

always regard this reunion with those with whom he had been so long familiar, and the circumstances that had called them together, among the happiest events of his life; and begged to assure his old associates of Guy's, that, could he in any way and at any time aid them, he should be ever at their command. Then party then sat down to supper, after which the health of Dr. Eloyé was proposed by the Chairman, and drunk with enthusiasm.

THE MANCHESTER MEDICO-ETHICAL ASSOCIATION ON MEDICAL REFORM. "Your Committee would take this opportunity of impressing on your members the truth of the motto, 'Union is Strength,' and would accompany it with two practical illustrations. In the present divided and transition state of the profession, it is not to be expected that any measure of medical reform shall be unanimously approved. The present Bill of the Provincial Association, however, approaches so nearly to what your Committee believe to be the requirements of the age, that they would strongly recommend each member to further its interests by every means in his power. Secondly, though they have pleasure in stating that the numerical strength of our Society still continues on a satisfactory footing, they yet hope that each individual member will use his influence among his professional acquaintance to recruit our ranks, and supply the deficiencies caused by resignations and deaths." (From Eighth Annual Report, Manchester, 1883.)

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

LETTERS and other COMMUNICATIONS for the JOURNAL should be directed to the private address of the Editor, 39, Curzon Street, May Fair.

TO CONTRIBUTORS. The Editor would feel glad if Members of the Association and others, would cooperate with him in establishing as a rule, that in future no paper for publication shall exceed two pages of the Journal in length. If the writers of long communications knew as well as the Editor does, that lengthy papers always deter the reader from commencing them, this great evil would never arise. Brevity is the soul of medical writing—still more than of wit.

Members should remember that corrections for the current week's JOURNAL should not arrive later than Wednesday.

MR. G. M. STANSFIELD.—We accept with thanks your Analysis of the Medical Directory, which shall appear in our next Number.

MEDICAL REFORM.—A Correspondent has furnished us with the subjoined specimen of energetic action on the part of the adherents of Dr. Coffin. We learn that the Petition has been numerously signed by many of the intelligent labourers in Portsmouth Dockyard.

"Medical Botanists beware! New Medical Reform Bill!!!"

"To the Inhabitants of the Borough of Portsmouth.

"The 'Doctors,' afraid to appeal to public opinion on the above question, are endeavouring as secretly as possible to force the above Bill through the Legislature, compelling everyone to employ them when ill, no matter if they have confidence in them or not.

"Most of those very disinterested men no doubt were, and are, freetraders, but for your benefit, not theirs, they are opposed to free trade in Medicine.

"Ladies and Gentlemen,—I have confidence you possess too much good sense to allow your liberties to be thus trifled with, therefore, Sign! Sign the Petition!!! lying for Signatures at Mr. Stroud's, Medical Botanist, and Agent to Dr. Coffin, Great Charlotte Street, corner of Hope Street, Landport."

Chlorodyne, introduced by Dr. J.

COLLIS BROWNE, Army Medical Staff. Medical Properties—Diaphoretic, Antispasmodic, Astringent, and Sedative.

Testimonial from Mr. MARSHALL, M.R.C.S., 65th Regiment.

"Mr. Marshall presents his compliments to Mr. Davenport, and begs that he will send him three pints of Chlorodyne, for the purpose of taking it abroad. The purchase of so large a quantity of this medicine is the best indication of his high appreciation of it, which as a sedative is most invaluable. He has given it in cases of Phthisis and Bronchitis: it acts as a sedative, allays spasm and cough, and admits of being administered in frequent and continued doses, without producing the deleterious effects usually attributable to other forms of anodynes. His experience induces the conviction, that in the treatment of Phthisis it will be found a most valuable remedy."

Extract of a Medical Report furnished by desire of the General Board of Health as to its Efficacy in Cholera.

"1st Stage, or Premonitory Symptoms. In this stage the remedy acts as a charm: one dose generally sufficient. 2nd Stage, or that of Vomiting and Purging. In this stage the remedy possesses great power, more than any other that we are acquainted with; two or three doses being generally sufficient. 3rd Stage, or Collapse. In all cases restoring the pulse. 'So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of generally adopting it in all cases.'"
