To be published Monthly, commencing September 1st. Price Sixpence.

A growing want has long been felt by a large number of medical practitioners, specially devoting their attention either to diseases of the eye, ear, throat, skin, teeth, or other special branch of Medical Science, for a Medical Journal confining itself exclusively to the consideration of such specialities. To meet the requirements of this portion of the community, it is intended to produce a Sixpenny Monthly Medical Journal entitled "THE SPECIALIST," which will have for its object the exclusive consideration of these specialities. The Journal will be under the editorship of Dr. H. J. Hardwicke, Physician to the Sheffield General Hospital for Diseases of the Skin, assisted by a staff of medical gentlemen connected with Special Hospitals at home and abroad. Each number will contain Original Articles and Contributions, British and Foreign Special Hospital Reports, Extracts from Special Medical Journals in various parts of the world, Correspondence, and Home and Foreign News in connection with the above-named specialities.

Letters relating to Subscriptions and Advertisements should be addressed to the Publishers; letters and communications to the Editor should be addressed—THE EDITOR OF "THE SPECIALIST," care of
