The Mechanical System of UTERINE PATHOLOGY, being the Harveian Lectures delivered in 1877 before the Harveian Society of London.

By GRAILY HEWITT, M.D. Lond., F.R.C.P., etc., Professor of Midwifery and Diseases of Women, University College, and Obstetric Physician to the Hospital.

"We cordially thank Dr. HEWITT for this important contribution to uterine pathology. Its chief merit consists in the demonstration which it contains that, in most cases, displacements, especially flexions, of the womb, are expressions and consequences of constitutional feebleness. This truth, pregnant with suggestions of great practical import, is as yet scarcely suspected, much less apprehended, by gynecologists generally; and Dr. HEWITT has done an excellent work by emphatically proclaiming it in the clear and concise language which distinguishes his monograph."—Westminster Review.

Diseases of Women.

By LAWSON TAIT, F.R.C.S., Surgeon to the Birmingham Hospital for Women, etc.

"The distinguished merit of this book is its originality and practical character."—Medical Times and Gazette.

"It abounds in valuable hints as to diagnosis and treatment, which cannot but prove most useful to the general practitioner, while in it the gynecologist will find the most recent theories as to the etiology and pathology of these affections, many of the views put forward being striking and original."—Dublin Medical Journal.
