THE BRITISH MEDICAL DIRECTORY

FOR

ENGLAND, SCOTLAND, AND WALES.

TO BE PUBLISHED ON THE 1ST OF JANUARY NEXT, 1854.

PRICE SIX SHILLINGS.

ALL Legally-Qualified Members of the Medical Profession are earnestly and particularly requested to refer to the last leaf of "THE BRITISH MEDICAL DIRECTORY" for the present year, and make the "returns" forthwith as there indicated. By attending to this application instantly, the accuracy of the Directory for 1854 will be much promoted, and its value greatly increased.

The Editors of "THE BRITISH MEDICAL DIRECTORY" feel infinite pleasure in announcing, that in consequence of the unparalleled success of the Work, the Proprietors have authorized them to state that ONE-HALF of the PROFITS arising from the Publication of "THE BRITISH MEDICAL DIRECTORY" will be handed over to MR. PROPERT, the Treasurer of the MEDICAL BENEVOLENT COLLEGE, as a Contribution to the FUNDS of that splendid Institution.

The Profession having by their powerful and universal patronage and assistance completely identified themselves with the principles and success of "THE BRITISH MEDICAL DIRECTORY," the allocation of a moiety of the Profits arising from its Publication is made as a free and graceful offering in aid of an Establishment which is dedicated to the noblest of charitable purposes.

The Editors of this Directory consider it right to make the Profession acquainted with the fact that the compilers of "THE LONDON AND PROVINCIAL MEDICAL DIRECTORY" have just made the following admission in reply to a letter of complaint that had been addressed to them by a homoeopathic practitioner:

"We have omitted the appointments and the publications, because the profession declared they would not support the 'Directory' if these obnoxious addenda were inserted; but it was contrary to our judgment, and we must admit it was contrary to the professed objects of the 'Directory.' . . . The doctor must look upon us as caterers for the profession, subject to dismissal and defeat if we do not satisfy the appetites, whether depraved or otherwise, of our supporters.—EDITORS OF THE MEDICAL DIRECTORIES."

Thus it is perfectly evident that if "THE BRITISH MEDICAL DIRECTORY" were not in the field, "THE LONDON AND PROVINCIAL MEDICAL DIRECTORY" would again contain descriptions of all the titles, distinctions, and public appointments of all the quacks in the kingdom. The compilers of "THE LONDON AND PROVINCIAL MEDICAL DIRECTORY" even admit that the appointments, titles, &c., of the homoeopaths have been omitted in the last edition of their Directory, contrary to their own judgment and the proposed objects of that work; and then they remark that the homoeopathic practitioner by whom they have been addressed "must look upon them only as caterers for the profession, subject to dismissal and defeat if they do not satisfy the appetites, whether depraved or otherwise, of their supporters."

Now the possibility of a doubt, therefore, cannot be entertained as to what would have been the contents of "THE LONDON AND PROVINCIAL MEDICAL DIRECTORY" for the current year, and of the volumes of that work in future years, had it not been for the publication and extraordinary success of the "BRITISH MEDICAL DIRECTORY." With respect, then, to the different Medical Directories, the confession of the offending parties has made the profession acquainted with its exact position.
