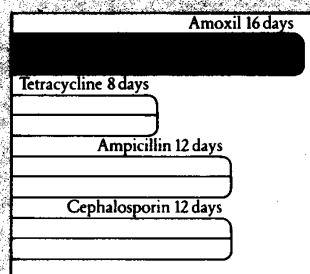

The difference that allows Amoxil to penetrate bronchial membrane barriers regardless of the degree of inflammation.⁴

The difference in absorption that means Amoxil can be taken t.d.s. with or without food—which means it is simpler for patients to take properly. To these differences must be added Amoxil's safety and the fact that it is one of the least expensive therapies for respiratory infections. No wonder doctors everywhere are recognising that Amoxil makes all the difference.

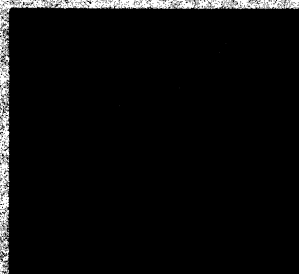

er antibiotics

¶ In the cases of our severely sick in-patients, which of course cannot be compared with milder cases of out-patient practice, we found with amoxycillin [Amoxil] a clearly longer relapse rate than with other preparations.¹⁹ (These included various tetracyclines, ampicillin, chloramphenicol and cephalosporin).

¶ Amoxycillin [Amoxil] was more effective than oxytetracycline when all the patients treated were considered together. Its superiority, however, was most marked in the case of the less severely affected patients, in whom the differences were highly significant.⁵⁹

¶ The demonstration that amoxycillin [Amoxil] penetrates into bronchial secretions as efficiently when the mucosa is uninflamed as when it is inflamed, suggests that clearance of bacteria from the lower respiratory tract should be more easily accomplished with this drug than ampicillin. Further, there is the implication that organisms may be more readily cleared from the upper respiratory tract, which frequently acts as a reservoir of potential pathogens from which relapse of lower respiratory infection may stem.¹⁹ in respiratory infections.

No fear of a relapse with this patient. When it's gastric or duodenal ulcer, prompt initiation of Caved-S therapy gets them back to normal without delay.

Caved-S contains deglycyrrhizinated liquorice which has become established as a first line treatment for the symptomatic relief of peptic ulcer pain, because it heals.

The unique formulation of Caved-S promotes the healing of gastric and duodenal mucosa in a positive way, therefore dispensing with the need for an additional antacid regimen.

Caved-S also allows flexibility of dosage, enabling you to treat the chronic or severe ulcer patient without the risk of untoward effects.

In need of a lift?

When stair-climbing becomes difficult, consider one of these two answers from H+C.

The Home Lift

When not in use, this lift disappears upstairs, out of sight. It requires no ground floor enclosure and it's smooth in operation. What's more its cost is only that of a small family car, with no VAT.

The Escalift

An easy-to-operate moving chair which doesn't interfere with normal use of the stairway. It requires no bulky ancillary equipment and needs only minimal installation work.

Both the Home Lift and the Escalift require no special wiring and are available through our own credit terms. Send in the coupon for full explanatory literature.

PRACTICES (Family Practitioner Committees)

GENERAL PRACTITIONERS — Ireland

Applications are invited from suitably qualified practitioners for vacancies in the General Medical Services at

THE ROSSES, CO. DONEGAL DOOHARY, CO. DONEGAL

Serving District Medical Officers including permanent officers are eligible to apply.

Permanent District Medical Officers, if successful, would carry with them the guarantees negotiated with the medical organisations.

A Medical Practitioner (other than a serving District Medical Officer) if selected will be required to serve on a fee-per-item of service basis but the Health Board would be prepared to guarantee him an income of £3,277 for a period of up to twelve months.

The rural practice allowance of £500 per annum would apply in each case provided the conditions relating to the payment are complied with by the successful applicant.

Application forms and further particulars may be obtained from the Personnel Officer, North Western Health Board, Manorhamilton, Co. Leitrim, Ireland.

Completed application forms must be received not later than 5.00 p.m. Tuesday, 22nd October, 1974. (26170) 5

GENERAL PRACTITIONER — Ireland

Arranmore Island, Co. Donegal

A vacancy exists at present for a Resident General Practitioner on Arranmore Island, Co. Donegal. This island retreat is three miles of the west coast of Donegal; the nearest hospital is at Dungloe (8 miles away) while the General Hospital at Letterkenny is 45 miles away. The island has a population of 773 (1971 census).

The successful applicant will be allowed to participate in the re-organised general medical services and will be remunerated on a choice of any of the following:—

- on full fees or
- a special salary of £3907 per annum applicable to this area, or
- the district medical officer salary scale of £2324 — £3277 per annum, plus half fees.

Depending on circumstances, the Health Board may permit entry to the scale above the minimum in the case of a doctor opting for the third method of payment. Where a salary is payable it will be adjusted from time to time in the light of changes in the levels of income generally in the public service.

Application forms and particulars may be obtained from the Personnel Officer, North Western Health Board, Manorhamilton, Co. Leitrim, Ireland.

Completed application forms should be returned not later than 5.00 p.m. Tuesday, 22nd October, 1974. (26171) 5

COMMERCIAL APPOINTMENTS

Zyma (UK) Limited Medical Adviser

Applications are invited from registered medical practitioners preferably in the 30-40 year age group. The duties will involve the initiation and follow-up of clinical trials of new and established products in close co-operation with Consultants, Research Units, General Practitioners and the Committee on Safety of Medicines, as well as studying adverse reactions to drugs and obtaining detailed case histories where this is indicated.

The Company's interest is at present mainly in the vascular field but the outcome of current research is opening up new areas of interest.

The work will involve travelling within the UK and occasionally abroad. Clinical work is encouraged. Appreciation of modern trends and ideas in medicine is important and this is aided by attendances at specialist society meetings and conferences both in the UK and abroad.

Previous experience in the Pharmaceutical Industry is not essential. The new member will join a team of doctors experienced in this field and initially will be given help and advice in this interesting and expanding branch of medicine which offers wide scope for an excellent career.

Further details of the type of work and duties involved will be sent to interested applicants, and will be discussed in depth with applicants selected for interview.

The successful candidate will be based in North Cheshire within easy travelling distance of the more highly sought after residential areas to the south of Manchester. Salary will be negotiable in accordance with experience and qualifications. Good conditions of work include a first class contributory pension scheme. Generous financial assistance towards expenses associated with house removal and purchase is offered in appropriate cases.

Registered Medical Practitioners interested in the appointment are invited to write, giving full particulars of age, qualifications and previous experience to:

The Medical Director, Geigy Pharmaceuticals,
Hurdsfield Industrial Estate, Macclesfield,
Cheshire SK10 2LY.

Applications for the above appointment are invited from any Registered Medical Practitioner in England and Wales with suitably wide experience in administrative medical work at a senior level.

The duties of the post would be largely concerned with the organisation, planning and development of health services directed towards particular patient groups (such as the elderly, mentally ill, mentally handicapped etc) and co-ordinating these services with those provided by the Social Services Committee of the matching Local Authority.

Northumberland Area Health Authority headquarters are in the small county town of Morpeth some 15 miles north of Newcastle upon Tyne and set in the extensive and pleasant grounds of a large mental illness hospital. At present one wing of a purpose-built headquarters housing the nucleus of the administration has been constructed but by the end of this month a further extension of this building will result in the complete administrative staff (including the FPC services) being situated in one locality. The Authority is a Single District Area with a population of approximately 280,000 and includes the developing new town of Cramlington.

Intending applicants are invited to discuss the post with Dr J. T. Clow the Area Medical Officer (Morpeth 56121 STD 0670) who will be pleased to provide further information.

Application forms, job descriptions etc. may be obtained from the Area Personnel Officer, Northumberland Area Health Authority, East Cottingwood, Morpeth, Northumberland NE61 2NU.

Closing date 21st October, 1974. (H11283)

CIVIL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

GOVERNMENTAL

Occupational Medicine Advisers

Up to £7,900

The Employment Medical Advisory Service is the nucleus of all medical activities in the Department of Employment and is responsible for all aspects of occupational medicine.

There are now vacancies for Advisers within the Service, based in or near the following:

Full-time Advisers

EMAS Headquarters (London), Egham (Surrey)—Residential post, Luton (Beds)

Part-time Advisers

Birmingham (20 hours), Stoke-on-Trent (18 hours)

Vacancies may arise in other areas.

The work of a Medical Adviser is extremely varied in content and in the demands it places on your professional expertise. It ranges from direct medical supervision of people at work, young people not fully fit for employment and people undergoing training or rehabilitation, to investigations and formal surveys, to the provision of guidance on working conditions and other matters affecting occupational health and medicine. You will be in constant contact, on the one hand with workers, their representatives and employers, and on the other, with general practitioners, hospital staff and other medical professionals.

Where possible, Advisers will work in groups and nurses have been appointed to some groups. Full support is available including clerical, laboratory and statistical facilities.

Applicants (men and women) must be fully registered medical practitioners in the United Kingdom. Experience in industrial medicine or in allied subjects, such as toxicology, pulmonary physiology, rehabilitation or psychiatry, is desirable and the possession of higher qualifications will be an advantage. A current driving licence is essential.

Starting salary between £5,480 and £7,680 (higher in London). For the part-time Adviser the salary will be pro-rata of the full time Advisers' salary scale. There are good prospects of promotion for full-time Advisers as the Service develops, to posts with salaries of £9,000 and beyond. The pension is non-contributory and previous superannuation rights will normally be transferable.

For full details of these posts and an application form (to be returned by 25 October 1974) write to the Civil Service Commission, Alencon Link, Basingstoke, Hants RG21 1JB, or telephone BASINGSTOKE 29222 ext. 500 (or for 24 hour answering service LONDON 01-839 1992) quoting S/8768/2.

Scope in Zambia for a

Medical Officer

General Duties and Anaesthetics

Roan Consolidated Mines Limited in Zambia has a vacancy at its Chibuluma Division for a Medical Officer whose responsibilities will include hospital out-patient sessions, clinic visits and some administration. He will also have medical in-patient responsibilities and will have one routine anaesthetic list per week and, on a rota basis, will share emergency anaesthetic call duties with usually one other medical officer. Previous hospital appointments should therefore include experience in anaesthetics.

A broad general experience in hospitals and general practices over several years would be an advantage, as the successful candidate will be expected to take charge of the medical unit in the absence of the Chief Medical Officer. The man appointed will be based at Kalulushi where the company provides a comprehensive health service for its employees and their dependants of Chibuluma Division. The curative medical services have an establishment of 4 doctors and consists of a well-equipped hospital and 4 clinics in the area. The hospital has nearly 100 beds and is run by qualified nursing and para-medical staff.

A competitive salary will be negotiated depending on experience and qualifications for a three-year contract.

Additional benefits include ■ tax free settling-in allowance ■ tax free children's education and travel allowances ■ generous leave conditions and return passages paid every two years ■ free life assurance ■ car provided.

TARANAKI HOSPITAL BOARD New Zealand

PAEDIATRICIAN

Because of a delay in the publication of some advertisements for the position of Paediatrician in the Board's service based on the Taranaki Base Hospital in New Plymouth it has been decided to extend the closing date for the receipt of applications. Applicants should be qualified and appropriately experienced Medical Officers. Whilst the position is whole-time, applications will be considered from persons interested in a substantially whole-time appointment initially, or after a period of whole-time duty.

The appointee will share duties with the present specialist Paediatrician. The Board's major paediatric unit is situated at the new Taranaki Base Hospital and has a full back-up team of resident and registrar staff supported by excellent laboratory and radiological facilities. A regional neonatal special care unit is being developed in New Plymouth and a new children's ward unit is planned for one of the two other public hospitals in the Board's region. There are 35,000 children in the region and over 2,000 deliveries annually which form the basis of the case load.

Conditions of employment will be in accordance with the New Zealand Hospital Service Determination for Medical Officers. Salary will be within a 10 step scale NZ $12,639/NZ $16,926 p.a. with automatic annual increments to the maximum. The commencing salary will be determined by the Medical Officer's Salaries Grading Committee.

The Taranaki Hospital Board serves an area with a population of 100,000. New Plymouth is a coastal city of 39,000. It enjoys an equable climate and educational, cultural and sporting facilities (from surfing to ski-ing) appropriate to such a community are readily and economically available.

Considerable assistance towards fares and removal expenses can be given to whole-time appointees or substantially whole-time appointees subject to a contract of minimum service.

Conditions of appointment and application forms are available on airmail request from the undersigned with whom applications will now close on 14th October, 1974. The Secretary, Taranaki Hospital Board, Private Bag, New Plymouth, New Zealand. (26197) 118

The Future General Practitioner

Learning and Teaching

General or family practice is a special subject. This book is written by six experienced teachers selected by the Council of the Royal College of General Practitioners. It is intended chiefly for teachers, but it will also be valuable to those who are learning and to all who are concerned about the place of family practice within a country's medical services.

A syllabus is developed in five main parts:

Health and Diseases

Human Development

Human Behaviour

Medicine and Society

The Practice

Throughout the book the authors have tried to indicate ways in which the teacher may approach the task of passing on what he had learned by his own experience. The theme is the search for objectives which will satisfy the needs of learner and teacher. The belief is that this search will benefit the future family practitioner and through him the community of his patients.

They should also give particulars of their academic and professional record, research and administrative experience, and published work. The names of three persons to whom reference may be made and a recent photograph should be included.

Conditions: First class passage by air for the successful applicants and dependants together with generous baggage allowances. Salary from date of embarkation. Four weeks annual leave, plus bonus, accumulative sick leave provisions, maternity and paternity leave, a comprehensive superannuation scheme and three months furlough after ten years service.

Applications, stating name, date and place of birth, qualifications and experience should be lodged with:-

The Chief Medical Officer, Australia House, The Strand, London, WC2B 4LA

For further details, applicants should contact the Chief Medical Officer, Australia House, London. (34097) 118

Medical Officers

£7,300

You are offered the prospect of a tour of duty – for as little as one year – in Zambia, one which will give you both a wide range of professional experience and early responsibility. It is with the nation's major mining organisation, Nchanga Consolidated Copper Mines Ltd, with an international staff of technical specialists.

The company is responsible for providing full medical care to its employees – over 30,000 – and their families; the total of persons to be looked after is about 150,000.

There is a senior doctor staff of over 40, together with a full complement of specialists and 150 fully qualified nurses. The modern facilities include 5 well-equipped hospitals (814 beds), 16 clinics and 8 main first aid dressing stations.

General Duty Medical Officers will be involved in preventive and curative medicine, surgery, anaesthetics, gynaecology/obstetrics, public health and nutrition; and although the mines have a strict safety code an amount of accident work can be expected.

Contracts may be negotiated for periods of one to three years. Locums can also often be arranged.

Salaries will depend on experience, but the minimum is K11,275 gross per annum (£7,320 based on an exchange rate of K1. = 65p). In addition there is a tax free settling-in allowance; subsidised Company private primary schools; a detached, furnished house with garden is provided for £3 per week; and children receiving secondary education overseas are granted up to £780 per child per year, tax free, towards school fees and two free return passages to visit their parents during holidays; interest free car loan available. Study leave is available, and there are 60 days standard annual leave.

Up to 33½% of gross income can be sent home each month.

Consultant Medical Staff Review Body —
Republic of Ireland

The Minister for Health for the Republic of Ireland has set up a Consultant Medical Staff Review Body.

"to examine and report on the systems and rates of payment and conditions of employment of consultants in hospitals engaged in the provision of services under the Health Act, 1970, which would be appropriate in the context of the abolition of income and valuation limits for limited eligibility."

The Review Body would welcome submissions from persons or organisations either orally or in writing. Written submissions should be made to the Secretary not later than 30th November, 1974. They may subsequently be amplified orally.

In order to assist the Review Body in drawing up its programme of work, persons or organisations intending to make oral submissions only are requested to notify the Secretary in writing to this effect not later than 31st October, 1974.

SMOOTH, GRADUAL REDUCTION OF ELEVATED BLOOD PRESSURE . . .

lying or standing, with no abrupt falls in blood pressure even during the first few days of treatment. The onset of effect is smooth and gradual, reaching the maximum for a given dose in 2 to 8 weeks.

SMOOTH CONTROL MAINTAINED WITH NO DEVELOPMENT OF TOLERANCE¹

EFFECTIVE IN ALL GRADES OF BENIGN HYPERTENSION

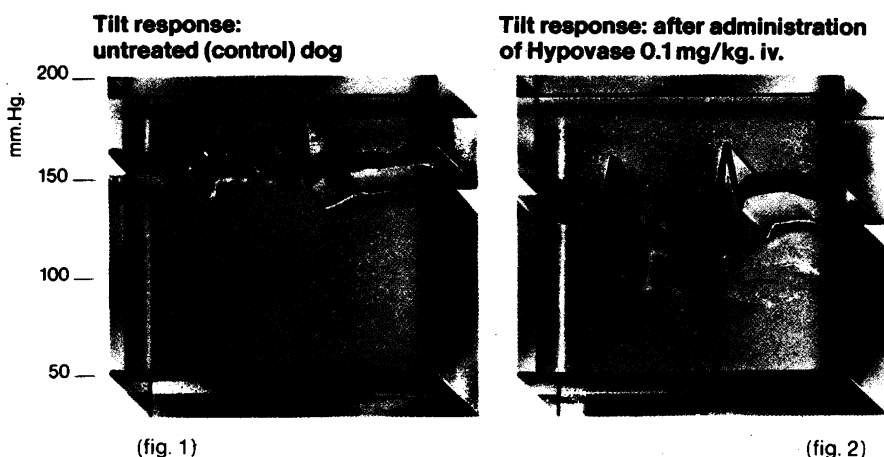

Clinical studies involving more than 1,000 patients to date have amply confirmed the efficacy of Hypovase in benign hypertension of all degrees of severity. In refractory cases, the addition of a thiazide to the regimen often produces a satisfactory response.

"The data cited show that...[Hypovase]...when given alone in divided doses ... induces a decline of mean arterial blood pressure of more than 15 mm. Hg in about three-quarters of ambulatory patients with mild to gross severity of disease..."

J. Clin. Pharmacol. 1970, 10, 408

LOW INCIDENCE OF POSTURAL HYPOTENSION AND OTHER DISTRESSING HAEMODYNAMIC EFFECTS

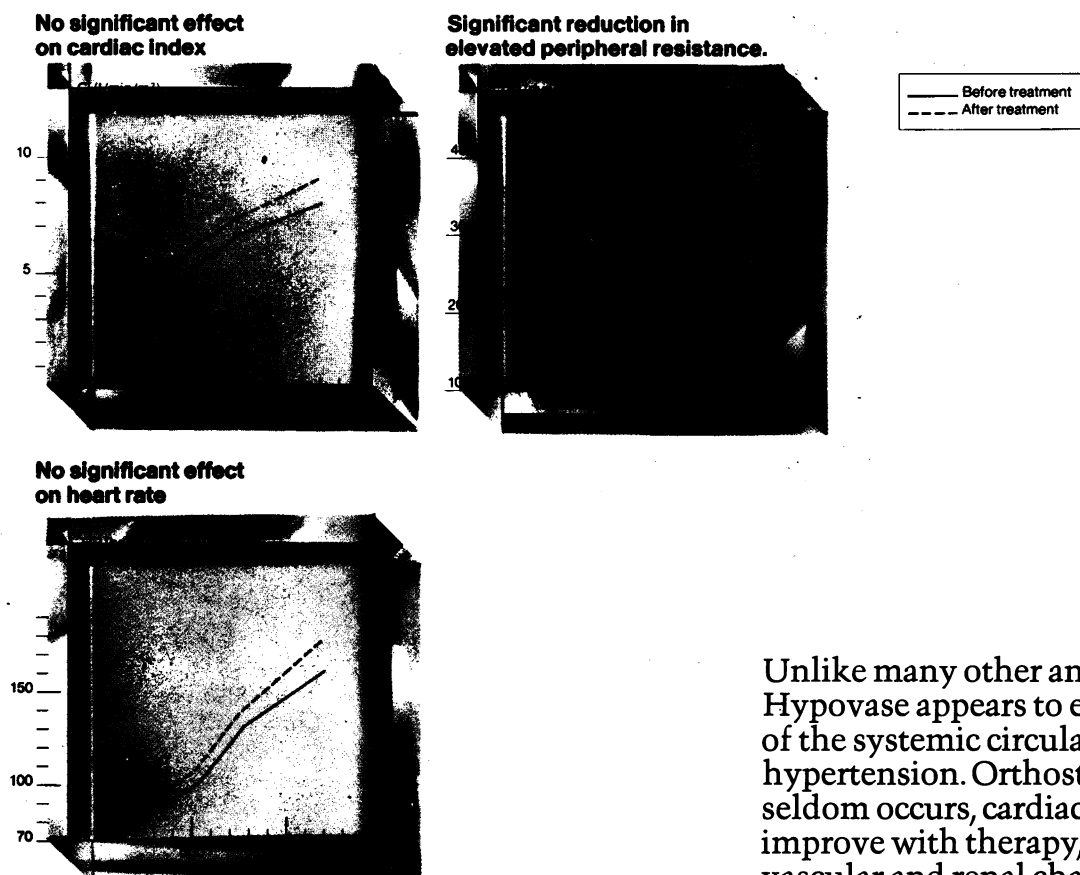

IN DOGS, A NOTABLE ABSENCE OF ORTHOSTATIC CHANGES²

The normal haemodynamic pattern elicited when an untreated (control) animal is abruptly tilted from the horizontal position (fig. 1.) is closely approximated by the pattern obtained following administration of Hypovase (fig. 2.)

IN HUMANS, HYPOVASE APPEARS TO NORMALIZE SYSTEMIC CIRCULATION³

The following parameters were determined under increasing work loads.

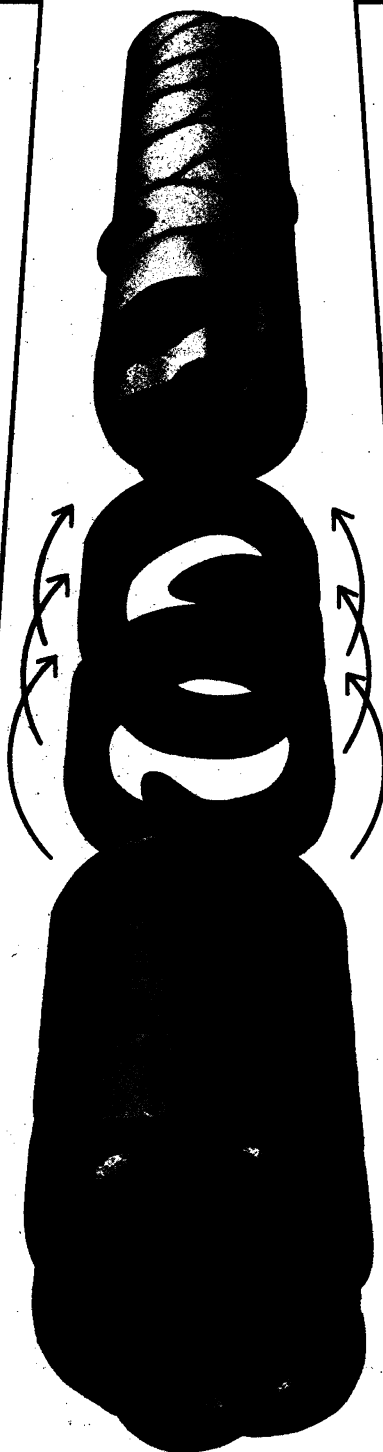

Unlike many other antihypertensive agents, Hypovase appears to effect a normalization of the systemic circulation in benign essential hypertension. Orthostatic hypotension seldom occurs, cardiac output tends to improve with therapy, and adverse cardiovascular and renal changes are not a problem.

UNIQUE MODE OF ACTION

Hypovase, unlike previous antihypertensive agents, produces a direct, specific relaxation of arteriolar smooth muscle to reduce elevated peripheral resistance – the major haemodynamic abnormality in essential hypertension. Because the effect is a specific action on the arterioles, there is no venous pooling...and no adverse effect on cardiac or renal mechanisms.

"In a group of 14 hypertensive patients a 10-week course of treatment with prazosin [Hypovase] 3 to 7.5 mg/day produced a significant reduction in mean blood pressure without serious side effects."

Brit. med. J., 1974, 2, 298-300

"Of 24 patients... only three showed little or no response and in many the blood pressure control has been very satisfactory. There was little postural effect and tolerance was not seen."

WIDELY ACCEPTED BY PATIENTS

- * Most patients taking 'Aldomet' feel well and improve symptomatically.
- * Symptomatic exercise or postural hypotension rarely occur—and patients report 'dizziness' only rarely.
- * A sedating effect (beneficial for some anxious patients) usually disappears on continued treatment.
- * Simple, convenient dosage.

For effective 24-hour control of hypertension

In the treatment of parkinsonism SINEMET®

Carbidopa/MSD and levodopa/MSD

Levodopa therapy is aimed at replenishing dopamine, which is deficient in the corpus striatum of patients suffering from parkinsonism. Once in the brain, levodopa is metabolised to dopamine.

But levodopa is also metabolised to dopamine in extracerebral tissues, before it reaches the brain, often producing troublesome side effects. Because of these, it is frequently not possible to attain adequate brain dopamine levels.

Carbidopa, discovered by MSD, inhibits the extracerebral metabolism of levodopa. By inhibiting this metabolism of levodopa only outside the brain, carbidopa allows more levodopa to reach the brain for conversion to dopamine.

'Sinemet' is a combination of levodopa and carbidopa. With a lower dose of levodopa in 'Sinemet', higher brain dopamine levels can be achieved. By reducing certain of the dose-limiting adverse reactions usually experienced with plain levodopa, 'Sinemet' permits more patients to obtain adequate relief.

Highly effective

'Sinemet' is highly effective at doses approximately one-fifth of those needed with plain levodopa.

Simplified dosage—rapid response

'Sinemet' offers prompt relief of many of the major symptoms of Parkinson's disease—fully effective doses are usually reached within seven days compared with weeks or months with levodopa alone.

Reduced peripheral side effects

By reducing certain of the dose-limiting side effects produced by plain levodopa, 'Sinemet' permits more patients to obtain adequate relief.

Ease of transfer

Patients maintained on levodopa can be easily transferred to 'Sinemet', with expectation of better patient acceptance and response.

puts levodopa in its place —in the brain

SINEMET

Fulfills the levodopa promise for more patients

'Sinemet' is available as dapple-blue, half-scored, oval tablets marked 'MSD 654', containing 25 mg carbidopa and 250 mg levodopa, in bottles of 100. Detailed information is available to physicians on request. R denotes registered trademark.
