

He has given an immense stimulus to physiology, by his unwearied labours; and his great enthusiasm, and his invariable courtesy, have rendered him a great favourite with the Utrecht students. The medical literature of Holland is under deep obligations to him; for he was not only one of the principal supports of the Nederlandsch Lancet, during the existence of that periodical, but since its decease, he and an Amsterdam physician have commenced a new medical periodical, in which henceforth the contributions of the Dutch medical men will be published in German instead of Dutch, as being a more generally understood language. (Dr. Mercer Adams, in Edinburgh Medical Journal, September 1858.)

Dr. McWILLIAM. The Queen has been graciously pleased to give orders for the appointment of James Ormiston McWilliam, M.D., Surgeon in the Royal Navy, to be an Ordinary Member of the Civil Division of the Third Class, or Companions, of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath.

TESTIMONIAL TO HUGH NEILL, Esq. On Tuesday, September 7, a meeting of the subscribers and friends of the Liverpool Eye and Ear Infirmary was held in the Town Hall, for the purpose of presenting to Mr. Hugh Neill a testimonial of respect on his retirement from the position of senior honorary surgeon to the institution, which he had held for more than twenty-four years. The testimonial, the presentation of which was accompanied by an appropriate speech from his worship the Mayor of Liverpool, consists of an épergne candelabra, the centre being an English oak tree, with six branches bearing lights, the nozels of which are composed of leaves. On the summit rests a large crystal bowl for fruits or flowers. The tree springs from a triangular mound or base, on which, at the foot of the tree, stands an Arab and his steed. On the sides of the base are three panels, on the first of which is a chasing in relief, representing a wounded man being carried to the hospital; on the second, the arms of Mr. Neill; and on the third, the following inscription:—"Presented to Hugh Neill, Esq., F.R.A.S., by the subscribers and friends of the Liverpool Eye and Ear Infirmary, as a mark of respect on his retirement from the position of senior honorary surgeon, after a service of more than twenty-four years. Liverpool 1858."

THE SECRETARY FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS IN THE OTTOMAN MINISTRY A MEDICAL MAN. His Excellency Fuad Pasha, foreign secretary of the Sublime Porte, and lately one of the plenipotentiaries at the Danubian conferences in Paris, is a Doctor of Medicine of the Imperial School of Constantinople. Our professional brother, whose father was a celebrated Turkish poet, was born in 1814. Being left an orphan at fourteen, without fortune or resources of any kind, he was received into the house of the Governor of Bagdad. This benevolent man sent him to the medical school of Constantinople at sixteen, where he so highly distinguished himself that he was finally appointed physician to the hospital of Topana. Dr. Fuad's reputation grew so rapidly that Tahir Pasha appointed him director-general of the medical department in the expedition against Tripoli, and made him, besides, his private secretary. From that period, Fuad Pasha gave up medicine, and came to London in 1840, as first secretary to the Turkish embassy, where he soon became chargé d'affaires. He took an active share in the treaty of 1840, and returned to Constantinople on being appointed foreign secretary. Fuad Pasha is one of the most enlightened statesmen of the Ottoman empire, and a very active reformer. By his advice lighthouses have been erected on the most perilous points of the Turkish coast, and telegraphic lines established. He has had a large share in the drawing up of the penal code, and has not forgotten his earlier connection with medicine, amidst his numerous and important labours; for it is to his exertions that the Medical Society of Constantinople owes its recognition by the Government, and an allowance of £480 a year. Fuad Pasha is not the only medical man who has risen to high public appointments, for we find that the Director of the Medical School has been several times President of the Board of Trade, Governor of Smyrna, etc. Salich Effendi, professor of botany at the same school, has the title of Physician-general of the Empire, Councillor at the Board of Trade, and Chief Physician to the Palace. Another medical man, Hairoullah Effendi, is President of the Board of Public Instruction, and member of the superior court of law. Ismail Pasha, also a professional man, has been Secretary of State for National Education and Dr. Servien has the title of Brigadier-general. (L'Union Médicale.)

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

From Thomas F. Hale, Esq., Surgeon, Saundersfoot, Pembrokeshire. "Sir,—I should be much obliged by your forwarding three bottles of Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, which I have found most useful in allaying pain. I have used twelve ounces of it, and in nearly every case in which I have employed it, have every reason to be satisfied with the result; and although I object, as a rule, to use any preparation of a secret nature, and of whose composition I am not fully acquainted with, still having once tried the Chlorodyne, and found that it really did produce the effects stated, I do not think I should be justified in withholding such a preparation from my patients, when I see the value of the remedy."

Medical Men.—Observe.—Hospitals can obtain their supplies in bulk without stamp, by forwarding their orders, duly authenticated by address, to the Manufacturer, J. T. Davenport, Chemist, 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London, W.C., when a liberal Discount will be allowed.

Crosse and Blackwell, Purveyors in Ordinary to Her Majesty, respectfully invite attention to their PICKLES, Sauces, Tart Fruits, and other table delicacies, the whole of which are prepared with the most scrupulous attention to wholesomeness and purity. The practice of colouring pickles and tart fruits by artificial means has been discontinued, and the whole of their manufactures are so prepared that they are not allowed to come in contact with any deleterious ingredient. A few of the articles most highly recommended are, Pickles and Tart Fruits of every description, Royal Table Sauce, Essence of Shrimps, Soho Sauce, Essence of Anchovies, Jams, Jellies, Orange Marmalade, Anchovy and Blonch Pastes, Strasbourg and other Potted Meats, and Calf's-foot Jellies of various kinds for table use. C and B. are also sole Agents for M. Sayer's Sauces, Ketchup, and Aromatic Mustard; and for Carstairs' Sir Robert Peel's Sauce, and Payne's Royal Osborne Sauce. The above may be obtained of most respectable Sauce Vendors throughout the United Kingdom; and Wholesale of CROSSE and BLACKWELL, 21, Soho Square.

This College was established for the purpose of affording a complete Medical Education. It is presided over by a Council composed of more than fifty of the most eminent Medical Practitioners of the Midland Counties. It is situated opposite to the General Hospital, and the hours of Lecture are so arranged as not to interfere with attendance upon Hospital Practice. Attendance upon the Lectures will qualify for examination at all the Royal Colleges, the Army, Navy, and India Boards. Clinical Courses will be given by those Lecturers who are attached to public institutions in the town. The Laboratory is fitted up with every convenience, so as to enable Students to attain a practical knowledge of Chemistry. Care will be taken to instruct the Students in Practical Midwifery, and, under suitable regulations, they will be allowed to avail themselves of the Museum of the Lying-in Hospital. Prizes will be awarded in each class, and one will be given by the Council for general proficiency.

Further particulars may be obtained on application to the Principal, Dr. Bell Fletcher, Waterloo Street; to the Treasurer, Dr. Russell, Newhall Street, who is authorised to enter Students; or to the Secretaries, Mr. F. Jones, 12, Newhall Street, and Dr. Hill, Whittall Street, Birmingham.
