FENNELL v. ADAMS.

"Defamation flies like the wind, while refutation halts lazily behind: the world receives the one with avidity, while it looks with suspicion on the other."—Capt. Murray.

Mr. Fennell has been exposed need- lessly and wantonly, not to say wickedly, to the anxiety and risk of clearing his character from unjust aspersions: this has been hard enough. By his appeal to a Court of Law, he has further incurred large pecuniary costs: this is harder still. As by the expensive trial he has done good service to the whole body of General Practitioners: should these fail to recognise his position, and withhold their sympathy, this would be the hardest part of all. Sanction has been given to the cause by the Medical Press; vide Association Journal, July 8; Medical Times, July 9; Lancet, July 23. Also by the Medical-Ethical Society of Manchester.

The following gentlemen will form a Committee to watch over and receive subscriptions, an extension of which they earnestly solicit, that they may defray speedily Mr. Fennell's heavy costs in the late action.

Any money received beyond Mr. Fennell's expenses through the trial will be given in equal portions to the funds of the Medical Benevolent College and the Medical Benevolent Fund.

Subscriptions to be limited to 10s. 6d.

N.B. Subscriptions will be received by the above gentlemen, or at the Office of the Association Journal, 37, Great Queen Street, Lincoln's Inn Fields; or through Post Office Order on Hampstead Post Office, payable to CHARLES LORD, who will act as Treasurer.

Caution.—Shameless Imitation of

M. BOURJEAUD'S ELASTIC APPARATUS.—M. Bourjeaud, whose spiral method of compression is giving such general satisfaction to the Profession and the Public, as applied to Elastic Stockings, Abdominal Belts, Suspensory Bandages for Hydrocele, Varicocele, etc., etc., and to the new Hernia Belt and Air Pad, is compelled, by the most flagrant imitations of his Apparatus, to caution the Medical Profession against their clumsy and worse than useless copies of his original inventions. M. Bourjeaud begs the favour of a direct communication from such professional gentlemen who would escape the deceptions of these bare-faced imitators, they having gone so far as to rob him of all they could appropriate, even to his very words and engravings.

11, DAVIES STREET, BERKELEY SQUARE (opposite Mivart's Hotel).
 At Home from One until Five o'Clock p.m.

To the Professional Judgment we submit the Patent RESILIENT BODICE and CORSALETTI DI MEDICI. The basis principle is the arrangement of elastic materials in the back and sides, each portion having a distinct and separate action in conformity with muscular movement and anatomical structure, the oblique transverse resilient being variable in number, size, and position, as individual configuration may require. The quilted silk or fine flannel under the open transverse work conduces to warmth of the spine, and favours free exhalation from the skin.—PATENTED IN ENGLAND, FRANCE, AND AUSTRIA. Enlarged Prospectus, with illustrations and prices, on receipt of two stamps for postage MARION and MATLAND, 54, Connaught-terrace, Hyde-park, London.

RUPTURES.—BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

The Moc-Main Lever Truss is allow- ed by upwards of 200 Medical Gentlemen to be the most effective invention in the curative treatment of HERNIA. The use of a steel spring, so often hurtful in its effects, is here avoided; a soft bandage being worn round the body, while the requisite resisting power is supplied by the MOC-MAIN PAD and PATENT LEVER fitting with so much ease and closeness that it cannot be detected, and may be worn during sleep. A descriptive circular may be had, and the Truss (which cannot fail to fit) forwarded by post, on the circumference of the body two inches below the hips being sent to the Manufacturer, Mr. WHITE, 223, Piccadilly, London.

Elastic Stockings for Varicose Veins and all cases of Weakness and Swelling of the Legs, Sprains, etc. They are porous, light in texture, and inexpensive, and are drawn on like an ordinary Stocking. Price from 7s. 6d. to 10s.
