

British Medical Journal.

JANUARY 28TH, 1911.

CONTENTS.

ORIGINAL ARTICLES.

|                                                                                                                                                                    |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| THE HISTORY OF YELLOW FEVER IN WEST AFRICA. By Sir RUPERT BOYCE, F.R.S.                                                                                            | 181 |
| PUERPERAL ECLAMPSIA: A Comparison with Venom Poisoning and a Suggestion for Treatment following therefrom. By H. LEITH MURRAY, M.D. Aberd.                         | 185 |
| SCOPOLAMINE-MORPHINE ANAESTHESIA IN LABOUR. By J. R. FREELAND, M.D.; and BETHEL A. H. SOLOMONS, M.B.                                                               | 187 |
| CAESAREAN SECTION FOR DYSTOCIA DUE TO VENTRIFICATION OF THE UTERUS. By AMAND ROUTH, M.D., F.R.C.P.                                                                 | 189 |
| ABSENCE OF THE FALLOPIAN TUBES AND OF MENSTRUATION, ASSOCIATED WITH RECURRENT PERITONITIS. By W. G. SPENCER, M.S.                                                  | 189 |
| CASE OF PROLAPSE OF THE INVERTED UTERUS DURING LABOUR. By ALFRED S. HENDRIE, M.B., Ch.B. Edin.                                                                     | 190 |
| THE TREATMENT OF RECTAL CANCER. By HARRISON CRIPPS, F.R.C.S.                                                                                                       | 190 |
| A NOTE ON THE TREATMENT OF RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS BY VACCINES. By GILBERT A. BANNATTYNE, M.D. Glasg., F.R.C.P. Edin., and JAMES LINDSAY, M.D. Edin., M.B.C.P. Lond.  | 192 |
| THE PROPOSED CORONERS BILL. By JOSEPH GRIFFITHS, M.A., M.D., F.R.C.S.                                                                                              | 193 |
| THE PITFALLS OF "MENTAL TESTS." By CHARLES S. MYERS, M.D., Sc.D.                                                                                                   | 195 |
| MEMORANDA.                                                                                                                                                  |     |
| A Case of Uraemic Aphasia. By ROBERT SAUNDBY, M.D., F.R.O.P.                                                                                                       | 197 |
| Treatment of Pernicious Malarial Fever. By Captain D. M. C. CHURCH, I.M.S.                                                                                         | 197 |
| Congenital Absence of One Kidney. By J. MAUGHAN, M.D.                                                                                                              | 197 |
| Migraine and Errors of Refraction. By A. G. CLARKE POCOCK, M.B.                                                                                                    | 198 |
| Kala azar in Malta. By A. CRETEN, M.D., D.P.H., D.T.M.                                                                                                             | 198 |
| A Rapidly-fatal Case of Spleno-medullary Leucocythæmia. By WILLIAM HARDMAN, M.B., C.M. Edin., J.P.                                                                 | 198 |
| Breech Presentation with Prolapsed Hand. By H. WESSEN HUSBANDS, M.R.C.S., L.R.O.P.                                                                                 | 199 |
| HOSPITAL REPORTS.                                                                                                                                           |     |
| GENERAL CIVIL HOSPITAL, COLOMBO.—A Case of Perforation in Enteric Fever, followed by Abscess Formation: Operation and Recovery. By LOUIS OBEYSEKERE, L.M.S. Ceylon | 199 |
| REPORTS OF SOCIETIES.                                                                                                                                       |     |
| ROYAL SOCIETY OF MEDICINE                                                                                                                                          | 199 |
| UNITED SERVICES MEDICAL SOCIETY                                                                                                                                    | 200 |
| SOCIETY OF MEDICAL OFFICERS OF HEALTH                                                                                                                              | 201 |
| NOTTINGHAM MEDICO-CHIRURGICAL SOCIETY                                                                                                                              | 201 |
| WEST LONDON MEDICO-CHIRURGICAL SOCIETY                                                                                                                             | 201 |
| BATH CLINICAL SOCIETY                                                                                                                                              | 202 |
| PUBLIC HEALTH.                                                                                                                                              |     |
| Vital Statistics in England and Wales (1910), etc.                                                                                                                 | 231 |
| MEDICO-LEGAL.                                                                                                                                               |     |
| The Battersea "Brown Dog"                                                                                                                                          | 232 |
| Workmen's Compensation                                                                                                                                             | 232 |
| Supersession                                                                                                                                                       | 233 |

LEADING ARTICLES.

|                                                                      |     |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| THE INSPECTION OF FOOD IN ENGLAND AND WALES                          | 213 |
| ORIGIN OF THE VERTEBRATES                                            | 214 |
| THE HYGIENE EXHIBITION AT DRESDEN                                    | 216 |
| THE WEEK.                                                     |     |
| Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine.                               | 217 |
| The Bioscope and Bacteriology                                        | 217 |
| "In Good Faith and with Reasonable Care"                             | 218 |
| Bacteria in Meat                                                     | 218 |
| Caesarean Section                                                    | 219 |
| Sleeping Sickness Conference                                         | 219 |
| Troubles in Trinidad                                                 | 219 |
| Treatment of Incipient Insanity                                      | 220 |
| French Medical Parliamentary Group                                   | 220 |
| EDITORIALS.                                                   |     |
| STATE SICKNESS INSURANCE                                             | 208 |
| MEDICAL NEWS                                                         | 236 |
| MEDICAL AND SURGICAL APPLIANCES. (Illustrated)                       | 208 |
| MEDICINAL AND DIETETIC PREPARATIONS                                  | 208 |
| SCIENCE NOTES                                                        | 212 |
| NOVA ET VETERA.—Some Royal Death-Beds: George I.; George II.         | 209 |
| LITERARY NOTES                                                       | 211 |
| LIVERPOOL.—                                                   |     |
| The Medical Society of Liverpool                                     | 221 |
| Garston New Accident Hospital                                        | 221 |
| MANCHESTER AND DISTRICT.—                                     |     |
| The Red Cross Society                                                | 221 |
| BIRMINGHAM.—                                                  |     |
| The Workhouse Infirmary                                              | 221 |
| Birmingham Maternity Hospital                                        | 221 |
| LONDON.—                                                      |     |
| The Public Health in 1909                                            | 222 |
| The Isolation of Measles                                             | 223 |
| SCOTLAND.—                                                    |     |
| Complimentary Dinner to Sir David C. McVail                          | 223 |
| Edinburgh Royal Infirmary                                            | 223 |
| Queen Victoria's Jubilee Institute for Nurses                        | 223 |
| Death-rate of Glasgow during 1910                                    | 224 |
| Adulteration of Foods in Glasgow                                     | 224 |
| IRELAND.—                                                     |     |
| Infant Mortality                                                     | 224 |
| Belfast City Council                                                 | 225 |
| Hospital for Sick Children, Belfast                                  | 225 |
| Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast                                     | 225 |
| Old Age Pensions                                                     | 225 |
| INDIA.—                                                       |     |
| The New Year's Honours List                                          | 225 |
| Proposed Pasteur and Research Institute for Eastern Bengal and Assam | 225 |
| REVIEWS.                                                      |     |
| Allbutt and Rolleston's "System"                                     | 202 |
| Comparative Physiology                                               | 203 |
| Biology                                                              | 203 |
| Medical Education                                                    | 204 |
| Diseases of Children                                                 | 205 |
| Alcohol and Degeneracy                                               | 206 |
| A French View of Medical Ethics                                      | 206 |
| Notes on Books                                                       | 207 |
| OBITUARY.                                                     |     |
| Henry Power, M.B. Lond., F.R.C.S. Eng. (With Portrait)               | 233 |
| James Thomas James, F.R.C.S.                                         | 234 |
| Walter Ridley, M.B., M.S., F.R.C.S.                                  | 235 |
| Banfield Teague Vivian, L.S.A., etc.                                 | 235 |

CORRESPONDENCE

|                                                                                                                                                             |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| International Hygiene Exhibition, Dresden, 1911. By Sir Thomas Barlow, Bart., K.O.V.O., Right Hon. Lord Ilkeston, P.C., and H. W. Armit, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P. | 225 |
| Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis. By Arthur J. Brock, M.D.                                                                                               | 226 |
| Salvarsan ("606"). By C. F. Marshall, M.D.                                                                                                                  | 226 |
| Induced Division of Human Cells. By H. C. Ross, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., and J. W. Cropper, M.B., Ch.B.                                                          | 226 |
| Headache and Small Errors of Refractions. By J. A. Jamieson, M.B., Ch.B.                                                                                    | 227 |
| Poor Law Outdoor Relief Orders. By Major Greenwood, M.D.                                                                                                    | 227 |
| State Sickness and Invalidity Insurance. By Thomas D. Luke, M.D., F.R.C.S.                                                                                  | 227 |
| Alcoholism and Degeneracy. By William Carter, M.D.                                                                                                          | 228 |
| Is Potos Ka'a-azar? By George A. Williamson, M.A., M.D., D.P.H.                                                                                             | 229 |
| Swabs left in the Intestine. By J. Lynn Thomas, C.B., F.R.C.S.                                                                                              | 229 |
| Tuberculosis and State Intervention. By Arthur Latham, M.D., and Mr. Charles H. Garland                                                                     | 229 |
| Hyperchlorhydria and its Complications. By William Russell, M.D.                                                                                            | 230 |
| The Cause of Appendicitis. By Miss H. B. Hanson, M.D.                                                                                                       | 230 |
| Ship Surgeons. By R. R. Rentoul, M.D.                                                                                                                       | 230 |
| Research Defence Society. By the Earl of Cromer, and others.                                                                                                | 230 |
| UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES.                                                                                                                           |     |
| UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE                                                                                                                                     | 231 |
| UNIVERSITY OF EDINBURGH                                                                                                                                     | 231 |
| UNIVERSITY OF GLASGOW                                                                                                                                       | 231 |
| UNIVERSITY OF LIVERPOOL                                                                                                                                     | 231 |
| CONJOINT BOARD IN SCOTLAND                                                                                                                                  | 231 |
| SOCIETY OF APOTHECARIES OF LONDON                                                                                                                           | 231 |
| THE SERVICES.                                                                                                                                        |     |
| Scottish Territorial Red Cross Brigade                                                                                                                      | 235 |
| The Territorial Medical Service, etc.                                                                                                                       | 235 |
| LETTERS AND ANSWERS.                                                                                                                                 |     |
| QUERIES, ANSWERS, ETC.                                                                                                                                      | 236 |
| EPITOME OF CURRENT MEDICAL LITERATURE.                                                                                                               |     |
| Asystole                                                                                                                                                    | 13  |
| Congenital Heart-block                                                                                                                                      | 13  |
| Radiography of Infantile Heart                                                                                                                              | 13  |
| Perforation of Gastric Ulcers                                                                                                                               | 13  |
| Surgical Treatment of Hyperthyroidism                                                                                                                       | 14  |
| Amoebic Abscess of Liver                                                                                                                                    | 14  |
| Haemorrhages due to Placenta Membranae                                                                                                                      | 14  |
| Duration of Pregnancy                                                                                                                                       | 15  |
| Treatment of Hermaphroditism                                                                                                                                | 15  |
| Salvarsan                                                                                                                                                   | 15  |
| A New Arsenic Preparation in Recurrent Fever                                                                                                                | 16  |
| Wassermann Reaction                                                                                                                                         | 16  |

THE WEEKLY SUPPLEMENT.

THE SUPPLEMENT for this week contains: Meetings of Branches and Divisions; Association Notices; Books needed to Complete Series in Library; Central Midwives Board; Naval and Military Appointments; Vital Statistics; Hospitals and Asylums; Vacancies and Appointments; Diary; Recent Publications; Publishers' Announcements; Calendar, etc.