Patent Corn Flour.

BROWN AND POLSON'S PATENT CORN FLOUR, for most delicious preparations, Custards, Blanmange, Puddings, Cakes, and for all the purposes of the best Arrowroot, and the most lightsome diet for Infants and Invalids.

Sold by Grocers, Chemists, etc., in 1 lb. Packets, with Recipes, at 8d.

74, Wimpole Street, Cavendish Square, May 11th, 1858.

I have carefully examined, both chemically and microscopically, samples of the Patent Corn Flour of Messrs. Brown and Polson, of Paisley. One of these was submitted to me by the Agents, while others were procured by myself for my own satisfaction, from retail vendors of the article: I found it to consist in all cases exclusively of the granules or flour of Indian Corn. This preparation is a great favourite with me, and I confidently recommend it for all the purposes for which arrowroot is applicable; I have invariably found it to give great satisfaction, and generally to be much preferred to arrowroot. It possesses a particulary pleasant flavour, far more agreeable than that of arrowroot, is light, wholesome, and of easy digestibility. The Patent Corn Flour of Messrs. Brown and Polson is prepared most carefully, and is superior to anything brought under my notice for similar purposes.

ARTHUR HILL HASSALL, M.D.,
Author of "Food and its Adulterations," "Adulterations Detected," etc.

The Laboratory, London Hospital, May 14th, 1858.

The Patent Corn Flour of Messrs. Brown and Polson, of Paisley, having come under my notice, I have examined its chemical and dietetical properties, and I find it to be pure farina of Indian corn. It is remarkably free from all impurities, and a very wholesome and palatable article of diet.

HENRY LETHEBY, M.B.,
Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology in the Medical College of the London Hospital, and Officer of Health for the City of London.

Royal College of Chemistry, Liverpool, Oct. 28th, 1857.

I have made a careful analysis of Brown and Polson's Indian Corn Flour, which I purchased at a respectable grocer's in this town. Without the slightest hesitation, I pronounce it to be perfectly pure and wholesome, and quite equal, if not superior to arrowroot. It has been made into puddings, etc., under my inspection; and, although analysis proved it to be a most beautiful preparation, still the culinary results far exceeded my expectations. On incineration, it only yielded about a quarter per cent. of inorganic salts.

The objects of this Society are—

1st. To provide a safe and efficient medium by which the Medical Profession may secure more certain and regular payment for their services; with every consideration for the convenience of those who are willing, but unable directly to discharge their liabilities; with rigour from those who are able, but have not the disposition to remunerate medical men.

These ends are to be accomplished without interfering with the valuable time of the Members of the Profession, or exposing them to the unpleasantness which necessarily attends applications for money, or to the uncertainty and risk of employing private collectors.

2nd. To assist Members with information and advice in the purchase and sale of Practices.

3rd. To raise a Benevolent Fund by devoting to that object the profits arising from the general operations of the Society.

The Society consists of qualified Medical Practitioners only. Annual Subscription, One Guinea; a Firm, consisting of two Partners, a Guinea and a half; a Firm of three Partners, Two Guineas. Fixed rates of Commission are also charged on business transacted.

The general business is carried on by a staff of officers at the Central Office, 43, Lincoln's Inn Fields, together with trustworthy employés appointed in town and country, the whole of whom are under the direction and superintendence of the Committee.

The Metropolitan Members of the Committee, with the Trustees, are responsible for all moneys received by the staff.
