

Focus on hypertension with 'Moduretic'

a highly effective antihypertensive that also helps conserve the body's natural potassium

Various surveys have shown that between 10 and 15 per cent of the adult population in Western countries has hypertension and that the condition is usually undetected or inadequately treated. Doctor, 1975, p 14 (27 Feb)

When hypertension is revealed ... the need for early treatment must be considered - but therapy at this stage can often result in side effects which are sometimes sufficiently unpleasant for the patient to refuse therapy.

'An important advantage of Moduretic therapy... is the paucity of side-effects.'

S. Afr. med. J., 1973, 47, 1219 (21 Jul)

'Moduretic' in hypertension 'In our study Moduretic was of value in mild to moderate hypertension and the administration of potassium supplements was not necessary because the serum potassium was maintained at a normal level and there were no ECG changes due to hypokalaemia.'

S. Afr. med. J., 1973, 47, 1219 (21 Jul)

Physicians can prescribe 'Moduretic' in the knowledge that this small diamond-shaped tablet effectively controls thiazide-responsive hypertension, encourages patient acceptance and avoids significant hypokalaemia in most patients.

MODURETIC[®]

Amiloride hydrochloride and hydrochlorothiazide, MSD

MULTI-PURPOSE DIURETIC

'Moduretic' is available as peach-coloured, diamond-shaped tablets containing 5 mg amiloride hydrochloride and 50 mg hydrochlorothiazide. Detailed information is available to physicians on request. ®denotes registered trademark.

Fibre in the Diet: is it only a precaution against constipation?

The medical profession has long accepted fibre in the diet as a prophylactic and therapeutic measure against constipation. But fibre—or lack of it—is now a key factor in much current thinking on other pathological states.

A number of leading gastroenterologists believe that those diets with a low-fibre content, which induce constipation, may also eventually lead to other diseases: diverticulosis, cancer of the colon, haemorrhoids in pregnancy and ischaemic heart disease.

Certainly more evidence will be needed to support their hypotheses before they can be regarded as conclusive, but it is now widely accepted by those who subscribe to them, that a daily intake of 2–3 grammes of cereal fibre is a reasonable precaution.

Kellogg's All-Bran provides dietary fibre in palatable form; it can be enjoyed as a breakfast cereal or as a cooking ingredient; and a 1–2 oz. serving a day will raise the dietary fibre intake to a satisfactory level and help people in normal health to avoid those conditions which may be attributable to a low-fibre diet.

If you would like further details, please send for Kellogg's 'Significance of Fibre in the Diet'.

Its sections include: 'The Composition and Milling of Wheat'; 'Processing and Composition and Nutritive Value of Kellogg's Products'; 'Diet and Disease' and a full bibliography.

Gastric reflux does nasty things to the oesophagus.

Like causing oesophagitis.
And heartburn.

All the more reason for prescribing Gaviscon rather than simple antacids.

Gaviscon suppresses gastric reflux—simple antacids don't. Recent evidence confirms that Gaviscon reduces the number of reflux episodes as well as the time during which the lower oesophageal pH is acid.¹ And Gaviscon has the backing of more than ten years' clinical experience in the treatment of reflux heartburn.

Punch Diagnoses British Medicine!

A special expanded issue in which a hand-picked team of crack comic surgeons take their scalpels to the ailing body of British medicine. Can the pitiful wreck be resuscitated? And, if so, what should be lopped off, transplanted, injected and grafted to keep it off the mortuary slab to which it currently seems in danger of being condemned?

Apart from an intensive general look at the current health of the patient, PUNCH also examines nepotism in medicine, the émigré flood, the public image of the doctor, the rise of fringe medicine, the nightmare lives of doctors' wives, the lunacies of medical discipline, the truth about drug advertising, the showbiz doctors, the psychiatric sub-world, and, in a unique and penetrating probe, examines the threat posed to the welfare of our medicine by The British Patient.

APPOINTMENTS

Applicants for medical appointments are advised to check whether the post advertised is included in the Important Notice and to scrutinize carefully the remuneration and terms of service offered. Any member who is in doubt about these terms in relation to B.M.A. agreements should consult the Secretary of the Association.

Advertisers are reminded that the Race Relations Board insists that no descriptive term implying racial, national, or ethnic characteristics may be used in any advertisement. Further, readers are advised not to apply for any appointment which discriminates between applicants on grounds of creed or unreasonably on grounds of sex.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Applicants should state names, address, age, nationality, and qualifications, and enclose (unless otherwise specified) one copy of each of three recent testimonials, with a short statement of experience and appointments held. Applications should be sent at once if no closing date is given: Canvassing disqualifies (Statutory Instrument, 1974, No. 361).

All National Health Service hospital appointments are in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical Staff.

Further details concerning standards of residential accommodation, telephone charges, removal allowances, study leave and other matters should be obtained from the Hospital Secretary; or by B.M.A. members from the Secretary, British Medical Association.

In particular, they will find full details of facilities provided in most hospitals in the United Kingdom in the current edition of the Hospital Gazetteer. If such details are not included members are advised to consult the Secretary of the B.M.A.

Applicants requiring hospital married accommodation are strongly advised to obtain, prior to interview, clarification in writing from the employing authority as to whether such accommodation will be available on appointment.

No advertisement may stipulate that a non-resident must live less than 10 miles from a hospital. Advertisements for post-registration house officers, senior house officers and registrars should state clearly whether the post is resident, i.e. compulsorily resident.

In all advertisements grade should be clearly indicated. Normally a consultant vacancy must be advertised as (a) part-time with the number of sessions clearly stated, or (b) whole-time with the option of maximum part-time.

In the view of the B.M.A., an advertiser should not insist on possession of English higher qualifications in preference to Scottish or Irish qualifications (or vice versa).
