THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE.

By THOMAS HAWKES TANNER, M.D., M.R.C.P.

The Sixth Edition, Revised, much enlarged, and thoroughly brought up to the present time; with a Complete Section on the DISEASES PECULIAR TO WOMEN; And containing an extensive Appendix of Formulæ for Medicines, Baths, Mineral Waters, Climates, etc.

"There is a common character about the writings of Dr. Tanner, a character which constitutes one of their chief values; they are all essentially and thoroughly practical. Dr. Tanner never for one moment allows this utilitarian end to escape his mental view. He aims at teaching how to recognise and how to cure disease, and in this he is thoroughly successful.  It is indeed a wonderful mine of knowledge."—Medical Times, July 1869.

London: HENRY RENSCHAW, 356, Strand.

Seventh Edition, thick 8vo, cloth, pp. 934, price 18s.

Neligan's Medicines: their

Clinical Memoirs on Diseases

of WOMEN. By ALFRED H. MCCLINTOCK, M.D., F.R.C.S., Late Master of the Dublin Lying-in Hospital; Honorary Fellow of the Obstetrical Society of London, etc., etc.

"This book well deserves its title. It is eminently clinical. The skilled practitioner will recognise in its descriptions the faithful representations of diseases he has himself observed, interpreted by a mind singularly sagacious, calm, and free from prejudice. The Student, on the other hand, on reading the book, may almost imagine that he is walking from bed to bed, observing typical cases under the immediate guidance of an accomplished clinical teacher. . . . In taking leave for the present of our author—we hope not for long—we feel bound to express our deep obligation to him for the instruction derived from the perusal of his work. We can confidently recommend it to our readers as a mine of information at once full, sound, and of enduring value."—British and Foreign Medico-Chirurgical Review.

MANUAL OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

Fifth Edition, with Wood Engravings, post 8vo, cloth, price 12s. 6d.

On the Diseases of Women, including those of PREGNANCY and CHILD-BED. By FLEETWOOD CHURCHILL, M.D., President of the King and Queen's College of Physicians.

"The Edition before us, bringing the subject down to the present day, is well worthy of the distinguished author. The numerous woodcuts which illustrate the text, many of which are new in this edition, enhance greatly its value, which, indeed, we can scarcely over-rate. So familiar is his work to the Profession of Great Britain and Ireland, and so brilliant is the reputation of its author, that anything we could say in its favour would simply be a waste of words."—Glasgow Med. Journal.
