

For those who only catch colds

PHENSEDYL linctus

'Phensedyl' provides really effective symptomatic relief in the common cold.

It has a powerful antitussive action, soothing irritated throats and suppressing cough reflexes.

It quickly loosens blocked respiratory passages, reduces nasal irritation and dries watery discharge.

In fact, when 'Phensedyl' has done its work, there really isn't much left of a cold!

And it has a rather pleasant taste, too...

'Phensedyl' contains: promethazine hydrochloride 3.6 mg codeine phosphate 9 mg ephedrine hydrochloride 7.2 mg

This is what we call practising medicine.

A career in Naval medicine can be a rewarding experience. Opportunities to specialise abound. And perhaps above all else, there is an immense satisfaction to be gained from the wide variety of work you will be involved in.

At sea, for instance, you could be anywhere from the Mediterranean to the Pacific Ocean. Looking after the health and well being of the company of a modern warship.

And though you could spend as long as the first twelve months of your five year Short Service Commission on board different ships, you need have no fear of losing contact with mainstream medicine. For no matter where you are, you will be kept informed of current medical opinion.

After this, the choice is yours. Post graduate medical training and a career in the clinical disciplines at one of our naval district general hospitals. Haslar or Plymouth, for instance, with their wide spectrum of clinical material drawn from naval personnel, their dependants and the local civilian population as well. There are also naval hospitals in Malta and Gibraltar with opportunities for exchange appointments elsewhere.

Or you might prefer occupational medicine in our research orientated naval dockyards. Aviation medicine with its accent on rotary wing support of the Fleet. And for those with an administrative turn of mind, community medicine.

Royal Naval expertise in maritime medicine is recognised world wide and research into underwater medicine, nuclear medicine and the closed submarine environment is centred at the Institute of Naval Medicine at Alverstoke.

Naval general practice in well staffed and equipped medical centres extend as far afield as Malta and Hong Kong. And new training schemes are now under way in the United Kingdom.

Should you be moved or sent abroad at any time, all expenses will be paid by us. We will help you with accommodation (at very reasonable rents) and provide allowances for the education of your children, if you have a family.

If you enter the Royal Navy immediately after registration you will be given the rank of Surgeon Lieutenant and a salary of £5,997, rising to £6,716 after four years.

On the other hand, if you are older (up to the age of 39) and more experienced, we can offer you a number of opportunities in general practice and the specialities. And, depending on your post-registration experience, you could enter as a Surgeon Lieutenant Commander at a salary of £8,015.

Then, at the end of your five year Short Service Commission you could leave with a tax free gratuity of £3,000.

But if it is mutually agreeable, you could apply for a Full Career Commission or a 16 year pensionable commission. The choice is yours.

In the meantime if you would like further information, write giving details of your age and qualifications to

Surgeon Commander L.C. Banks, R.N.,

Director General (Naval),
Empress State Building,
Fulham, London SW6.

FIGHT BACK AGAINST CANCER

It is good to remember that most people live their lives untouched by any form of cancer.

But as all too many are aware, cancer is something that casts its shadow far beyond those it directly affects. That is why so many people think it right to help the urgent work of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund.

From our discoveries in the past has come much of today's hope for sufferers. To go forward with our research for future alleviation, we ask your help in the present.

APPOINTMENTS

Applicants for medical appointments are advised to check whether the post advertised is included in the Important Notice and to scrutinize carefully the remuneration and terms of service offered. Any member who is in doubt about these terms in relation to B.M.A. agreements should consult the Secretary of the Association.

Advertisers are reminded that the Race Relations Board insists that no descriptive term implying racial, national, or ethnic characteristics may be used in any advertisement. Further, readers are advised not to apply for any appointment which discriminates between applicants on grounds of creed or unreasonably on grounds of sex.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Applicants should state names, address, age, nationality, and qualifications, and enclose (unless otherwise specified) one copy of each of three recent testimonials, with a short statement of experience and appointments held. Applications should be sent at once if no closing date is given: Canvassing disqualifies (Statutory Instrument, 1974, No. 361).

All National Health Service hospital appointments are in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical Staff.

Further details concerning standards of residential accommodation, telephone charges, removal allowances, study leave and other matters should be obtained from the Hospital Secretary; or by B.M.A. members from the Secretary, British Medical Association.

In particular, they will find full details of facilities provided in most hospitals in the United Kingdom in the current edition of the Hospital Gazetteer. If such details are not included members are advised to consult the Secretary of the B.M.A.

Applicants requiring hospital married accommodation are strongly advised to obtain, prior to interview, clarification in writing from the employing authority as to whether such accommodation will be available on appointment.

No advertisement may stipulate that a non-resident must live less than 10 miles from a hospital. Advertisements for post-registration house officers, senior house officers and registrars should state clearly whether the post is resident, i.e. compulsorily resident.

In all advertisements grade should be clearly indicated. Normally a consultant vacancy must be advertised as (a) part-time with the number of sessions clearly stated, or (b) whole-time with the option of maximum part-time.

In the view of the BMA, an advertiser should not insist on possession of English higher qualifications in preference to Scottish or Irish qualifications (or vice versa).

Epsikapron normalizes heavy periods... ...non-hormonally harmoniously

Burmese Brass Rubbing

Blood normally clots rapidly after escaping from the vessels. This haemostasis also holds in the uterus, except before and during menstruation, when plasmin, a proteolytic enzyme, formed from blood plasminogen by uterine activators, liquefies the blood clots and facilitates the escape and drainage of the menses. As the menstruation period proceeds the activating activity decreases.

Of all the organs in the body the uterus has the highest concentration of plasminogen activators. Over activity of the proteolytic system interferes with uterine haemostasis resulting in excessive and prolonged bleeding as occurs in menorrhagia or heavy periods.

Apart from being a personal embarrassment excessive menstrual bleeding results in increased iron loss and when chronic will almost invariably produce iron deficiency anaemia. Dramatic reduction of menstrual loss can be effectively achieved with Epsikapron (aminocaproic acid), which reduces over activation of the proteolytic system in the uterus.

Epsikapron[®]

(Epsilon-aminocaproic acid)

Side effects:

Dizziness, nausea and diarrhoea are occasional unwanted effects.

Contraindication:

Renal insufficiency:

Dosage:

3g of aminocaproic acid (1 sachet of Epsikapron effervescent powder or 10ml syrup) 4-6 times daily during menstruation. To minimise IUCD spotting, 3g 4 times per day for 7 days following insertion of the coil.
