Personal View—An Anthology (1975)

Since the feature started in 1968 Personal View has been one of the most popular pages of the B.M.J. A hundred of these have now been gathered together in an anthology, to which an introduction has been written by a noted Personal View contributor, Dr Mahadeva of Ceylon, Sri Lanka. The subjects of the views contained in this anthology range from experience of practice all over the world to work as a schoolteacher, the role of music in medicine, learning to be a farmer's wife, and running a fringe event at the Edinburgh Festival.

Price £3.00 (U.S.A. $9.00)

Surgery of Violence (1975)

Injuries caused by explosive weapons may suddenly present a doctor with urgent, unfamiliar problems in the treatment of the victims. The recent experience of surgeons and physicians at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast, has been drawn upon to provide advice on some important aspects of the surgery of violence. First published as a series of articles in the BMJ during February and March this year, they are now collated into a book. Among the subjects the authors discuss are wounds of trunk and limbs, blast injuries of the ear, intensive care, and disaster planning. In addition the book includes a bibliography of 30 recent papers on traumatic surgery written by members of the staff of the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Price £1.00 (U.S.A. $3.00)

Medicine in Old Age (1974)

The series of twenty two articles published in the British Medical Journal throughout the winter have been collected in book form as a convenient source of reference for general practitioners. The emphasis is on remedial mechanisms, and the use that can be made of psychogeriatric and social services in keeping the elderly healthy and relatively independent members of the community.

Price £2.00 (U.S.A. $6.00)

Aspects of Sexual Medicine (1975)

TO BE PUBLISHED SHORTLY

Freer discussion of sexual matters on television and in the popular press has led to many more patients approaching their doctors for advice on sexual problems. The articles collected together in this book give practical advice on common problems such as impotence and on the help and guidance that may be given to handicapped patients and others with special difficulties. Few doctors received adequate instruction on sexual medicine at their schools: Aspects of Sexual Medicine brings them up to date.

advertised is included in the Important Notice and to scrutinize carefully the remuneration and terms of service offered. Any member who is in doubt about these terms in relation to B.M.A. agreements should consult the Secretary of the Association.

Advertisers are reminded that the Race Relations Board insists that no descriptive term implying racial, national, or ethnic characteristics may be used in any advertisement. Further, readers are advised not to apply for any appointment which discriminates between applicants on grounds of creed or unreasonably on grounds of sex.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Applicants should state names, address, age, nationality, and qualifications, and enclose (unless otherwise specified) one copy of each of three recent testimonials, with a short statement of experience and appointments held. Applications should be sent at once if no closing date is given: Canvassing disqualifies (Statutory Instrument, 1974, No. 361).

All National Health Service hospital appointments are in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical Staff.

Further details concerning standards of residential accommodation, telephone charges, removal allowances, study leave and other matters should be obtained from the Hospital Secretary; or by B.M.A. members from the Secretary, British Medical Association.

In particular, they will find full details of facilities provided in most hospitals in the United Kingdom in the current edition of the Hospital Gazetteer. If such details are not included members are advised to consult the Secretary of the B.M.A.

Applicants requiring hospital married accommodation are strongly advised to obtain, prior to interview, clarification in writing from the employing authority as to whether such accommodation will be available on appointment.

No advertisement may stipulate that a non-resident must live less than 10 miles from a hospital. Advertisements for post-registration house officers, senior house officers and registrars should state clearly whether the post is resident, i.e. compulsorily resident.

In all advertisements grade should be clearly indicated. Normally a consultant vacancy must be advertised as (a) part-time with the number of sessions clearly stated, or (b) whole-time with the option of maximum part-time.

In the view of the B.M.A., an advertiser should not insist on possession of English higher qualifications in preference to Scottish or Irish qualifications (or vice versa).

HEIDELBERG — VICTORIA — AUSTRALIA

DIRECTOR Department of MEDICAL MICROBIOLOGY

This is a new position which has been created to meet the expanding needs of the hospital.

The Austin Hospital is a 466 bed teaching hospital, affiliated with the University of Melbourne, with Chairs of Medicine, Surgery, Pathology, Gynaecology and Obstetrics at the hospital. Each Professor is responsible for medical services appropriate to his specialty. The hospital is in a pleasant garden setting in Heidelberg, which is a residential suburb of Melbourne 8 miles from the city and the University campus.

Within the hospital, the Division of Diagnostic Laboratory Services comprises Anatomical Pathology, Biochemistry, Haematology and Serology and Microbiology. These provide a full range of services for inpatients, outpatients and casualty and offer a laboratory service for medical practitioners and hospitals in the surrounding community.

QUALIFICATIONS:

Applications are invited for the above position, from legally qualified medical practitioners with a postgraduate qualification in Microbiology who are eligible for registration with the Medical Board of Victoria as a specialist. Experience in hospital departments of Microbiology is required, together with demonstrated ability in teaching and research.

DUTIES:

To be responsible to the Medical Superintendent through Professor H. D. Attwood, Chairman of the Division of Diagnostic Laboratory Services, for the provision of a day-to-day clinical microbiology service to the hospital's inpatients, outpatients and casualty services. To be responsible for development of an overall programme of infection control within the hospital. To participate in teaching programmes for undergraduates and post-graduates and to undertake research.

TERMS OF APPOINTMENT

This appointment will be a joint appointment between the Austin Hospital and the University of Melbourne, with the hospital as the major employer. Conditions of employment will be in accordance with the determination of the Hospital Senior Medical Officers Wages Board and salary will be paid according to qualifications and experience to a current maximum of $A29,796 per annum. The appointee will be granted the title of Senior Lecturer or Reader in Microbiology, as determined by the University.

Further information regarding this post is available from Dr. F. J. O'Rourke, Medical Superintendent, or Professor H. D. Attwood, Chairman of Division of Diagnostic Laboratory Services.

Applications in writing, including curriculum vitae and names and addresses of three referees, should be addressed to

The General Manager,
Austin Hospital,
Heidelberg,
Victoria 3084, Australia.

Applications close at 4.00 p.m. on Friday, 13th February, 1976.

MEDICAL COLLEGE OF VIRGINIA

DAVID M. HUME EMINENT PROFESSORSHIP

We have a newly endowed Chair in the Department of Surgery at the Medical College of Virginia. The position is designated as the David M. Hume Eminent Professor of Surgical Research and is funded at the professorial level. A candidate for consideration should have an active, on-going research program with a vigorous thrust into the future. Any area of investigative interest is acceptable. We would hope that his previous experience and current approach are broad enough to allow free communication in a multidisciplinary environment. Since the position is ranked as a Full Professor, the candidate's current status would ideally be that comparable to an Assistant or Associate Professor with wide recognition in his field. We intend to provide an environment conducive to teaching, research, and clinical practice appropriate to the goals of the Department and of the individual selected. Ample laboratory space and an abundant supply of clinical material are available. Established within the Department at the present are many active research programs which include Transplantation and Tumor Immunology, Endocrinology, Wound Healing, and Collagen Metabolism, and Neurophysiology. Medical students, graduate students, surgical residents, and faculty are active participants in these programs. Interested applicants should send a letter and a copy of their curriculum vitae to H. H. Newsome, Jr., M.D., Box 865, Medical College of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia, U.S.A. 23298. (H19690) 118

HOSPITALS DEPARTMENT

SOUTH AUSTRALIA

FLINDERS MEDICAL CENTRE

The new Flinders Medical Centre will be opening in March, 1976, in the city of Adelaide. The Medical Centre is adjacent to the Flinders University of South Australia and houses all the hospital and medical school functions in a single complex of buildings and will have a dual role as a regional hospital and a University teaching hospital. There will be 326 beds in the first stage in 1976 increasing to 500 beds in late 1977 and 700 beds by 1980. Adult, paediatric and obstetric patients will be admitted.

Applications are invited for the following appointments:

Registrar/Trainees in CLINICAL IMMUNOLOGY CLINICAL MICROBIOLOGY HAEMATOLOGY HISTOPATHOLOGY

Clinical Immunology

The Department of Clinical Immunology will be involved in inpatient and outpatient care, the provision of laboratory services, teaching and research. It will consist of two Medical Specialists and two Senior Scientific Officers in addition to a number of Scientific and Technical Officers. There will therefore, be ample opportunities for training in this subject, and for involvement in general medicine.

Clinical Microbiology

The Department of Clinical Microbiology provides a comprehensive diagnostic and consultative service in medical microbiology. Positions in this department are suitable training-posts for postgraduate studies in Clinical Microbiology and Infectious Diseases. Trainees will be required to participate in undergraduate medical teaching and urged to undertake research projects in line with departmental interests.

Enquiries should be directed to Associate Professor P. J. McDonald.

Haematology

The Haematology Department is an integrated department responsible for patient care, laboratory diagnosis, teaching and research in general haematology and blood transfusion. The appointee will have responsibilities and receive training in each of the above areas. The training will fulfil requirements of the R.A.C.P. and R.C.P.A. The department presently comprises three Medical Specialists together with Scientific Officers and Technologists.

Enquiries should be directed to Associate Professor A. A. Morley.

Histopathology

The department will provide a service in all the main areas of anatomic pathology. Resources will include electron microscopy, morphometry, immunohistology and histochemistry. Applicants appointed will have responsibilities and receive such training as will meet the requirements of the College of Pathologists of Australia. As members of an academic department they will also be expected to participate in the departmental teaching programme and they will be encouraged to undertake research. Enquiries should be directed to Professor R. Whitehead.

Clinical Biochemistry

The Department will provide diagnostic services to both inpatients and outpatients of the Medical Centre and for medical practitioners in the surrounding community. The Department will offer a large range of static and dynamic biochemical analyses of blood, urine, faeces and other body fluids and tissues. The Department is well equipped with a wide range of continuous flow and discrete mechanized analysers. The Department is responsible for teaching medical undergraduates and postgraduates in all aspects of Clinical Biochemistry and for the training of technologists. Research activities will be multidisciplinary and will encompass research in basic biochemistry, clinical chemistry and chemical pathology. Trainees will have responsibilities and receive training in all aspects of the work of the Department.

Enquiries should be directed to Professor M. N. Berry.

Salaries are within the range of $13,317-$21,273 depending upon number of hours worked per week.

Applicants for the above positions should write to The Administrator, Flinders Medical Centre, Bedford Park, South Australia, 5042, giving names of three referees and a curriculum vitae which should include qualifications, details of previous appointments and experience in clinical and laboratory areas and in teaching and research.

Applications close 17th January, 1976.
