Ocular Therapeutics.

By L. DE WECKER, Professor of Clinical Ophthalmology, Paris. Translated and Edited by LITTON FORBES, M.A., M.D., F.R.G.S., late Clinical Assistant Royal London Ophthalmic Hospital.

"At whatever page it is opened, the reader will find something to interest him, something novel, or some new application of old knowledge."—The Lancet.

"Here we have the fruits of an exceptionally large experience, and the matured judgment of one who has contributed largely to the recent advances made in this branch of medicine."—Glasgow Medical Journal.

"We do not know that we have ever read a work on any subject with greater pleasure or more profit. It is a splendid résumé of modern Ophthalmological science. It sheds a still greater lustre on the name of its illustrious author, while it reflects the greatest credit on the able translator."—Dublin Medical Journal.

London: SMITH, ELDER, & Co., 15, Waterloo Place.

Diseases of the Ear.

By GEORGE P. FIELD, M.R.C.S., Aural Surgeon to St. Mary's Hospital and Lecturer on Aural Surgery in the Medical School.

"This book is worthy to have reached a Second Edition in a very short time as it has done. It will be found to be very practical and helpful to the student and to the general practitioner."—Lancet.

"The medical practitioner will not often take up a book on a special subject the perusal of which will afford him more pleasure and satisfaction."—Medical Press and Circular.

"Of all the smaller text-books we have recently seen this seems to us to contain the most.... The plan is novel and the book is good."—Medical Times and Gazette.

"Plain, shrewd common-sense."—Brit. Med. Jour.

"Book of value for reference."—American Journal of Otolaryngology.
