The Science and Practice of SURGERY. By FREDERICK J. GANT, F.R.C.S., Senior Surgeon to the Royal Free Hospital. Author of "Guide to Exams. at Roy. Coll. of Surgeons." Edit. 4th.

"This able and elaborate work has the advantage of mature experience in 'special subjects'."—Lancet.

"Does credit to the author's thorough surgical knowledge, and may be safely recommended as containing full and trustworthy information on the various divisions of surgery."—Brit. Med. Jour.

"A very complete and trustworthy guide to practice."—Medical Times.

"Most popular surgical text-book in the English language."—Medical Press.

"One of the highest authorities."—Phil. Med. Times.

"A sound and complete exposition of modern surgery."—Indian Medical Gazette.

Diseases of the Ear. By GEORGE P. FIELD, M.R.C.S., Aural Surgeon to St. Mary's Hospital and Lecturer on Aural Surgery in the Medical School.

"It contains a novel feature, a number of plates are given on thick cardboard, the spot where the membrana tympani ought to be seen, is perforated and a coloured representation of the drum is pasted on behind. If the membrana be looked at through a speculum, a more correct idea than any heretofore given, will be the result. The plan is novel and the book is good."—Medical Times and Gazette.

"Very practical and helpful."—Lancet.

"The practitioner will not often take up a book on a special subject, which will afford him more pleasure and satisfaction."—Medical Press and Circular.

"Plain, shrewd common sense."—Brit. Med. Jour.
