SALTAIR SURGICAL SERVICE

Why Belts should be used after Abdominal Operations

Guarantee

"We guarantee to alter, exchange, or accept the return of any appliance, without cost, ordered by the Medical Profession, if not found suitable within fourteen days from date of supply."

Salt and Son Ltd.

From data in our possession extending over many years, we find an increasing proportion of cases of VENTRAL HERNIA, usually due, we are convinced (from inquiry during personal fitting) to lack of support during the early period after operation.

Despite the great advances in surgery, bandaging and other such post-operative care is frequently neglected when supervision by surgeon or nursing staff ends.

A light, well-fitting belt obviates risk of sudden strain, can easily be applied by the patient, and, by affording temporary efficient support, prevents the permanent use of a belt for ventral hernia.
