MINOCIN

in bronchitis

highly effective
sometimes vital

You fastened your safety belt this morning just in case of an emergency. You're not expecting trouble, of course, but you never know . . .

You never know with bronchitis either.

Minocin* (minocycline) protects against the hazards of bronchitis, but unlike traditional tetracyclines and semi-synthetic penicillins is also highly effective against resistant staphylococci – the pathogens which could threaten your patient's life.

Staphylococcal pneumonia is the only really life endangering infective hazard in bronchitis.¹ So whenever you treat bronchitis be sure from the start with Minocin – just in case . . .

A burning problem.

Now from Beecham: an oral penicillin specifically for Urinary Tract Infections.

Urinary tract infections are rarely as simple as they seem. Patients with renal infection may present with no symptoms other than dysuria and frequency. And management is very often complicated by relapse and recurrence.

Now Beecham have introduced Uticillin, a powerful oral penicillin indicated specifically for the treatment of urinary tract infections such as cystitis and pyelonephritis. Uticillin will successfully treat 9 out of 10 patients first time, with a reduced risk of relapse.

Uticillin has the inherent safety of penicillin. Unlike many urinary antibacterials, Uticillin can be prescribed both in pregnancy and when the possibility of pregnancy must be considered.

And the dosage is simple to remember, 1 tablet three times a day.

Uticillin. The decisive answer to acute and chronic urinary tract infections.

Adult dosage: Simple urinary tract infections, 1 tablet (500 mg) t.i.d.

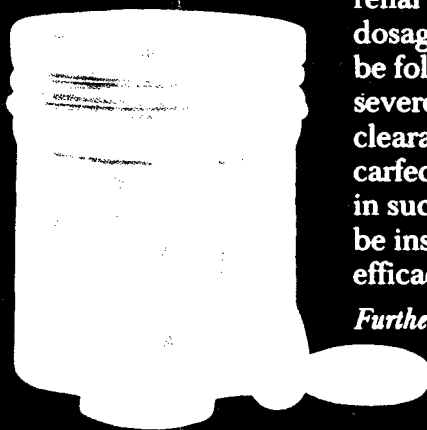

Complicated and recurrent urinary tract infections, 2 tablets (1g) t.i.d.

Contra-indication: Penicillin hypersensitivity.

Side-effects: As with other penicillins.

Precaution: In mild and moderate degrees of renal impairment, the normal dosage recommendations should be followed. In patients with severe renal failure (creatinine clearance of 10 ml/min or less) carfecillin is not recommended; in such patients urine levels may be insufficient for therapeutic efficacy.

DALMANE

A new and powerful treatment for insomnia

Getting to sleep

Clinical trials¹⁻³ have shown that Dalmane cuts the time taken to get to sleep by half: reducing it from an average of 36.2 to 13.9 minutes in one trial¹ and from 63.4 to 27 minutes in another.²

Staying asleep

Trials^{1,2,4} have shown that Dalmane patients enjoy a longer night's sleep with fewer nocturnal awakenings. Dalmane has increased the average night's sleep by 65 minutes⁵ and 93.3 minutes⁶ and in a third trial to an average of over 8 hours.¹

Patient preference

The low incidence of side-effects such as hangover with Dalmane is undoubtedly one reason why many patients prefer it.⁷ In one study⁸ Dalmane produced exactly the same incidence of hangover as placebo.

Safety

Dalmane, a non-barbiturate, has a high mean lethal dose in mice and rats,⁹ suggesting that overdosage would be unlikely to present undue problems of management or threat to life. Human toxicity studies¹⁰ in which healthy men were given large doses of Dalmane for some time confirmed that it is well tolerated.

In confusional states following acute febrile illness or surgery, alcoholic or drug-induced psychoses, and in peripheral neuritis associated with a malabsorption syndrome, patients should benefit from 2 days intensive intravenous administration of Parentrovite high potency B and C vitamins. After which, therapy can be continued by the intravenous or the intramuscular route for 5-7 days. This treatment rapidly assists a return to normal intracellular glucose metabolism, the consequence of which is a significant improvement in the patient's condition.

"It is concluded that maintenance treatment of ulcerative colitis with sulphasalazine (salazopyrin) should be continued indefinitely unless contraindicated by side effects".¹

The results of the above controlled trial carried out at the Nuffield Department of Clinical Medicine, Radcliffe Infirmary, Oxford, are all the more welcome as earlier trials of cortisone² and prednisone³ at standard dosages have shown them to be totally ineffective in reducing the number of recurrences of ulcerative colitis.

"Fortunately, Sulphasalazine tablets, 0.5 grams, 4 times a day will prevent relapses in the majority of patients with colitis, and only a few patients cannot tolerate this relatively small dose, which can be continued indefinitely, since we do not know when, if ever, it can be safely stopped".⁴

"A striking difference in the relapse rate".

"The patients who received dummy tablets had more than four times the relapse rate of those receiving sulphasalazine".¹ (Salazopyrin).

for its preparations of trimipramine.

Insomniacs are often treated for months or years with hypnotics. Yet without any real justification.¹

If sleeplessness is not relieved within the first two weeks, then it is almost certainly due to psychological disturbance — usually, if not always, depression.^{1,2} No hypnotic will resolve this.

Indeed, continued use may well actively maintain the depressive state.¹ 'Surmontil', unlike hypnotics, is a complete treatment, at once powerfully antidepressant,³ anxiolytic⁴ and sedative.²

As such it provides, in once-nightly dosage, full rapid and lasting relief. From the beginning, sound, natural sleep.

From the first week on, disappearance of the causative anxious, depressed mood.

Before long, as a result, the ability to sleep unaided, allowing withdrawal of treatment.

When insomnia persists, therefore, treatment need not drag on. 'Surmontil' cures the patient, ends return visits and repeat prescriptions, saves you considerable time and trouble.

SURMONTIL is the short answer to recurring insomnia.

"The degree of relief in chronic aching pain in the legs was not so marked (compared with 90% improvement in night cramps and 70% improvement in heaviness of the legs), but still amounted to 54 per cent."

Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161

"Symptoms of heavy legs are improved in 70 per cent, and it was generally agreed that not only did legs feel lighter but the patients were more agile."

Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161

"The improved venous blood oxygenation and the reduced tissue oxygen extraction indicated better tissue perfusion with less blood oxygen having been taken from the increased capillary blood flow."

Relief of symptoms in varicose disorders

Varicose veins, post-phlebitic syndrome, superficial thrombophlebitis, varicose ulcers, varicose eczema, ankle oedema, restless legs, paraesthesia, haemorrhoids.

Dosage Initial treatment: 4 capsules a day, preferably with meals. In most cases, at least four weeks treatment with PAROVEN is required before significant benefit is felt. At the point where the patient experiences benefit, the dosage may be adjusted to a maintenance level. Maintenance treatment: 1-2 capsules a day.

Side effects and Precautions In a few patients, slight gastro-intestinal disorders, flushes and headaches have been reported. These are usually overcome by taking the capsules with meals or by slight adjustment of dosage. There are no known contra-indications to PAROVEN; it is virtually non-toxic and has no teratogenic effects. In keeping with current teaching and practice its use during the first trimester should, however, be avoided.

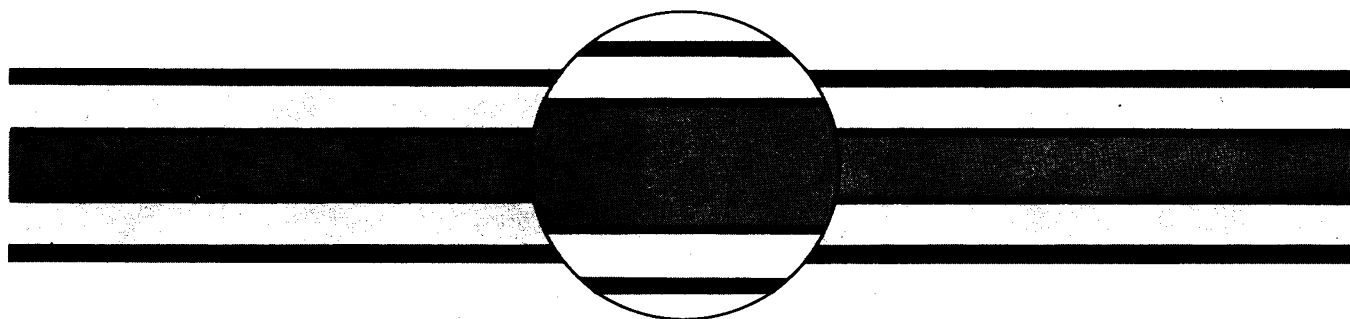

Availability Capsules, each containing 250 mg of O—(β -hydroxyethyl)—rutosides (not less than 45% troxerutin) in bottles of 20 and 100 capsules.

Why on earth should anyone need Nestlé's Growing Up Foods?

A fair enough question. Why introduce a special range of foods for pre-school children?

The answer is simple. As you know a properly-balanced diet during the pre-school years is vitally important, as the rate of physical and mental development is faster now than it will ever be again.

And it's at this stage that eating habits are formed. If a child gets used to too many calories now, he may have an obesity problem later. If he is allowed too much sugar and too many sweets he could have dental problems very soon.

Yet at this stage a child will often prefer sweet and fattening things and get faddy about foods that are actually good for him.

And to add to the problem, a mother will not always know which of the many foods around are good for him anyway.

So we've made a range of highly nutritious foods that children actually enjoy eating. They are specifically designed to assist mothers of young children to solve everyday feeding problems, either by replacing badly-balanced foods, or supplementing the normal intake when the child is being difficult about essentials like milk, eggs, meat, etc.

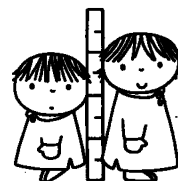

To help the mother plan a well-balanced diet we tell her in simple language exactly what proportion of protein, vitamins and minerals each product provides.

We've made Soups and Drinks, Cereals and Spreads. Even high-protein biscuits. All designed to help a mother make sure her child has a properly balanced diet, and likes it.

If you'd like more information about Nestlé's Growing Up Foods write for our booklet to Nestlé's Growing Up Foods, St. George's House, Croydon, Surrey CR9 1NR.

What on earth's a tub of margarine doing in this Medical Journal?

We know that there's a significant link between saturated fats, serum cholesterol levels and coronary heart disease in man.^{1,2}

There are a number of guidelines for reducing the risk of coronary heart disease. One of the most important is the recommendation to reduce the amount of saturated fat intake in the diet.³

The American Heart Association,⁴ the combined Medical Boards of Norway, Sweden and Finland,⁵ and the National Heart Foundations of Australia and New Zealand,^{6,7} all recommend the reduction of saturated fat intake and an increase in the level of polyunsaturated fatty acids.

Many doctors are recommending a modified fat diet for patients at risk from a heart attack. The change is made easier with Flora.

Flora is an accepted component of a lipid lowering diet.^{8,9} The value of such a diet is indicated by the findings from three first generation clinical trials of primary prevention, which suggested that dietary modifications would reduce the incidence of coronary heart disease.^{10,11,12}

Flora is higher in polyunsaturated fats than any other leading margarine, and is low in saturated fats*. In addition, Flora is a highly acceptable food and so patients will use it if recommended to do so.

Give good advice - recommend Flora.

At least 50% of Flora's fat content is linoleic essential fatty acid. Flora has a fat content of not less than 80% of the total product and is sold in half pound tubs.*

Cardiovascular Disease in the Tropics

Edited by A. G. Shaper, M. S. R. Hutt, Z. Fejfar

Cardiovascular disease is a major problem in many developing and tropical countries and this collection of essays by 36 members of the International Society of Cardiology draws attention to the fascinating and complex situation in the tropical world. The book presents the present state of knowledge regarding many conditions previously thought to be peculiar to the temperate and developed countries and also deals with those disorders peculiar to the tropical situation. The differences in geographic distribution and natural history of many cardiovascular problems between temperate and tropical countries provide unique opportunities for research into the nature of these problems. The book is intended not only for doctors and students in tropical countries but for cardiologists, physicians, pathologists and epidemiologists everywhere, who are concerned with the international problem of cardiovascular disease. It provides an up-to-date review suitable both for clinical and epidemiological work and for further research into these disorders.

Medicine in a Tropical Environment

Edited by A. G. Shaper, J. W. Kibukamusoke, M. S. R. Hutt

Medicine in a Tropical Environment is intended for medical students and doctors working in tropical and developing countries. The essays bring together specific problems of the tropical environment which have been the subject of recent investigation, and the authors write on them from personal experience. Little of the material on which the essays are based was available more than five years ago. The book should stimulate the interest of students, doctors, and non-medical scientists in trying to solve some of the problems raised in almost every chapter. To doctors in temperate climates preparing themselves for medical work in developing parts of the world Medicine in a Tropical Environment is essential reading.

SENIOR HOUSE OFFICER

IN THE PSYCHIATRIC DIVISION OF THE BASINGSTOKE DISTRICT HOSPITAL

is required from January 1st 1975. Many young doctors looking for a house job early in their careers would shy away from psychiatry, but it could be a good idea, particularly if you want to enter general practice.

Surveys of the workload in general practice have shown that up to 30% of patients consulting their practitioners have primary psychiatric problems and that in another 30% emotional difficulties are a prominent secondary factor.

So why not consider working for your D.P.M. or M.R.C. Psych. at a modern psychiatric hospital with a big new District General Hospital in its grounds? Set in the beautiful Hampshire countryside on the outskirts of Basingstoke New Town (2 miles) it is served by a frequent bus service, an excellent fast train service to Waterloo (45 minutes) and is only 50 miles to London on the new M3 motorway.

Besides general clinical psychiatry the hospital (1,100 beds) has a variety of interesting special units: Alcoholic, Mother and Baby, Psychiatric, Intensive Care plus a rapidly expanding Community Psychiatric Nursing Service. It shares an active Postgraduate Education Centre with the District General Hospital, runs regular weekly Case Conferences and grants generous Study Leave to doctors attending the Wessex School of Psychiatry for the courses in the D.P.M. and M.R.C. Psych. The hospital also has its own Social Club and besides the usual varied sporting activities boasts an excellent nine-hole Golf Course whilst Basingstoke itself has one of the best sports centres in the country.

Salaries are of the order of $32,000—$35,000, and the other benefits often include an attractive bonus or equity option scheme.

We are in a unique position to provide you with advice about the pros and cons of a career in the pharmaceutical industry, and the opportunities currently available. Our service is entirely confidential and without charge to applicants.

When an infection causes concern

In treating difficult ENT infections including quinsy and sinusitis, you can be more certain of first-time success when you prescribe Magnapen.

Magnapen destroys all the bacteria commonly met in general practice. This greater certainty means that the painful and worrying symptoms of these infections are quickly relieved.

So you can depend on Magnapen in severe infections even when there are no laboratory reports to guide you.

Full information on Magnapen* (ampicillin with flucloxacillin in equal parts) is available from

Beecham Research Laboratories Brentford, England.

and patients 'Aldomet'

Methyldopa/MSD [®]

WIDELY ACCEPTED BY PATIENTS

- * Most patients taking 'Aldomet' feel well and improve symptomatically.
- * Symptomatic exercise or postural hypotension rarely occur—patients report 'dizziness' only rarely.
- * A sedating effect (beneficial for some anxious patients) usually disappears on continued treatment.

By overcoming many of the disadvantages of other types of therapy, 'Aldomet' permits effective antihypertensive treatment of most patients. In contrast to some other antihypertensive agents, 'Aldomet' is not necessarily contra-indicated in hypertensive patients with asthma, obstructive pulmonary disease, or congestive heart failure, provided caution and appropriate additional specific therapy is used.

Patients' acceptance and physicians' confidence together mean that, apart from diuretics, 'Aldomet' is the most widely used antihypertensive in Britain today.

For effective 24-hour control of hypertension

Rx Aldomet [®]
prescribe by name

'Aldomet' is available as 125 mg, 250 mg (the standard strength), and 500 mg tablets—and an injection for emergency use. Detailed information is available to physicians on request. ® denotes registered trademark.
