ELEMENTS OF PRACTICAL MEDICINE.

By ALFRED H. CARTER, M.D.Lond., M.R.C.P.Lond.,

Physician to the Queen's Hospital, Birmingham; Emeritus Professor of Physiology, Queen's College, Birmingham; Examiner in Medicine for the University of Aberdeen, etc.

NOTICES OF PREVIOUS EDITIONS.

"A work which contains the essentials of medicine stated in clear and explicit language....If one part of the book be more deserving of praise than another, the sections devoted to therapeutics might be especially singled out, supplemented as they are, by several pages of formulae at the end of the book."—The Lancet.

"A therapeutical index is added, which contains most of the modern methods of treatment, and will prove a useful guide to young practitioners."—Brit. Med. Jour.

"To those preparing for a medical diploma we can but say: You will not find a better guide to practical information."—Students' Journal.

"We know of no other text-book which contains so much admirably arranged matter in so small a compass. The therapeutical index at the end is very complete, and will be found of great value to practitioners."—Birmingham Medical Review.

Now Ready, Illustrated with Wood Engravings, Colour Tests, &amp;c., post 8vo, 10s. 6d.

HANDBOOK OF DISEASES OF THE EYE AND THEIR TREATMENT.

By HENRY R. SWANZY, M.A., M.B., F.R.C.S., Examiner in Ophthalmic Surgery, University of Dublin; Surgeon to the National Eye and Ear Infirmary, Dublin; Ophthalmic Surgeon at the Adelaide Hospital, Dublin.

"This handbook is, in our opinion, an admirable one. . . . There is throughout a clearness of detail, especially in regard to treatment, therapeutic as well as operative, which denotes the surgeon of wide experience, and which will certainly make the book a favourite."—Ophthalmic Review.

"On the whole we most heartily congratulate Mr. Swanzy and the Dublin School on the production of a book which was much needed, and which contains in a condensed, yet most readable form, all the latest and most authoritative teaching on the subject which it treats."—Dublin Medical Journal.
